

First Red Cross Membership Sold

Ross Richmond, operator of Mason's disposal plant, was the first Mason resident to take out a 1952 membership in the Red Cross. He bought his membership from Mrs. D. R. Lethbridge. The signing up was done in front of the disposal plant office. Canvassing started in Mason Tuesday under the leadership of Roy Christensen. Joy O. Davis is chairman of the out-county membership campaign. Besides Christensen, other local chairmen are Herbert Bailey, Vevey; Lloyd Aseltine, Alameda; Mrs. Clifford Smith, Aurelius; C. B. McKee, Onondaga; Donald Crakes, Leslie township; E. O. T. C., Leslie village; Don Hadwin, Holt and Delhi township; Mrs. Paul Dancer, Stockbridge village; William Wright, Stockbridge township; and George Vogt, Sr., Ingham township and Dansville.

Sodium Fluoride Tooth Protection Offered Children

Sodium fluoride dental treatments for Mason second, fifth and eighth graders will be started Monday, April 7. The first treatment consists of cleaning the teeth before applying the sodium fluoride. Three other treatments will follow.

Sodium fluoride treatments, some tests have shown, cut-down dental decay by 40%.

Bargain rates for the treatments are offered through the cooperation of the Ingham County Dental Society and public health agencies. The charge made to parents is $1 for the entire series of four treatments.

The treatments will be scheduled through the Mason and rural schools. Blank forms are being sent to parents. They should be filled out and returned to the teachers by March 29. The money should be sent to teachers, or can be paid at the time of the first treatment.

By having the second, fifth and eighth graders treated every year, the protective program will be offered all children over a three-year period.

Sap Run Hustles Bush Operators

Operators of sugar bushes have had to work hard this week to keep pace with the flow of sap. On Wednesday there was an exceptional run in most woods, making it necessary for two collections of sap.

While the syrup price started out at $6.00 it came down to $5.50 and is now running at $5.00 per gallon.

If the weather continues favorable, the syrup production this year will go above normal in Ingham, operators reported Thursday.

Highway Radio Will Link Cars

Within another few days eight county road commission cars will be linked with the Mason headquarters by radio. The installation is being made this week.

The cars of supervisory employees will contain two-way units so that communication can be maintained with the office and shop.

Highway officials declared that the radio system should reduce travel costs and result in greater efficiency.

School Offers Teaching Staff Raises of $200

27 Teachers Sign Up To Return Next Year, School Head Reports

Mason teachers can look forward to $200 raises next year. The new contracts containing the increases were issued last Thursday. Twenty-seven of the signed contracts had been turned back to Superintendent James H. Vander Ven Thursday of this week, he reported.

Teachers have until March 28 to return their signed contracts, the superintendent said.

The 27 who have agreed to return are Principal Richard Demlow; James Amkenbrandt, Latin and English; Harry Cairns, science; Donald Carey, history and physical education; Donald Edgington, social studies; Mrs. Elizabeth Hassinen, bookkeeping and business training; Louis Lori, health and physical education;

George Murthum, instrumental music; Mrs. Viva Riker, mathematics; Miss Mary E. Scott, vocal music; Mrs. Pomala Shoemaker, librarian; Mrs. Leona Simpson, commercial; J. Edward Soper, shop; Mrs. Helen Strait, Spanish and physical education; Mrs. Helene Howlett, home economics; Mrs. Peggy Moores, English and history; and Robert Wallis, biology and agriculture.

In the elementary department signed contracts have been returned by Mrs. Nan Demlow, kindergarten; Mrs. Caroline Ragan, first grade; Mrs. Alberta Fawcett, second grade; Miss Phyllis Byrum and Miss Marion Rathbone, third grade; Mrs. Ruth Hall, fourth grade; Mrs. Mina Howe and Mrs. Ola Juederjohn, fifth grade; and Mrs. Virginia Elliott and Mrs. Clarice Mills, sixth grade.

Miss Ruth Collar has resigned from the home economics department to accept a position as assistant teacher-trainer in the home economics education office at Michigan State college.

Mrs. Shirley Pfannstiel, fourth grade teacher, expects to return to her home in Texas so declined a contract. Mrs. Betty Reynolds, second grade teacher, did not accept a contract because she intends to do graduate work next year. Contracts were issued to Mrs. LaVeda Poyet, first grade teacher, and Mrs. Ann Fredericksen, second grade teacher. Supt. Vander Ven said. They have not yet signed and returned them, the superintendent added.

SHERIFF TAKES TRIP Sheriff Willard P. Barnes and Detective Sergeant Joseph Pearce of the state police left Mason Friday to pick up three men in Texas and California. The officers have two breaking and entering warrants and one for non-support to serve on the trio.

County Beef Tour Is Set for Friday

On next Friday, March 28, County Agent James Hoekzema and Extension Specialist Graydon Blank will lead a beef tour. Marketing men have also been invited to go on the tour.

The first stop is scheduled for the Arthur Deyo farm, 3 1/2 miles east of Mason on Columbia road, at 10 o'clock. The L. B. Barr farm on Dexter Trail, 2 miles southeast of Mason, is next on the list. At noon a dinner will be served at the Aurelius Center Baptist church. Afternoon stops are scheduled at the Cleo Palmer, Clair Brown and Harold Spink farms.

The tour has been arranged, Hoekzema explained, to take in breeding herds, to show the different methods of feeding, and to show how different grades of cattle respond.

James P. Hoekzema Fills Curry Vacancy

After seven years of service as field editor and assistant editor of the Indiana Farmer, James P. Hoekzema is back at extension work, and he likes it. He enjoyed editorial work, too, but besides Indiana his journalistic beat covered adjoining counties in Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky. The travel grew tiresome, he said.

"As county agent I'll still travel and I'll want to attend night meetings, yet I can get home before morning," Ingham's new county agent declared.

Hoekzema has agreed to serve as county agent during the two-year leave granted Donald Curry. Curry is in India under Point Four, teaching Indian farmers how to increase crop production and control erosion.

The new county agent has a broad background in farming. Added to his practical experience, he taught agriculture at Holly, served as club agent in Lenawee county and as county agent in St. Joseph county before joining the Indiana Farmer staff.

While serving as county agent in St. Joseph county, Hoekzema became well acquainted with H. H. Barnum, then serving as Cass county agent.

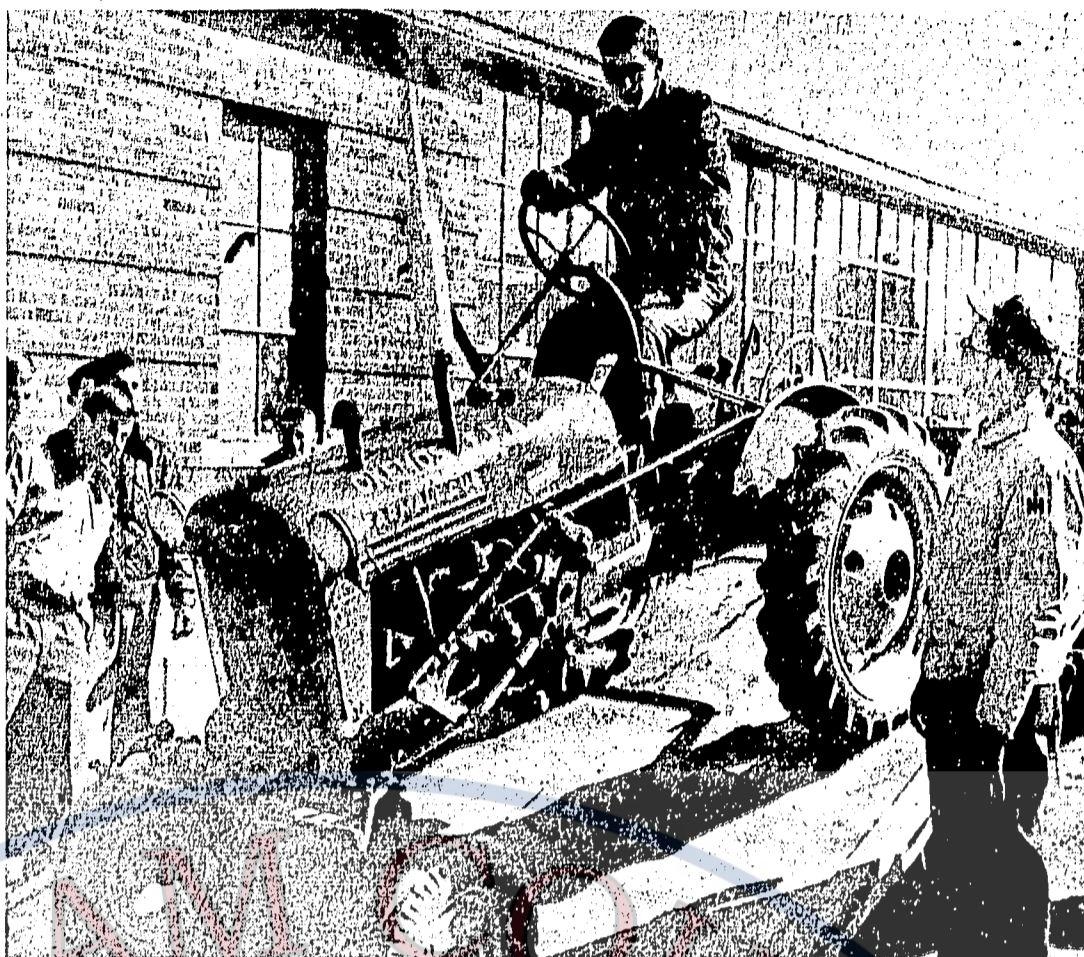

Mr. and Mrs. Hoekzema have a son and two daughters, all married. Rev. James Kent Hoekzema is assistant pastor of the College Park United Brethren church at Huntington, Indiana. He hopes to be assigned as a foreign missionary in Asia or Africa. The daughters are Mrs. Jack Mayhall of Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. Fred Server of Rockford, Michigan. Mr. Hoekzema originally came from Grandville in Kent county. He was graduated from Michigan State college in 1922. Mrs. Hoekzema's father was a congregational minister. She attended Olivet college while her father had the Congregational church there. She writes for magazines. Mr. and Mrs. Hoekzema are living temporarily at 123 West Sycamore.

Okemos FFA Chapter Invests in Tractor

Over at the Okemos Consolidated school the Future Farmers of America have bought a tractor for their own use. They plan to use it on FFA projects, individual projects, the school grounds, for custom work in town and for class work in tractor maintenance and operation. The Okemos FFA is a producing chapter. The boys have 128 Hampshire Red broilers right on the grounds. They have two swarms of bees in the FFA leased orchard, four purebred gilts placed on nearby farms of members and they are raising two orphan lambs. Last year their orchard of 50 apple trees netted them $178. The ag class pruned, sprayed and harvested the apples.

This year the FFA is going to plant 10 acres of corn for the pigs and chickens owned by the chapter. Roland A. Cook is the ag teacher at Okemos. He owned and operated his own farm before re-entering the teaching field a few years ago. Maynard Weaver is the shop teacher at Okemos. Shop and ag along with the band share a separate building at Okemos. The tractor was delivered Friday in front of the shop-ag building. Hugh W. Silsby and Carl Moore of the Silsby Implement Co. of Mason made delivery. Silsby is at the right in the foreground as Max Benne of the FFA drives the tractor off the trailer.

Curb and Gutter Will Be Built On Center Street

Councilmen approved plans for the curb and gutter for Center street at the meeting Monday night. In a public hearing at which only one Center street resident showed up, the councilmen agreed to ask for bids on the estimated $9,000 project. Earlier in the winter residents submitted a petition to the council asking for the construction. Under the plan submitted by City Engineer Walter Zimmer, the street will have a curb and gutter on each side from Lansing street on the east to Walnut street on the west.

L. J. Adams was the only resident to attend the public hearing for the Center street project. "I just came in case someone else was here to talk against the project," Adams told the council. "I am in favor of the curb and gutter and I know it will be a fine thing for our new neighborhood." Councilmen, at the request of Councilman Frank Evans, agreed to complete a paving project on Columbia and Rogers streets. Under the state primary road set-up the city placed curb and gutter along Columbia from Matthews to Rogers and on Rogers from Columbia to Sycamore last year. The paving will finish the job.

Residents of the 500-700 blocks on West Columbia petitioned the council for at least two catch-basins to control water in the area. Councilmen agreed to install the basins before the spring rains. The basins will cost about $190, Councilman Evans estimated.

Council Hires 12 For Ballot Check

City councilmen don't figure to make a recount of ballots necessary after the April 7 city election. State law requires six persons (three to a precinct) to serve on the election board. Councilmen voted Monday night to use 12 persons. All except two will be paid a dollar an hour. The two gatekeepers will each receive 75 cents an hour.

In the first precinct, inspectors will be Leo Harrison, Floyd Taylor and Harry Spenny. Clerks will be Mrs. Raymond McLean and Mrs. Guy Strickland. Homer Potter will guard the gate. In the second precinct, S. A. Bement, Earl Whipple and Frank Guerriero will do the inspecting. Mrs. Nina Carn and Mrs. Nathan Davis will serve as clerks and James Deuel will open and close the gate.

The slate of election day employees was submitted by Councilman Alton Stroud.

Orange is Color For Fire Plugs

After a color test Councilman W. Davis Post has chosen orange as the color for Mason fire plugs. Test paintings were made with bright red, yellow and orange. Post found that orange looked better than yellow in daylight and had more visibility than red at night.

Draft Calls 25 From Ingham for March Induction

Twenty-five Ingham young men have received orders to report for induction next Thursday. They are to report at 6:30 in the morning at the Veterans building on South Capitol. From there they will go to the Detroit induction center. In addition to the 25 from Ingham, there are three transfers ordered to report Thursday.

The 25 are from the above 20 bracket. The 25 called up from Ingham are Gerald Rodney Hall, Robert Floyd Schaffer, William Jack Sidel, Ellis David Williams, Marlon Ralph Wheat, Howard Wesley Alexander, Floyd Arthur Modert, David Burton Van Dommel, William James Wilkinson, Gene Duane McClintic, James Solomon Rashid, Gaylord Charles Fleming, Donald Roland Haney, Peter Douglas Laboda, Eugene Mulfred Briggs, Dwight G. Helms, Ben Ray Thomas, Terrance Harvey Bebee, Russell Alexander Potter Jr., Merlyn Muir Gates, William Theodore Denison, Harold Fero, Jr., Thomas Gregory Gorman, Lawrence Elmer O'Toole and Nolan T. Douglas.

The three transfers are Carl C. Lewis, Robert William Boettger and Gerald Robert Jenks.

Man Is Injured In Leslie Crash

Howard Lynch of Onondaga was injured at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of Hull and Bellevue roads at the village limits west of Leslie. Lynch was driving east on Bellevue. His car was struck by one driven by Alan Edward Milliken of Lansing. Milliken was driving north on Hull road. He is a state parole officer and was driving a state car.

The Onondaga man was pinned in the wreckage of his car when it rolled over. He was finally freed and taken to the office of Dr. L. C. Kraft to have shoulder and chest injuries attended to.

Taft Forces Block Move for Ike at Ingham Convention

Eisenhower Supporters Make Unsuccessful Try To Head Off Taft Leader as National Delegate

Party leaders stifled a move for General Eisenhower at the Republican convention held in Mason Tuesday night. At least, several of those who led the move were cheered on by wearers of "I Like Ike" buttons. Those who blocked the move claimed they are not pledged to any candidate. It was only a coincidence, they said, that some among them were handling Senator Taft's campaign.

The Taft and Eisenhower maneuvers were kept screened from the estimated 600 in the Legion Memorial building. No one declared outright that Floyd W. Estes of Lansing, convention chairman, is scheduled to be the sixth district delegate to the national convention. He didn't say.

Charles R. MacLean, who wanted to be declared Ingham's choice for national convention delegate, labeled himself unbiased as between Taft and Eisenhower. And he was and is just that, his friends assert. However, those wearing Eisenhower pins backed MacLean. But there were not enough. The motion to have the county convention name its choice for national convention delegate was ruled out of order by Estes. He relied upon Kit Clardy for the interpretation of Robert's Rules of Order.

Lindemer Makes Challenge Rep. Lawrence Lindemer of Stockbridge questioned the ruling Tuesday night. On Wednesday he agreed that the ruling was correct. The issue was on the chairman's ruling that Clardy's motion to table Donald Teel's motion to have the county convention nominate the delegate was not debatable. Lindemer declared that such a tabling motion could be tabled itself. But he was ruled out of order.

"We chose the Knop contract because the 85c for the trash and garbage cans is cheaper than the 90c which Jones asked for," Post stated. "And in addition, the city ordinance states that garbage and trash cannot be mixed, so it would be impossible to permit Jones to exercise that part of his contract within the city."

Olds Remembers Ordinance Jones has the contract for the garbage collection until April 1. He has been collecting garbage and trash in one container. Councilmen appeared shocked to learn of the 1928 ordinance prohibiting the practice. However, Fred Olds, reporter for the Lansing State Journal, reminded the councilmen that he remembers hearing the ordinance read a year ago at a council meeting. "If it made no difference then, why should it make any difference now?" Olds asked. "I appreciate the advantage of combining trash and garbage with my trash even if it does cost more. Either the ordinance should be enforced or else it should be taken off the books. It certainly isn't right to enforce it one year and not the next."

In addition, the city council asked for more control on enforcing the exclusive contract given to Knop. The 1928 ordinance states that only the contracted collector may collect garbage in the city. Household or business men may haul their own, but they cannot hire anyone else to do the hauling. Knop asked that the city enforce the ordinance.

Ordinance Should Serve "It seems to me that the ordinance is intended to only serve the people," Councilman Alton Stroud stated. "Some business establishments and even householders already have arrangements made with other haulers. I think we should let these satisfactory associations continue, when the citizens are satisfied with the service."

Knop will not accept garbage which contains cans or other trash, he stated at the meeting. He feeds the garbage to hogs. Knop was at the meeting Monday night. After the contract was given to Jones Bros., Knop told the councilmen he should be given the job. He also explained the Jones bid and the city ordinance and the conflict of garbage and trash. Councilman Frank Evans, who at first moved to accept the Jones bid, called it back and moved to adopt the Knop bid.

Boys and Girls Will Display Work

Mason will be the Mecca for 4-H boys and girls and their leaders Saturday. It will be achievement day for those enrolled in winter club projects.

Actually, the program will start Thursday afternoon and evening when the youngsters set up their exhibits in the Mason school gymnasium. The judging will be done Friday. From 7:30 to 9:30 Friday night there will be an open house so the public may view the exhibits.

Originally the forenoon program was scheduled for the Mason school auditorium with the afternoon program at the Legion Memorial building. A switch became necessary Thursday. Both forenoon and afternoon programs will be at the school.

From 8:15 to 8:45 Saturday morning the exhibits may also be viewed. There will be entertainment at the Fox theatre, at 9:00 for girls and at 10:25 for boys. At 11 first and second year girls will appear in a Junior style revue.

The senior dress revue is scheduled to start at 1:15. Mrs. Wayne Miller will serve as commentator at the revue.

Herman Walt of the Consumers Power Co. and V. A. Freeman, assistant state 4-H club leader, will announce the boys honor roll. Miss Alice Mae Harrison, home agent in Ionia county, will read the girls' honor roll. Mrs. Annette Schaeffer, Ingham home agent, will introduce club leaders.

On the afternoon's entertainment program will be music by Joan and Evelyn Gillette of the Cross Roads Farmers, the Etchekettes, and Lois and Janet Gerhart in a duet. The Gerhart sisters are guests from Eaton county.

Donna Voss will lead in the pledge to the flag and Phillip Hayhoe in the 4-H pledge.

Mrs. Henry Wilhelm is general chairman of achievement day.

Radio Proves Aid In Conservation

Walter Mutchler, Ingham conservation officer, in a talk before the Mason Kiwanis club Tuesday night, credited radio communication with a big part in conservation law enforcement. Radio also is used to great advantage in fire control, Mutchler said.

The radio system, linked with the state police, local police and sheriff radio systems, forms a network throughout the state, Mutchler explained. He told of the patrol cars, patrol planes, fire towers and conservation headquarters all connected by radio. Even walkie-talkies are used under certain conditions, he said.

Mutchler also showed a film on waterfowl.

Modestly, when she goes, is gone forever.

Frederick W. Newman and John O'Brien, delegates, and John McKinley and C. B. Robinson, alternates, Meridian; Mrs. Celestia Hunt, delegate, and Dr. Charles Black, alternate, Williamston city and Williamston township;

W. G. Dancer, delegate, and Duane Baldwin, alternate, Bunker Hill and Stockbridge; Frank K. Evans, delegate, and Gerald L. Graham, alternate, Mason;

John McCune, Kit Clardy, Simeon Dietrich, Harry F. Hittle and Allison Thomas, delegates, and Quentin Ewert, John Senman, Lawrence Henderson, Mrs. Jack Krause and Herman Dignan, alternates, East Lansing;

Mrs. Guy Adams and David E. Lord, delegates, and Mrs. Augusta Melvin and Mrs. Nellie Riess, alternates, Lansing first ward; Otto E. Eckert and Naomi Houghaling, delegates, and Charles E. Chamberlain and Willard J. Bowerman, alternates, Lansing, second ward;

Julia Gaylord and Dr. Karl Brucker, delegates, and Clay Campbell and R. F. Wall, alternates, Lansing third ward; Bruce Kelley, Russell Phillips, Paul C. Younger, Walter Munyon and Richard Pearse, delegates, and Robert Ellison, George Loomis, Charles Fratcher, Harry Nelson and Beulah Rouse, alternates, Lansing fourth ward;

Albert Greist, Marie Hager and Ray Gorsline, delegates, and Mildred Edwards, Fred L. Kircher and Russell Fink, alternates, Lansing fifth ward; Don Teel, Charles MacLean, Hubert Eddy, Peter Treleven, Ruth Gray, Gertrude Ludwig, C. Rowland Stebbins and James Ramsey, delegates, and Henry Noack, Mrs. Gertrude Murlin, Mrs. Eileen Bond, Mrs. Polly Gibson, Fred Gesse, Norm Klump, Jack Rose and Angia Kernick, alternates, Lansing sixth ward;

Alvah Mary and H. G. Harris, delegates, and Elinor Smith and

Paul M. Adams, alternates, Lansing seventh ward; and Edward Lucasso and Vera Selp, delegates, and Maurice J. Mayer and Patricia J. Mayer, alternates, Lansing eighth ward.

At the state convention the chairman of the Ingham delegation must poll the delegates before every vote is taken, the county convention decided.

County Chairman Lyle B. Austin called Tuesday night's convention to order. Delegates elected Estes as temporary chairman and John J. McCune as temporary secretary of the convention. Rev. Paul L. Arnold of Mason invoked the blessing.

Ralph Strope, J. J. Richards, J. K. Reed, Charles Boutel and John Rose were named as tellers but they had not votes to count.

On the resolutions committee were Paul C. Younger, Quentin Ewert, Mrs. Eileen Bond, Horace Correl, Charles Chamberlain, S. R. Dietrich and Mrs. Theo Dana.

Eugene Houck was chairman of the committee on permanent organization and order of business committee. Serving with him were Dale Danekel, Mrs. Charles Stone, Guy C. Hull, John Webb and Mrs. Maurice Baker.

Judge Earl McDonald headed the credentials committee. Others on it were Ralph Strope, Charles Fratcher, Hubert Bullen and Gertrude Wing.

Fire Truck Needs Pumper Repairs

Mason's red fire truck may be sent to Battle Creek soon for pump repairs, Fire Chief Leland Austin told councilmen Monday night. The pump used for sucking water from creeks and stock tanks has a leak in it. It will be cheaper and better to send the truck than to have the replacement come to Mason, the chief stated.

"There haven't been enough fires lately which required this pump to operate," Austin said. "Non-use is just as damaging as constant use."

"We plan to bring a substitute pumper into Mason before we take our truck to Battle Creek," the chief assured those present at the meeting.

The last time the truck was sent from the city, a $40,000 fire broke out at the Ingham County News plant.

With the exception of minor repairs, the Kessler Co. of Fremont, Ohio, will finish the interior rehabilitation of the city standpipe this week. The crew will return this summer to scrape and paint the outside of the reservoir. Councilmen asked City Engineer Walter Zimmer to make a final inspection of the standpipe. The company will be paid for the percentage of the work which Zimmer estimates has been completed. The remainder will be paid when the tank is painted.

Obituary

Herman C. Risch

Herman C. Risch, prominent farmer of Leroy township, passed away Wednesday March 5, 1952 at the Davis Convalescent Home in Powlerville. Mr. Risch, one of the oldest pioneers in this community, was born in Mecklenburg, Germany, December 15, 1863. He came to Michigan to live when this territory was a wilderness, in 1871.

He was the oldest of a family of seven children. His parents were Charles and Lena Risch. He was married to Deana, who preceded him in death in 1935. Surviving are the son, Stanley of Webberville, one daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Giegler of near Howell, several grandchildren, Harold Risch serving in U. S. Army, Gaylord Risch at home, Mrs. Dee Ansel of Powlerville, and Larry, Frank, Doris, Jeanne and Sammy Giegler, also two brothers John F. Risch of Webberville and Will Risch of Williamston, besides several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Liverance Funeral Home, Powlerville, Sunday afternoon, March 9, Reverend Reese of the Williamston Baptist church officiating. Burial was in the Alchin cemetery near Williamston. Pallbearers were Dorrance Risch, Carl Risch, Hugh Oesterle, Porter Risch, Howard Risch and Charles Risch.

William C. Sly

William Sly began his journey through this world in Stockbridge township on the 22nd day of September, 1864, as the son of Rev. John Albert and Corinna Post Sly. The greater part of his life was spent in Ingham county. Being the son of religious parents, he learned to fear God; so there came a time in life's journey when he came face to face with his responsibility to God and His soul.

He was an active member of the Vantown Methodist church for about 12 years; later of the Dansville Free Methodist church for about the same number of years.

On October 26, 1898, he was joined in marriage to Mae I. Grimes. Together they walked the Pilgrim Way until a few days ago, in Leroy township on the 3rd day of March, 1952. The Lord said, "It is enough; come up higher," and his journey ended. A number of days before his departure the glory of the Lord appeared in the sickroom; and Bro. Sly, looking out across the line of worlds said, "I see Jesus!"

He leaves to mourn their loss, the widow, Mae; a son, Harlow and wife of Vantown; a foster daughter, Julia Loeffler of Long Island, N. Y.; a sister, Mrs. James Runciman of Williamston; four grandchildren and two nephews; besides his many friends and neighbors.

C. James Thayer

C. James Thayer was born March 23, 1870, in Lansing township, Ingham county, the son of Chester Thayer and Sarah Ribby Thayer, and departed this life March 12, 1952.

He was united in marriage to Rose E. Babbege in Owosso in 1900. They moved to the farm south of Williamston in March, 1912, having resided in this home for 40 years. To this union were born three children, Howard C. Thayer, deputy commissioner of schools in Washtenaw county, who resides in Pinckney; Ethel Sheathelm of Dansville and Leona S. Moran, principal of Brownlee Park school, Battle Creek.

There are nine grandchildren, Patty Thayer of Pinckney, Joyce Sheathelm, Thompson, Harold, Dorwin, Mary, Janice and Cheryl Sheathelm of Dansville and Leona and Beverly Moran of Battle Creek; and one great-granddaughter, Wendy Sue Thompson of Dansville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Jr.

He also had a brother, Henry A. Thayer of Biresford, South Dakota, who with his wife visited at the Thayer home through the month of January. This was the first time in 47 years that the two families had been together.

Mr. Thayer was a life member and past master of Williams-ton Lodge No. 153, F. and A. M., and a life member of Williams-ton Chapter No. 117, R. A. M. He is survived by the widow, Rose; the three children, nine grandchildren and great-grand-

Couple United at Mason Baptist Church

Lola Elaine Fisk and Dale Bullen spoke their wedding vows Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the Mason Baptist church.

Rev. Loyd Caraway, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring rite before an altar banked with palms, seasonal flowers and candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisk of Mason. Dale's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Bullen, also of Mason.

Mrs. Caraway played traditional wedding music for the ceremony. Donna and Jean Wright, cousins of the bride, sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

For her wedding the bride chose a Skinner satin gown featuring a sweetheart neckline, bustle back, and a chapel-length train. Her fingertip-length veil of illusion net was held in place by a seed pearl tiara. She carried a white Bible topped with white carnations from which fell streamers with lover's knots holding Garnet Red roses.

Mrs. Kaye Skeleton, friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was yellow net and lace, styled with a sweetheart neckline. She wore a matching tiara and carried an arrangement of spring flowers.

Clayton Swift, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Maurice Verlinde of Dimondale and Earl Whipple of Holt ushered the wedding guests to their seats.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fisk chose a navy and white gown with a navy jacket and white trim, and navy and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was made up of white carnations and pink roses.

Mrs. Bullen's gown was lilac. She wore black and white accessories, a lilac hat and a corsage like Mrs. Fisk's.

Reception Is Held

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Refreshments of wedding cake, ice cream with wedding bell center, coffee and mixed nuts were served from a white linen-covered table. Lighted tapers completed the table decorations.

Mrs. Virgil Harlow of St. Johns, aunt of the bride, cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Alfred Wright of Lansing, another aunt of the bride, poured the coffee. Darlene Fisk, JoAnn Lott and Barbara Bunker assisted in serving the refreshments.

Mrs. Maurice Verlinde, sister of the bridegroom, had charge of the guest register and the gift book.

Kathleen and Beverly Fisk, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Darrell Fisk, cousin of the bride, had charge of the gifts, which were arranged on a white linen-covered table.

Guests attended from Vestaburg, Elwell, Lansing, Dimondale, Holt, Mason and Pennington.

Justice Court

Ronald F. Cram, in jail for 60 days following his acquittal on the charge of breaking and entering the Dansville school, appeared before Justice of the Peace Roy W. Adams Monday on another charge, that of stealing Norman Pritzel's car and stripping it a year ago. The judge found Cram over to circuit court for trial. After Cram was bound over, the prosecutor asked for a reopening of the examination to consider other evidence. No date for the reopening was set.

Dr. Theodore P. VanderZalm of Lansing stood trial before Judge Adams Monday without a jury. The charge was speeding on North Cedar in Mason February 21. City Officer Ken Merindorf made the arrest. Dr. VanderZalm declared that at no time had he exceeded the Mason speed limit. He said he and two other Lansing doctors were returning from a medical meeting in Jackson. Judge Adams, however, returned a verdict of guilty and wrote out a $21.95 prescription.

William Grandy of Dansville was arrested in Lansing township by sheriff's deputies Saturday night on a drunk charge. He pleaded guilty Monday and paid a fine of $15.

Carl White of Dansville was arrested by City Officer Kenneth Merindorf on West Columbia road early Sunday morning on a drunk charge. He appeared before Judge Adams Monday to plead guilty. He declared that he picked up a rider near Lansing and that the man offered a drink. White said he took it, and that it contained knockout drops. Merindorf said he found White slumped in the car with his pocketbook on the ground. White said $60 was missing from the pocketbook. In addition to suffering the $60 loss, White had to pay $11.30 in fine and costs.

Clarence Kenny of Lansing was arrested by the sheriff's patrol on US-16 for disturbing the peace and running a stop sign. Kenny pleaded guilty and was assessed $18.40 and put on probation for six months.

Lawrence Blackett of Eaton Rapids went before Judge Adams Wednesday to plead guilty to being drunk. The judge gave Blackett his choice of paying fine and costs of $24 or serving 15 days in jail.

City Officer Ken Merindorf swung into sudden and effective action Wednesday night after a Jewell Tea Co. truck parked on Cedar was broken into. Deputies Ralph Dershem and Donald Haines at Leslie gave an assist. They picked up Levi and Floyd Hatch and John J. Duffy of Leslie on descriptions furnished by Merindorf. On Thursday morning all three youths appeared before Judge Adams to plead guilty. Levi Hatch to simple larceny of 2 lbs. of coffee and a can of liquid soap, and Duffy and Floyd Hatch to being drunk. All three said they had been drinking and had no intent to do harm. Levi Hatch paid fine and costs of $18.50, Duffy and Floyd Hatch, $12.80 each. All three were placed on probation for six months.

Traffic tickets settled during the week were reported by Judge Adams as follows:
Edward Leo Schupert, Jackson, speeding, $12.
Mildred Baker, Mason, operating on improper license plates and driving without having operator's license in possession, $4.
Frank O. McClellan, Jackson, speeding and driving without having operator's license in possession, $15.

Council Explains Sick Leave Plan

City employees will receive one-half day credit for every month they were on the city pay roll for the year prior to January 1, 1952. The credit plan was agreed upon at the council meeting Monday night.

The decision will permit employees to be sick for a possible six days without losing pay. Under the plan announced last month, the employees are entitled to six days of sick leave accrued at the rate of one-half day per month. The leave may be accumulated for a three-year period. The week's vacation is in addition to the six days of sick leave a year.

Councilman Harold Barnhill said he wanted the accruing end of the program clarified because of the recent sickness of City Officer Emery Colby. Colby had accrued only one day of sick leave, but was sick for three days. Two days' pay was withheld. Under the retroactive credit decision, he may be paid for the other two days.

CAR STRIKES TRAIN

Edmund Sollid, 24, of Mason escaped with minor injuries last Thursday night at 8 when his car struck a standing train on Holt road. Sollid was driving home from work in Lansing. He told Deputy Alvin Hartig that he did not see the standing train until too late to stop. The train had been halted so trainmen could fix an air hose. The car was wrecked. Sollid was taken to the office of Dr. Clarence Crandell in Holt. There were no broken bones.

Holt Best Is Not Good Enough, Rams Bow Out of Tourney 60-50

Holt could not make it against St. Louis in the quarter-finals of the state high school cage tournament Wednesday night. The Ramblers bowed out of the tourney with a 60-50 defeat.

St. Louis had too many guns for the Ingham County league crew to stop. Fred Corbus, the St. Louis all-stater, lived up to his top billing with 25 points. At that the Ramblers held him down. He went into the contest with a 31.6 average for the season.

As good as Corbus was, the player that stole the show was the midget St. Louis guard, Ralph Brown. He was all over the floor both on defense and offense and put on one of the best dribbling and ball handling displays ever seen. He also tossed in 17 points.

Besides these two stars the Ramblers still had to put up with Jim Pavlik, another St. Louis sharpshooter. He was good for 14 points.

Holt saved its best game of the year for the quarter-finals. The Ramblers fought the Flyers down to the last minute. The first quarter ended with St. Louis on top 16-15. The lead changed hands all during the first period.

In the second period Corbus started to find the range. St. Louis pulled out to a 24-16 lead. Then Holt started to hit and closed the gap to 21-20. Holt hopes were dashed. Bud Beurman, the Rambler point-getter, picked up foul No. 4 and Coach Ted Bauer took him out of the game.

Without Beurman the backboards belonged to St. Louis. Holt stayed right behind the Flyers until the half was just about over, then fell back. The score at intermission was 33-26.

At the start of the third period both teams matched each other basket for basket. Then with the third quarter half gone Pavlik and Corbus started to hit again. Brown also caught the Ramblers sleeping on two fast breaks. By the time the third period ended the Flyers were out in front 50-33.

Beurman came back into the game for Holt and teamed with Bob Spraker for three quick baskets to fire up the Holt rooters.

but St. Louis was not to be denied. Corbus again started to pour them in, mostly from tips, and St. Louis weathered the storm.

With half the final quarter gone St. Louis went into a semi-stall. Holt battled for the ball but could not gain any ground. Beurman picked up his fifth foul with one minute left in the game and Holt's doom was sealed.

Holt could not match the St. Louis field goals. St. Louis poured in 27 of them while Holt hit for only 20. Holt did better from the free throw line. The Rams sunk 10 out of 18 while St. Louis added six out of 16.

St. Louis moves into the semi-finals with its victory over Holt. The Flyers will tangle with Charlevoix on Friday night out at the college. Charlevoix moved into the semi-finals by upsetting Houghton 47-42 in the final minutes of the game.

Bob Spraker came up with the top scoring effort for Holt. He tossed in 12 points. Bud Beurman, playing under the handicap of four fouls hit for 11 and Bud Miller added 10.

Republicans Plan Panel Discussion

Members of the Ingham County Republican club and the Town club are planning a joint session on Friday night, March 28, at the Legion Memorial building in Mason.

Supreme Court Justice John DeWaters, County Clerk C. Russ Hilliard, W. P. Doyle, legislative representative, and Mrs. Helen Welsh, Flint, will lead the panel. There will be a potluck supper at 6:30.

Ingham Pigs Sold At Barrow Show

Sixteen Ingham pigs entered at the Michigan State college spring barrow show Saturday averaged $41.67 each at the sale. The 16 Ingham pigs averaged $18.12 lb. or a total of $666.75.

Peter Stid's pen of Yorkshires placed third in the heavyweight class. The pigs weighed between 200 and 250 lbs., a total of 3,680 lbs.

Ingham exhibitors were Peter and Joe Stid and Phillip and Clayton Hayhoe, Mason; and Dave and Tom Beatty of Williamston.

Young Republican Leader Seeks Lindemer's Legislative Seat

Two Young Republicans are going to square off at each other in Ingham's second district.

John McCune, president of the Ingham Young Republicans, announced Thursday morning that he will be in the race for state representative. McCune is assistant prosecutor. He was born and reared in East Lansing and lives there with his wife and son Jack, 8, now Rep. Lawrence B. Lindemer is serving his first term. His home is in Stockbridge. The second district is made up of Ingham county outside of Lansing and Lansing township.

McCune was graduated from East Lansing high school and the University of Michigan. He began his duties as assistant prosecutor under Paul C. Younger a year ago last January.

SHAFT IS CLEARED

Workmen for Foster, Schermhorn & Foster of Lansing have completed clearing the shaft which will be used for the court house elevator. Water and steam pipes and plumbing lines were in the shaft. The shaft is being extended to the east. The Houghton Elevator Co. of Detroit has the contract for installing the elevator after the Lansing firm gets the shaft ready.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Georgia Melan Kehler of Denver, Colorado, died February 17 following a two-years sickness. She is survived by her husband and a son. Mrs. Kehler was a former resident. Her father was Andrew P. Melan. He was a prominent business man and served as a captain of Michigan troops in the Civil War. Mr. Kehler's brother was "Mike" Melan, who also was a business man in Mason. He was a partner in the Cavettier & Melan store.

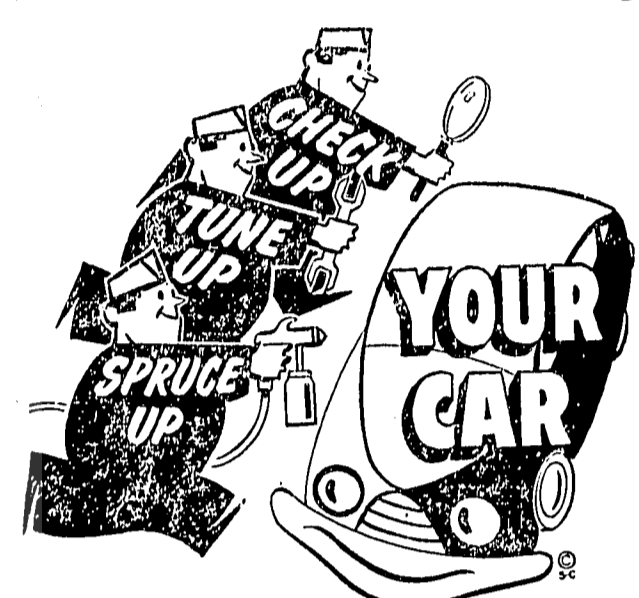

Mason VFW Host To District Rally

District Commander Max McCarn presided over the sixth district rally held in Mason March 16. Jean R. Anderson Post No. 7309 was host for the meeting.

Department Junior Vice-Commander Ritzheim addressed the group on membership. The department poppy chairman, J. Chilson, gave a talk about this year's poppy drive. District Chaplain Tisdale, who is 82, offered prayer at the beginning and close of the meeting.

Max McCarn was supported by his home post and the district for the office of department junior vice-commander.

Set Your Hand to the Plow!

There's just one way to make this land produce for you and that is to set your hand to the plow, make your furrow, plant your seed and care for it. The harvest is your reward. In the very same way is earned your harvest of financial security and the ownership of the better things in life you want. Set your hand to the financial plow by opening an account with us and putting in the seed — regular deposits.

Mason Boy Spurs Drive For Kent Crippled Children

Johnny Morlock of Mason is helping raise funds for Kent crippled children. He is in Grand Rapids learning how to walk with braces. His plight, coupled with his angelic looks, has melted Kent county hearts.

When Johnny, the ninth child of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Morlock of Mason, was born he was normal in every way except his legs. Normal bone structure was absent. Both legs were twisted.

The Michigan Crippled Children's commission offered help. He was taken to the Blodgett hospital in Grand Rapids for a series of operations. Since undergoing the operations, he has been fitted with braces. He is now at the Mary Free Bed Guild convalescent home learning to walk. Already he can make his own way by hanging onto parallel bars.

Other operations, and possibly amputation, lie ahead for the Mason youngster. Doctors and nurses know that he'll come through. He's packed full of courage.

While the Michigan Crippled Children's commission, supported by tax funds, care for surgical cases, children needing only therapy at home are helped by the Easter seal drive staged by county organizations.

"Johnny melts hearts..."

The Ingham County Society for Crippled Children has a full-time physical therapist giving treatment to children in their homes throughout the county.

Why Do Boys Like Girls?

Mason Girl Wins Gold Medal

Rebecca Garrison, 16, of Mason won the national Columbia Scholastic Press association essay contest. Her humorous article entitled "Why Do Boys Like Girls?" received the gold medal award.

President Harry S. Truman announced the award at a meeting of 3,000 junior and senior high school students in New York Saturday. Rebecca, winner of the top prize, wasn't there. She was taking examinations at her school, Tudor Hall in Indiana, next fall.

The Mason girls in her third year at Tudor Hall. After finishing at the Sandhill school in Alabedon she was tutored by her mother for a year and then entered Tudor Hall.

Rebecca's parents are Professor and Mrs. J. J. Garrison. Professor Garrison is an instructor in the art department at Michigan State college. The family lives on the former Reuben Allen farm on Phillips road. It was while the family was in Mexico, where Professor Garrison was on leave of absence from Michigan State, that Mrs. Garrison tutored her daughter.

There are two other children in the family, Daniel, 14, a student at the Kent school in Connecticut, and Andrew, 3.

In her essay, the Mason girl didn't pose as any expert on why boys like girls. She facetiously pointed out why she didn't think boys liked her, when, of course, they do.

Okemos School Adds Job Service

The occupations class at Okemos high school has set up an employment service to aid high school students find part-time jobs during the school year and full-time jobs during the summer.

Persons who have any jobs available for high school students between the ages of 16 and 19 years of age are asked to call the school office.

Holt Looks Good in Taking Regional Title

Holt's battling basketball team is out after new honors after sweeping three games in the Greenville Class C tourney Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Saturday night Coach Ted Bauer's crew downed a good Western Michigan Christian crew from Muskegon 50-42 for the title and the right to move into the state quarter-finals Wednesday night.

The Ramblers faced one of their biggest chores right off the bat. On Wednesday they were pitted against St. Louis on the Sexton floor in Lansing.

Other Class C schools played their quarter-final games Wednesday night at quarter-final centers throughout the state. MI. Carmel went up against Berrien Springs, Algonac tangled with Ortonville, and Charlevoix banged away at Houghton from the Upper Peninsula.

Holt faced the sternest test. All year long the St. Louis five has been rated as one of the top Class C teams in the state by metropolitan sports writers. St. Louis has not lost a game this year and has plenty of height. The Gratiot county team is also rated as a top defensive unit.

Holt's strong suit in the regular season and during the tournament has been its advantage on the backboards.

After winning from St. Louis in the quarter-finals the Ramblers will move over to Jackson field house on the campus at Michigan State college for the semi-finals and finals which will be run off Friday and Saturday.

Over 600 teams in the four classes started out two weeks ago in search of the four state titles. Holt has weathered the storm and remains as one of the 32 winners in the entire state.

Tough Teams Fall
The Ramblers could get to Western Michigan Christian they had to dump the top-rated team in the tourney at Greenville, Lakeview, 61-46 Thursday night and then dispose of Delton Friday night 57-40.

The Muskegon school earned its right to battle it out with Holt in the Saturday finals by whipping Lansing St. Mary's 50-47 Friday night. Muskegon drew a bye and did not have to play in the opening bracket.

Other teams in the tourney which dropped by the wayside were Wyoming Park of Grand Rapids and Montague.

St. Mary's disposed of Wyoming and Delton whipped Montague in the opening bracket of games.

Delton Falls Easily
Delton was added to the list of Holt victims without much trouble. The Ramblers walked away to a 16-6 lead in the first quarter and then toyed with Delton the rest of the way. Coach Ted Bauer sprinkled his veterans with plenty of substitutes in an effort to conserve the strength for the three nights of basketball.

In the second quarter Buerman put on a one-man show. He collected four straight baskets. These together with points added by Spraker and Miller gave Holt a comfortable 32-18 lead at the end of the half.

Bob Spraker took over the scoring role in the third period. He tossed in seven points as the Ramblers rolled up a 48-25 lead.

In the last quarter Bauer benched his starters and still Holt rolled. Delton could not even gain ground against the reserves.

Miller was top man for the Ramblers with 16 points. Spraker

There was plenty for Coach Ted Bauer's Holt Ramblers to shout about in the locker room at Greenville Saturday night. The Ramblers won the regional championship by beating Western Michigan Christian of Muskegon 50-42.

It was the third win in three straight nights of regional games. Thursday night Holt beat Lakeview 61-46, Friday night the Ramblers turned back Delton 57-40 and then took the Saturday night finals.

Everett school authorities were quick to point out Monday morning that the Charlotte protest of the final game of the season with Mason did not involve the Lansing school at all.

In last week's Ingham County News it was stated that Charlotte submitted the protest at the insistence of the Vikings. According to Everett authorities this is not so.

In that final game Mason won 56-55 with Charlotte winding up the contest with only two men on the floor. The Oriole protest is now before Charles Forsythe, Michigan High School Athletic association chairman.

The Orioles claim that Orm Osborn and Russ Myers, the two officials, erred in not permitting the Orioles to substitute two men from the crowd of Oriole spectators.

Everett's stake in the outcome of the protest is that if it is allowed the Vikings will be sole wearers of the Capital Circuit crown. As it now stands the Vi-

Bud Buerman was the only Rambler to pick up five fouls and he waited until the final minute of the game to do that.

Buerman was the star of the Greenville tourney. In the first game with Lakeview he tossed in 30 points and then the next night against Delton he added 11.

These two good nights plus his 17 points in the final game gave him a total of 57 markers for an average of 16 points per game.

Famous Clydesdale Six-Horse Hitch Will Feature Horse Show at College

The fourth annual Block and Bridle horse show will be held April 4 and 5, in the Michigan State college livestock pavilion.

This show has become one of the most successful horse shows in this part of the country. The Saturday matinee at 2:00 p. m. is now a full program and will feature the Detroit Highlanders, a nationally known kiltie band.

The queen who will "reign" over this show is the three-year-old daughter of an M. S. C. student. She and her court will enter the arena in the high-wheeled show wagon drawn by the Wilson & Co., famous six-horse hitch of Clydesdales. This hitch has been world champion 19 times and will be featured at all performances.

The lightweight horse pulling contest will be one of the highlights of the Friday night program. Teams owned by Bob Casper, Plymouth, Indiana; Al Fee, Athens; Charles Roehl & Sons, Smiths Creek; Marvin Dowden, Fort Royal, Kentucky; and Hugh Davis, Evronson, will compete.

Public demand has forced the return of the pony hitchers. The Holland Furnace company 8-pony hitch, driven by Fred Robinson, will appear for the second time.

A feature of the Michigan State college Block and Bridle horse show will be the Wilson & Co. famous Clydesdale six-horse hitch.

The horses are all bays with white legs and blazed or white striped faces, and weigh more than a ton each. They sport $10,000 worth of handmade harness and pull a wagon that weighs 4,500 pounds.

Jimmie Wallace, the youthful driver, is a fourth generation Clydesdale horseman who was born in Kinglassie, Scotland. His father now owns a farm near South Lyons.

Even though this hitch has been World Champions 19 times, it is the first time they have been in Michigan in over 30 years.

Walter Hughes of Northwinds Farm, Lansing, will present an excellent gaited exhibition at all performances.

Bud Leach and his trick horse, Pal, from Birmingham, will present tricks that have made them "mists" throughout the state fair circuit.

Miss Helen Bradley, Grand Rapids, is to present her Lipizzan stallion, Maestoso, to a Michigan audience for the first time. The Lipizzans, natives of Austria, are famous for the intricate maneuvers they can master. One of the most difficult is the backward gallop.

The judges will be: Richard Andrae, Port Huron, Gerald Helder, Holland and Clayton Hulett, Mason.

PANTHERS LOSE OUT

Stockbridge went down to defeat in the first game of the Ann Arbor regional tournament Thursday night. The Panthers lost out to Mowand 42-41. Stockbridge won the district crown at Williamston the week before by dumping Dansville and Williamston.

Scouts Make Plans For Annual Dinner

On March 28, will be held the third annual Ingham district appreciation dinner in honor of wives of Scout leaders and husbands of Den mothers plus the Scouters themselves. The host for this year is Haslett troop 65. The dinner will begin at 7 p. m. in the Haslett school's new cafeteria.

The program will include selections by the Haslett "German Band," presentation of training, camping and 3-year program awards. The speaker of the evening will be George White, president of the Land O'Lakes Council, Jackson.

A session in hiking and camping skills of the Scoutmaster basic training course has been announced by the training committee of the Chief Okemos council. Scouters of Ingham district are invited to complete their outdoor training in the skills. A representative of the Seidel Co., makers of Seidel's "Trail Packets," will be present Saturday afternoon to demonstrate their dehydrated or ready-mix packets. The session begins at 4:30 Saturday, overnight through noon Sunday.

A commissioner conference for all Chief Okemos Council neighborhood and district commissioners is to be held at Camp Kiviana, near Mason, during the week end of March 29-30. The conference is under the supervision of James Robinson, council commissioner, and the executive staff of the council. The conference begins with supper Saturday, March 29, continuing overnight through Sunday noon.

Delhi Resident Dies Saturday

James B. Fitzsimmons, 69, of 2541 Georgia avenue, Holt, died Saturday.

He was born July 22, 1882, in Ovid, New York, the son of Steven and Jane McGoris Fitzsimmons. On January 23, 1925, he married Sarah McCrary in Detroit.

They have resided in Delhi township for 22 years. Mr. Fitzsimmons worked in the Atlas Drop Forge in Lansing until five years ago.

Funeral services were conducted from the Logan funeral home, Holt, Monday with Rev. Vernon T. Smith officiating. Burial was in Union cemetery, Ovid, New York.

Surviving are the widow, Sarah; four stepdaughters, Mrs. Clarence Hill of Bridgeport, Mrs. Ed Male of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Aaron Drumheller of Holt and Mrs. Fred Elwell of Niles; three stepsons, Floyd Hooker of Detroit and Franklin and Charles Hooker of Holt; 11 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Overseas Parcels Must Be Smaller

Airmail parcels for service men receiving mail through APO stations must be slimmed down to 30 lbs. That's the maximum. It was 30 lbs. although few ever sent the maximum because of the cost.

The overall dimensions of the package, length and girth combined must not exceed 30 inches, under the new ruling which became effective March 15.

Because of the number of soldiers now overseas the lower maximum had to be set, postal officials said.

National progress is the sum of individual industry, energy and uprightiness, as national decay is of individual idleness, selfishness and vice.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The Office of Price Stabilization, better known as the Office of Price Scuttling, now acts to earn the title Office of Propaganda Supreme.
 In OPS press communique No. 1128, pudgy Commisar of Confusion Mike DiSalle announces move to try to convince housewives that they pay more for food in small and medium size grocery stores.
 In three test cities, with more to follow, C. W. Harder will have to post their ceiling prices. Stores are divided into four classes. The smaller stores will post the highest ceiling prices, the medium size stores slightly lower prices, and so on up the line with the big chain outlets posting the lowest ceiling prices of all.
 The announced intention is to furnish housewives information on what the ceiling price should be in each type of store, but in actual practice it will result in no more than a tax-supported propaganda drive to try and sell the housewife that huge stores sell for less, because their OPS ceiling prices are less.
 This erroneous assumption is contrary to facts, but regardless of facts, the program is being carried out when OPS, in the communique, admits it is not needed. The communique states this action had been postponed "because actual selling prices have been somewhat below permitted ceilings" and further "prices have been about four per cent below ceilings."

Soon after dark-haired, smiling William Bruntjen, immigrant German farmer, left a cattle ranch in the Canadian province of Saskatchewan...

Dread hoof-and-mouth swept through the herd. While police searched for the 27-year-old laborer to determine if he carried the virus from Germany to Canada on his clothing, authorities rounded up the infected cattle and loaded them in water-proof trailers that were later burned.

The misery ended by the rifles of Royal Mounted police, the beasts were buried in a mass grave covered with lime. Among the animals destroyed was a herd of 45 cattle at a farm near the heart of the Ontario cheese-producing industry. Authorities believe that Bruntjen's arrest and the slaughter program have licked the epidemic which resulted in a U. S. embargo on the imports of Canadian livestock, meat, straw, and hay.

Mason Child Study Clubs Plan Convention for 300 Delegates

More than 300 delegates are expected in Mason on April 17 when the Michigan Child Study association holds its annual spring program planning convention here with the Junior and Senior Child Study groups as hostesses.

Mrs. Helen M. Tewes, specialist on the young school child, will deliver the main lecture. Mrs. Tewes is a graduate of Kent State University, and holds her master's degree from Columbia University. Because of her interest in parent education, she was invited to attend the training course sponsored by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers at Northwestern University. She was chairman of the home and family committee of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers in 1948.

Also on the program will be Mrs. John Baker of St. Johns, president of the Michigan Child Study association, who will use the "3 R's of Democratic Living—Rights—Respects—and Responsibility" to sound the theme for the convention.

Chosen as chairman for the Junior group hostess duties is Mrs. Frank Guerrero of Mason. Mrs. Wayne Bullen, Mason, will be chairman for the Senior Study club.

Both chairmen have been hard at work selecting their individual committee chairmen and members.

Present plans call for the main meetings to be held at the Legion Memorial building in Mason with luncheon and dinner at the Mason Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

In charge of meals will be Mrs. Lawrence Barton and Mrs. Richard Brown, assisted by Mrs. Oscar Berglund, Mrs. Frank Launstein and Mrs. Richard Wallace. Heading the hospitality commit-

TODAY'S meditation THE WORLD'S MOST AUTHENTIC HOUSEHOLD DEVOTIONAL GUIDE Sir, we would see Jesus. (John 12:21.) Read Mark 10:16-52.

When I asked one of my Okinawan friends the question: "What do your people need most?" he replied, "We need food, clothing, medicine, books, but what we need most of all is the message of Jesus."

Then I remembered the Greeks who came saying, "Sir, we would see Jesus." There was also Bartimaeus who cried out, "Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me." Paul received the cry from Macedonia to "come over into Macedonia, and help us."

Today people are looking to us for many things in the way of help, but their greatest need is the Word of God. Around the world at this moment, in all countries, the people are searching for something the Christlike possess—that is, peace of heart. This comes only when Christ is found. How can others find Him unless we who have already found Him speak?

We are helping with material gifts; but as we search our hearts, can we answer their question: "Sir, we would see Jesus?"

PRAYER Our Father, we belong to Thee. Our talents to speak, to write, to pray, all are Thine. Use us today to extend Thy Kingdom. Teach us Thy way that we shall be better able to lead others to Thee, for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Residents Will Make Straw Vote On School Site

Residents of Leslie school district are being asked to make a "straw vote" on the choice of a site for the new elementary school which must be decided soon. The ballots will be sent to parents by children in the school and with all of this week's copies of the Local Republican newspaper. Other copies may be secured from either of these sources. Voters will mark their choice of the three possible locations, the Potter property, the Pickett property and the athletic field.

People are to add any suggestions desired, sign the ballot and deposit in receptacles provided downton as soon as possible. It is understood that many people may not understand all the problems involved in selecting a building site and the "straw vote" will indicate only the notions of some voters.

Leslie Grange Plans Annual Ham Supper

The annual ham supper served to the public by the Leslie Community Grange No. 1736 will be on March 25 at the Grange hall. At the meeting on Thursday it was also voted to end the membership drive on March 27. The losing side in the drive will serve a supper to the winners. After the business meeting the lecturer, L. S. Barnes, presented the topic, "Social Security" and members were given an opportunity for remarks and questions.

Mr. Barnes read, "The Power of a Hoopsnake's Venom." A quiz on quotations was conducted also for the women present. Community singing followed with Mrs. Clare Moorehouse at the piano. The economics committee, Mrs. L. H. Blackmore, chairman, served the potluck supper.

Slugger Sandoval won when a foul was called against his opponent in the second round.

Leslie Fire Alarm System Is Changed

The Leslie fire alarm system has been entirely changed. Formerly the telephone calls rang two telephones and a buzzer downtown and any person near could answer and take the call. But this resulted in confusion, faulty descriptions and delay in reaching the fire, especially if no one was near to answer the fire call. Now, telephone number 3451 is to be used only for fires, the call going to the Behrens-Luecht funeral home where there is always someone on call.

The person answering gets the location of the fire, sounds the siren by direct connection and waits for the volunteer firemen to arrive at the station to receive the location of the fire by a telephone directly connected with the person at the funeral home. In this way a responsible person will be on call at all times.

On the first day for the new system two fire calls and two wrong numbers were called in. The police telephone number will remain 9221.

Farmer Peck's Wife

Two pigs in the Peck's parlor.
Anticipation is greater than realization.
We're in the chicken business strong.
The last-minute 4-H rush.

Our name doesn't sound like it but I believe sure there must be a little bit of Ireland in us somewhere. For St. Patrick's Day is just around the corner and the Pecks have a pig in the parlor. . . two of them. After the ordeal we had with Curly Tail last spring (and he died after all that hard work) I thought, "Never again." But as I say, . . . there must be a bit of the Irish in us somewhere, also Scotch, for we hate to see them die for a little helping along.

Three sows had 35 pigs (11's 24 now) and Pete is as happy as a robin in spring—real perky. He's up every night for a week before and stayed home from church Sunday as they were coming then. Yes, the girls are delighted. Pa is happy. I? Have you looked at the hog market lately? And then I keep thinking of how those little red scally-wags keep looking for holes to crawl out of all spring so they can root and run. But still I'd turn Irish long enough to keep another pig (but someone will get mad over that one) in the parlor if I thought he'd ever live to be a 285-pounder.

What am I saying? Of course, I'll help squeeze every drop of milk and care and whatever else it takes to raise these little squealies for they've been a good thing for us in the past. Pete has his eye on some more tile this fall and every pig saved is a step towards more inches tiled.

I just can't imagine a time ever coming when everything will be just like it should be. . . land all tiled, buildings exactly right, tools of the latest and best. . . wonder what that's like. I day-dream a lot of the "someday" when our farm will be like that and how wonderful it will be. I even include a few weeks in Florida to bask in the sunshine and eat some tree-ripened oranges right off the trees. . . some that I picked.

Do you suppose I'll be any happier than I am right this minute? Foolish question. . . for to me planning and working and saving and dreaming about a future thing are all connected to the "THING" in the end and a part of it. In fact, I'm happiest when I'm planning.

Pete said last night that I wasn't the only one that dreamed

. . . that he hoped someday to be able to push a button and the barn would clean itself.

That's not an impossibility. Guess I had better come back to earth! Back with the chickens that are so much a part of my daily life now. We have more than 400 of three different kinds. . . just like a rainbow and I think much more interesting than all one color. There are Wyan-Hamps, Rock-Reds and the girls have 50 New Hampshire roosters. They also have a Rock-Red pullet, so does Tommy who went with us to get them. These three little pullets have no white markings on them so every time we go out we must look for those three chicks.

I spend a lot of time out at the brooder house. . . more than I need to. We get up early so the girls can go out with me before Sally has to go to school. Then we stand and sit, looking and watching and admiring and naming and comparing and loving and talking. . . for almost an hour sometimes before breakfast.

While I fill the oil tank, give them water and fill the feed dishes the girls. . . well, I trust Sally but that little Susy is another girl entirely. She likes to see them run and all stick their heads up. (you do this by uttering a sharp cry or clapping your hands!) and the merry look on her face and complete innocence as she leans over the confining board inside the door give her away. Those heaps of litter where she has stuck her feet over this board show where she has tried to catch a chicken.

Sally gets so disgusted with her and wants me to assure her that SHE never acted like THAT. Then I have to say!!! You acted JUST like that when you were old as Susy. . . and then she says, "Mama, I don't like to hear that."

We're right in the biggest campaign of any year yet trying to get the Handicraft club 4-H boys to be done before that 11th hour. Donald Cook is practically done. He is so interested and eager to work on his articles. Last year he sent two things to the state show at Lansing and what a booster shot that was. Encouragement, family interest and honor do all of us a lot of good. Pete and I have a sort of shop in the basement where we are co-leaders. He says he isn't really a leader that I just sent his name in but if you could see his intent as he bends over a piece of wood with one of the eight boys you would say he is. The boys come evenings, afternoons and any time they can.

The 28th of this month we are going to have a box social at our monthly Community club at the school house for the purpose of earning money for the 4-H building at St. Johns. Along with it we are having a local achievement exhibit of knitting, clothing and handicraft articles. I think it's also an incentive to get done earlier than the county achievement deadline! I like working with boys and girls but a lot of the enjoyment of it is taken out by that every-year last minute rush and worry and work when there is not enough time to do really good work!!!!

At the last 4-H party everyone wanted a sliding-down-hill party so a date was set. Pete thought we had a lot of faith to plan like that. How I laughed to see the ground covered with snow the morning set for the slide when there had been no snow the night before. Steds were gathered and off the group went for one of the jolliest afternoons I have seen. Whitakers and Pittsons were there with their toboggans and were very generous with them and everyone had a good time. They came back here for wimpies and cocoa. I'll give you the recipe for how I make them next week.

OMAR WILLIAMS, 305 Berry street, Lansing, says—I had arthritis for five years. It had settled in my hands and feet and in my back. My boys had to pick me up and put me in and out of the car. After taking one and one-half treatments with Star Rheumatic Solvent my body was freed from the pains of arthritis and I was and now am free to walk without the use of cane or crutch. I cannot praise this medicine highly enough. I would be glad to answer all inquiries regarding my recovery. Phone, write or call on me.

Currys Find Welcome in India

We have found everyone here in India very cooperative and most willing to help us in any way they can to become adjusted to the customs of the country. Needless to say we have found many things to which we must become adjusted. At the Hotel Ambassador in New Delhi where we stayed for 25 days we were able to secure nearly every service available in the U. S. However, the food lacks some of the quality at home. From New Delhi we made trips to Agra to visit the Taj Mahal. This is a very impressive sight. We were told that 20,000 men worked for nearly 20 years to build the hall. It is 967 ft. long and 373 ft. wide. The structure is made of white marble, with a mosque and guest house made of red sandstone built on either side of the main building. All of the materials were hauled to the location by ox cart and in some cases this involved trips of several hundred to a thousand miles. I have taken many pictures which I hope will turn out so that we will be able to share our experiences with the folks back home. The countryside near Delhi is full of the ruins of tombs and forts. This seems to indicate that the former rulers of India had more time to plan for their burial than for the welfare of the common man. The trip to Patna from Delhi takes four hours by plane. If you choose to go by train it takes nearly 24 hours. (One thing we have learned, you can get a long ways in a short time and the world is a small place indeed). Patna is a town of nearly 200,000 located on the Ganges river. At the present time the river is very narrow but when the monsoons are on, the river becomes nearly three miles wide. In the valley some very fertile land is under cultivation. The new part of Patna is very nice in terms of Indian standards. The older part of the city is quite similar to the cities of India—very primitive. We are, at the present time, living in the Circuit House. This is a government hotel. They have provided us with two rooms, a dining room and kitchen so we are now keeping house. The first of May we will move into a house which is also to be provided by

Groucho, Russell and Sinatra at Fox

Comedy will dominate the Fox screen this next week.

Starting with the Thursday and Friday selections the week will be filled with top pictures for the entire family. The Thursday and Friday feature is "Fixed Bayonets," a story of the fighting infantry in the Korean conflict.

Saturday afternoon and evening "The Harlem Globetrotters" will take over the Fox screen.

The millions who cheer "The Harlem Globetrotters" on the basketball courts of the world will thrill to that fabulous basketball team's razzle-dazzle on the screen.

The new film features Thomas Gomez, Dorothy Dandridge, Bill Walker and the Original Harlem Globetrotters in a story which shows the miracle men of sports at their best.

Billy Brown, one of the team's stars, plays the central character of "The Harlem Globetrotters," an all-American college basketball player and honor student named Roy Townsend. Over the objections of manager Abe Saperstein, Townsend quits college to join the Trotters. He quickly becomes a star of the team, but he scorns the feeling of his teammates that they represent the whole Negro race whenever they play.

Thomas Gomez plays the role of Abe Saperstein, Dorothy Dandridge portrays Townsend's sweetheart, and Bill Walker enacts a college professor. The stars of the picture are the aforementioned Billy Brown, Roscoe Cumberland, William "Boyz" Gates, Marques Haynes, Louis "Babe" Pressley, Ermer Robinson, Ted Strong, Reese "Goose" Tatum, Frank Washington, Clarence Wilson and Inman Jackson.

Father Homeboys, Too Departing from his Belvedere role, Clifton Webb leads a trio of co-stars, Anne Francis, Charles Bickford and William Lundigan, through some hilarious antics in "Elopement," Twentieth Century-Fox's human interest comedy which opens at the Fox Theatre on Sunday and Monday. In the picture Webb plays the role of a married, though sharp-tongued parent who worries about the midnight elopement of his daughter, played by Miss Francis, and a young college professor, William Lundigan. The complications which arise from this situation and the enmity that develops between the families of the girl and the boy all add up to a swiftly moving story which Director Henry Koster has embellished with deft direction.

The distaff side of the cast for "Elopement" has a trio of veteran actresses in support of veteran actress Anne. They are Evelyn Varden, who recently finished a long New York run in "Romeo and Juliet," Margalo Gillmore, just back from a London engagement in "All My Sons" and Julia Dean, who came out of retirement to play the important role of the farmer's wife in the picture. Miss Dean, who has been away from the stage for 25 years, first appeared with Joseph Jefferson in grandma's day.

Clifton Webb, who has mastered Yogi, pole vaulting and oatmeal bowl swinging for some of his previous pictures, comes up with a new accomplishment. In this comedy—a bubble gum blower of championship calibre. After considerable practice in the privacy of his home, he blew a bubble the size of a basketball for the bubble gum sequence with little Tommy Rettig. Charles Bickford plays the father of seven, not quite equaling Webb's father role in "Cheaper By The Dozen."

Groucho Gets Laughs Bubbling with an infectious gaiety that makes it one of the season's most entertaining screen farces, RKO Radio's "Double Dynamite" playing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Fox brings Jane Russell, Groucho Marx and Frank Sinatra in the starring roles.

Inspired casting has the three favorites in fun-packed portrayals, with Sinatra as a serious-minded young bank clerk, Miss Russell as his impatient fiancée and Marx as a carefree waiter in a cheap restaurant who pretends to be an authority on crime and the joys of living dangerously.

An unexpected meeting between the bank clerk and a bookie results in the former winning a small fortune—but he can't convince his girl friend or the waiter that he didn't steal the money from the bank, especially when it is learned that there's a mysterious shortage in the bank's books.

This situation has all sorts of hilarious possibilities, and the three stars, under Irving Cummings' deft direction, make the most of them. Catchy song numbers by Julie Styne and Sammy Cahn add to the festivities. Don McGuire, Howard Freeman, Nestor Paiva and Harry Hayden turn in excellent support.

Double Feature Due Thursday and Friday a double feature program will play at the Fox. One of the features will find Jane Russell, Groucho Marx and Frank Sinatra have the starring mirth-roles in "Double Dynamite," which deals with the adventure of two bank employees after a big horse parlor coup puts them on Uncasy Street. In the RKO Radio picture Marx, as a bistro waiter, highlights the fun. This is the feature attraction at the Fox Tuesday and Wednesday.

George O'Brien back in the role which made him famous as a cowboy action star 20 years ago. He will appear in "Gold Raiders."

The second feature is "On the Loose." This is the story of juvenile delinquency and how it can be stamped out.

George O'Brien, rugged hero of western thrillers for more than a decade, proves in "Gold Raiders," that he is still the fastest draw in films.

In several scenes of this exciting fast-action, Jack Schwarz production, O'Brien draws his six-shooter with such speed that the eye is unable to follow the action.

It was the late Tom Mix, one of the greatest of all Western stars, who first promoted George O'Brien's screen career, first as a cameraman, then as an actor. He achieved stardom in "The Iron Horse," under the aegis of Mix, and later he starred in a series of western pictures based on the popular western stories authored by Zane Grey.

"Gold Raiders" gets under way with an ambush and winds up in one of the most furious gun battles ever filmed. O'Brien is seen in one of his best roles of recent years as the U. S. marshal who turns insurance man for a group of mine operators, and then is forced to clean up a vicious gang of gold raiders to protect his insurance business. Besides The Three Stooges the cast includes Sheila Ryan, Monte Blue, comedian Fuzzy Knight, Lyle Talbot and Clem Bevans.

With Joan Evans, Melvyn Douglas and Lynn Bari co-starring in daughter-and-family roles, The Filmakers' new offering "On the Loose," revolves around a high school girl's search for happiness and the ensuing troubles with her thoughtless, selfish parents and her scandalized school companions.

Robert Arthur plays the part of the boy, with Hugh O'Brien, Constance Hilton, Mickey Kuhn, Lillian Hamilton, Susan Morrow and Tristram Coffin in important roles.

Blackney Claims UMT Is Decided For This Session

It is idle to talk of reviving the Universal Military Training bill at this session of congress, reported Rep. William W. Blackney of Michigan's sixth district Thursday.

In a letter to the Ingham County News Congressman Blackney wrote, "It is my conviction that the resounding 74-vote majority (236-162) by which the house recommitted the so-called UMT bill was the voice of the people themselves. The division, pro and con, did not follow political, geographical or economic lines. The bill was recommitted because the American people as a whole were reluctant, if not actually opposed, to adopt a program so entirely foreign to American tradition.

"Universal military training was formally recommended by President Truman. It was vigorously supported by the military. While all four services—army, navy, air force and marine corps—are definitely on record as favoring the program, I question whether any but the army was really enthusiastically for it. But no amount of pressure from the White House or the Pentagon overcame public sentiment.

"To be sure, the recommitment of the bill was an administration defeat; and to be sure, the majority of the Republican members of the house (155 out of 185 present) voted to recommit the bill. But it was not a political issue. At no time during the committee hearings or in the floor debate was UMT made a political party issue. Eighty-one Democrats voted to recommit. Thirty Republicans were included in the 162 who voted against recommitment.

"UMT has been extensively studied, vigorously debated, actively supported and opposed by powerful forces and, in the end, the people spoke and the house of representatives sent the bill back to committee. The chairman of the house committee on armed services (Carl Vinson, Democrat, of Georgia) has publicly stated that he will not ask our armed services committee again to consider UMT at this session. However, there is considerable pressure being exerted by the administration to revive the bill. They point to the fact that the vote was on a motion to recommit and not on the bill itself. I am inclined to believe that whether this question again comes before the house this session will depend largely on what action, if any, the senate takes on the UMT bill pending on the senate calendar.

"As a member of the armed services committee of the house, I have been vitally interested in our national defense and in the welfare of our boys in service. I do not believe, however, in a militaristic government, because the United States is predicated upon a civilian state. I am sure that the activity of the Pentagon officers in endeavoring to force UMT upon the country at this time related against the passage of the bill. There was an element of dictation and coercion that the average member of congress, both Republican and Democratic, resented.

"I did deeply appreciate, however, the hundreds of letters I received from my constituents both for and against universal military training, because they were written in a clean, fair way, and the writers expressed their views without prejudice or passion. I received many fine letters from veterans groups, church groups, labor groups, farm groups, educational groups, club groups and others. I was greatly inspired by the information and sentiments conveyed to me in those letters.

"The local climate, distance to market and the availability of pickers should be carefully considered when choosing a location for a blueberry plantation.

Girls Use Brains More

Unless scientific tests are wrong, females do not have more brains than males. On the contrary, history indicates that in the arts, sciences and professions the male is generally superior to the female.

So probably here in Mason the girls don't have more brains than the boys. There are just more girls who use their brains.

The valedictorian and the two salutatorians of the 1952 class in Mason high school are girls. That doesn't mean too much. But the next 11 in the class are girls, too. The highest boy on the senior scholastic list stands 15th in a class of about 70.

Well, the boys are outnumbered by the girls in the senior class. Then let's take the upper six grades, from the seventh right on through the twelfth. On the six-weeks honor roll are 84 pupils. All except 15 are girls. In the seventh grade the scholarship ratio is 6 to 1 in favor of girls, in the ninth it is 20 to 2, in the tenth 10 to 3, in the eleventh 19 to 5, and in the twelfth 15 to 0. Only in the eighth grade did the boys make a creditable showing. There the girl scholars outnumber the boys only 8 to 5.

There are 16 all-A students in the upper six grades. Fifteen are girls.

What's wrong? Or isn't there anything wrong? Principal Richard Demlow believes that the war is responsible for much of the male slump. Many boys, he says, have that "what's the use" feeling—"What's the use of studying when next year I'll be hunting a fox hole?" Or, "Why should I strive for a high mark in math when next week I may be hit by a bomb?"

There's another theory; the one that girls of 16, 17 and 18 are much closer to maturity than boys of the same age and therefore make better use of their time.

A Mason teacher sees it this way: "I think the trouble goes back to the omission of phonics in elementary schools. Girls have enough natural pride to learn how to read, either in school or out. Too many boys don't seem to care. Because they did not learn to read they find it difficult to do good work in other subjects. They are content to just get by."

There are three points of view. One blames the war, the second points to slower male development, and the third to poor teaching. There are probably other reasons. One might well be that too many of us save our applause for athletes. Colleges, too, seem more anxious to recruit and to reward football and basketball players than valedictorians.

Maybe we have substituted excuses for reasons. Perhaps the only reason is a lack of discipline and a lack of emphasis on the part of parents and teachers. All of us have cared too little about boys wasting educational opportunities. We have not stimulated them to do their best in the classroom. We have not pointed out to them that the world needs today more than ever before the leadership of trained and disciplined young men.

Mason stands in need of additional school buildings. Yet even more essential is the need to develop in boys the desire and the determination to use their brains. All of us, either as parents or teachers, or as friends and neighbors, share that responsibility. The present situation in the Mason school, and in most other schools, points to the one fact that few boys are living up to their potentialities. That situation can be and should be corrected.

Golden Gloves Tarnish

Like Christmas jewelry, golden gloves quickly tarnish. What gold there is doesn't reach the boys, and if it did there wouldn't be enough to pay for what some of them suffer.

Who staged the Jackson Golden Gloves contest, we don't know; or how much was made in the exploitation of the youngsters. Whoever staged it must feel remorse when they look at Bobby Bush of Michigan Center. When they see him encased in his cast from his hips to the top of his head they must feel shame. He suffered a dislocated vertebra in one of the fights.

For 11 days Bobby, a junior at Michigan Center high school, was in Foote hospital in Jackson, hovering between life and death. For four months he has to wear the cast. Then for months, or maybe years, he'll have to wear a brace on his neck.

Perhaps the organization which staged the Jackson Golden Gloves contest has paid the boy's hospital bills and the other expenses to which the family has been out.

Yet whether the exploiters paid some or all of the expenses or none of them, money can't repair the damage suffered.

Golden Gloves quickly tarnish, a fact that should be made plain to every boy who enters, and to all parents. Bobby Bush stands as mute and helpless testimony to that fact.

Enthusiasm Pays Off

Enthusiasm paid off handsomely for the PTA at the fair Friday night. The school was packed. The cafeteria drew double the number expected. The auditorium, even the balcony, was full for the vaudeville show.

That's what enthusiasm does. The PTA committees put enthusiasm into planning for the fair. It became contagious. The public grew enthusiastic, too.

Enthusiasm in any undertaking is the difference between success and failure. Enthusiasm is what made the PTA fair one of the most successful public events ever staged in Mason.

Joint Effort Is What Counts In the Rearing of a Family

By Vernon J. Brown

This time I am going to put together the fragments of two sermons, one personal experience and a lot of personal observations to make up one column.

Not so long ago I picked out of a Sunday sermon a little piece that went on to say that in every family and every home there is a single joint effort which alone counts for good or bad. That effort is represented by a husband and a wife, and in case of children there is the father and the mother. Before the children come, these two must work together in harmony and with a common purpose if there is to be a happy home. When the children arrive and while they are growing up there must be a common purpose between the two to give the best training, the best precepts and the best counsel and advice possible. After the children have come to maturity and have left the home, there still must be these two living together in mutual esteem and devotion, if that home is to stand as something to which fine memories are to cling.

Education for a Purpose More recently I listened to a sermon on "Education, For What?" Here the theme was that of pointing out that mere book-learning, mere intellectual accomplishment, mere reading from books and listening to lectures, and memorizing assigned lessons are not enough. Education, this speaker insisted, must mean a growth of the spirit and an understanding of the Divine purpose of all life, else the intellect finds itself squirming with torturing theories and ill-conceived and false conclusions. The preacher went on to point to many of our present day social and economic ills as proof of his assertions.

These two sermons took me back to a meeting I attended recently where quite a large number of educators representing many widely separated sections of the state, along with members of boards of education, sociologists, psychiatrists and social welfare workers met with members of Parent-Teacher associations to discuss aspects of child behavior.

The affair was a panel-group discussion as part of a much larger group dividing up into sections for the purpose of discussing various phases of the general psychiatric problem. All of it was a little deep for me so I slipped into a corner of the room where child behavior problems were to be discussed. First off I listened to the superintendent of one of the larger school systems tell of the work of a certain distinguished teacher and practitioner in the science of psychiatry. Next I listened to an account of the experiments explained by the psychiatrist himself.

These experiments had been made under his own personal supervision in the schools above referred to. All I was able to gather from the learned discourse was the bald statement that after several approaches made in direct teaching of the teachers in order to train them for their job of more efficiently handling bad-behavior children was that the teachers themselves had developed behavior problems of their own—behavior which dismayed superintendents and principals and other supervising educators even more than had the children.

There appeared quite a unani-animity of opinion among educators that until a sufficient number of psychiatrists can be trained to teach in our teacher-training colleges and thereby train special teachers to handle all such problems, nothing much can be hoped for.

A Woman Makes Reply

It was at this point that the wife of one of Michigan's wealthiest men, a successful industrialist in his own right, arose and said her piece. She is one of those rare individuals who belongs to a P. T. A. but refuses to echo all that some addle pated intellectual has to say. This woman said just about what my preacher friend had said in his sermon, namely that until the home is stable there can be no stability among the children; that no teacher has the know-how or the time to solve all the problems of bad behavior or to teach parents; that along with the home there must be good influences in the community; that there must be a common purpose all along the line and that no intellectual genius has the answer.

Common Sense Wins Out

Once again I came away from that meeting impressed with the fact that sometimes casual events, and parenthetical assertions are the real things which bring us the great truths of life. First, I thought, too many people take themselves too seriously, especially if they have been favored with a little more education than their intellects will absorb.

Second, it seemed to me that out of all that hour of high sounding talk, that mother from the circles of wealth and social standing, had said about all that was worth saying or hearing. And, third, that once again the stark truth stands out that life is made up of worthwhile things done in worthwhile manner and that all the science and high intellectual attainment possible to absorb cannot make up for good old-fashioned common sense spoken by those who have no fear of being counted against what they believe to be false.

Of course, in all this I counted once again the blessings of living among people who have worthwhile things to do and not among those who exist on artificialities.

Down by the SYCAMORE

A man called Deputy Gertrude Ludwick at the county clerk's office to get his license renewed.

"What kind of a license?" Miss Ludwick asked.

"Why, a marriage license, of course," the man replied. "I have been married 28 days. I want to keep on. So does my wife. Please renew it. There are only two days left."

Miss Ludwick didn't seem to understand, so the man continued, "I have my license right here with me at the phone. I got it February 10 and I don't want it to expire March 10."

The man was right. If you were married in Michigan between the dates of October 11, 1947, and February 19, 1952, you should be free. Take your license down off the wall, or out of the album or the desk drawer. Read down to the bottom of the application form. See this line set in 12-point bold—"This marriage license VOID 30 days after date of issue."

Oh, yes, the law officers and the lawyers will quibble over the matter, and insist that the sentence means that the wedding must be performed within 30 days from the issuance of the license. But the license itself doesn't say that. A literal reader, whether he wants a renewal or a divorce by default, has to believe that the marriage is binding only for 30 days. Maybe the wording ought to be changed.

Or maybe it shouldn't. If marriage licenses did have to be renewed every 30 days we might find ourselves anxiously standing in line, wondering if our mate was just as anxious. If we knew the bonds could be broken so easily we might keep them tied better.

Drink deep. Bathe often. Mason water rates take a jump April 1.

In Aurelius lives a man who prefers to do his farm work with horses instead of a tractor.

"Why?" asked a neighbor when he stood in the yard as the driver drove his lathered team up. "Why do you let your tractor stand there in the shed and drive your horses instead?"

"Because I like it," the horse-man said.

"What do you like about it?" the neighbor asked.

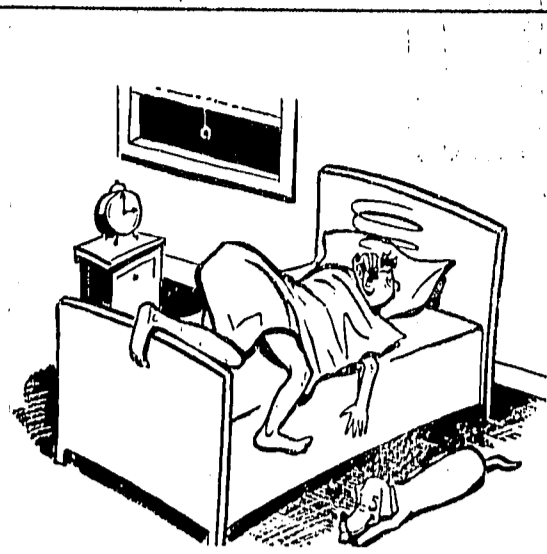

"Well, I guess what I like the most is the honest smell of horse sweat," confessed the driver.

Without looking around Friday night while standing in line for the PTA supper I knew that one of Dr. William E. Clark's sons must be standing behind me. Only in the Clark family could such a puckywit come up with: "What an awful thing it would be if after standing in line for an hour I don't feel hungry when I reach the table." My wife did turn around. She said it was Jim Clark.

That was a great event, especially the vaudeville show. Had Joe Dean been born in New York he

Garden Club Has First Meeting Of Fiscal Year

The Red Cedar Garden club held its first meeting of the fiscal year at the home of Mrs. Hazel Brown Monday afternoon, March 10. Geneva Young, the new president, had charge of the business meeting, assisted by her corps of officers. The president introduced the new officers, and read her list of committees.

Officers for the year are Geneva Youngs, president; vice-president, Mrs. Alice Dolph; secretary, Mrs. Edith Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Virginia Kitchen; librarian, Leta Jagersol; flower chairman, Emma Meindorf; show chairman, Mrs. Gladys Wylie; and clerks, Leta Jagersol, Alice Dolph, Suzanne Baugh and Julia Chamberlain.

Committees are: Junior gardeners and civic projects, Nina Ketchum, Marian Lechler, Rose Dana and Helen Jolly; ways and means, Mignon Welch, Nora Fisher, Florence Paulins, Lucy Ainger, Mary Rowley and Harriet Shane; conservation, Alvena Fuller, Hazel Brown, Carrie Hunt, Fern Shaw and Mabel Miller; and membership, Virginia Kitchen, Edith Smith, Kate Cheney and Emma Meindorf.

Letters were received from the Federation of Garden clubs relative to the sending of two teachers again to the Higgins Lake Conservation camp this fall. Mrs. Helen Harris was sent from the club last year, and will be sent again with another teacher if funds are available.

The committee reported on landscaping the honor roll at the city hall grounds. It was decided that some evergreens, low growing, would be used and the civic project committee will carry out these plans soon. Mrs. Alice Dolph gave a report of the committee meeting she attended in Lansing for the formation of a Garden Club Council. Plans were completed for attending the annual flower show in Detroit the first part of April.

Following the meeting the hostess, assisted by her committee, served a lunch.

The next meeting will be at the home of Virginia Kitchen April 14 at two o'clock. Gladys Wylie will have charge of the program which will be "Wildflowers."

Methodists Have Visitation Day

Seventy-five Methodist women in the church women met in the church dining room Wednesday afternoon for a special visitation day. A trio consisting of Ruth Wilton, Geraldine McDurmon and Ruth Harris, accompanied by Glendora Bixby, sang two Negro spirituals.

Mrs. Marguerite Volmer explained the meaning of the W. S. C. S. A. summary of the year's work, compiled by the secretary, Laura Fisher, was read by the acting secretary, Mrs. Hazel Adams had charge of the spiritual life program. Her subject for the day was "Faith, Hope and Love."

A short skit, "Cast Thy Bread," was presented by Jessie Kurtz, Ruth Ann Ashley, Jean Pfeiffer and Mildred May. At the close of the meeting tea and cookies were served with Mrs. Mabel Fish and Mrs. Nina Hull, past presidents, presiding at the tea tables.

Garden Club Plans Junior Division

Plans are being made by the Junior Garden club committee of the Red Cedar Garden club, to organize a junior division to encourage the younger children in cultivating a love of gardening and growing things.

The annual flower show, sponsored by the local club, will be held in June, and the juniors, any youngsters growing their own exhibits may enter. In the fall the committee is planning a junior exhibit of vegetables and flowers, with prizes being offered.

It is the plan of the committee to teach children interested in the art of growing flowers and vegetables and treatment of diseases and insecticides to control pests with the exhibit as a climax in the fall. The 4-H groups are especially invited to work in this junior division.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Brophy entertained their children and families last Sunday for dinner. The occasion was the birthday anniversaries of their son, Paul, and daughter, Mrs. Shook. Guests present included Paul Brophy of Hastings, Miss Norma Mamer of Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Shook and sons of East Lansing.

District Scouters Plan Meeting

All Ingham District Scouters, members at large and institutional representatives will meet at Camp Kiwanis March 20 beginning with a 7:00 p. m. potluck dinner.

The meeting will be directed by Charles Ralya, district chairman of Haslett. Main events on the agenda will include Council-Wide Scout-O-Rama participation for May 16-17 at the Lansing Olds Engineering building. All Packs, Troops and Posts have been invited to have an action display for the Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and evening programs. Other items of business will include selection of committees for the spring Camporee to be held at Camp Kirolex the week end of June 6, 7 and 8.

Every institution but one that sponsors a Scout Troop, Explorer Post or Cub Pack, has chosen a representative to the Ingham District Committee.

"They are assigned to one of the 'operating' committees to aid in camping activities, advancement, training, finance and public relations program of the district as it relates to the council and the boys.

Womans Club Presents Play

The Williamston Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. Irene Putman Wednesday evening.

Gladys Wylie presented Marguerite Volmer who directed a one-act comedy "The Doctors Said." The cast consisted of Virginia Smith, Hazel Howarth, Elgie Crossman, Irene Putman, Gladys Wylie, Ann Deakle, Ruth Harris and Clara Hathaway. The cast was chosen from the Woman's club and the Williamston Library Pioneers Guild, and the play will be repeated for the Guild at a later date.

Following the play the hostess served refreshments, featuring a birthday cake honoring Gladys Wylie. A social hour followed the lunch.

Season's Record Is Nine Wins, Six Losses

Carrying a season's record of nine wins and six losses, the Williamston Hornets entered the district tournament and lost 48-44 to Dansville. Their overall record of 9 wins and 7 defeats is the best season's total for the Hornets basketball team since the 1947-48 season.

In the Ingham County league Williamston finished in fourth place. This is the first time since 47-48 that the Hornets have reached the first division.

The Holt team, league champions, was the only team able to defeat Williamston both times in league play while the Hornets defeated Leslie twice and Stockbridge twice. Three of the remaining defeats were on the small home courts of Dansville, Fowlerville and Okemos while Haslett was the only other team besides Holt to defeat the Hornets on their home floor.

FFA Boys in Regional Contest The Williamston F. F. A. Chapter had a participant in the regional contests, which were held in Stockbridge March 4. This was Arthur Webster, who took part in the public speaking contest.

The contest was held in the Presbyterian church while the parliamentary procedure contest was going on in the Stockbridge high school gym. Five boys participated, one each from Fowlerville, Williamston, Owosso, Charlotte and Hemlock. The Williamston entry spoke on "Our soil is the health of the nation."

Flower Shop Is Redecorated The Duby Flower Shop is being redecorated and being put in readiness for the Easter season.

Attorney Opens Offices Attorney Robert Drake of East Lansing has opened offices on a part-time basis in Williamston and will occupy space in the Lew Thurlby real estate office on East Grand River Avenue. Drake will be in Williamston on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:00 in the evening and Saturday afternoons until further notice for general practice of law and consultation with clients on any legal problems that may arise.

Bowlers Win Prizes At the recent Lansing city bowling tournament, Frank Engardio's bowling team took third place with 214 teams about the state. This team includes Bruce Fowler, John Turk, Rolfe Harkness, Wayne Runciman and Frank Engardio. The boys were awarded a cash prize of $150.00. Other bowlers who won distinction were Walter Oesterle and Pearl Beach who took third in doubles. Wayne Runciman placed in "all-events" and Kirt Hunt in "singles."

Russel Porter of Lansing spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Porter.

Pupils Attend Music Festival

Several students of the local high school participated in the music festival held last week in Lansing. Those singing were the madrigal choir directed by their teacher, Mrs. Krantz, who also played several of the accompaniments; Donna Voss, Chuck Miller, Janice Dillingham and Barbara Estes, who was accompanied by Kay Love; and James Reese and Shirley Murray who were accompanied by Katherine Dolph.

Baptist Quarterly Meeting Is Held

The Grand Rapids association of Regular Baptist churches held its quarterly meeting at the Community hall in Webberville Thursday, March 20, with sessions beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing through the evening.

Both the Galvary Baptist church of Webberville, which is entertaining the association, and the First Baptist church of Williamston are among the 65 associated churches.

These churches with a total of 9,000 membership gave more than $225,000 for missionary enterprises last year, an average of $24.00 per member. The associated churches sponsor the Baptist Theological Seminary in Grand Rapids whose graduates are now in many pastorates and other forms of Christian work at home and abroad and in several missionary fields. Three missionaries have been sent out from the Williamston church.

Harris Boy Is Hurt In Scooter Accident

Keith Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harris, was badly injured at 6:30 last Friday evening, when he swerved his motor scooter to one side to avoid hitting a dog on Middle street. The impact threw him from the scooter and his head struck the pavement.

He was found by Rev. A. D. Hookaday, pastor of the Free Methodist church, who lives on Middle street. He was taken to his home where he is convalescing from a concussion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stuart and daughter spent Sunday with their mother at Saginaw.

Circle Members Meet Wednesday

The Naomi circle met Wednesday afternoon at the farm home of Mrs. Floyd Lockwood.

Julia Chamberlain took charge of the devotionals and Irah Jackson presented the missionary program about the schools and churches in Korea. This was interesting to the group because Capt. Fulford Lockwood, husband of one of the members, is located near the orphanage in Korea.

In May the circle will have a birthday celebration with a potluck dinner, and instead of exchanging gifts, will take children's clothing to mail to Capt. Lockwood for this orphanage.

Twenty-two were present for the meeting and two new members were added. On Thursday evening the circle will have charge of the social hour at the Lenten service. The circle will meet in April at the home of Mrs. Effie Kissing.

Relief Corps Has Regular Meeting

The Womans Relief Corps met Thursday evening with a good attendance. Plans were finished for making the servicemen banners to use on return of veterans. Plans were also made for fund raising projects.

At present the women are sponsoring a series of afternoon card parties from 1 to 4 on Thursdays. The Patriotic club of the corps met Tuesday, March 18, for a potluck dinner at noon.

The child welfare and veterans relief committees showed much work accomplished during the past month. The next meeting of the corps will be March 27 at 8 p. m.

Ag Classes Are Busy With Many Projects

The agriculture classes are all busy on their individual project record books as well as their class projects. The individual records are contained in the new trial record book designed by a committee of agriculture teachers.

Poultry has been the general theme in the Ag. I class. A broiler project located at the rear of the agriculture building has given added stimulus to the group. Complete records are kept on this project by the class. Birds are weighed weekly so pupils have a close check on gain and feed consumed. On April 9 members will enter 15 of the birds in the Junior Chicken of Tomorrow contest at Hemlock. At eight weeks the cockerels averaged 2.85 lbs and the pullets 2.33 lbs. The Ag II class is keeping close watch of Don's Modern Lady 2nd. This is the year-old gilt that the F. F. A. chapter purchased at the Michigan Swine Breeders sale March 7 at Michigan State college. She gave birth to seven pigs Saturday night.

The Ag IV class has been making some decisions on fertilizer for the wheat crop. One field is to receive 100 lbs of ammonium nitrate per acre while the other will get an application of 150 lbs of 3-12-12.

Pears and Apples Suffer Damage From Fire Blight

Pear and apple trees in almost all parts of the state have been heavily hit by fire blight during the past year, according to Ed Andrews, plant disease specialist at Michigan State college.

The disease has been especially severe in some of the good orchards in the heavy fruit producing areas. Many pear trees in Michigan orchards have been killed back to the main trunk by fire blight bacteria this winter.

Andrews says that the best way to control fire blight is to keep it out of the orchard every year as much as possible. This can be done by pruning the blighted shoots and cutting out the cankers that are found on the large branches and on the trunk. This work should be done only in the winter months during normal pruning operations. Summer pruning should be done only on very young trees.

To protect blossoms against spread from cankers that were missed or against fire blight bacteria brought in by bees from outside the orchard, pear and apple trees should be sprayed in the bloom stage with a weak bordeaux. The first spray should be applied when the first blossom in the cluster is open. Then spray again when about 50 to 75 per cent of the blossoms are open.

Rapid, succulent growth favors fire blight infection. This is one reason why fire blight is frequently more severe in bearing orchards than in nearby neglected pear and apple trees.

In general, the fire blight bacteria do not grow as well in the bark of apple trees as they do in susceptible pear. Therefore, pruning is not the problem in apple, but all cankers and blighted twigs should be cut out as a routine matter whenever observed. Distinct tools used in pruning to prevent spread of the disease.

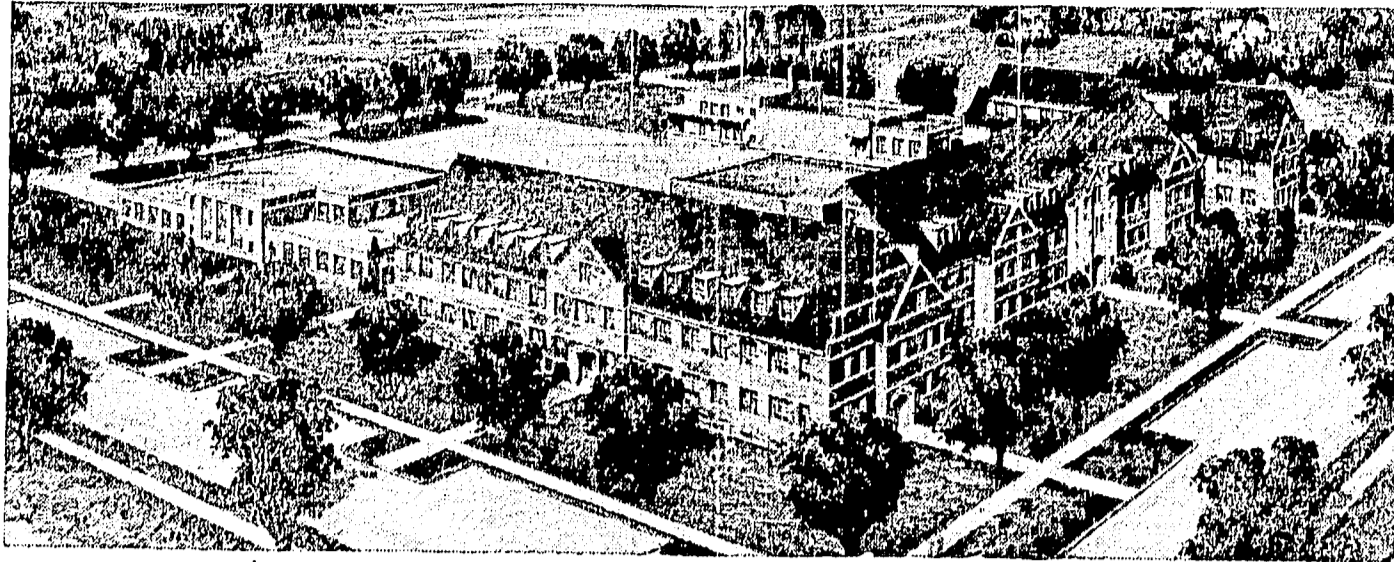

BROWN SWISS TESTED

Craie of Plainview 92861, a registered Brown Swiss cow owned by Max Eifert & Son, Mason, has recently completed a 305-day lactation record on herd test of 11,878.5 lbs milk, 4.09% fat, and 485.81 lbs butterfat. She was 9 years, 10 months old at the start of the test.

Michigan State Asks for Animal Industries Building

Officials of Michigan State college have requested an appropriation from the state legislature so that construction may begin on this proposed animal industries building.

The structure which the college requests will house in one building the departments of animal husbandry, dairy and poultry husbandry, with fully equipped facilities for teaching and research. College officials point out that such a building will economize on construction costs, make use of an excellent building site available, and help to coordinate the closely related projects of the three departments.

The current dairy building, built in 1913, was the last major building constructed for teaching and research in the livestock industries at Michigan State college. Animal husbandry offices are located in Agricultural hall, constructed in 1909. Poultry offices are located in a temporary classroom building on South Campus.

These three departments serve the state's livestock industries which produce two-thirds of the agricultural income of Michigan. Present facilities for these important departments are inadequate, Michigan State college officials point out.

Agricultural leaders of the state recognize the importance of adequate facilities to train young men and women for agricultural occupations. Research will mean better meat, dairy and poultry products for every Michigan consumer.

Michigan State college has also requested a legislative appropriation so that construction may begin on a new library.

Country & Town

By JIM BROWN

Some people think John Deere stars in a soap opera. Some think Joseph Glidden is a paint salesman, that Cyrus McCormick publishes the Chicago Tribune and that Eli Whitney poured the first gin fizz. It's too bad the way folks have forgotten the great inventors and developers of our country and have remembered the legislation which on the surface appears responsible for agricultural advancements.

In a talk in New York last week, Harold Brayman of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. of Delaware, said that surprisingly few people can identify Deere, Glidden, McCormick, Whitney and other agricultural inventors. Instead, they remember those who had the eloquent things to say after the improvements were made.

Hearing the broadcast, I sort of doubted that few would remember those three particular pioneers. But it's true. I held my own little trot (or is it gallop?) poll. I showed the list of names to 10 people. Four were farmers. Six out of 10 knew that John Deere had something to do with a tractor. None knew what Glidden had done to be remembered, three guessed that McCormick had something to do with the reaper and four knew Whitney's story. That's the way the score stood, just like Brayman had said.

"The formula for agricultural advancement amounts to increased production per man on the farm," Brayman stated. "When this country was founded, it took nine people on the farm to feed themselves plus one city dweller. In contrast, today one man on the farm feeds himself, four city people and one person overseas. This wasn't accomplished by legislation alone. Moreover, the inventiveness of a few Americans and the hard work of a nation of farmers had much to do with the agricultural advancement."

In other words, progress on the farm has come only as fast as the tools improved.

The real performers were practical men. Practical ideas developed the plow, the reaper and the other farming basics. And later it was refrigeration, barbed wire, gasoline engines and electricity. And only recently have inventions such as milking machines, chemical fertilizers and hybrids come into the farmer's picture.

By contrast, Brayman reminds us of an interesting point—that again, free enterprise and democratic men (spelled with a lower case D) have been responsible for agriculture's climb to efficiency.

It hasn't necessarily been due to legislation dating back to the Homestead acts and the Populist revolt on up to killing off the little pigs in the 30's and dyeing spuds blue today.

Maybe private enterprise owes it to itself and to the general public to toot its horn of accomplishment so that America won't forget who helps the farmer.

For the benefit of the 50 per cent who won't know what Deere, Glidden and McCormick are famous for: John Deere developed the first steel plow share which would break wet bottom land and virgin prairie soil. Joseph Glidden aided the advancement of the West with his barbed wire invention in 1875, and McCormick, of course, figured out an improved reaper. Whitney isn't remembered for the fizz, but rather the cotton gin.

Unhappy is the man for whom his own mother has not made all other mothers venerable.—Richter.

Marketing specialists continue to forecast an upswing in hog prices this month. They figure that the big run of hogs to market is just about over. Prices have been the lowest since May, 1950, and hovering around 75% of parity. It's too late now for the government to step in with purchases of pork to support prices. Prices should rise before any such program could be put into operation, market people say.

When butter prices hit their peak a couple of weeks ago, consumer resistance set in, cutting the demand. Prices then dived

OUR POINT IS If You Want a BUSINESS Instead of a JOB . . . Join the UNITED Team!

The UNITED FARM AGENCY, one of America's leading farm-selling organizations for more than a quarter-century, wants to engage in some straight-from-the-shoulder talk about YOUR FUTURE.

UNITED is interested in appointing an exclusive representative in your territory. YOU may be the man we want. The more than 225 UNITED men operating in their home communities throughout the mid-west and west are prosperous, hard-working community leaders—happy with the good business which United has helped them build. Many earn in excess of $10,000 yearly. A UNITED FARM AGENCY appointment affords YOU that same opportunity. There is no limit to your earnings.

UNITED does not want any "hot shots." We do not care what your educational background is. You don't need real estate experience. If you are honest, straightforward, unafraid of work, and sincerely interested in creating a pleasant and profitable business of your own, then we are interested in talking with you. If we prove acceptable to one another, then UNITED will teach you how to list, show and sell farms, will back you with 27 years of good will, the nation's largest program of farm and country real estate advertising, the famous UNITED catalog which last year was distributed free to a quarter of a million interested buyers, and with direct field supervision under qualified, experienced District Managers.

To qualify, you need only:

- Live on or near a main highway
- Enjoy the respect and confidence of your community
- Own and drive an automobile
- Devote full time to the work

NEW STATE CORN CHAMP

Decatur, Mich. (Special)—Bert Atthey, Jr., Van Buren County farmer, won the Michigan Corn Crown in the 1951 National Dekalb Corn Growing Contest with a yield of 146.60 bushels.

Atthey made his winning yield on a Selected 5-Acre Contest Plot planted with Dekalb Variety 239. No manure was used, but commercial fertilizer was applied to the field.

Apples, oranges, corn and soybeans would be crops on which Canadian restrictions probably would be effective. . . . Authorities contend that it's possible to boost milk production more than 20% with an effective mastitis control program.

4-H Scholarship Awards Doubled

Announcement has been made by the national committee on Boys and Girls Club work that county and sectional awards have been doubled, and eight college scholarships have been added on the national level in the 1952 4-H achievement program, as follows:

Gold-filled medals of honor to winners in participating counties have been increased from two to four, and sectional awards of educational trips to the National 4-H Club congress in Chicago next November now number 16 instead of eight, as was the case last year. Also, $300 college scholarships will be presented to 12 national winners, instead of two $300 and two $150 college scholarships to the highest rating and second place winners, as heretofore. All awards are provided by the new donor, the Ford Motor Company.

Previous awards of a set of statuettes, symbolizing 4-H achievement, for the state-winning boy and girl, and a silverware trophy for the national-winning boy and girl—the latter presented in the name of the president of the United States—are being continued.

Recognition in this program for top records of general achievement—either on county, state, sectional or national levels—is considered one of the highest honors a 4-H club member can receive.

Sugar Factory May Be Converted To Another Use

Directors of the Lansing Sugar Beet Growers association have been in executive session the past week, concerned with the danger of permanently losing the Lansing plant of the Michigan Sugar Co. Unless prospects brighten, and soon, for beet acreage the Lansing plant may be converted for other use, directors have learned.

If permanent and serious injury to the sugar beet industry is to be avoided, the association directors said, farmers must consider sugar beets as a crop for this year. If the plant is closed, directors pointed out, farmers may lose a market for their crops when conditions change. Those conditions did change in 1937-38, 1941-42, 1946-47 and again in 1949-50, records show. Farmers saw prices of other crops sag in those years and many saved themselves by growing large

Said Clarence A. Diehl, one of the directors and long a grower of sugar beets at Dansville, "We have assembled information from many farmers throughout the area which shows that, contrary to popular belief, sugar beets are a profitable crop. And it is not necessary to make any sacrifice now to protect our own interest in this crop for the future."

Vitamin E Cures Lamb Stiffness, College Reports

Stiff lamb disease can be prevented and cured by supplying the needed vitamin E, L. H. Blakeslee, Michigan State college animal husbandry researcher, told farmers today.

Prevention lies in feeding wheat germ meal as 5 to 10% of the ewe grain ration. The disease can be cured by feeding vitamin E in the form of alpha tocopherol capsules to lambs affected as soon as the stiffness of one or more legs is recognized. Research at MSC shows that the stiffness is due to poor muscle nutrition from a deficiency of this vitamin E.

Symptoms include stiffness or a slight limp or dragging of one or more legs. Recovery will be hastened by confining the ewe with her lamb in a pen limited exercise of the affected muscles. If not treated, the heart muscles often are affected, causing death.

Lambs with the disease must obtain vitamin E, either from their mothers' milk or directly in feed or capsules. Wheat germ oil, formerly recommended, and other lamb feeds do not contain enough of the active vitamin E to insure a cure. The alpha tocopherol capsules can be obtained at most drug stores since they are analyzed for human consumption. The 100 milligram size is recommended at the rate of one daily for three or more days.

If the stiffness occurs frequently, give each lamb in the flock a capsule weekly or oftener until the lambs are on pasture. Blakeslee recommends. A creep ration for the lambs with five to 10 per cent of wheat germ meal will help prevent the trouble. Early use of rye, wheat or other green pasture also may help.
