MILITANCY CLAIMS ITS FIRST MARTYR

Emily Wilding Davison Dies at Epsom Hospital From Fractured Skull

INTERFERED WITH KING GEORGE'S DERBY ENTRY

Disorder Marks Meetings of Suffragettes in Hyde Park
Where Arrests Are Made

CHRISTOBEL PANKHURST SENDS "SKETCH" MESSAGE

London, June 9.—Emily Wilding Davison, first martyr to the militant efforts of women to obtain the suffrage, died yesterday at the Epsom hospital as the result of a fracture of the skull, sustained in an attempt to stop the King's horse, Anmer, during the running of the Derby on Wednesday last.

Only the matron of the hospital and two nurses were present at the death-bed. A few moments before her death two comrades draped the screen surrounding the cot with the fateful colors of the Women's Social and Political Union, which she wore when she made her sensational attempt to interfere with the great classic of the English turf.

Miss Davison had evidently expected to gain the track in time to intercept and scatter the field, but was delayed a moment by a spectator, who tried to restrain her. She reached the track in time to be struck by the King's horse, which was running in the race.

The woman turned a complete somersault, coming down across the legs of Jockey Jones, who had been left prone and unconscious after the fall of his mount.

She struck on her head, and it was believed at first that her thick hair had saved her from more than concussion, but a later examination showed a fracture of the base of the skull. An operation was performed, but it was a hopeless case.

Miss Davison was noted for her daring feats in behalf of militancy. One of her earliest exploits was to barricade herself in a cell, and she was only subdued with the aid of a fire hose.

On another occasion she cast herself down a flight of stairs in the fall, and was seriously injured. She was one of the most persistent invaders of the House of Commons, which she invaded at one time by way of the airshaft. Her last exploit before the fatal Epsom accident, was the assailing of a Baptist clergyman, in the belief that he was Chancellor Lloyd George.

The inquest will be held Tuesday. The funeral will take place in London, and members of the Women's Social and Political Union will take a prominent part.

Speaking with great emotion at a Hyde Park meeting yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Despard said she hoped that the case of Miss Davison would kindle a flame in the souls of men which would end the present awful situation.

In striking contrast to the meetings of the constitutional society in Hyde Park yesterday afternoon, which met with only mild heckling, attempts of the Women's Social and Political Union speakers to address the crowds resulted in considerable disorder, and a number of fights between the bodyguards of the women and the spectators. Several arrests were made.

The Daily Sketch has received a message from Christobel Pankhurst, who is now in Paris, in which she said: "Miss Davison died for women. She did this to call attention to their wrongs and win for them the vote. The government's refusal to grant the vote drove her to make her protest. The argument has not convinced Mr. Asquith of the seriousness of his position, but perhaps the woman's death will."

"Miss Davison's memory will live in woman's heart and history for all time. There will be a public funeral in honor of this soldier, who has fallen in the war for freedom."

The trial of the suffragette leaders charged with conspiracy under the malicious damage to property act, began to-day at the central criminal court. Old Bailey. The accused include Miss Harriet Kerr, Miss Agnes Lake, Miss Rachael Barrett, Mrs. Beatrice Saunders, Miss Anne Kenney, Miss Laura Lennox and Edwin Clayton, the chemist alleged to have acted as adviser to the suffragettes in their campaign.

"General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, who was originally charged with the other prisoners, did not appear, her case having been postponed owing to her illness.

There was a big array of counsel. Sir John A. Simon, the solicitor-general, was the leading barrister on behalf of the government.

Hampton, Eng., June 9.—The court grandstand at Hurd Park was destroyed by fire shortly after midnight last night. The flames spread to the other stands of the famous race course, and also to the stables. The fire is believed to be the work of suffragettes. The damage is $75,000.

SECOND READING IS MOVED BY PREMIER

British House of Commons Animated and Crowded With Home Rule Up

GUARD AGAINST SNAP MAJORITY BEING WON

London, June 9.—When Premier Asquith rose in the House of Commons this afternoon to move the second reading of the Home Rule bill for Ireland, the House presented an animated and crowded appearance, greatly in contrast with the lethargic condition which had characterized its recent sittings. The scandals in connection with the government's wireless contracts and the ill-success of Liberal candidates at the bye-elections had created an uneasy feeling that things were going badly for the government, and strong "calls" had been issued by all the parties in order to secure the unremitting attendance of the members so as to insure the government against the possibility of defeat by a "snap" division.

The conviction of Cecil Chesterton on Saturday on a charge of criminal libel in connection with the Marconi "deal" to some extent rehabilitated the cabinet ministers in the eyes of their followers, and silenced the attacks of the opposition newspapers, but a large section of the Radical party is extremely dissatisfied with the lack of frankness on the part of the cabinet ministers in regard to the Marconi affair, while too few of them consider Premier Asquith too lax in his attendance on parliament.

A division on the Home Rule bill is expected to be taken to-morrow.

ROSE SHOW OPENS AT PORTLAND TO-DAY

Seventh Annual Festival Will Be at Zenith Wednesday Night

Portland, Ore., June 9.—Portland's seventh annual festival of roses began to-day, and until Rex Oregonus takes his departure Saturday midnight devoted to mirth and pleasure will displace the serious occupation of this city's life. At noon the festival king made his annual appearance from down the river, and after being escorted by a large flotilla, landed and inaugurated the festivities.

This afternoon the king was programmed to open the annual rose show, which this year was expected to be more beautiful than ever before owing to the perfect conditions which have prevailed during the last few weeks and because of unprecedented profusion of blooms.

The electric pageant, "the flowers of Oregon," the most beautiful as well as spectacular of the parades, will be held to-morrow night. On the day following there will be decorated automobile and carriage parades, rose shows, as well as many athletic and sporting events.

The festival will reach its zenith Wednesday night, when large delegations from Oakland, Cal., Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, Wash., will participate in a civic and fraternal parade entitled "A Night in Rosaria."

WOMEN OF PRESS AT EDMONTON CONFERENCE

Edmonton, Alta., June 9.—One hundred or more of the newspaper women of the Dominion arrived in the city this morning to attend the triennial convention of the Canadian Women's Press Club, which opened this morning, with a meeting of the executive in the First Presbyterian church. Delegates came in from Vancouver, Toronto, Montreal, Lethbridge, Fort William, Calgary and Regina. The first memorial meeting will be held this afternoon at 8 o'clock, when the address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. Arthur Murphy, and replied to on behalf of the visitors by Mrs. Nellie McClung, the authoress.

CHURCH ASSEMBLY IS INVITED TO VICTORIA

Rev. W. L. Clay Asks Presbyterian Ministers to Come in 1913

INVITATION RECEIVES CORDIAL RECEPTION

Vote on Church Union Will Be Taken in Assembly During Session To-morrow

WOODSTOCK TO HAVE CONVENTION IN 1914

Toronto, June 9.—Before adjourning for the day on Saturday, the general assembly of the Presbyterian church took up the question of the next place of meeting. As a rule there is a vigorous contest between cities and churches for this honor. This year, as it happens, the only invitation which has been laid on the table up to the time of the consideration of the matter was one from the city of Victoria, B. C., for the meeting of 1915.

Rev. Dr. W. L. Clay, of that far western capital, and Rev. J. W. Woodside, of Vancouver, urged the claims of their respective cities, and the latter received a cordial reception. It is very probable that the meeting of that year will be held on the coast, and that numerous delegates will take advantage of the opportunity of attending the exposition in San Francisco.

For the meeting of 1914, invitations will probably be received to-day from Kingston, Ont., and from St. John, N. B., with the probability that the one from Kingston will be accepted.

The commissioners and the delegates who were released from duty at the assembly by the adjournment of Saturday, helped to crowd a number of the city churches Sunday.

The annual assembly sermon was preached in the new Knox church, where it had been anticipated all the meetings would be held this year. The preacher selected for this occasion was Rev. Dr. George Hanson, of Montreal, who conducted the morning devotional services of the congress. With him in the pulpit were the moderator of the assembly, Rev. Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie, Rev. Dr. John Somerset, of Toronto, and Rev. A. B. Winchester, minister of Knox church.

At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the assembly of the Ladies' Supper was observed in the same church, the moderator presiding and many leading elders of the denomination assisting.

The Presbyterian of Kingston, Ont., and St. John, N. B., met on Saturday and decided that St. John should have the honor of inviting the assembly to meet in that city in 1914. The invitation was laid before the body this morning. Rev. R. B. Cochrane, of Woodstock, however, also appeared and made a clever speech asking the commissioners to come to that home of Presbyterianism in 1914, that he secured the unanimous consent, and the assembly of that year will be held in Woodstock for the first time in the history of the church. It is proposed that the union debate which will probably be resumed this afternoon should be concluded, and the vote taken before adjournment to-morrow morning. This morning a telegram of greeting was received from the Bay of Quinte Methodist conference, and a cordial reply sent.

The question of the amalgamation of the East and West in the Presbyterian church came before the general assembly to-day. For a hundred years the Maritime Provinces have been permitted by the assembly to manage their own financial affairs, supervising their own missions and securing the sums necessary for their own congregations. The assembly at the meeting in Edmonton, last year sent a request to the synod of the Maritime Provinces asking whether that synod could not voluntarily merge its interests fully with those of the balance of the churches. The report from the synod was read to-day. The eastern body, while acknowledging fully the superior power of the assembly, said it believed that the work of supervision could be done better with special headquarters in Halifax than from a general headquarters in Toronto.

Lachute, Que., June 9.—Two earth-quake shocks were experienced here at 1.30 yesterday morning. They lasted about two minutes and buildings throughout the town rocked and swayed. Practically all the residents were awakened, and the event is the chief topic of discussion to-day.

No serious damage is reported to buildings, but residents report numerous small breakages of household utensils and ornaments which were thrown from shelves and mantelpieces. The quake seemed to come in two distinct waves. Many citizens left their homes and took their children some distance from a buildings, fearing a recurrence of the shocks.

TO CHARGE MEN WITH MURDER OF ARCHIBALD

Vancouver, June 9.—Chief of Police Mulhern has announced that three men will be charged with the murder of Constable Archibald, whose body was found in a vacant lot near a Vancouver mill May 23. The names of the men are H. F. Clarke, Frank Davis, Joseph Seymour. A fourth man, James Hamilton, may be charged. The four men have been in custody on vagrancy charges since the day the body was found.

Exactly what this evidence consists of the chief is not at liberty to state at the present time, but he admits that it hinges closely on the finding of a mask, and admissions of one of the men apprehended.

SPECULATION DECLINE GIVES SATISFACTION

London, June 9.—Earl Grey presided over a luncheon given at the Royal Colonial Institute to-day to Sir Edmund Walker. In an address which received close attention Sir Edmund declared, regarding Canadian financial propositions, that no country had ever been called upon to handle new rival as has Canada. He did not see that Canada was blameworthy for wanting money, except that she encouraged immigration. There were no promises made in responsible quarters regarding Canada which would not be fulfilled, and until the policy of expansion showed a tendency to lessen it was impossible that Canada could be anything but a borrowing nation.

The decline of real estate speculation was a source of great satisfaction in Canada, he declared. Alluding to the political situation, Sir Edmund said while still believing that Premier Borden would provide three drearinesses he still felt very strongly that the present time was the best time for them.

Until quite recently, however, Imperial defence had only been discussed academically in Canada, and both parties thought they revealed themselves as voting with each other, as to which was the most loyal. Five years ago there was no such spectacle, and the present situation was merely in the nature of a little hitch.

NEW ZEALANDER SUPPORTS COL. ALLEN DOMINIONS SHOULD PATROL PACIFIC

Sir Walter Buchanan, K. B., Heard on Naval Question and Favors Military Training System, Land Tax and Votes for Women

Vancouver, June 9.—Sir Walter Buchanan, K. B., of New Zealand, arrived at the Hotel Vancouver Saturday from the east and will sail for home on the steamer Niagara on Wednesday. He is of the same opinion as Colonel James Allen, who was here a month ago, in regard to naval defence, believing that the right course for the sister dominions to adopt is one of union for the policing of the Pacific. He is equally emphatic in his endorsement of the system of military training which is in force in New Zealand.

Although a farmer and large landowner, Sir Walter is a sturdy supporter of the land tax, as is in force in New Zealand, and he is also a believer in the granting of the franchise to women, stating that it has worked satisfactorily in his dominion and that nobody would now go back to the days when men alone possessed the right to vote. This is his first visit to the Canadian northwest, though he was in Canada in 1914, and he is greatly impressed with what he has seen on his trip across the continent.

BURRELL ANNOUNCES DIVISION OF GRANT

British Columbia Will Receive $27,334 This Year for Agricultural Purposes

Ottawa, June 9.—Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, has announced details of the disposition of the federal government of half a million to provinces which represents this year's initial expenditure of ten millions, voted for agriculture passed during the session of parliament just ended. By agreement with the provinces it is specified in each case to what particular part of agriculture work aid shall be given. It is also specified that the federal government shall supplement present provincial appropriations for agriculture, and in no way curtail the latter. British Columbia's share this year is $27,334. Of this amount $11,000 must be devoted to assisting importation of pure-bred stock, $10,000 for demonstration in farm work, and $6,000 for a demonstration train to be run next March.

Train and Motor Collide at McKinnon Junction, Captain
Cliffen Injured

A serious accident, resulting in the death of V. V. Murphy, the well-known cricketer, and probably fatal injuries to Captain Cliffen, who owns a ranch at Westholme, took place at McKinnon Junction, on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, about noon to-day. The two were motoring into Duncan, when attempting to make the level crossing at McKinnon Junction the car crashed into the up-train. Mr. Murphy was instantly killed, and Captain Cliffen so severely injured that he is not expected to recover. He is now lying in the Duncan hospital.

Mr. Murphy was one of the most popular as well as the most skillful cricketers on the Island. At the recent visit of the Australian team he played on both the Vancouver-Cowichan and British Columbia teams. Captain Cliffen is a farmer at Westholme, where he has resided since his arrival in this country, two years ago.

As an earnest of the respect and esteem in which Mr. Murphy is held in Victoria, the local cricketers have decided to cancel both their matches on Saturday next.

HALF MILLION GONE IN SPRINGFIELD FIRE

Springfield, Mo., June 9.—Fire which started in the basement of a department store here this morning, within two hours destroyed a row of buildings. The fire got beyond the control of the firemen because of low water pressure. Fifteen buildings were destroyed with all their contents, and the entire northeast section of the square was in ruins.

Before noon the fire was extinguished. The loss was estimated at $500,000.

STATE OF VICTORIA TO HAVE ELEVATORS

Melbourne, June 9.—The state of Victoria is likely to adopt the Canadian wheat elevator system shortly. The wheat commission has recommended along these lines, and has advised the introduction of legislation similar to the Manitoba Act, and the sending to Canada of expert delegates to acquire the latest knowledge in respect of elevators.

It is believed that the state parliament will endorse these suggestions.

SERVIA FORBIDDING BULGARIAN MESSAGES

Feeling of Alarm Becomes Pronounced at Belgrade; Bulgarians Attempt Invasion

FAILS TO REPLY TO THE SERBIAN NOTE

London, June 9.—A Vienna dispatch says: "War is almost inevitable between the Balkan allies, according to a Sofia dispatch to the Neue Presse, which declares that the solution of the cabinet crisis must not be looked for before June 12. The Danef cabinet is expected to effect a rapprochement with the triple alliance, and meanwhile a meeting of the premiers is extremely doubtful."

"Intense excitement prevails. Serbia is allowing the passage of no Bulgarian messages. From to-day a more drastic 'state of war' will be observed. All houses must close at 9 o'clock at night."

Belgrade, June 9.—The feeling of alarm is becoming pronounced here, the belief being that Bulgaria is delaying her reply to the Serbian note only to gain time to distribute her troops to the best advantage.

Premier Pasich held a conference to-day with leaders of the various political parties and discussed relations between Serbia and Bulgaria.

On Saturday the Bulgarians again attempted to occupy Serbian territory between Douran and Strumitsa. This, coupled with Bulgaria's failure to reply to the Serbian note, has caused the opposition leaders to demand a speedy settlement of the crisis.

It is proposed that the Skopje area shall declare the occupied territories annexed, thus confronting Bulgaria with a fact accomplished.

Sofia, June 9.—The semi-official V. declares: "No Bulgarian government will ever consent to a revision of the Serbo-Bulgarian treaty."

"If the Serbians do not hasten to abandon their foolish and provocative demand for such revision, we do not see that any good can be expected from an interview between the four premiers, which is momentarily adjourned on account of the Bulgarian ministerial crisis, and less so as the regime of terror to which the Macedonians are being subjected by the Serbians and Greeks does not presage the possibility of an understanding between the allies."

London, June 9.—The final session of the peace conference between the delegates of the Balkan allies and those of Turkey was held to-day at St. James' Palace and ended without anything being decided as to the exchange of prisoners or other matters. The delegates agreed to leave all outstanding questions to their respective governments.

Each of the Balkan delegations advised its government to conclude a separate convention with Turkey. The Montenegro delegate, who presided at to-day's session delivered a speech of farewell in which he expressed his colleagues' homage to King George and their thanks to the British foreign secretary for the hospitality shown them and the counsel given them.

Had the peace conference lasted longer there would have been few delegates to attend it, as Dr. S. Danef, representing Bulgaria, left some days ago, and the two principal Serbian delegates were recalled hastily to Belgrade yesterday.

It is believed that the state parliament will endorse these suggestions.

TIGHTEN RULES FOR IMMIGRANTS IN JULY

Farm Laborers and Domestic Not Included in the Regulation

OTHERS ARRIVING TO HAVE REQUIRED SUM

Ottawa, June 8.—Owing to the scarcity of help which existed in the early part of the present year, the government decided to relax the immigration regulations so as to permit the entry into Canada of railroad construction laborers, general laborers and others coming to assured employment without requiring them to be in possession of $25, as in the general law.

Ottawa, June 9.—Owing to the present stringency of the money market and the possible consequent decline in building operations and industrial development, it is felt by Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor and acting minister of the interior, that a continuance of the relaxation in money qualification regulations, increasing materially as it does the inflow of other than agriculturalists, is no longer justified.

SLAV PRESSURE ON AUSTRIA POSSIBLE

Servia and Montenegro Likely to Unite and Roumania May Make Alliance

VIENNA MADE MISTAKE IN ANTAGONIZING SLAVS

London, June 8.—The policy enunciated by Count Berchtold with respect to the situation in the near east, is so perilously akin to that which, a generation ago, found its mouthpiece in Count Andrassy, at the Berlin conference, as to inspire the utmost doubts as to the future.

When the Austro-Hungarian minister, with the acceptance of Lord Beaconsfield, insisted on altering the new map of the near east which had been drawn by Russia at San Stefano, the war of last autumn was practically assured.

Count Andrassy meant to keep open the road to Salonica; Lord Beaconsfield meant to preserve the Ottoman empire in Europe. The Ottoman empire in Europe has shrunk in the last few months to the peninsula of Thrace and Gallipoli, and a great soldier, Field Marshal von der Goltz, advises Turkey to realize what this means.

Count Andrassy, however, carried through another piece of political strategy. He paved the way for the coup d'etat by which Count Aehrenthal was able to seize Bosnia and Herzegovina. He was thus responsible for the inclusion of that vast Slav element in the dual kingdom, which, in conjunction with the people of Croatia, has made the empire essentially Slavonic in blood if German in government.

As time goes by, Servia and Montenegro are almost certain to be driven into a union. The Sanjak of Novi-Bazar will in a few weeks have disappeared. Their boundaries will be contiguous, and, having embraced within their borders the Slav population of the south, they will in the natural process of racial development begin to push forward towards Bosnia and Herzegovina and Croatia.

Simultaneously Roumania, unable to expand southward, will be driven into an alliance with the Slav states, and will find its method of expansion beyond the Transylvanian Alps, at the expense of Hungary.

That it appears to cool onlookers, is the inevitable development of a political situation which Austria, has aggravated to her own disadvantage by her selfish determination to thrust herself between Montenegro and the sea, and to prevent Servia, from finding a natural outlet through northern Albania to the Adriatic.

The coroner was unable to find any mark of identification, the only papers on his person being an I. W. W. song book and a map of Washington. His assistants refused to give his name. He was buried in the potter's field. No arrests were made.

HOME RULE BILL UP FOR SECOND READING

Ulsterites in Parliament Are for Constitutional Opposition Until Act is Passed

TALK OF REVOLUTION IS NOW DYING OUT

London, June 9.—The Home Rule for Ireland bill is scheduled to come before the House of Commons to-day for second reading, preliminary to its second passage, of the three passages necessary for it to become law over the veto of the House of Lords. Then, probably it will be thrown out again, as it was last year, and it will then have to go through the usual routine in the 1913 session before becoming law.

As to the forthcoming fight in the House of Commons, the Ulsterites cannot be depended upon to oppose the bill by every means in their power. In Ulster itself it has been objected that Irish Unionists have not shown sufficient hostility to the bill.

They have been urged, in fact, to adopt militant methods, and if they cannot defeat the measure by ordinary debate to turn the House of Commons into a shambles and prevent any business from being transacted.

Sir Edward Carson, the Irish Unionist leader, however, is opposed to provoking a fight in the House, which would be the only result of militancy on the part of the Unionists. He advises against it. His theory is that it is better to oppose the bill by constitutional means, then if they lose, leave it to the people of Ulster to ignore the act and if necessary fight against their inclusion in the Union.

Even this talk of revolution is dying out somewhat. The Ulster business men are pretty shrewd and the belief is growing that, should Home Rule be imposed upon them, they would very readily get control of the Irish legislature and, in fact, rule the country from Belfast.

The workmen of Belfast, on the other hand, are easily aroused, and with fluent leaders urging them to fight, might make it uncomfortable for any government that attempted to force them into an acceptance of Home Rule.

MEN ARE INDICTED IN MINERS' UNION

Conspiracy to Raise Wages to Prevent Competition With Other States Charged

Charleston, W. Va., June 9.—President John P. White and a number of officials of the United Mine Workers of America, were indicted in the federal courts here Saturday on a charge of violating the Sherman anti-trust law. It is alleged the defendants conspired with the coal operators of West Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to raise wages in the West Virginia coal fields so as to prevent its competition with the other states in the western market.

Those named in the indictment are John P. White, president; Frank J. Hayes, vice-president; Thomas Haggerty, Joseph Vasey, James Cantrell, Chas. Hatley, Marco Roman, Geo. H. Edmonds and Benjamin F. Morris, organizers of the United Mine Workers of America; Thomas Calra, president; Clarence C. Giffith, vice-president; Jas. M. Crago, secretary of district No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, and James Diana, John Nutter, Rome Mitchell, W. S. Reece, F. D. Stanley, U. S. Cantley and A. D. Lavender, subordinate officers of district 17.

ELECTION RESULT WILL NOT HURT RECIPROCITY

Melbourne, June 9.—No matter which party is returned to power in Australia reciprocity pact will not be interfered with. Minister of customs, Mr. Tudor, approached the matter on non-party lines, and it is generally believed that the Liberals will do the same.

Hon. G. E. Foster, speaking at a dinner given by the Melbourne Chamber of Commerce on Inter-Imperial trade, said that he saw no reason why Canada and Australia should not reciprocate, each helping the other instead of helping to build up the trade of alien nations.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

Centralia, Wash., June 9.—George W. Rice, manager of the Northern Pacific lunch counter in Centralia, was almost instantly killed and Rev. E. E. Dorris, pastor of the Centralia Presbyterian church, is in a precarious condition as the result of the overturning of Rice's automobile three miles up the Skookum Chuck river from Rainier.

The two men were returning from a fishing trip. The car was running down hill when it skidded, shooting up the bank and overturning. Mr. Rice was pinned under the machine and Mr. Dorris was hurled through the wind shield.

Masonic lodge E. C. (1881) of Suva, Fiji, recently celebrated its 25th anniversary. It is the latest lodge in the world, and invitations for the anniversary celebrations were sent thousands of miles to lodges at Honolulu, Sydney, San Francisco and Seattle.

EUCLID WRONG BY BOY'S INVENTION

Sydney A. Gross Aged 16 Has Device Which Will Trisect Polyhedral Angles

Philadelphia, June 9.—Sydney A. Gross, 16 years old, student of the Central High school, has invented an angle sector which has been said by mathematicians to be the first device of its kind that will divide a dihedral, trihedral or polyhedral angle.

Heretofore experts have held that it was impossible to trisect or bisect such an angle, but Gross's invention has proved that Euclid was wrong.

Among the mathematicians who have used the sector and found it true are Prof. Samuel K. Brecht, Prof. M. J. Babb of the University of Pennsylvania, Prof. Jonathan S. Rorer and Prof. David Eugene Smith of Columbia University.

Trigonometry students from the first conception of angles by Eudemus, Carpus of Antioch and Euclid have accepted the generalized rule that dihedral, trihedral and polyhedral angles were impossible of section.

Mixed angles, curvilinear angles and those measured between the lines forming the angle and the tangent at the point of intersection were believed to be impossible to divide.

Gross's device was made in ten days after he began the study of the problem. He made an apparatus of cardboard shaped like an eight-pointed star. This is divided into four compartments along two main axes. Each of the compartments is divided into eight subdivisions and the points are all joined together so that a complete series of rectangles, which may be moved about by the means of flexible hinges, is formed.

The device is of use to architects who must decide where the support for columns or pillars in a building operation must be. By it surveyors can trisect land without resorting to the protractor, which has been used for years, although only approximately accurate.

PASTOR'S WORDS ARE FOLLOWED BY SUIT

Portland, Or., June 9.—Because she objected to being called "an obstreperous person, a mischief-maker and a nuisance," Mrs. A. E. Clark, wife of a prominent attorney, has filed a suit for $25,000 against Rev. A. Morrison, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church of this city. The attorney also says the trouble is the indirect result of the passage of a woman suffrage measure at the municipal election last June.

SIAMESE KING'S 704 WIVES IN AN UPROAR

Paris, June 9.—King Chowfa Maha Vajiravudh, the ruler of Siam, is credited with a total of 704 wives, and he is in constant danger of having their number added to, for by an ancient Siamese custom he must espouse any young girl who offers herself in marriage. In this way he is said to have married recently a Siamese girl who had been brought up in an English family and educated in the doctrines of the suffragettes. Soon after her marriage this young woman started a suffragette campaign among her co-wives, with the result that the unfortunate king now finds the femnine part of his household in a state of revolution.

LOST GIRL FOUND IS IN TERRIBLE PLIGHT

Moose Jaw, Sask., June 9.—Little Frances McIntyre, for whom many people have been searching since Friday night, was discovered Sunday at the house of a local railway official who had made her at home with his family. She was taken back by her father and then ran away again. She says that she was forced to run away on account of the inhuman treatment of her stepmother. She was in a terrible plight when seen yesterday, and has every indication of having been badly treated.

During 1911 boys to the number of 17,139 in excess of girls were born in England and Wales.

ANOTHER CONSULTATION.

A special dispatch to the morning paper from Ottawa says: "It may be necessary for the premier to again visit England to consult the Admiralty, and in that case Mr. Hazen and Mr. Pelletier might have to accompany him and their western trips would have to be postponed."

Why should it be necessary for Mr. Borden to consult the Admiralty again? Does he want to frame up another naval policy? Canada to-day has a naval law which was the outcome of a consultation with the Admiralty by all the Dominions in 1905, when both political parties here were unanimous on the policy of a Canadian navy.

Australia energetically set to work in organizing her own navy and has made gratifying progress. There is no friction in the island commonwealth on the naval question, but there would have been had the government abandoned the local navy policy in favor of a contribution, as Mr. Borden did. All is serene in Australia on this matter, and the relations between the Admiralty and our sister dominion are most cordial. If Mr. Borden is still wedded to his contribution policy, how would it do for him to consult the people for a change, instead of the Admiralty? It is the people's money he proposes to spend, and they should be asked to say if they desire it to be used as Mr. Borden intends it to be.

Another question also arises. Why should Mr. Pelletier, a Nationalist, who was elected on the anti-navy platform, accompany the premier to the Admiralty headquarters? He did so last year, and ever since he has been expounding to his Nationalist constituents that his presence in London was the safeguard of Canada's autonomy, nobly supporting Mr. Borden in his heroic resistance to the allurements of the Jingo Imperialists, to which Laurier succumbed. Through his paper, L'Evenement, he says the $35,000,000 really means nothing. It might never be spent, and if it was, Ontario and the West would pay it. Besides, it would not require their sons to fight England's battles, as the "accursed Laurier naval scheme would."

We can readily understand why Mr. Hazen, Minister of the Naval Service, should accompany this party on a mission of this kind, but why, of all men, should Nationalist Pelletier again make up the party?

MUNICIPAL LOANS.

There is a belief rapidly gaining headway throughout the world that financial agents in London who make a specialty of marketing big loans are charging a rather stiff price for their services. This belief is shared alike by ultimate investors and by borrowers. Hence several municipalities on this side are casting about for some other way of disposing of their bonds. Possibly this financial experiment would not have been thought of just yet but for the difficulty that has been experienced of late in disposing of securities on the London market. In any case, Victoria is not the only municipality on the continent that is offering bonds in small allotments to local investors. Whether the venture will prove successful can only be determined by experience, but there is little doubt of the fact that ultimately this method of contracting loans will gain headway. Speaking of an experiment now being tried in the city of St. Paul the Kansas City Journal says:

"There is too wide a gap between the people as taxpayers and the same people as a municipality. In their individual capacity their acquaintance with the financial authorities is confined for the most part to taxpaying. They might become investors and would become such if the proper effort were made. Certainly it is better for an issue of $1,000,000 of local bonds to be sold to a thousand or five thousand citizens than to half a dozen bond companies, chiefly foreign. This is a mere illustration, but it embodies the central principle of the 'St. Paul idea,' which seems to be an excellent one. It is not necessary to have department store bargain sales to carry it into effect. The details are of small concern in comparison with the value of the closer co-operation resulting from an intimate interest in the community's material welfare. Possibly such an opportunity would be rejected at the first presentation by the people of this city, but the 'idea' is worth a fair trial. The people are going to vote $2,000,000 of school bonds in a few days. Why not give them a chance to 'underwrite' them and get the interest, instead of merely voting for them and paying interest?"

CRIMINAL STATISTICS

In the last twenty years Canada's ratio of crime has doubled. In 1891 it was 8.2 per 10,000 inhabitants; in 1901, 16.5 and in 1911 17.5. This somewhat startling information is set forth in the blue book on the criminal statistics of Canada for the year ended September, 1911, which, considerably overdue, has just been received from Ottawa. Probably two years hence a volume will be issued covering the record of 1912, but for the present we must be content with the information we have.

In 1911 there were 16,625 charges and 12,627 convictions for indictable offences in the various provinces. Ontario headed the list with 7,843 charges and 5,911 convictions; Quebec was second with 2,521 charges and 2,044 convictions, and British Columbia was third with 1,570 charges and 1,149 convictions. There were decreases in charges and convictions in Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island and increases in the other provinces.

It is gratifying to observe that in 1911 there was a marked decrease in the number of charges of offences against the person, such as murder, assault, etc., but unfortunately the same cannot be said of the charges of offences against property, where the increase was 91 over the total of 1910. The largest increase was in offences against property without violence, such as embezzlement, false pretences, theft or larceny, etc.

The occupations of the criminals are represented in the following proportion by classes: Agriculture, 6.36 per cent.; commercial, 18.69 per cent.; domestic, 7.60 per cent.; industrial, 10.36 per cent.; professional, 1.31 per cent.; and laborers, 56.68 per cent. It will be noticed that the proportion given for laborers is excessively high compared with the other classes of occupations, and it may therefore be readily assumed that a large number of offenders given as "laborers" in the returns should have been credited to the more defined classes of occupations, such as agricultural, domestic, commercial or industrial, to which they properly belong.

The civil condition of the convicted shows that 67 out of every 100 were single, 31 married and 2 widowed. The educational status shows that 7 out of every 100 offenders were unable to read or write, 81 had an elementary education and 2 a superior education. As to ages, 1375 per cent. were under 16 years, 15.71 per cent. from 16 to 20 years, 55.33 per cent. from 21 to 29 years and 14.97 per cent. 30 years and over. The use of liquors is represented by the following figures per 100 offenders: 83 moderate and 20 immoderate drinkers, with 17 not given or "non drinkers." Eighty-seven out of every hundred offenders were returned as living in cities and towns, and thirteen in rural districts.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

More than fifteen hundred scales and balances of various kinds—all so constructed as to give short weights—were recently confiscated in Los Angeles by the city inspector of weights and measures. The same official also destroyed seven hundred and fifty liquid measures which were found wanting, and incidentally instituted a number of prosecutions which demonstrated to large and representative dealers in that progressive municipality the simple fact that a pound is precisely a pound.

We did not think it possible that there could be such ethical obliquity in a city so celestially named, but the facts are as stated. The result of the operations of the inspector and his staff, according to Los Angeles papers, is that housewives have reported that for the first time in five years they can get two good-sized dishes of fruit from a box of strawberries. An inspection of thousands of boxes at the markets, in the stores and on peddlers' wagons since the prosecutions has shown that they are running to the full twelve-ounce standard, while before that they varied from eight to ten. Automobile users have been large gainers from the crusade for honest measure. Formerly the gasoline pumps and measures gave from a pint to a quart and a half less than they should when delivering what purported to be five gallons of the liquid. Now they are condemned if they are found to be more than a tablespoonful from the standard. Two pound boxes of bonbons from several of the leading confectionery stores of the city proved to be six ounces shy. Their sellers paid

When Hon. Alex. Mackenzie was prime minister of Canada, about forty years ago, his government was bitterly assailed by Sir John A. Macdonald and the opposition for wilful extravagance. The annual expenditure then amounted to $28,000,000. The late government was accused of barefaced prodigality by Hon. George E. Foster when it spent $125,000,000. This year the government of which Mr. Foster is a member hopes to spend $250,000,000. We accept the morning paper's disclaimer of any intention of "knocking" the inner harbor to the advantage of West Bay. At the same time we are reminded of the old refrain, "It is all very well to dissemble your love, But why did you kick me downstairs."

War clouds are again lowering over the Balkans. Previous to the late outbreak Serbia and Bulgaria had entered into an arrangement regarding the division of the territorial spoils should the allies be successful. They were more successful than they anticipated, and now Serbia demands an overhauling of her understanding with Bulgaria.

Our good neighbor along the street has adorned his windows with the picture of three battleships, with the inscription, "The Senate does not want them." The inscription is wrong. It should read: "Wanted by the Senate for the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts. Not wanted by Mr. Borden, who wishes to send them empty to the Admiralty."

Imagine Sir Hugh Graham, Canada's leading ultra-Imperialist, the chief exponent of a naval contribution policy, financing the Nationalist campaign in Quebec with the cry that Laurier was "too British." Henri Bourassa, Nationalist leader, declares that this actually happened.

RUSSELL-KNIGHT WINS CONTEST. The Hill Climbing Contest for the "Spectator" Trophy held on Victoria Day, under the auspices of the Hamilton Automobile Club, attracted thousands of people to the course, including many from Montreal, Toronto and other points.

The contest comprised three classes. Cars rated over 25 h.p., between 26 and 35 h.p., and 26 h.p. or under. The R. A. C. rating was used in which the bore and the stroke of the engine formed the basis of the h. p.

The course from the John Street hay market to the summit of the Strongman road served as an excellent test by reason of the sharp or hair-pin turns in the course up the mountainside. These turns had to be taken slowly and tested to the fullest extent the flexibility and power of the motor.

The Russell-Knight "26" driven by Mr. W. R. Bennett, won out in class No. 3 and clearly demonstrated its superiority over the other cars entered. This excellent motor had no difficulty in negotiating the steep hill or series of hills, including the sharp turns, faster than any of the others. The time for this distance was 2.53.

SEARCH FOR BOUNDARY. Lawsuit Postponed For Surveyors to Decide Where Bounds of Work and Finlayson Estates Lay.

After having gone into the adjourned case of Lee Mong Kow vs. the British Columbia Electric Railway Company this morning Mr. Justice Morrison decided that there ought to be a re-survey of the property affected by the dispute between the parties, the point of which is the true boundary between the old Work and Finlayson estates.

These areas of land were originally in the hands of pioneers of Victoria, officials of the Hudson's Bay Company, and are represented by members of both families here to the present day.

There was an array of land surveyors in court this morning, outdoing the lawyers in number, who had viewed the property with the judge and the counsel engaged—H. A. Maclean, K. C., for the plaintiff, and Hon. A. E. McPhillips, K. C., for the company.

On Thursday last, J. Herrick McGreggor was called the witness box on behalf of Lee Mong Kow, when his lordship suggested that the two sides had better get surveys made and have the surveyors come together and agree on a plan. The court could then be applied to file this, and meanwhile the trial of the present case could be adjourned sine die.

This was agreed to by both sides and an order entered to that effect.

PRINCESS MARY HAS LEFT WAYS FOR RUN

May Be Converted to Oil Burner Next Winter; Princess May Rests Till Friday

Having completed an overhaul at the ways of the Victoria Machinery Shop, the Princess Mary gave way yesterday to transfer barge No. 2, which is now receiving attention at the same ways.

The Princess Mary's release will free the Princess Beatrice, which will be the next vessel to receive the care of the repairers for overhaul. It is not probable that there will be any more transfers of vessels in the B. C. coast service to oil burners till the pressure of the summer traffic is over and the steamers can be laid up without interfering with traffic. It is, however, expected that the Mary will be the vessel to adopt oil fuel, as the transition is gradually being completed throughout the fleet, the general policy being to use liquid fuel.

The Princess Mary, which has had a busy time carrying the Skagway route traffic during the time that the Sophia has been under repair, will be given a rest on arrival to-day, the next north-bound journey which she will be making set for Friday. Meanwhile the crew and machinery will be given a chance to recuperate while the Princess Sophia is on that route.

Capt. Troup, manager of the B. C. coast service, is on his way west, and will arrive in Victoria on Thursday after his visit to the Old Country to let contracts for two turbine steamers for the triangular run.

IN MEXICAN PORT DURING REVOLUTION

Maple Leaf Liner Coming to Victoria Sees Hostilities at Guaymas

ARNA DOCKS TO DISCHARGE STEEL RAILS

Norwegian Vessel Makes Good Time From New York With Heavy Cargo

Bringing steel rails for the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, the Norwegian steamer Arna arrived at the outer wharf yesterday and commenced discharging freight. The cargo consigned to this port in addition to that for the street railway company is of a general character, amounting to 520 tons. The vessel, which is under charter to the Maple Leaf line, is in charge of Captain O. D. Jentoft, and left New York on March 13, calling at St. Lucia (British India), and Coronel, Chile, for bunkers. She made calls since that time at Tachenano, Valparaiso, and Iquique, in Chile, and La Union and Salvador.

Experience in Guaymas. At Guaymas, in Mexico, Capt. Jentoft says the most exciting experience of the voyage took place as the port in the Gulf of California is the storm centre of the revolution which continues in the state of Sonora, Mexico. The port is held by the federal troops and commanded by their gobs at the entrance, and is a much sought after position by the rebel troops. While the Arna was in port the sound of firing was frequent, although no attempt was made to interfere with the vessel. The interests of Americans, which are considerable in the industries of the town, were in charge of the U. S. battleship California, and by her wireless alone was communication kept up, as the rebels had cut the telegraph wires. Death is the penalty, the captain says, of political opinions being voiced in public against the administration, and very little value is attached to human life. Quite a number of the residents

HANDSOME GERMAN FREIGHTER IS HERE

Kosmos Liner Hathor Pays Visit to Port on Second Voyage From Hamburg

Completing her second voyage, the maiden one to the Pacific coast, the Kosmos liner Hathor came up to her berth yesterday. Although delayed by a northwesterly blow south of Cape Blanco, Captain E. Vaubel stated that he would have arrived earlier had he not doubted that he would be able to discharge on Sunday. Thus he did not extend the engines for the last leg of the journey. The cargo for Victoria, consisted of some 600 tons of nitrates, which were loaded at ports in northern Chile.

The Hathor is a magnificent freighter and justified the claims made for German maritime construction. She came from the yards near Bremen last summer and left Hamburg on her second voyage on March 1, calling at London on March 7, and Antwerp on the fifteenth of that month. The run to the Straits of Magellan was less than a month, Punta Arenas being reached in 28 days from the Scheidel. Calls were in turn made at Coronel, Talcahuana and Valparaiso, and nitrates were loaded at Antofagasta, Tocopilla and Iquique. The run up the west coast from Iquique was accomplished in 16 days from the Chilean port of San Francisco.

Apart from the gale into which the steamer ran off the California coast, and some rough weather near the Straits of Magellan, the weather during the three months' trip was good, and devoid of special incident.

Captain Vaubel is glad to see Victoria again. He brought a representative of the Kosmos line here last year. His present command is 4,439 tons net register, and 7,000 gross. She is 429 feet long and 61 beam. It is, however, the finishing of the steamer which strike the visitor, for there are few vessels in the freight business under any flag more splendidly finished. The dining saloon, and the captain's quarters are inlaid with West African woods from the Cameroons, the workmanship being of the very best.

When the Hathor completes discharging here she will move to Everett and the Sound. The Serapis has just left the Sound for Hamburg with a large cargo of lumber, flour, wheat, and general commodities.

SEATON PARK ALBERNI

This property consists of five acres or more (which have proved most suitable for mixed farming and fruit and vegetable growing), and is situated less than two miles from the Alberni city limits and less than one mile from Great Lake.

The Trunk Road from Alberni to Great Lake and the West Coast, being a continuation of the Canadian National Highway from Halifax to Alberni, runs right through it.

It is one of the best sections of land in the Alberni district and was specially selected by experts of considerable farming experience.

The soil is of the finest quality, being nearly all Alder and Crab Apple bottom—excellent for crops of all kinds, also for fruit raising.

It has a beautiful river frontage, and the fishing at this point is of the best.

Altogether this property, both for location and quality of land, is adjudged much above the average in the Alberni district.

PORTLAND ROSE SHOW ATTRACTS ITS HUNDREDS

Every steamer leaving for the Sound is carrying numerous visitors from Victoria for the Portland rose show. The Grand Trunk steamer Prince George yesterday had a large number of those who can put the week in at the rose city. For the convenience of those who desire to catch the afternoon trains to Portland at Seattle, the Prince Rupert is to run on Wednesday morning.

The ticket agencies report a particularly brisk business, the representative of one leading railway stating this morning that the demand this year was three times that of any previous occasion. The fine weather assured this week, and the convenience of access to the Oregon city are both factors in making record traffic to Portland on this occasion.

JAPAN WILL EXPLOIT CHILEAN FISHERIES

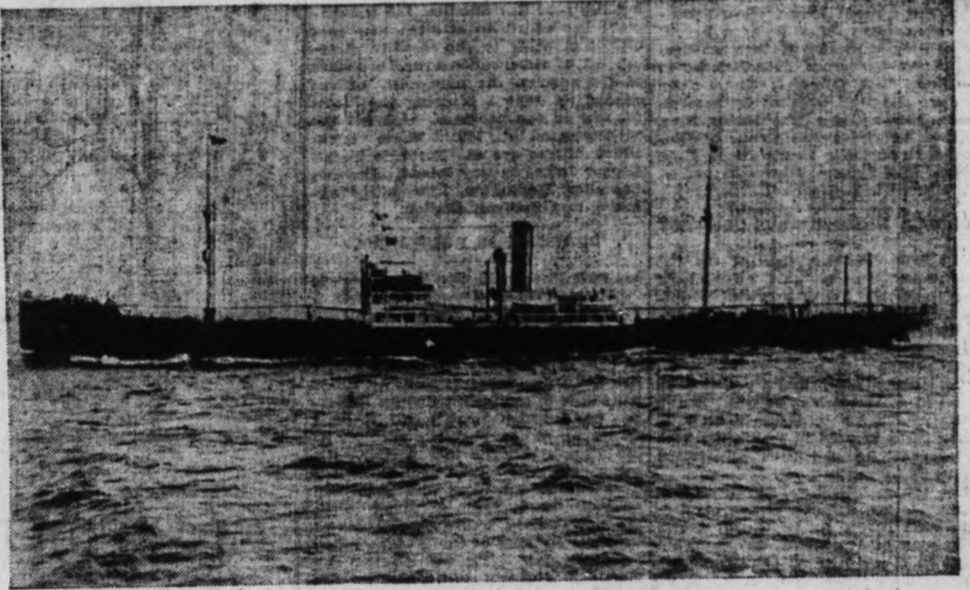

Exchanges to hand on the Empire of Russia state that M. Oka, a Japanese business man, is now in Chile, and will return to Yokohama on July 1, when a company will be formed with a capital of about half a million yen, to undertake fishing business in Chile. Although Chilean waters abound in fish, the industry is still in a primitive condition, and prices are very high, ranging from three to ten times as great as in Japan, so that fish is only within the reach of the upper classes.

There will be a great demand in Chile, therefore, and also in other South American countries where marine products are scarce. All possible assistance is expected to be given the enterprise by the Chilean authorities, even subsidies being likely to be granted.

WAS IT JOKE OR MISTAKE.

Seattle, June 8.—James Black, a member of the crew of the gasoline launch Sea King, which a message picked up in a bottle on Jericho beach and brought to Vancouver, B. C., recently said was wrecked in May, off Sable Island, wants his friends to know that the Sea King, of Seattle, was not wrecked, and is now lying at the Pacific Net & Twine dock, preparatory to going on her regular fishing run. Whether the message in the bottle was a poor attempt at joke, or had reference to some other Sea King than the one registered at Seattle, is not known. The local schooner and all her crew are safe and well.

Which arrived yesterday from Hamburg, to discharge Chilean nitrates.

PAY PENALTY OF DETECTION ON RUSSIA

Two stowaways, M. Macey and J. Matthews, whose presence was discovered on the Empress of Russia en route here, and two Japanese, were brought up at the police court at Vancouver this morning and ordered to be deported.

They were sent on to Vancouver, on account of the crowded condition of the detention sheds here caused by immigrants on the Keemun and Empress of Russia. They will be returned on the next white liner out-bound to the Orient.

TWO BLUE FUNNEL VESSELS HERE WEDNESDAY

Business at the outer wharf should be brisk on Wednesday. Two Blue Funnel vessels will dock here, the Protosailus to clear for the Orient, which she should manage by noon, and the Keemun, which arrived on Friday, and is returning to discharge local cargo here on that day. The agents look for her about 7 a.m.

Outbound the Protosailus takes some 25 Chinese to the Celestial republic for a holiday. As the Arna may not complete discharging rails till Sunday, the fishing steamer Zapora, of the International Fisheries Company's fleet, struck an uncharted reef, and was damaged to such an extent that it will be necessary for her to go into drydock before making another cruise. She will leave for Seattle.

NIAGARA LEAVES FOR SYDNEY ON WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara will leave the outer wharf for Australia, burning liquid fuel exclusively. She is the largest vessel which has received a certificate from the British Board of Trade as an oil burner. Experimentally with two boilers liquid fuel was used from Honolulu on the way here on her maiden trip. Since the arrival at Vancouver the transfer to oil burners has been effected.

Captain Gibb has given both private and public receptions to Vancouver residents during the crack liner's stay in port, and these opportunities to see the fine vessel have been greatly appreciated.

The next vessel to arrive from Sydney will be the Marama, which is due in port about June 24. She is expected in Suva on Wednesday on the northbound trip.

STRIKES UNCHARTED REEF

Tacoma, June 7.—Running at full speed off Queen Charlotte Island last Sunday, the fishing steamer Zapora, of the International Fisheries Company's fleet, struck an uncharted reef, and was damaged to such an extent that it will be necessary for her to go into drydock before making another cruise. She will leave for Seattle.

BEES NOW HAVE CHANCE TO CLIMB INTO THIRD PLACE

Take Two Games From the Pippins on Saturday; Some Great Slugging in Double-Header

No matter what may be said of the Bees they are very strong for that double-header stuff. It may be that our highly paid athletes hate to waste their energy unless they can grab a couple of games, and therefore are low for the twin events. At any rate, the Bees evened up the Portland series after spotting the Pippins a couple of games, by winning a brace on Saturday, the victories featuring the grand hitting strength of the Bees, and also the acquisition of a new hurler who made his debut in a very pleasing style. In the first game our hopefuls closed the contest on the lone end of a 9-to-4 score, but in the second contest the Bees were forced to send in their star rescuer, Sir Walter Smith, to clinch the battle.

Some Changes Made.

There was great joy amongst the fans over the brace of wins at the expense of the Williams' tribe, and the Bees are once more repeating on the .500 mark, with a nice chance of going up this week. To suit the demands of the populace, Michael Lynch, the former Tammany Boss of Tacoma, loped off the head of Elbert Felts, and added the mighty swatting Alberts to his list of field generals. Then Bert Delmas emerged from the dugout and heelt the field, Swain going into left garden. Add to that bunch Harry Meek, the greatest fence buster of all history, the rejuvenated Lou Nordyke, who has once more accustomed his lamps to the opposing slab artists' heaves, and another Turk in Fitzgerald, who can also belt the cork centre, and it was some attack that lined up against the Pippins.

Fitzgerald Shows Stuff.

Fitzgerald was welcomed with open arms, and this follower of the shamrock proceeded to make himself solid with the fans. Of course he did not do it all by himself, but at that he handled himself nicely and backed by the clouting of the Lynch squad, had little difficulty in breezing over the pan five runs to the good. When the Irish meet the Dutch there is sure to be a battle, but when a Fitzgerald stacks up against a Martinioli, there is only one ending. Nick Williams might have known better had he figured out the dope on these two nations when it came to baseball. Meek featured the game by driving two runners across in the first with a mighty swat over the fence. Three more came home in the fourth, while in the sixth and eighth the Bees also counted, Swain's homer getting the final tally. Mahoney, with a homer in the sixth, led the Portland attack.

Another For Smith.

For the third time George Hardin was brave enough to start against the Pippins, but he was not right, and Sir Walter Smith replaced him in the second. Stanley, Nick Williams' port sider, who had won from the Bees on Thursday, went into the box, but he was no puzzle, and the locals took great pleasure in straightening out his

AS SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

Oh well, we like double headers anyway. Two games in a row surely help that percentage column.

Vancouver had a bunch of trouble with the despised Tigers.

A couple from Seattle, and the four leading teams will be clustered before the end of the week.

Now that the twirlers have started to work at top form, let's have a little pop on the bases.

Charlie Alberts will be stationed regularly in the outfield, Felts being benched for a week or so.

With Nordyke clouting at his present clip and Meeks behind the bat the Bees surely have a grand bunch of sluggers.

Bert Delmas got back into the game with a vengeance, his hitting being one of the surprises of the day.

It was rather dark when the second contest finished up, but then there was little to get out of the series for the clubs would not have been able to finish another half inning and the score would have reverted to the team trials at the end of the eighth.

Bob Brown has refused a nice offer from Oakland for Spittal Schmus, who looks the best hurler on the Beavers' staff right now.

When Dick Hausman can hold the mighty Brown to a solitary hit he must have something on the ball. Kaufman is doing nicely for McGinnity.

Johnny Rawlings will work better at second base, as it will give him more time with his throwing. The infield looks a lot stronger now.

This fellow Fitzgerald, while a veteran, handled himself in splendid style, his hitting being a treat to the fans. Perhaps if Joe Cohn would inject a few Casey and O'Malley's into his Indian tribe they would do a lot better. Spokane hasn't a harp on the club.

Harry Meek is playing better ball than he has been for some years, also he is hitting the cork centre right on the nose.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Now that our cripples have recovered sufficiently to get back into the game, Mike Lynch was able, for the first time in two weeks, to send his club on the field at full strength on Saturday against the Pippins. Two straight games were the result, and while the Bees will still continue to drop a game now and then, the team will give them all a battle from now on. Alberts, Lynch and Swain comprise as hard a hitting outfield as there is in the league, while the infield with Delmas at short, Rawlings at second, Lamb at third and Nordyke at first, also looks strong. If only remains for the twirlers to strike their real stride. On Saturday the team showed lots of pep, and hammered the sphere with pleasing regularity. Delmas will add strength to both the attack and defence, while Alberts is a much better hitter than Felts. Nordyke is getting a couple of hits every day and will certainly do until Brooks gets back into the game.

Locals Have a Chance to Tie Up Leadership.

Kantlehner was to work to-day against the Seattle club. There are four left-hand hitters on the champions' batting list, and Stanley, of Portland, had them eating out of his hand in a couple of the games between the Portland and Seattle clubs. Narveson will probably twirl tomorrow, while Kasty may again be shoved onto the mound on Wednesday. Should the Bees take two again by the three, they will be in a nice position to jump higher when the Portland team starts to bump up against the Beavers at Vancouver. With the shifts that he has made, Lynch ought to go right ahead from this out, as he has easily the strongest batting team on the circuit. Any one of the line-up are good for homers and even his twirlers are above the average when it comes to finding the cork centre. Victoria has a grand opportunity to climb this week at the expense of the leaders, and go over to Vancouver with a chance for third or even second berth inside of two weeks.

Thrillers for Local Gas Engine Enthusiasts.

Next Saturday at the Willows, a real international motorcycle meet will be held, when a great galaxy of auto bike stars will feature the first real series of motorcycle contests ever held in the Capital. Victoria now boasts of a good-sized motorcycle club and there are hundreds of enthusiasts in the Capital. Not only will they be particularly interested in Saturday's races, but every auto owner in the city will be afforded a real chance to witness one of the most sensational sports of the day, motorcycle racing. This sport has become a regular craze in the Eastern States, where special motor dromes have been erected to handle the races. Ninety miles an hour is a common occurrence on the saucer tracks, while even on the dirt tracks, the riders hit up seventy miles an hour in the stretch. The game combines all the thrills of auto racing on a smaller scale, with less danger to the spectators. Saturday's bill includes all the riders who competed at Seattle recently, as well as a number of local speeders.

GREAT STARS FOR SATURDAY'S MEET

Motorcycle Races at the Willows Attract Pro. Riders for Full Cards

Manager R. A. Hiller, of the Pacific Motorcycle Racing Association, is back in Victoria after making all arrangements to have the greatest motorcycle riders that have ever raced in Western British Columbia to contest at the Willows next Saturday. Earl Godfrey, champion of British Columbia, and Ed. L. Bereth, one of the greatest riders on the coast, will be contestants to-day and to-morrow at Portland, Ore., in the big F. A. M. meet of that city, and it is their intention to come direct from Portland to this city. Fred Livick, the great Seattle rider; W. H. Pettit, Jimmy Bergstadt, Harry Cogburn, the California speed fiend; Fred Mercer, Ted White, one of the greatest riders of the Seattle Motorcycle Club; John Venan, another clever rider, and other possible entries, will arrive during the week.

All Pro. Riders.

It was the intention of Manager Hiller to give this meeting at the Meadows on June 15, but he decided to transfer the racing to the Willows for June 14, and to hold the next meeting at the Meadows on July 6, thus insuring for Victoria a programme of clean high class motorcycle racing that has taken months of work to bring together. These riders are not amateurs, but professional speed men.

Over the Meadows track in Seattle these riders were making miles in better than 59 seconds, but it cannot be stated with any degree of certainty just how fast time they will make over the Willows track until the machines have been thoroughly tried out.

Motor Cycle Parade.

A movement has been started to have a big motorcycle and bicycle parade next Friday night. This matter is still in its embryo state, but will be agitated. The box seats will be placed on sale Wednesday at the Two Jacks, and it is believed a large gathering will occupy the boxes when the first race is called.

TORONTOS CAPTURE OVERTIME BATTLE

Toronto, June 8.—In the most remarkable game of lacrosse played in the East for many years, the Toronto's beat Tecumseh's by 7 to 6 in their first "Big Four" game of the season. It took 40 minutes overtime to decide the match, which did not finish until after 7 o'clock, but the big crowd stayed to the close, enthralled by the close and clever, to say nothing about the sensational and exciting plays.

Montreal, June 9.—In the "Big Four" game, Irish-Canadians won from Nationals and still retain their unbroken record. The Irishmen won by 6 to 4, but were more superior than the score would indicate.

AUSTRALIANS WIN IN THE DOUBLES

New York, June 9.—Playing tennis that ran the gamut from sensational to mediocre, the Australian team defeated the United States team for the Davis Cup preliminary Saturday by a score of 2-6, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2 and 9-7 in the doubles. The victory gave the players from "down under" their first match of the series, which now stands: United States 2, Australia 1.

On Monday the two remaining single matches will be played, and while the Americans only need one match the Australians must win both in order to enter the second round, to be played in England next month.

For excitement, the Davis Cup matches played in this country have had no equal to that of Saturday. The United States pinned its faith in Maurice McLoughlin and H. H. Hackett, while the island representatives were N. Doust and A. B. Jones.

AMERICAN POLO CAPTAIN INJURED

Hampstead, N. Y., June 9.—Accident deprived the American polo team of its leader and most brilliant player, Foxhall P. Keene, who ranks high among the famous polo players of the world. He was thrown from his pony at Meadowbrook during what was planned to be the last practice game before the match, his collar bone being broken. The injury will necessitate the picking of another captain for the American team.

HUNDREDS AT PLAYGROUND.

Walter Small, who is supervising the North Ward Park sports, states that nearly nine hundred youngsters took advantage of these grounds during the past week. Saturday the Cubs and Giants played a baseball game at the park, the latter winning, 29 to 12.

A School League game also took place there between George Jay and Central schools. The Centrals won, 23 to 16. To date the standing of the School League is:

South Park	3	0	1000
North Ward	2	1	750
Central	2	2	500

COWICHAN WERE EASY WINNERS

Albions Unable to Hold Cowichan Batters; Week End Cricket Scores

Many cricket matches were played on Saturday, the weather proving ideal. The scoring was not particularly heavy, but some excellent individual scores were taken up. Cowichan batted in grand form for 352, Curgenven topping the half century mark in their contest with the Albion A. eleven, for the record totals of the week-end. In this match the bowling of the Cowichan trundlers proved too much for the visitors. Albions scored 71 in their first and gathered 131 on their second attempt, the Cowichan batters rolling up 233 runs before they were retired in their first innings.

James Bay Methodists won a close game from the Men's Own Club at Beacon Hill, the former having a margin of ten points at the finish. B. Lee, with a score of 42, practically clinched the game for the Bay eleven, the Lee brothers also taking the majority of the Men's Own wickets. Leeming was high bat for the losers.

Victoria B. won from the Garrison team by 85 runs on the Soldiers' Home grounds, Saturday afternoon. The Garrison eleven scored 89, Q. M. S. Robertson hitting for 34 in finished style, and the Victoria eleven totalled 144, Yeoman and Schwengers being the leading batsmen.

University Students defeated the Oak Bay B eleven at the University grounds in easy fashion by 81 runs. The Students batted first and rolled up a score of 141, Hudson, Taylor and Doble being the stars, while the Oak Bays could only amass 60 runs, Morton and Gurney getting over half of the total between them.

WRESTLING BOUT TO-MORROW NIGHT

From the form that Peter Buzukos, the Greek light-weight champion, is showing on the mat at the Victoria Athletic Club, he promises to give Charlie Kelly, the Canadian title holder, the busiest evening that he has ever enjoyed since he entered the grappling game. The Greek is a wonder for his size, and he combines the strength of a Hercules with the agility of a tumbler. Buzukos is looking for a win via the two straight falls route, and it will be a big surprise to his followers if Kelly is able to pin the shoulders of the Greek champion to the mat.

Kelly is anxious to get into the ring with the Greek, and states that he will win. The Celt is not boasting about his past performances, but his reputation shows that he is a man worthy of the greatest consideration on the part of the Greek expert. Kelly has been training faithfully and will give a splendid account of himself when the pair meet. Instructor Joe Raymond, of the V. A. C., will referee the bout, and he has arranged for a couple of good preliminaries to keep the fans in good humor before the main bout is called.

Special preparations have been made to handle a big crowd, and the first bout is billed for 8.30 sharp, doors open at 8 p.m.

GEO. GUNN SCORES DOUBLE CENTURY

London, June 9.—Surrey scored 177 against Middlesex Saturday, which left them 71 runs behind on the first innings. In the second innings Middlesex scored 188 for five wickets. Essex, who were 94 runs behind on the first innings against Northamptonshire, have lost three wickets in the second innings for 25 runs.

Games started last Wednesday resulted as follows. Kent beat Lancashire by two wickets. The Nottingham-Yorkshire match was left drawn. George Gunn made two hundred for the former club. Worcestershire beat Gloucestershire by an innings and 138 runs. Somerset beat Derbyshire by an innings and 59 runs. The match

IS NO POT HUNTER.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 9.—Because of newspaper criticisms to the effect that he is going "pot hunting" Arthur S. Robinson, the phenomenal sprinter of Mercersburg Academy has decided not to cross the Atlantic to take part in the English and Scottish championships. Robinson was to have sailed with James Curran, the trainer at Mercersburg next week.

Curran had arranged to have Robinson spend the summer at his home, and had expected to run him only in the English and Scottish championships. The Mercersburg authorities say it was not the intention to let Robinson run in meets all over Europe.

MADDEN TO JOIN BEES IN SEATTLE

President Wattleit, of the Victoria Baseball Club, scored a ten strike this morning when he outted Madden, one of the best hitting outfielders in California, and one of the fastest base runners on the coast for the local club. Madden will report at once, and will replace Felts in left field, Alberts taking his turn on the slab. The acquisition of Madden means that Victoria boasts of the greatest hitting club that was ever gathered together in the Northwestern League, and if the twirlers will only hold up their end, the fans had better look for the pennant this season.

SELECT YACHTS.

Kiel, Germany, June 7.—Elimination trials will be held June 18 here for the selection of the German representatives who are to participate in the German-American Sonderklasse regatta off Marblehead, Mass., next September.

With George Stoval back on first for the Browns a place has to be found for Brief, who hits too well to stay on the bench and he goes to an outfield berth. Manager Jake Stahl, of the Red Sox, did not join his team in the West as expected. His foot did not heal as rapidly after the operation as had been hoped for.

According to Umpire Silk O'Loughlin, Rob Russell, of the White Sox, is going to be a great pitcher. Based on what he has done, it might be remarked that Walter Johnson is also "going to be" one.

Clark Griffith thinks George Mullin will be the deciding factor for him in winning the pennant. If this comes true, then the price paid, $2,500, will be cheap enough. Martinoni, the good looking youth whose name sounds like that of a before dinner drink, is a good pitcher. He was with Oakland last year, but his health was bad and he could not do himself justice. He is much bigger and stronger now and he is a hard man to beat when the team behind him is attending to business. He is very steady and he knows how to pitch. With Nick Williams to coach him, he does not dish up any "hot" ones.

CHILDREN'S COURTESY.

On the first day of the school holidays, writes a correspondent in the Manchester Guardian, I noticed two little girls of the poorest class, aged perhaps six and eight respectively, peering into a sweetshop window. If the great Thackeray could not see a schoolboy without wishing to give him a sovereign, I may be allowed a pennyworth of a like sentiment, and the two little girls presently went into the shop. Two minutes after, as I stood at the street corner waiting for my tram, I heard a small voice at my elbow say: "Please take one or two." I looked down, and saw each of the little mounds holding out a screw of sweets.

I gave up eating sweets a quarter of a century ago, and of the favorings, peardrop and mince, I don't know which I dislike most. But who could resist courtesy of such true refinement?

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, biliousness and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, grip, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconveniences attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies. They are ideal for aged or delicate persons as well as for the most robust. They act toward relieving constipation, and to overcome the cause, and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles of the bowels and associated organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no promise and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

Rexall Orderlies come in convenient-vest-pocket size tin boxes, 12 tablets, 10¢; 36 tablets, 25¢; 80 tablets, 50¢.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at the Rexall Stores.

Club Will Hold Outings From July 15 to July 25 and July 28 to August 9

The Alpine Club of Canada is holding two camps this season for its members. One is to be held in the Lake O'Hara Valley, in the main range, and the other at Mount Robson. The objects of the camps are to enable members to meet in the mountain regions of Canada and by their explorations and climbs to acquire a full knowledge of such regions and bring them to the public notice. The camp at Mount Robson will be open from July 28 to August 9, while the camp in the Lake O'Hara Valley will be open from July 15 to July 25. Special expeditions will be made from both places.

FOURTH TROOP WON TITLE ON-FIELD DAY

Boy Scouts Contested Events Keenly; Programme Was Great Success

In every way a success was the field sports day held by the local troops of the Boy Scouts on Sunday afternoon at the Oak Bay athletic park. The events were all well-contested, and some of the finishes, such as that of the bicycle race, were close. There was a fair attendance of parents and friends of the boys, and one of those present was Rev. T. R. Henega, provincial secretary of the Boy Scouts, who never misses any of their gatherings.

The championship of the Scouts for the coming year in matric athletic was won by Fourth Troop, members of which were awarded 66 points as a result of their wins in the several events. The other troops won points as follows: Second troop, 22; third troop, 18; Seventh troop, 11; Eleventh troop, 10; First and Twelfth troops, 6 each; Eighth troop, 3.

Boys and spectators alike got much fun out of the sports, which were carried out in a true Scout spirit, fairly, quickly and without a squeal of any kind. The boys set an example that would be worthy of emulation by contestants generally.

The bicycle race ended in a dead heat between J. Gellard and G. Marwick. In the two-mile walking race Mr. Henega was a contestant, and made a plucky run, although he was out-distanced.

MISSING SHOW

Eddie Foy.

There will be new jokes and laughing catch-phrases next Thursday, June 12, when irrepressible Eddie Foy and the Seven Little Foyes in the new musical fun-maker, "Over the River," which Verba and Laescher have produced on a big scale, comes to the Victoria theatre.

The spirit of maddest frolic permeates every scene of this production, which comes here direct from its long run on Broadway. Its unconventional appeal is said to be the strong note in its appeal to an audience. "Over the River" is described as not only a great play, but it is a great musical piece filled with tuneful songs that start everyone to humming or whistling the "catchy" melodies. Mr. Foy has been surrounded with a large company, well chosen.

Blanche Bates.

It is safe to say that the appearance of Blanche Bates at the Victoria theatre, June 13, in her latest notable success, "The Witness for the Defense," will provide theatregoers with an opportunity for witnessing one of the highest dramatic achievements that the modern stage can afford. "The Witness for the Defense" is from the pen of the well-known English novelist, A. E. W. Mason, and is an admirable vehicle for the display of Miss Bates' perfect art. This actress can, without any outpouring of physical velocity, portray the most poignant phases of tragedy and grief, no less than the highest and lighter characteristics of comedy. She makes the heroine of "The Witness for the Defense" one of the most sympathetic figures known to the modern stage.

The Magistrate—"one case against you looks pretty dark," Mr. Johnson." Mr. Johnson—"That's all right, Judge. I kin prove an alibi."

The buckle is covered with the blue and sewed flat to the garment, a small button fastening the belt after putting on. The plain coat is made of ecru poplin with cords and covered buckle of the same material. The belt is stitched flat all around the top of the skirt.

The bride, who was given away by Mr. Thomas Maddock, of Wellington, wore a graceful gown of white shantung veiled in tulle, the train elaborately embroidered with true-lover's knots. Her veil of Brussels lace worn by her mother on her wedding day, was fastened under a chaplet of orange blossoms, and the bouquet which she carried was of white roses. Miss Nellie Maddock acted as bridesmaid, and D. D. Black as best man. After the ceremony at the Cathedral the guests repaired to the James Bay hotel, where a delicious wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy leaving by the forenoon boat for a trip on the mainland. The bride's going-away suit was of shepherd's plaid, with white satin hat.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT

By RUTH CAMERON. That we should hide our self-conceit under a covering of modesty has long been as much an axiom of civilization as that we should hide our bodies under a covering of clothes. And yet how often we unconsciously reveal ourselves in the stark nakedness of conceit. "I don't think we'd have half the divorces we do," says my neighbor, "if people only had a sense of humor. Now I make it a plan to always look for the funny side of things and I think I avert a great deal of trouble that way."

My neighbor's philosophy is most excellent, but I wonder if she realizes what an emphasis she puts on "Now I." Ordinarily she is a very diffident person, rather too much so; she is always wishing she were as good or as clever or as pretty as someone else. But once in a while she is betrayed into revealing some of that normal self-conceit, of which I believe every human being has more or less, no matter how thickly he overlays it with mock or real humility. "I don't think Mrs. W. has any right to spend so much money for clothes," says another neighbor in speaking of a friend who dresses extravagantly. "Now, I believe in being well dressed, but I don't put half my husband's salary in debt." Again, in speaking of another friend who (according to her) is inclined to be careless about her personal appearance—"The idea of her neglecting herself like that! Some day she'll be sorry. And I know she could dress decently if she'd only manage a little. Goodness knows I don't have any too much money to spend on my clothes, but I always make a great effort to look as well as possible. Evidently this woman believes that she herself is the ideal, the happy mean between these two objectionable extremes. And yet if you should tax her with having a high opinion of herself she would be as astonished as she was indignant.

We have all laughed at the old saying, "Accidents will happen in the best regulated of families; they do in ours." And yet most of us sometimes betray ourselves as blatantly as its author. Now, mind you, I am not protesting against this instinctive self-conceit. On the contrary, as I have said before, I think a certain amount of it is necessary to the happiness of the human race. I'm just laughing with you at the amusing and contrary-like way in which we—and our neighbors—by a careless speech or even by a single inflection betray that which we are so anxious to hide.

THE FRENCH HORSEWOMAN.

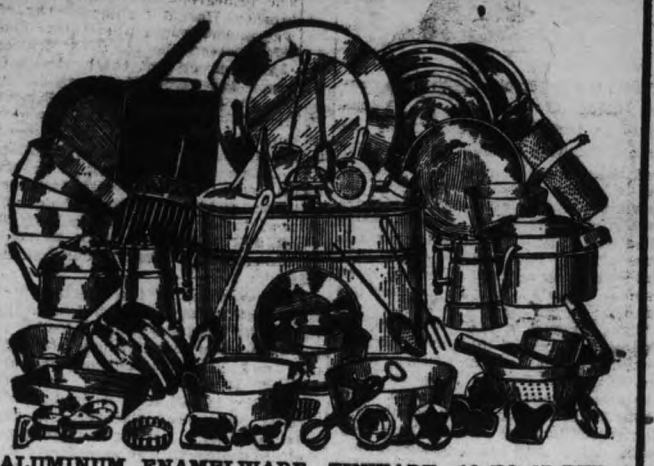

The Frenchwomen who ride to hounds are a neat and spick and span as their English sisters. They are, moreover, excellent horsewomen, and very intrepid. One of the foremost, says the Pall Mall Gazette, is the Dowager Duchess of Uzès, who has her pack of hounds and is known as one of the keenest sportswomen in France. The dress of this lady is typical. She wears a neat dark green habit and a large tricorne hat. A long day in the saddle, hunting the deer, is the breath of life to her. Some women wear the same "pink" as the old-fashioned English huntresses, but dark green and dark colors generally are the rule. The tricorne is general, although one does see other hats, low-crowned bowlers, soft felts, and such like, but for the hunting field proper and at such a ceremony as the blessing of the dogs on St. Hubert's day, nothing but the tricorne would be seen.

A Demonstration Interesting to Women Is Now Going On In Our Store on the Subject of Pond's Tampons

Pond's Tampons constitute a form of treatment which has been universally employed and endorsed by leading physicians. For over six years the medical profession has demonstrated the power of this simple common-sense form of treatment to relieve and in many cases completely cure, those distressing headaches, backaches and general nervous breakdowns peculiar to women.

The time has come when the originators of POND'S TAMPONS feel absolutely justified in their decision to place this wonderful system within the reach of every wife, mother and daughter. They believe that when modest women realize how much of unnecessary suffering can be prevented, how many cases of terror-inspiring surgical operations can be avoided, and how many women can be restored and kept in a glorious, vibrant, beauty-bringing condition of health by this simple, inexpensive, painless home treatment, that a supply of Pond's Tampons will be kept in every home in the land.

Do not fail to visit this demonstration. It lasts all this week. If you cannot visit us during the demonstration, ask some one in our Drug Department to give you a booklet of interesting information about Pond's Tampons.

Van Sickle, 1215 Douglas Street, was united in marriage to Mr. James Arthur Austin, of Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Letenneur, the happy pair leaving during the afternoon for a trip to Vancouver and the other Sound cities. On their return they will make their residence in Victoria.

KARLUK READY BY SATURDAY FOR SEA

Stores, Fuel and Scientific Instruments Aboard by That Date

LEADERS WILL NOT HURRY SAILING DATE

Expedition and Crew is Now Complete in Victoria; Plans Arranged

The whaler Karluk, which is to convey Vilhjalmar Stefansson and his crew to the polar regions, will be ready for sailing on Saturday next. By that time all the stores and provisions and scientific instruments will be on board, the whaler will have been thoroughly overhauled and the bunkers filled with fuel. The finishing touches have already been put on the vessel, and with fresh coats of paint she looks as neat and trim a craft as ever put out of any port.

The personnel of the expedition, including the crew of the Karluk, is now complete and all are in Victoria waiting anxiously for the time to start. The crew numbers fifteen hands. Two of the latest arrivals of the members of the expedition are W. I. McKinlay, magnetician and meteorologist, and James Murray, who was chief scientist for Shackleton on his famous voyage on the Nimrod. He is accompanied here by Mrs. Murray, who, like Mrs. Anderson, will go with her husband as far as Nome, where the Karluk is to be joined by the whaler Alaska.

Both W. L. McKinlay and James Murray will first of all accompany Dr. Anderson on the southern expedition until the month of March, 1914. This southern section will be chiefly concerned in gathering valuable scientific data as to the flora and fauna, mineralogy and zoology of that region, while Stefansson's party will have continued northward, will establish a base in St. Patrick's Land and go on to discover, if possible, that yet undiscovered million miles of territory which he believes lies somewhere along the 141st parallel.

Will Seek Stefansson. In March, 1914, after having done their scientific work with the southern party, McKinlay and Murray will take Eskimos and dog teams, and leaving their southern companions, will start on the long journey of 800 or 900 miles which is to take them to Stefansson and his men. They will first go to St. Patrick's Land and visit the base which Stefansson will have established there. They expect to find the traveling good, as the ice is firm at that time of the year and storms are usually absent. This will be one of the most daring parts of the expedition's programme in the north, as after Stefansson's absence for months, the southern party will not know where he is in the north. McKinlay and Murray will look for directions left by the leader at the St. Patrick's Land base, and will proceed from there on their overland journey. The reason that the two men are to spend part of the time with the southern party and the remainder with the northern party is that the work of each party is to be reinforced with their scientific observations.

The scientific side of the expedition will be uppermost all the time, and for this cause some of the best men in the various branches of scientific work in Canada, the United Kingdom and the States have been appointed. They will also have the advantage of splendid instruments, as some of those which are already here each cost in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Heart-to-Heart Talk. Yesterday Vilhjalmar Stefansson called into conference all the members of the expedition that is to sail in a few days, and a heart-to-heart talk which lasted nearly four hours was indulged in. Ways and means were discussed very freely, a list was made of the sundries which have yet to be bought (small items that can be purchased and loaded on the Karluk in a few hours) and a general plan of campaign was also mapped out.

Stefansson has not changed any of his plans, and advices from the passenger ships on the Nome to Seattle run to the effect that the ice has not yet come down from the Arctic ocean, confirm the opinion and good judgment of Captain Bartlett and the explorer in announcing that there is no need to hasten the sailing date of the Karluk. Nome can be reached in twenty days from Victoria with average weather, and the explorer has not planned to leave Nome before July 20, which will be in ample time to catch the favorable ice break in the Behring Strait.

Another phase of the question presents itself in regard to provisions. The Karluk by Saturday will be loaded to her capacity with provisions, after the coal and scientific instruments are aboard. It would therefore be very poor policy to sail at an early date, arrive at Nome, and discover that two or three weeks' waiting for an opening into the Arctic was an enforced necessity. A crew of 15 men and an expedition of fourteen scientists are capable of disposing of a large quantity of provisions in a short time, and Dr. Stefansson, Captain Bartlett and Mr. Anderson have decided that it will be much better in every way to make haste slowly at this end of the journey than to wait at Nome.

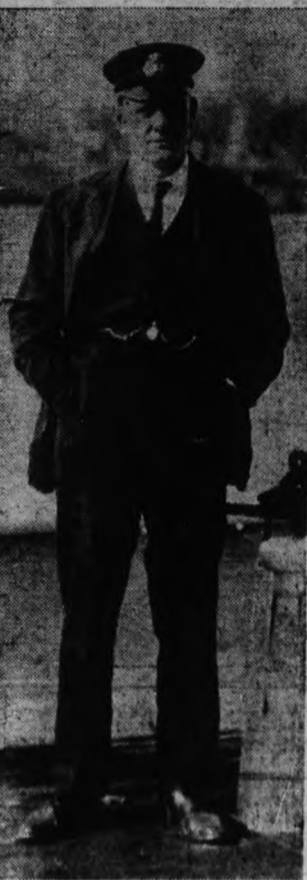

Plenty of Coal. Strange as it may seem to those who have not been through the rigors of an Arctic expedition, it has been decided that coal is of more importance than provisions, and a plentiful supply of Welsh coal will be taken. The main object is to get there after which everyone will do as the Eskimos do. The explorer avers that if people going into the Far North would only live as do the Eskimos there chances of becoming affected with the scourge of the Arctic, scurvy, would be reduced to a minimum.

Captain Bartlett is very fortunate in having with him two mates who have sailed the coast line to the very edge of the unknown region which is to be explored. First Mate Allan knows practically every shoal, shore and harbor limit of northern navigation; Second Mate Anderson is a very capable and experienced officer, and the balance of the crew are all well trained seamen.

Apportioning Stores. The work of apportioning the stores to each party is a really stupendous task, and even members of the scientific party have turned to with a will and may be seen every day at the store house at Esquimalt, packing boxes, checking invoices and making themselves generally useful.

Burt M. McConnell, secretary to the explorer, left to-day on a hurried trip to Seattle, to look after some business affairs in connection with the expedition. Dr. Forbes Mackay, surgeon to the expedition, has arranged to give each man a thorough physical examination, the records of which will be filed. None of the members of the party are viewing this procedure with alarm, as each is in the best condition possible.

ON KARLUK

He will accompany the Stefansson expedition to the 141st parallel. Like the chief mate, he has an unusually wide knowledge of the problems of navigation which will be met in the waters through which the Karluk will pass.

LANCET PRAISES WORK OF IMPERIAL ORDER

Journal Describes Tuberculosis Sanatorium Directed by Daughters of Empire

The following extract from The Lancet (London, Eng.), of May 17 last, is an acknowledgment from an overseas quarter of the splendid work being done in the prevention of tuberculosis in the Dominion through the agency of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire: "There is in Canada," says the article in question, "a great society of ladies, the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, organized amid the enthusiasm of the war in South Africa, and first coming before the public taking charge of the graves of soldiers who in that war gave their lives for the Empire. By its constitution the society exists to forward every good work for the betterment of our country and our people. It inculcates patriotism, giving prizes to school children for essays on the flag, encourages social service, has done a great deal to forward classes for ambulance work and home nursing, and has lately been turning its attention to the cure and still more recently to the prevention of tuberculosis. An account of the work done by the order was recently given to the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis at Ottawa, the capital, by Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, the president, and from that address we learn that a well-planned preventive scheme has been initiated in the large city of Toronto. Here they began by providing two children's wards in 1905 in a local sanatorium. "These children on discharge," continues The Lancet in explaining the system, "were watched over by social service workers, but the need for preventive work soon became evident, and now there is a clinic at the Sick Children's hospital to which some patients come voluntarily, while others are sent by the medical school inspectors. A pavilion by Lake Ontario has been given to the Heather Club chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, who are social service workers. They took charge of a hundred children last year, and were careful to see that those children after discharge did not lack necessary extra food and clothing. But a 'preventorium' is now in preparation and on the point of being opened—a large two-story house with deep verandas, to take 60 children, 30 boys and 30 girls, attacked by, or suspected to be suffering from, pulmonary tuberculosis, but not so seriously ill as to be hospital cases. "In the extensive gardens and playgrounds of the institution, with its carefully planned hygienic arrangements, it is hoped the children will escape the threatened danger, and at any rate will be taught how to avoid spreading the disease and will learn something useful of hygiene as well."

Upper Gorge Park

A Bit of Open Land

The beautiful scenic property that lies near Esquimalt Harbor, where great development is to take place immediately. You can buy a big lot in "Upper Gorge Park" NOW for as little as $500 on terms as low as $10 a month.

Esquimalt is to be rehabilitated as a naval base. Half a million dollars has been voted to start the work at once. A great drydock—the largest in the world—is to be built there. The ultimate cost of this dock alone will be between three and four million dollars.

This great activity means prosperity in this district; it means rapid growth and a quick rise in land values. "Upper Gorge Park" is only a short distance from Esquimalt Harbor, the scene of all the activity. Here is another reason why "Upper Gorge Park" lots are exceptional buying at present easy prices.

You Can't Go Wrong Buying a Lot Here Now

The lots in "Upper Gorge Park" are positively the best and cheapest lots to be had on the Gorge. The waterfront lots are magnificently located, commanding a view of the whole expanse of water. All lots, whether waterfront or not, have an excellent prospect. Every lot is an extra large lot—50 feet wide and varying from 125 feet to 191 feet in depth. There are rocky lots, deep-soil lots, treed lots, bare lots. All the underbrush has been removed from the property, and the large trees have been left standing to be disposed of as purchasers see fit. We are developing the property now, running streets through and laying sidewalks. There will be a public landing place, giving all owners a frontage on the Gorge. There is also a big piece of development under way, which we will disclose to purchasers only. This section of the Gorge has not been available to single lot purchasers heretofore. Now, with the C. N. R. line located—grading to be commenced right away—the transportation that was needed to develop this section is at hand. A station will stand right on our property, and it is practically assured that the line will be electrified to a point beyond the property. Don't make the mistake of thinking you can wait until the line is built to buy these lots. They'll be far beyond your purse then, and probably they won't be for sale at any price. Now—this very day—is the time to buy.

Have You Read About Our Unusual Bungalow Building Offer?

This in itself is an exceptional feature of "Upper Gorge Park." In the past this has been obtainable only in connection with high-priced properties. Our desire, however, is to have "Upper Gorge Park" settled by desirable residents. Therefore, we are prepared to build to suit purchasers, according to their plans, when they have completed a reasonable proportion of the total payment on their lots. We require no money in advance. We'll build the bungalow, and the lot owner can pay for it in monthly instalments, like rent. Come in and talk over this feature. It's worth going into if you long for a home of your own.

Lots in Upper Gorge Park Are Selling Now at From $500 to $1600 Per Lot

This Invention For Rupture Sent on 60 Days Trial

Won't Cost You A Cent If The Two Months Test Doesn't Prove All Our Claims

Away With Worthless Trusses Like These

You can make a thorough proved-to-you test of the GUARANTEED RUPTURE HOLDER without having to risk a single cent. We'll send it to you for sixty days' trial—practically LEND it to you that long—just to let you see for yourself how it takes all the misery out of being ruptured. If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or bothering you in any way—in spite of any work you do or any other strains—then it won't cost you a penny. The Only Thing Good Enough To Stand Such A Test—Such A Test—can't possibly prove whether a truss or anything else for rupture is going to do any good. Neither is just a few days' trial a safe test. A truss or so-called "appliance" may seem alright the first week or so and then turn out to be no good whatever. But you can't possibly make a mistake if you are allowed sixty days' time in which to make a test. And there is only one thing of any kind for rupture that you can get on such a long trial. Only one thing good enough to stand such a long and thorough test. That is our GUARANTEED RUPTURE HOLDER—the famous Cluthe Automatic Massaging Truss.

Made On New Principle. The Cluthe Truss is so radically different from everything else for rupture that it has received eighteen separate patents. Made on an absolutely new principle—far more than just a truss. It has so thoroughly proved its merits in nearly 20,000 cases that surgeons in the U. S. Army and Navy and physicians in all parts of the world now recommend it instead of advising operation. Will Save You From Operation. A rupture can't possibly be relieved—can't even be kept from growing worse—unless protected against all strains and constantly kept from coming out. Just as a "broken bone" can't be "knit" unless constantly held together.

And that is the curse of wearing elastic or spring trusses—not one in twenty ever holds successfully—they sooner or later make operation absolutely necessary instead of preventing it. But remember that the Cluthe Truss is guaranteed to hold—and that it won't cost you a cent if it doesn't!—And in addition to constant holding, it provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

It does that entirely automatically—without any attention whatever from you. And has thus brought complete recovery in thousands of cases that seemed almost hopeless, and has saved thousands of people from having to risk their lives under the surgeon's knife. No Belt, No Leg-Straps, No Springs

The Cluthe Truss does away entirely with all those things—the belt, the leg-straps and springs. People who have tried it say it is as comfortable as their clothing. And it is waterproof—will hold in the bath. Also perspiration-proof. Easily kept clean.

Get World's Greatest Rupture Book. Don't send any money—don't take any risk. Just write for our free book and find out all about it. This sensational book—cloth-bound, 96 pages, 29 separate articles, and 25 photographic illustrations—is full of facts for the ruptured never before put in print. It shows why elastic and spring trusses are a crime—how they are the ruptured man's worst enemy—why the law should stop their sale. It exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "systems," "plasters," etc. It shows why operation for rupture ends in permanent weakness or death oftener than in complete recovery. And it tells all about the famous Cluthe Automatic Massaging Truss—gives names and addresses of over 5,000 people in all parts of the country who have tested it and have voluntarily endorsed it—and tells how you can get it on sixty days' trial, and how little it costs if you keep it. Simply use the coupon or say in a letter or postal card "Send me your book" that will take only a minute and may save you from paying out a good many dollars and save you from years of misery.

TALL, WIDE, THICK AND STRONG MEN

And the Way in Which They Fix Things Up at Ottawa

FINANCIAL GENIUS OF CANADIAN NORTHERN

How a Railway Got Sixteen Million Dollars From a Free-handed Parliament

Ottawa, June 1.—Scarcely was the glad some New Year over and parliament back at its desk in the House of Commons when a tall, wide, thick, dark, strong man, bearded like a pard, appeared in the corridors to brood over the scene.

This tall, wide, thick, dark, strong man had a pair of shoulders which he never got by taking mild svedboda exercise in the morning. They were what you might call out-of-doors shoulders, and the breadth and firm set of them, not to mention the athletic poise of the rest of the big man, suggested that he must have swung an axe in the brave days when he was twenty-one, which was many years ago, or his greying hair belied him. Ails for those far away, blue-sky, pork-and-beans, happy days of youth and struggle which the big man had left behind! What had he now to compare with them? Money? Yes. Care? Yes—a heap of them. Likewise a sullen liver, a touch of lumbago and a gloomy frame of mind. A fine figure of a man, notwithstanding, and of great cubic capacity.

The chief business of the big man seemed to be brooding. As a lone, lone and lowering brooder he was in a class by himself. He had all the other brooders from Cassandra down to Hamlet lashed to the mast. He was a better brooder than either Cassandra or Hamlet, because they brooded out loud, while the big man kept his troubles to himself, which made his brooding more broodful, so to speak. Obliging newspaper reporters offered him the relief of print, but the big man refused to "cough," being very much like the staunch little Spartan boy who let the fox gnaw at his vitals sooner than give his game away. The big man let nothing pass his lips except a tooth brush, three square meals a day and a certain amount of liquid nourishment. He wasn't the kind of brooder that wanted a brass band ahead of him to tell about it. Silence and mystery were his long suits. His brooding never burst into words except in the right place, which was usually the Hon. Bob Roger's private room in the East wing.

According to all accounts, he was direct enough and vocal enough there. The Hon. Bob never had any illusions as to what the big man was after. But as far as the outside world could see, the big man had the Sphinx backed off the map for dumbness and inscrutable determination to get something—nobody could guess how much.

When the big man brooded in public, either at the Chateau Laurier or pacing up and down the long halls that girdle the green chamber, he walked with his hands in his coat pockets and puffed savagely at a fat black cigar. His sultry eyes glowed like a banked fire. In time parts of his story came to be known. He was a railway owner, builder and contractor who was beginning to feel contracted. Also he was an orphan and a millionaire, who didn't know where his next million was coming from. Most people called him "Sir Donald," others who knew him better, and were not afraid, called him "Dan." Meanwhile the big, tall, wide, thick, dark, strong man, bearded like a pard, kept right on brooding. When Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was told that the distinguished brooder looked as worried as a wet hen he seemed very much pleased.

II.

Days, weeks, one, two, three months elapsed—which is a habit days, weeks and months have. The big, tall, wide, thick, dark, strong man, bearded like a pard, was still brooding. But he was feeling the strain. He sat down and wrote a letter to Toronto, in which he said, "I cannot brood twenty-four hours a day. It is tiring on me. I need help. From now on I expect you to take the night shift. Your train leaves the Union station 11.45 to-night. Don't write. Come. Burn this letter."

Next morning bright and early a new but not unfamiliar face appeared at the Chateau Laurier in company with the boss brooder. Subsequently the new face took up its duties in the parliament building, discharging them so efficiently that the big man was able to rest in the day time and stay up late at night.

The newcomer was a man in his forties, not bearded like a pard, but clean shaven, not as tall, wide, thick, dark or strong as the big man, but doing his darndest to look like him. Although he did not have open-air shoulders like his more robustious employer, and was indeed afflicted with a slight stoop, he was a colorable imitation of the great model, though not accommodating so much ballast. He was perhaps more discursive in his conversation and spoke to more people, but, on the whole, silence and mystery were his trump cards. Though in a lesser degree than the main squeezer. When he brooded in public he walked with his hands in his coat pockets and puffed savagely at a fat cigar. His sultry eyes glowed like a banked fire. Like his employer he was a fair copy, but writ smaller. Although he wasn't the big brooder, he was the next best, and quite as competent in his line of business.

The assistant brooder had a few tricks of his own. Keeping an apartment as he did all the year round at the Rockborough, it was possible to be even more silent and mysterious there than in the corridors of the House of Commons. Having rented there rooms to think in, he used them for that purpose, ever and anon conveying members of parliament there to help him in his meditations. Words, thoughts and other considerations were exchanged, all quietly, the gentle, reflective temperament of the assistant brooder being naturally opposed to unnecessary noise. These little parties did not lack a flow of soul, and all the reasons were mixed with appollinaris or plain soda, such being the judicious custom among experienced reasoners.

The assistant brooder also operated in No. 16, the Conservative committee room, and was rapidly spreading a deep gloom over that happy community when the boss brooder received this message from the Hon. Frank Cochrane: "We have the navy bill on our hands. One sorrow is enough at a time. Call off your hired man. I don't like what he did in the reciprocity campaign." So the assistant brooder was switched over to No. 16, and from that time on he worked the other side of the street, so to speak.

That was the way it came about that Billy—everybody calls him Billy—was named. And that was how Little Billy—so named to distinguish him from the only and original Billy—was summoned post haste from Toronto to help things out. Little Billy came. He was not tall, wide, strong and of great cubic capacity, like the other two, but he was short, thick, dark, silent and mysterious. Also he wore a black slouch hat which he tilted over his eyes in a stealthy Italian way, and that made him look the part. Besides, he was young and had lots of room to grow. Although he wasn't as good a reasoner as Billy, his intentions were all right and his work as an eager amateur was fairly good. About brooding he had nothing to learn, having become letter perfect in it in the Toronto office.

When he brooded in public he walked with his hands in his coat-pockets and puffed savagely at a fat black cigar. His sultry eyes glowed like a banked fire. Likewise he was worried in the manner of a wet hen. Just as Billy was copying Dan, so was Little Billy copying Billy, and making a good stab at it at that.

About this time one of those top-notch life insurance agents from New York arrived in town. His visit was said to be connected with a million dollar policy which was to be taken out on one of the brooders as collateral security in a matter of high finance. The big fish from New York looked 'em all over, found they all had hardening of the heart or something like that, and suspended judgment.

Meanwhile the brooding went on. There were now three brooders on the spot where only one had grown before.

III.

The three brooders' tongues were hanging out—they were so hungry—when the real master mind, the moving impulse, biased into sight and shook things up.

A short, dark, nervous man in his early sixties, with a beard like Henri I. Quatre and the dashing air of a buccaner of the Spanish Main. He has the cold, chatoyant eye, and the light springing furtive trend of the caged wild animal. No brooder this—a doer!

Some people called him Sir William, others Bill, others Big Bill. Everybody seemed to know him. The three brooders went to him for orders. Billy and Little Billy gazed at him with big, admiring eyes. He was such a change from the rest of them. He smoked fat, black cigars, but when he walked he did not put his hands in his pockets—that is to say not in his own pockets. His eyes did not glow like banked fires, but darted lightning. Neither did he act like a wet hen. He knew what he was going to do, and had come to do it.

Sir William had long been known as a Wizard of Finance. He would go over to London, every year taking Canada's credit and a few other little things like that in a black bag, and would trade them with the British investor for C. N. R. bonds at four per cent, and come back with the black bag full of money. He did this so often that they called him a wizard, a wizard being a person who plucks gold coins out of the void air. But the black bag that goes too often to Lombard street is bound to come back some time with nothing but a clean collar in it. And that was what happened to the wizard. The last time he went over to London the empire saviours that do business in the neighborhood of the Old Lady of Threadneedle street said, "You're a wizard all right, but the wizard business is a little dull just now. War in the Balkans. Tight money. Don't you know. We're just a bit fed up on your black bag. Try the other shop."

And Sir William, being a wise wizard and realizing when he was up against it, took their advice and tried the other shop, the good old friendly shop where he had often been a customer before. He crossed three thousand miles of ocean and five hundred miles of land and reached the Ottawa shop before it had closed for the summer.

Now Sir William is a man of action, a tamer of many parliaments, who does business with both sides of politics in short, sharp words. He has them going or coming, in or out or expecting to be. So when he saw his three crestfallen brooders and found out how little forward they had got he said with decision, "brooding's off. Watch me. Here's where they deliver the goods."

IV.

Friday morning, May 30, twenty million dollars in railway subsidies were placed before the House of Commons, of which about sixteen millions went to the C. N. R. In return for an extra subsidy of $5,100 a mile—being an addition to the $3,400 a mile usually handed out in such cases—the C. N. R. parts with seven million dollars of common stock to the people of Canada. This means that we buy seven million dollars worth of C. N. R. common at $2. This seven millions may be new water or it may be something else. The rest of the railway, as soon as the creditors are paid, belongs to Bill and Dan. Which shows that a squad of brooders assisted by a live hicker can do when they get busy.

Nobody seems alarmed or even surprised at the ease with which sixteen millions was lifted. The Tories say, "It is bread upon the waters. Some of it is sure to come back."

The Griffs say, "We can't turn our backs on an old acquaintance."

And the Western member, who is supposed to be most independent of all, says, "I don't like it, but we need the railway."

MUST TAKE OUT PERMITS.

Fire Chief Davis has notified a large number of merchants in the city that unless within a week they obtain permits for the storing of inflammable oils and explosives on their premises he will prosecute in police court all violations of the by-law requiring this to be done.

This action was taken as the result of several discoveries made by the chief in his rounds of inspection that proper care of these substances was not being taken by dealers handling them.

FIRST THINGS

THE RISE OF RUSSIA.

The first of the Romanoffs to introduce anything like modern culture and civilization into barbarian Russia was Peter I, surnamed the Great, who was born in Moscow 241 years ago to-day. Peter was a precocious child, and, although reared in an atmosphere of intrigue and effeminate luxury, grew up a physical and mental stalwart. In his youth he was educated by Lefort,

Making a Flat World Round

When Columbus set out to reach India by sailing westward, he met with opposition and ridicule. He believed the earth to be round.

Wise men held that it was flat—that Columbus was mad—and that he'd fall off somewhere if he departed from established beliefs.

But Columbus' belief found him a continent and made him blessed of memory.

The Business World is flat to some men

Their profit-bearing shores of Opportunity stretch only so far as their grandfathers trod. Custom, superstition and apathy have set them confines which they may not pass.

For instance, they believe the business year is a flat one—not an all-year round of trade, with East joining West, with Spring merging into Autumn—but just two distinct seasons, with sawed-off edges gaping into space.

They confine their activities to a Spring trade and to a Fall trade. To them there is no intervening continent with stores of waiting wealth. Their world is flat. They have not explored the mid-year months of Summer trade. June, July and August are never-never land.

Surely this conception of Summer as a "dull" season is as fallacious as the delusion that the earth was flat. People have just as much money in the hot weather and spend quite as freely as in Spring and Fall. Granted that they are not buying skates and snow shovels in August, yet they are buying staple articles. Furthermore, they have an eye on luxuries and comforts they are counting upon purchasing in the Fall.

The modern Columbus has discovered this Summer trade—this golden West lying between the known continents of old beliefs. Departing from established habit, many have made their energies and their Advertising an all-year-round proposition.

Keeping up Advertising during the Summer months not only links your Spring and Fall, but produces rich harvests from the Summer months themselves.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 505 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.

LONDON MARKET
HAS ITS FILLIP

ENCOURAGING SUCCESS
OF THE CHINESE LOAN

(Special Correspondence.)
London, May 26.—At last the money market of London has its fillip. The Chinese loan has been such a huge success that we may expect promoters and investors both to take heart of grace, with the result that there should be quite a rush of new issues, and a better response on the part of the investing public than we have seen for months past.
Hon. A. L. Sifton, the premier of Alberta, has arrived, looking very well and confident that his province is going to have a record year, and doubtless, with the Chinese loan success to greet him, he feels very confident as to the response with which his conversion loan and telephone loan will meet. In an interview published in the Financial, Mr. Sifton lets financial London know something of the work which his government has been doing in Alberta, and the fact that the financial paper in question publishes his remarks at the head of a column would indicate that those who know in the money market feel that Canada is worthy of their best encouragement.
There is one factor, however, which intending "users" could bear strongly in mind. The Chinese loan was successful by reason of the fact that it has been advertised in a manner which has never been equalled in this or any other country. For weeks past British papers have been filled with the quarrel concerning the loan, and the fact that the respective governments have insisted that the terms and the issuing houses should be of a character which they could support, has been emphasized in such a manner that it must have had considerable effect upon the public, so much so that the issue is now regarded as a government issue which gives on the average, when the redemption value is considered, a return of 2 1/2 per cent.
This is interest worth having, and it is a rate of interest which everyone who is approaching the market just now must bear in mind.
The investing public has so much to meet now in the shape of increased taxation that they will no longer be content with a low return for their money.
From every corner one learns of the demands which are to be put forward for loans. What must not be forgotten is that after all though there may be innumerable districts in the world which will pay for immediate development it is impossible to provide either money or labor enough to start them all at once. Mesopotamia is a prospective Eldorado, and strenuous efforts are to be made to induce British and other investors to proceed to the development of this province of Turkey. As giving you some idea of what is to be done, the Turkish government are going to put some magnificent copper concessions and silver-lead concessions in Mesopotamia up to auction in a few weeks' time, and it is believed that the Deutsche Bank and Sir Ernest Cassel's bank, the National Bank of Turkey, will join hands in an attempt to secure these concessions.
This is but one instance of what is going to happen, and those who desire to borrow money, whether Canadian government or anybody else, will do well to remember that when these powerful banks or other corporations secure such things as these concessions they will come to the public to ask for money for the purposes of their exploitation. It is a fact that just at present an issue backed by powerful banking corporations and good city names is likely to prove more popular than any issue backed by a Canadian provincial government published through a similar banking corporation. The public will go into a thing in which the bank are part owners, and will ignore another proposition in which the bank merely acts as agents and have no personal concern.
This means that tremendous advertising will be necessary on the part of persons or governments desiring to float loans. When the Daily Mail came out with its long article on this question a few days ago, it was practically voicing the intentions and opinions of all other newspaper proprietors, and it may be taken for granted that no cheap advertising will be given to colonial or other loans.
Two or three years ago any colonial premier who arrived in this country was at once sought after and urged to talk about himself and his country.
To-day all is changed. A colonial premier may arrive in this country and find "none so poor to do him reverence." He is not asked to talk to a newspaper, unless they have an advertisement contract with his government.

The fact is that newspapers here overdid the colonial premier. In nearly every case he has the same story to tell as his neighbor, and in nearly every instance he bangs the big drum with a view to getting money. The public now suspects his motives, is bored by his utterances, and generally look upon him as a cadger hiding his cadging under the guise of Imperialism. Newspapers are quick to note the change in public sentiment, with the result that, as has been said, colonial visitors are now ignored. The only way in which they can become prominent again and arrange successfully for borrowing the money necessary to carry on the development of their provinces is by extensive advertising, for which the papers will make them pay, and the payment of large interest. Whether money is really so vitaly necessary for Canada it is for Canada to say; but at present such methods appear to be her only chance of securing any loans.
There are too many opportunities to-day for the investor for him to confine his operations to four per cent.
issues. When a five per cent. issue like the Brazilian loan put forward by the Rothschilds is almost entirely it may be taken for granted that the public having their opportunities to feed well, decline to take food which gives them less nourishment than that to which they are becoming gradually accustomed. Canada may be the most valuable country in the world, but the British public is by no manner of means convinced of the truth of this, and it will take a great deal of effort to persuade them that this is so, and the effort will be useless without the return offered for assistance in one which makes it worth their while to entertain.

becoming one of the leading legal

It was in 1883 that Jerome, brother more and there met and fell in love with the beautiful Elizabeth Patterson.

Her father, William Patterson, was a man of great wealth, and the owner of a large country estate near Baltimore.
He built a horse car line to his country seat, on which a steam engine was later used, and this was the beginning of the Baltimore and Ohio railway.
The meeting of "Betsy" Patterson and Jerome Bonaparte, was most romantic. A dance was given in honor of the distinguished visitor, but Eliza-

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Upon this date—June 9th, 1846—Hamilton, the pleasant town at the western end of Lake Ontario, became a city. There are different claimants for the distinction of being the first permanent settler at "the Head of the Lake," but, according to an inscription on a tombstone in Christ Church Cathedral, the honor belongs to Richard Beasley, "an Indian trader," and the first owner of what is now Dundas Park. It is said that Simcoe planned to buy out a town on the heights, but that Beasley's demands were so exorbitant that the beginnings of the future city were south and east of the spot intended. Indirectly, it was the war of 1812 that determined the name of Ontario's third city, for when the conflict began, a young man—George Hamilton—living on the Niagara frontier, determined to move with his wife and family to safer quarters. So he migrated to "the head of the lake," and it was he who really founded the town. He laid out a number of streets, naming them after members of his family—John, James, Catherine, Hannah, Maria and Augusta—and presented to the corporation Court House Square, Gore Park and the Wood Market.

One of the most romantic and thrilling quests recorded in history, M. de la Verendrye's search for the mythical western sea that was supposed to separate the valley of the Grand Forked river and China, had its beginning 182 years ago, June 8, 1731, when Sieur Pierre Gaultier de Varennes de la Verendrye, his three young sons, and a half a hundred other voyageurs and adventurers marched out from Mount Royal. Cannon boomed, bells pealed, and priests called down blessings on the heads of the little band of pioneers as they left the fort on the site of the present city of Montreal and plunged into the wilderness. At St. Anne the birch canoes, loaded with stores, were launched, and, to the measured chant of the voyageurs, the perilous voyage up the Ottawa commenced. In spite of the threatened mutiny of his men, Le Verendrye pushed on, and a year after leaving Mount Royal found him at Fort St. Pierre, on the Minnesota side of Rainy Lake. Jean Le Verendrye pushed on to Lake Winnipeg, but his father died not long until he had returned to Quebec and induced the merchants who had promoted the venture to continue furnishing supplies. On June 8, 1731, five years after leaving Mount Royal, Jean and twenty of the voyageurs were massacred by Indians. Still the leader of the hopeless quest pushed on to Fort Maurepas, on Lake Winnipeg, and thence to the site of the present city of Winnipeg. They explored the Assiniboine, the Missouri, the Saskatchewan, the Souris and other rivers, but they found only a sea of prairies and mountains, and not the sea of "bitter waters" they sought.

The Canadian parliament opened for the first time in Ottawa forty-seven years ago to-day.

SCRAP BOOK.

Advertising Men Who Meet To-day Represent a Gigantic Industry.

One of America's greatest and most useful industries will be represented by its foremost "captains of industry" in the great convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, to be held in Baltimore during the next six days. Beginning Sunday with lay sermons by prominent editors and advertising experts in thirty churches, the convalescence will continue through a week, and during that time the whole wide field of advertising will be covered in addresses, papers and reports.

Few laymen realize the gigantic scope of the publicity industry, although practically all, and especially the ladies, are aware of its immense practical value to the consumer of commodities. The old theory that advertising adds to the cost of goods has long since been exploded. Nowadays it is the merchant who advertises who gets the bulk of the business, and is therefore able to sell at a much smaller margin of profit. The same rule applies in the field of general publicity, for it is always the manufacturer of advertised articles who is able to turn out his goods in such tremendous quantities, with consequent saving in production, as to be able to offer better value than his non-advertising competitor. These facts are now generally understood by all intelligent people, and the outworn criticism of advertising as increasing cost to consumer is now seldom uttered.

"Truth" is now the slogan of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America. There was a time when the doctrine of caveat emptor applied to the reader of advertisements, but that time is happily passing. Exact accuracy in description is now the policy of practically all big advertisers, and they have found that it pays "if you see it in 'ad,' it's so." Will doubtless soon be the slogan of the Associated Advertising Clubs, as a result of its propaganda for the elimination of misleading and fraudulent advertising.

It is in the United States and Canada, both of which countries are well represented in the Baltimore convention, that the art and science of publicity have reached their highest stage of excellence and effectiveness. Practically all of the 25,000 newspapers and periodicals published in the states and provinces depend largely for support on the advertising industry. Thus advertising is responsible for the existence of the world's greatest educational institution—the newspaper.

Various estimates have been made of the amount annually expended for advertising, but these are necessarily guesses. The printing and publishing industry, which is so largely dependent on advertising, ranks sixth in value of products of all the great industries of North America, and fifth in the average number of wage earners employed. In the value added to raw material by manufacture the printing and publishing industry ranks third.

Advertising has its sins, as well as its pre-eminent virtues. Vast sums have been wasted in ignorant and injudicious advertising, and by the publicity given to the schemes of swindlers, millions have been taken from the popular pocket. It is the mission of the Associated Advertising Clubs to provide the remedy for both evils. And the remedy is enlightenment, which means publicity, which means advertising.

COMMISSIONER TALKS OF TRADE MATTERS

C. Hamilton Wickes Speaks of British and American Imports Into Canada

HAS IN CONSIDERATION COMPARATIVE VALUES

Advances Four Reasons Why British Trade Increase Here is Lagging

C. Hamilton Wickes, His Majesty's trade commissioner in Canada, arrived in the city with his wife last evening and spent this morning interviewing Sir Richard McBride and Attorney-General Bowser.

In conversation with a Times man this morning, Mr. Wickes said: "This is my first official tour of Canada in my capacity as commissioner. I have already made small circular trips in the east, but this is my first occasion in the west. Coming from Australia, where he serves as Imperial trade commissioner for four years."

ARGUMENT IS HEARD ON THE SUNDAY LAWS

Comes Before Courts on Question as to Legality of Agreement Signed on That Day

The application of the federal Lord's Day Act to the island of Vancouver came up in court this morning in advance of the hearing of the appeal entered by the city against Magistrate Jay's ruling, upholding the contention that there is a Sunday observance law in this province, which is by act of the legislature declared not to be in force on the island, and that therefore the federal act has no effect here.

Trade With United Kingdom. "The trade with the United Kingdom," continued Commissioner Wickes, "has also increased to a large extent. The imports in the last decade have gone up 250 per cent."

But Great Britain has to compete with our neighbor across the line—the United States, the gross figure of whose imports into this country has increased in a greater degree than have the imports of Great Britain. However, one third at least of the matter imported from our neighbors across the line is non-competitive with Great Britain. I may mention, for instance, such commodities as kerosene, petroleum oil, raw cotton, lumber and railway cars, fresh fruits and coal, though as a matter of fact a large amount of Welsh coal is brought over the herring pond.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late George Schmith took place yesterday from the B. C. Funeral Parlors under the auspices of the Columbia lodge of Masons, Worshipful Master R. Ford Verrinder taking the services. What You Can Do With $50

It is not very often that an opportunity presents itself whereby you can take possession of a choice 5-acre block in a charming district like Sooke for the modest figure of $50 cash and $10 monthly. As a matter of fact, such an opportunity (for the class of property we are offering) has never been offered before in Victoria.

We do not permit extravagant eulogies to form part of our advertisements; our ads are facts, not fiction, and put in as concise a way as possible to command your fullest investigation.

Acreage five miles distant from ours is held at $450 per acre, while our price for a whole five-acre block is but $600.

Soil is deep rich loam—no rock. School and post office close by. Water there is in abundance all the year round. Stages leave Victoria four times daily for Sooke, and continue on to Scarf if desired.

LARGE LIQUIDATION IN NEW YORK SALES

Support Negative Pending Outcome of Crisis in the Balkan Situation

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
New York, June 9.—Market was again subjected to heavy pressure, there being in progress liquidation on a large scale for both domestic and foreign accounts. Support was negative and utterly failed to stem the tide of liquidation, and only buying of consequence was that which emanated from the supporting interests. The situation has been further complicated by a hitch in negotiations between the Balkan and its allies and Turkey, and as a consequence foreigners were again disposed to sell stocks.

It was the general expectancy that the supreme court would make known its findings in the Minnesota rate case, but at the present writing nothing definite has been obtained.

NO STOCK OFFERED ON BLACKBIRD BID

Depression for Granby and Healthy Feeling for Portland Canal Issues

Victoria, June 9.—Blackbird Syndicate closed at a further high bid price this morning, and there was none of the stock offering. Coronation Gold, although acting quietly, was firmer in sympathy. International Coal sold at the lowest price for some time, and at 2 1/2 is yielding a return of 17 1/2 per cent. in dividends. The unsatisfactory tone of American securities continues to depress Granby Smelter which comes in for selling pressure daily. There was a healthy feeling in the balance of the list, particularly Portland Canal issues.

REPORT IN KEEPING WITH TRADE BELIEF

Futures Close at Chicago Half Cent Gain for July Quarter

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)
Chicago, June 9.—Not much headway was made in wheat trading either way during today's session prior to the government report of growing crops which was issued immediately after the close. These figures were fairly in keeping with the trade's expectations, a lowering of the winter and about the same for the spring area, and were generally construed as moderately bullish. Features closed at half cent gain for July and a quarter for September, after fair resistance had been shown to selling pressure.

FIFTH REGIMENT AT METROPOLITAN CHURCH

About 175 Officers and Men Attended Services Yesterday Morning

The 5th Regiment for the first time in the last five or six years, paraded yesterday at the Metropolitan Methodist church for the 11 o'clock service, the procession leaving the drill hall, in charge of Colonel Currie and other officers of the Regiment, at 10.30, headed by the Regimental band, and reaching the church just a few minutes before the commencement of the services.

Here the congregation waited their arrival, taking their places after the main auditorium of the church, the band taking seats in the gallery, and in the course of the services, playing "The Lost Chord" with great effectiveness. The church was packed, in addition to the big congregation being about 175 members of the regiment.

Rev. Dr. Scott preached the sermon, choosing as his text: "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong." (1 Corinthians, 16, v. 13). After welcoming the regiment to the church, Dr. Scott said that he was glad that it was recognized that the men could belong to any church. Continuing, he said that he had no fear that the spirit of militarism would be in any way nurtured by the supporting of soldiers by a nation. He did not see how putting men through military drill should of necessity have any connection with warlike preparations. It would do much to dissipate the idea of militarism if people could be educated to regard soldiers as guardians of the peace rather than inciters of war.

Treating the subject on the basis that strength was the crowning feature of manliness, the speaker showed that the elements of manliness included self-possession, devotion to duty, and actions prompted by motives of love and loyalty, all of which were inculcated by discipline. All these qualities called for the highest strength, and anything which conduced to this manly spirit was truly Christian, and commanded the highest admiration of man.

At the conclusion of the services the congregation remained seated while the regiment filed from the church.

Appeal is Entered.—In the case of Wong Que, who was convicted in the Police Court the other day on a gambling charge, an appeal to the county court judge has been entered by the counsel for the accused, R. C. Lowe. What the other thirty accused will do has not yet been decided by them. Sin, who was sentenced to serve three months on a charge of frequenting an optum den, has also entered an appeal through Mr. Lowe, and has been released on bail. These appeals will likely be heard by Judge Lampan as soon as the June county court calendar is cleared.

ENGINEERS INSPECT NEW CEMENT PLANT

Local Branches of Society Are Shown Over Auxiliary Plant at Brentwood Bay. The Vancouver branch of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, some 25 strong, on Saturday invaded Victoria, where they were joined by a contingent of the Victoria branch in order to visit the new cement plant at Bamberton, Saanich Inlet. The British Columbia Electric railway placed two interurban cars at the disposal of the party, which left the city hall at 9.45 a.m. The run to Brentwood Bay was made in remarkable time, and the conditions of the roadbed of this new part of the line elicited much praise from the members of the party, auguring well for the safety and comfort of the public when this line is opened next week.

See Auxiliary Plant. The new steam turbine plant of the company was inspected at Brentwood Bay point, Local Manager A. T. Goward acting as guide, and it went to show that the company has the most modern plant on the Pacific coast. The boilers are fitted to use oil fuel and steam is raised by Allis-Chalmers' turbines, of the latest pattern. The party was conveyed from there in three launches to the Bamberton works, where they partook of an excellent lunch. After lunch several speeches were listened to with much interest, H. K. G. Bamber, managing director, Associated Cement Company of Canada, being host, and extending the hospitality of the directors to the visitors. The growth of the use of cement was touched upon by different speakers, and the necessity for uniformity in this important constructional material was emphasized. Inspect Plant. The plant was then inspected from top to bottom, commencing at the two rotary kilns nearly 300 feet long, proceeding step by step through the various processes, drying, calcining, clinker cooling, grinding, hydrating and finally conveyance to the storage bins, and sacking machines ready for shipment. The machinery of British manufacture, the steel and concrete construction, and the all round solidity of the work give ample evidence of the care and skill bestowed on the design, and the endeavors of the directorate to spare no expense in getting the best plant possible. Before leaving the works three rousing cheers were given for Mr. Bamber, and the party returned to Victoria extremely pleased with the trip, and the confidence shown in British Columbia to warrant the expenditure of nearly $1,500,000 in aiding the industrial progress of the city and island.
