SonicWALL End of Support Announcement for ES 200 and ES 400

COMMUNICATIONS OVERVIEW: SonicWALL is initiating the End of Support (EOS) notification for the SonicWALL Email Security 200 and Email Security 400 appliances effective October 1, 2008. End of Support is the final phase of the SonicWALL End of Life process outlined at the end of this document. During this phase, SonicWALL no longer offers technical support, firmware updates or hardware replacement (RMA) for the product, and all remaining unique inventory or materials will be removed. In addition, services that run on the Email Security 200 and Email Security 400 appliances are not longer eligible for purchase or activation. For a complete list of affected services, see table 5 below.

All official End of Life notifications and phase information is posted on the Support area of our Web site at http://www.sonicwall.com/us/support/Product_Lifecycle.html.

Last Time Buy

Last Time Buy (LTB) is advanced notification to SonicWALL distributors that SonicWALL intends to start the end of life process. The duration of this phase is variable and depends on numerous factors including material availability, SonicWALL and channel inventory and end user demand. Last Time Buy is informational only; products in this phase are active.

Active Retirement Mode

Active Retirement Mode (ARM) is a statement by the company that it is no longer actively manufacturing or selling the product. Products in ARM are removed from all price lists and marketing collateral. The duration of this phase is typically two years.

Limited Retirement Mode

Limited Retirement Mode (LRM) is a statement by the company that it will no longer develop or release driver updates or bug fixes for these products. Depending on inventory, technical capability, customer demand and gross margin, SonicWALL will continue to offer support agreements on products in LRM. LRM is a discretionary phase in the product lifecycle process.

End of Support

End of Support (EOS) is a statement that the company no longer offers support for the product, and all remaining unique inventory or materials will be removed.
