Boys from Jackson, Detroit and Marenisco won the 3 American Legion scholarships offered in the finals of the state oratorical contest at Mason last Friday.

Edward Johnson, a senior in Jackson high school, won the top award of a $300 scholarship. Just a few points behind were Alan Rosenthal of Detroit Central and Carl Lugvell of Marenisco in the Upper Peninsula. Rosenthal was awarded a $200 scholarship and Lugvell a $100 scholarship. The scholarships are for study in any secondary school chosen by the youths.

Steve Gronner of Lansing Eastern placed fourth and Jeanie Burns of West Branch was fifth.

In addition to the $300 scholarship, Johnson won the right to compete in the regionals at Bay City April 10. There he will go up against state champions of Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana. The winner will go to a national contest to vie for a $1,000 scholarship.

The state finals were the fourth in the series of oratorical contests at Mason. The county, district and zone contests preceded the state finals last Friday.

All the orations were on the U. S. constitution. Each contestant had 10 minutes for a prepared oration and then between 4 and 6 minutes for an extemporaneous talk upon an assigned article of amendment.

Judges for the state contest were Dr. George Seck of the psychology and education department of Adrian college, Miss Lois Holtmeyer, Latin teacher and forensics coach at Adrian high school; Lawrence J. LaLone, executive secretary of Michigan Veterans Trust Fund; Alton J. Stroud, Ingham county school superintendent; and Nelson Brown, editor of the Ingham County News.

Hospital Need Will Get Study Tuesday Night

Mason's Community Council, set up originally to study need for a swimming pool, will look at the hospital program Tuesday night. The meeting has been called by the president, Harold Bell. It will be in the home economics room at the school, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

At the meeting a decision is expected on a proposal to amend the articles of incorporation to authorize the council to promote establishment of a community hospital.

In December the owners of Mason General hospital gave it to the community. Dr. and Mrs. William E. Clark and Dr. and Mrs. George R. Clinton owned the hospital. They deeded it to a new non-profit corporation. It's the new corporation that is seeking support from the Community Council.

There has been no recent action on providing the community with a swimming pool. Because the council established for that purpose is widely representative of the community, the matter of taking on the hospital project was suggested.

Something must soon be done about the hospital. It is operating under the new setup but added facilities are needed. If they are not provided, the hospital may not be able to continue its services for long.

Ten years ago Kellogg Foundation made a hospital survey. At a recent meeting of the hospital board Andrew Pateo from Kellogg Foundation, Battle Creek, discussed the matter of bringing the survey up to date.

If the Community Council approves the change in the articles of incorporation, the survey will be one of the first jobs to be undertaken.

"ICH BIN UEBERRASHT wie schnell die presse von Heidelberg arbeitet," quoth Joe Tiefertenthaler as he watched the new job press run. Translated, that means he was surprised to see how fast the Heidelberg worked. This new press, made in Germany, arrived last Friday. Charles Yourko of Martin's Ferry, Ohio, had the press ready to go Tuesday. Since then it has been racing through many thousands of impressions. Tiefertenthaler admired the precision with which the press operates. He's seen the Heidelberg factory in Germany. After Joe Sanders married Tiefertenthaler's sister in Bavaria the brother came to the United States to visit. He liked it here. He entered the U. S. army to serve in Japan and Korea. Now he's a U. S. citizen. Before entering the army he worked for Lowell Robinson. After his discharge he entered the employ of the J. A. Dart Co. Now he's with Mickelson-Baker Lumber Co., working at the cabinet-making trade here learned before leaving Germany. (Ingham County News photo.)

New Street System Offered to Council Would Ease Traffic

If Mason's council accepts recommendations of the city planning commission for street extensions the traffic flow should be eased. There'll be a pattern of through streets on the edge of town. There'll also be connections so through traffic does not have to flow through the business section.

Councilmen peeked at the plans Monday night. They authorized the planning commission to set a hearing date. That date is Wednesday night, April 11. The place is the council chamber.

County highway officials, Vevay and Aurelius township officials and executives of Consumers Power Co., Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and New York Central railroad have been invited to attend. The hearing has been set to enable utility firms, public officials and residents to learn details of the program and to register objections, if they have any.

Major extensions and improvements include:

Extension of Howell road west on north city limits to strike US-127 at Pryor road intersection.

Extension of a street west from Jefferson to the creek, thence northwest along Sycamore creek to north city limits.

Construction of new road on west city limits from Kipp road north to a point north of Columbia.

Extension of Rogers street from Okemos street to quarterline.

Construction of new road on east boundary line, beginning at Tomlinson road and running north to Columbia, thence curving northwest to Howell road.

Extension of Curlew road east from Edgar road 2 miles to Barnes street and on east 1 1/2 miles to Ives road.

Construction of new road on quarterline between Columbia and Pryor, a mile in length, west of bypass.

Construction of a road extending north 2 miles from Kipp road, also west of bypass.

Extension of Cedar south past Cedar Street school to a point close to bypass.

Extensions of Elm and Oak west to Cedar extended.

Extension of Kipp road east from Barnes to east city limits.

Extension of Maple from Steele to Lawton.

Extension of North street west to bypass and north on east side of bypass for a stretch and from there curving east to strike Cedar near north city limits.

There is no time schedule for the improvements, explained Dr. D. B. Leithbridge, chairman of the planning commission. If the plan is adopted, the streets could be extended and improved as conditions warrant and as funds are available. It might take 10 or 20 years to complete the construction, Dr. Leithbridge said.

County road commissioners are now studying the plans drawn by the planning commission. County cooperation would be required. Several miles are entirely outside of Mason and other sections are on boundary lines where county or township would have to pay a share of the costs, Dr. Leithbridge said.

County or state aid would likely be asked for construction of a bridge across the Sycamore in the extension of Columbia street through the city park and cemetery.

If the Columbia extension and Kipp road extension were available, Dr. Leithbridge said, much of the through traffic that now clogs the business section would go around it.

Members of the planning commission also pointed out to the council that the plan is based on future as well as present needs.

Some present streets and several of the new streets would be laid out for 100 feet in width and some at 80, under the plan suggested.

Besides the chairman and Glen Coon, secretary, the planning commission includes Mayor Alfred Forche, Howard Selbert, Wilbert Cummings, Dr. L. A. Wilber, Walter E. Zimmer, Ralph Swinehart and Dr. O. K. Pauley, J. Martin Frissel of East Lansing is the consultant.

Sheriff and State Official May End Licensing Dispute

Indications Thursday pointed to a cease-fire in the dispute between Sheriff Willard P. Barnes and Secretary of State James M. Hare. The secretary of state suspended authority of the sheriff to issue drivers licenses Tuesday. The sheriff may get it back Friday or Monday after a hearing. Or he may not.

According to the sheriff, he issued a license to Walter Munyon of Lansing as an accommodation. Munyon, former Lansing supervisor, told the sheriff it was inconvenient for him to take the examination in Lansing and asked for it at Mason where he was at the time. The sheriff gave the test and issued the license, assigning Munyon a Mason address, and stating that upon arrival of the license a change of address would be made.

Before the license transfer went through, Munyon was ticketed in Meridian township for driving over the yellow line. He appeared before Adrian Jaffee, Meridian justice of the peace. He's a Democrat; Munyon and the sheriff are Republicans. Jaffee, a Michigan State professor, is sharp. He recognized the address on Munyon's license as that of the sheriff's residence and so notified the secretary of state.

The sheriff received their authority to issue drivers licenses from the secretary of state. If the secretary of state had his way no sheriff would issue licenses. His move to take over the job was defeated by the sheriffs association last year.

There has been an understanding that sheriffs can issue drivers licenses only to residents of areas outside of cities having license bureaus. Inside the cities police departments do the licensing. Under that rule the Ingham sheriff does not issue licenses to residents of Lansing and East Lansing. The tests are the standard state tests whether the sheriff, the Lansing police or the East Lansing police issue the licenses. The fees all go to the state, regardless of who writes the licenses.

Beneath the dust raised by the sheriff and secretary of state, there was maneuvering in Meridian township. Jaffee recently complained that the sheriff was taking justice court cases to Paul Luck, a Meridian justice who is also the sheriff's brother-in-law. Luck is a Republican. Instead of siding with Judge Jaffee, before whom he first appeared, Munyon switched courts, going before Luck. He settled his ticket (for improper passing) for $14.50. After jacking the licensing away from the sheriff Tuesday upon telegraphic notice, the secretary of state authorized Lansing police to handle licensing for Ingham residents outside of Lansing; thereby authorizing Lansing police to do what the sheriff's office had the right to do.

On Wednesday George Newman, chief examiner for the secretary of state, assigned Leo Buarker of the state field staff to the sheriff's office at Mason to issue licenses. He had the cooperation of the sheriff's staff.

In a telephone conversation with an Ingham County News reporter Newman said the suspension of the sheriff's licensing authority is not permanent. The sheriff will be summoned to Lansing for a hearing, Newman said, after the secretary of state studies the report of an investigation of licensing in the sheriff's offices in Mason and Lansing. Newman indicated that the report is expected Thursday and that the hearing may be Friday or Monday. An investigator from the secretary of state's office is conducting the probe, Newman said.

The sheriff, who declared that a political mountain is being made out of a molehill, retained an attorney to guard the mole-

Trenton Partners Buy Neely Store From Swartout

Charles Swartout sold Neely's clothing store Monday to Arthur and Charles Grieve of Trenton. The Griefes have a men's and boys store in the southern Detroit suburb.

Neely's clothing has long been a business name in Mason. Harry Neely opened the store in 1908 and operated until his death in 1937. Swartout took over management of the store following his uncle's death and operated until he closed the store out in 1945 prior to entering the army.

In the fall of 1952 Swartout re-opened the clothing store. The Griefes are no newcomers to the clothing business. Art Grieve was in the clothing business in Howell for many years before buying a clothing store in Trenton. His son, Chuck, joined him in the business in 1949 following 3 1/2 years as a pilot in South America, Italy and Africa during World War II.

The Griefes will continue with their Trenton operation. Just as soon as school is out Chuck Grieve intends to move his family to Mason from their home on Grosse Ile across the Detroit river from Trenton.

Chuck and his wife, Helen, have 5 children, Suzanne, 9; Tommy, 7; Janice, 5; Carol, 2; and Charles, 1 1/2.

Chuck graduated from Howell high school in 1939 and attended University of Michigan before going into the air force.

Vevay and Aurelius Learn Of Mason School Problems

School officials from 9 Vevay and Aurelius districts took Mason school problems home with them Wednesday night. They said they had no problems of their own when they came to Mason upon invitation of the Mason school board.

The Mason school board wants some or all of the districts to annex to Mason. The primary districts, all of them now taking care of all their children from beginners through the 8th grade, are not anxious for annexation.

Present at the meeting in Mason were directors from Edin, Hubbard, Rolfe, Pink and Kipp districts in Vevay, and Aurelius Center, Curlicue, Barnes and Wilcox in Aurelius. Invited but not attending were directors from the Toles district in Aurelius. The Bullen district, which should have been notified of the meeting, was not, said Supt. James H. Vander Ven of Mason.

Several officials from primary districts raised twin objections of valuations and taxes against annexation. They said that Mason city valuations are too low compared to farm property and that the Mason school tax rate is too high. It was the 5-mill building and site tax, which still has 3 years to run, which was of most concern in the tax picture, Vander Ven reported.

The Mason district provides high school instruction for practically all the primary districts in the conference. There has been no pressure and there will be none, the superintendent said, to insist on annexation with denial of high school entrance posed as a threat.

Members of the Mason board and the superintendent pointed out Mason problems and the need to determine future requirements. Directors from the 9 primary districts were asked to discuss annexation within their own communities.

Another meeting of directors of the primary districts and members of the Mason board of education will be called within a few weeks, Mason school officials said.

Ballots Will Be The Paper Kind

Mason voters will continue to use paper ballots, city councilmen agreed Monday night. A voting machine salesman made an attempt to sell machines to the city a month ago citing the fact that the city must either buy the machines or split the present 2 precincts into 3.

State law, enacted last year, provides that precincts in which paper ballots are used must be pared down to not more than 800 registered voters in each. Both Mason precincts are over the limit for paper ballots. It would be possible under state law to leave the precincts as they are and install machines at an estimated cost of $9,000.

With the present size of the city, there is no economy in using machines. Mayor Alfred Forche declared. In fact, considering the investment, there is little doubt but what the machines would cost more than the paper ballots and labor for the third precinct, he added.

He also said that Mason is through counting its paper ballots before some cities where machines are used.

The mayor said he would appoint a committee of the city attorney and the clerk to set up the 3 precincts.

However, the state ruling will not affect the city election scheduled for Monday, April 2. Voters in Mason will not be split into 3 precincts until the primary election in August.

Mason Principal Will Not Return

Richard Demlow, Mason high school principal, has informed Supt. James H. Vander Ven of his (Demlow's) decision not to return next year.

Rumors that the principal had been denied a contract for next year are without foundation, Supt. Vander Ven declared. On the contrary, the superintendent said, the principal was told he would be offered a contract as principal for next year.

Demlow is recovering from a spell of sickness. His decision not to return is based upon the advice of his doctor, he told the superintendent.

Ordinance Bites Dogs

Mason dogs have 10 days of liberty left. On April 1 they must be penned or kept on leash or otherwise in control of their masters or somebody else. The quarantine period is for the months of April, May and June. The ordinance was adopted in 1949 at the request of gardeners.

Thief Makes Off With Collections At Mason Dairy

Last Thursday afternoon a thief took a sack containing $847 from a safe at the Mason Dairy.

The money had been made up for deposit at a Mason bank. There was $525 in cash with the balance in checks. The safe was in the office at 304 South Cedar. The door of the safe was closed but not locked, said Mrs. Nelson Rouse. The office had been left unattended for about an hour although the retail department at the front of the building was open for trade.

Usually, said Mrs. Rouse, she makes daily deposits. Last Thursday she didn't. When she went to get the money Friday forenoon she discovered that it had been taken. Chief of Police Harry Chandler and Captain Versie Babcock of the sheriff's department said they found numerous prints in the office and on the door of the safe.

The office can be entered from the back of the building or from the adjoining garage.

Tony Garcia, 6, found what officers believe was part of the loot. On his way to school Monday the boy spied bills in shrubbery outside the dairy. He found a ten and one and promptly took them both to his first grade teacher, Mrs. LaVeda Poyel. She notified the police. It is the police chief's theory that the thief dropped the bills as he ran from the dairy office and did not stop to pick them up.

DER PRESSE LAUF ZU SCHNELL, exclaimed Gust Schiller, 1316 Meridian road, when he saw the new Original Heidelberg printing press in action at the Ingham County News this week. It does go fast—5,000 crystal-clear impressions an hour—and the speed made the Ingham farmer lapse into the German he used as a boy. He was trying to tell the pressman that the press sure is fast. The press, designed and built in Heidelberg, is the fourth automatic job press in the News commercial printing plant. It will handle envelopes, letterheads, office forms and booklets. Its speed and versatility saves money on any work it does. (ICN photo.)

Holt Man's Body Found in Texas, Murder Victim

Texas police and the FBI are searching for the murderer of Robert Boyd Chapman, 30, of Holt and Lansing. His body was found Monday in a creek bed near Canyon in the Texas Panhandle.

The body was discovered by 2 small boys in a roadside park on US-87, the body partially obscured by weeds and underbrush piled over it. Chapman's head had been bashed in and his body bore 14 stab wounds, police officers said. The victim had been dead between 3 and 5 days, officers estimated. Identification was made through the FBI.

Chapman was enroute to Holt to join his wife and children. He had been in Phoenix disposing of a gasoline station which he had owned and operated there for a year. He had brought his wife and daughter Debra, 3, to the home of her parents in Holt in December. The wife was brought to Holt to be with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olsen, to await the birth of a child. A son was born February 4 and after that Chapman went back to Arizona to complete transaction of his business there.

Acquaintances in Phoenix said Chapman had between $200 and $300 on his person when he left there March 12. Mrs. Chapman said her husband often picked up hitchhikers. Officers said they found no money on the body and that even the victim's watch had been taken. Up until Wednesday night Chapman's car had not been located.

Sickness Delays Start of Trials in Circuit Court

Sickness of Leo Dramis, Lansing attorney, gave jurors a vacation Tuesday and Wednesday. Dramis is defense attorney for Raymond B. Hammond and James A. Hamilton. Hammond was scheduled to go on trial before Judge Louis E. Consh Tuesday and Hamilton on Wednesday. Both are charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Jurors drew half-day pay and mileage for Tuesday even though they had no work to do. Witnesses were on hand for Tuesday's trial.

Peter J. Trolaven of the prosecutor's staff had been assigned to handle both cases for the people.

A jury convicted James Marshall of Lansing Monday. He was tried before Judge Consh on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile last December 16. Jack Klitel owned the car. Louis Wiebel defended Marshall. William L. Mackey, an assistant, handled the prosecution. Marshall was remanded to the custody of the sheriff to await sentence.

On Monday Lawrence Moening, Lansing, went before Judge Consh to change his plea to guilty. He had appealed a justice court drunk driving conviction. The judge ordered Moening to pay costs of $30 and sentenced him to serve 45 days in jail.

Paszkowski and Rodriguez were convicted in the January term of court at jury trials. Hardin and Shank were remanded to the sheriff to await sentence.

At the trials Bowers testified that the 4 men stopped their car to give him a lift when he was hitchhiking in East Lansing. They finally let him out of the car at Potter park after driving him around Lansing. He said they threatened him with a knife and robbed him of $2, a lighter and a ring.

Shank's defense was that he was so drunk he did not know what took place. Hardin said no force was used to prevent Bowers from making his departure.

Stuart Dunning, Jr., defended Shank and Hardin. William Mackay and William Austin of the prosecutor's staff represented the people.

Jurors reported in Mason Thursday but after the roll was called they were excused until Monday.

Lyle E. Houseman, Lansing, scheduled to go on trial for drunk driving, second offense, changed his plea from not guilty to nolo contendere. His bond was continued. Stuart J. Dunning, Jr., represented Houseman. Peter J. Trolaven of the prosecutor's staff represented the people.

Claudia Seibert, Senior Girl Scout, received the curved bar rank, the highest rank in Girl Scouting, during the court of awards ceremony Tuesday evening of troop No. 114. Claudia is the first Mason girl ever to receive the curved bar rank. Howard Seibert planned the award on his daughter. The court of awards took place in Mason Methodist church at 7:30 p. m.

In opening the program Jo-Lynne Cappel, Barbara Hall and Marlene Mollsen as color guides gave the flag ceremony. They said the Pledge of Allegiance and the promise.

Louann Birney received her one-year membership star. Badges awarded were: Patty Graham, first aid; Marlene Mollsen, needlecraft; Nancy Barton, skating; Suzanne Phillips, handy woman; Ruth Schmitter, first aid; Mary Clipper, skating and first aid; Becky Burgess, skating and insect; Jo-Lynne Cappel, first aid and insect; Patty McCarn, pioneer, campcraft and first aid; Barbara Hall, skating, first aid and first aid to animals; Toby Pearsall, campcraft, conservation, first aid and sports; Lou Ann Birney, mammal, handy woman, child care, housekeeper and first aid; Ruthie Carl, reptile, amphibian, first aid to animals, mammal, needlecraft and first aid; Claudia Seibert, pioneer, first aid to animals, conservation, sports and first aid; and Julie Dart, skating, homemaker, cook, first aid, insect, reptile, amphibian and campcraft. First class pins were presented to Ruth Schmitter and Julie Dart.

After the presentation of awards, the Senior Scout graduation took place. Mrs. Otis Clipper asked the girls to light the candles and as they did so they repeated a Girl Scout law, after which they sang the Girl Scout song. Mrs. Howard Seibert, leader of the troop, introduced Mrs. Gilson Pearsall and she said a few words about the girls going into Senior Scouting. Mrs. Pearsall has been troop committee member for the past 5 years.

Max McCarn, who is known as a Do-Dad in Girl Scouts, in the absence of Mrs. McCarn, another troop committee member, asked the girls to tell something that had happened to them during their years of Scouting. The girls responded with a humorous event they could remember.

Miss Janice Orr, professional representative of the Greater Lansing council for the south district, spoke to the girls concerning Senior Scouting and what it means. Mrs. Seibert then explained about the Senior Scout service program called the 5-point plan.

Mrs. Seibert listed the 5 points the girls are to work on. They are: (1) Camping, 4 days out of doors. (2) Service, responsibility for service to some group; the girls chose to help other troops. (3) Emergency preparation; they took first aid. (4) Know about the Girl Scout council and what it is doing. (5) Expand interest by dancing, participating in sports, and studying art, nature or literature.

Proceeding retirement of the flag, Mrs. Seibert and Mrs. Clipper gave the girls their Senior Scout emblems to wear. They had completed 30 hours as program aids teaching younger troops dancing, singing and games.

The evening concluded with skits pertaining to what the girls learned during their work in first aid. Mrs. Clipper worked with the girls to help them earn their first aid requirements and during the ceremony, she presented the first-aid badges.

Thanks for Everything

Neely's Men's Wear store has looked out over Jefferson street for 39 years.

A good many friends have gone in and out the door in that length of time.

To those friends I would like to say THANKS.

In selling the store to Arthur and Charles Grieve I am sure the same policy of friendly service which has marked Neely's down through the years will be continued.

Thanks Again

There Are 2 Sides to Every Coin
SAVING AND SPENDING are the two sides of every coin (every piece of "folding money", too). Your success in getting ahead financially depends largely on which side you look at FIRST. If you look at the SPENDING side first, you may never get around to the SAVING side at all. Better attend to your saving before you even start spending. Deposit the FIRST dollars out of every pay envelope in your savings account and spend what's left over. It's the only method of saving that really works!

John Leighton Announces Probate Judge Candidacy

John T. Leighton, Lansing attorney, has announced he will seek nomination in the August primary to run for the non-partisan post of probate judge.

Leighton emphasized the importance of the juvenile aspects of the probate judge's duties.

Leighton, who has 2 children and 2 grandchildren, attended Michigan State. He studied law under Judge Leland Cur and was admitted to practice in 1931. He worked for Reo Motor company and Atlas Drop Forge while studying law.

The Lansing attorney is a member of several legal societies and currently is a member of the committee of the American Bar association of tax procedure in the tax court. He is chairman of the Ingham County Bar committee on unauthorized practice. He is a member of Central Methodist church, and of the Eagles.

Budget Is Set At $135,685 For Next Year

Mason taxpayers will pay $60,285 for city government for a year beginning July 1. The $135,685 budget was approved by councilmen Monday night following a public hearing witnessed only by newspapermen, 3 city employes and councilmen.

The budget is a bargain, Mrs. Doris Austin, city treasurer and budget director, told councilmen. It calls for an increase over last year of $300. What's more, she pointed out, the tax rate will be reduced because of a change of valuations and the increase in the number of property valuations. She declared that a reduction in individual taxes is indicated.

Estimated expenditures for the year come to $135,685. However, an anticipated revenue of $75,400 will help make up the difference and an average of $8,600 in the general fund of 1955-56 paves the actual amount to be raised by local taxes to $60,285.

Tucked away in the general fund is $2,500 for a recreation program. That's a newcomer to the budget this year. It nearly equals the total expenditure of the recreation program last year. The city money will be matched with school and local organization cash to expand the recreation program, according to Councilman Eric Spenny who helped find a spot in the budget for recreation.

For probably the last time in many years to come, the city is without bonded debt of any kind. The perfect record will probably be marred this summer when the city takes on a proposed $300,000 revenue bond issue for water and sewer extensions and improvements.

Revenues other than the taxes to be levied, include state sales tax and intangible tax refunds totaling $29,700; delinquent tax refunds of $300; motor vehicle and highway fund money, $20,000; liquor licenses, $760; local police fines, $2,000; justice court costs, $2,500; township fire department revenues, $1,000; city water sales, $25,835; water service installations, $700; hydrant rental, $13,600; sewer rental, $13,100; and sewer permits, $35.

Curtis Manages Building Code

Wayne Curtis, superintendent of public works, is also city building inspector. He was appointed by the council Monday night to begin enforcing the building code adopted by the council last month.

But the appointment will be on a temporary basis only. Curtis insisted, Councilmen agreed that they will keep on looking for a man who will take on the job of putting the code into action.

Ralph Hall, police sergeant, who has been building inspector, told councilmen Monday night he does not have the qualifications to enforce the code. He said it required a man experienced in every phase of building technique. At the end of the meeting, councilmen gave the nod to Curtis.

Flames Destroy Brooder House

No chickens, but $96 worth of feed and the building were lost in a fire on the Clare Baker farm, Insoo road, White Oak, Monday afternoon.

Baker blamed a short circuit in the brooder stove for the blaze. He had connected the stove to warm the brooder for a batch of chicks expected to arrive Tuesday.

Webberville firemen made a quick run to the farm and helped protect other buildings. The brooder house was alongside the big barn. The barn escaped damage.

Baker had stopped at the home of his father-in-law, Arthur Pollok, at Mason on his way to mill. He was notified there of the fire and sped back home fearful for his big buildings. He was happily surprised, he said, to discover the loss to be comparatively light.

Social workers to set up educational and recreational programs for children will not be brought to Mason. Migrants with families will work near Stockbridge and the children's program will be operated there.

Instead of having community committees there will be a county committee this year. It will be made up of Mason, Stockbridge and Lansing representatives.

Mrs. Carl Gladstone of Paw Paw, state supervisor of migrant work for the Michigan Migrant Ministry, attended a meeting of the Mason committee Tuesday night. It was in the Presbyterian church. She submitted a report of work done in 1955 and mapped plans for 1956.

Michigan's expanding population and industry offer bright prospects for the state's fruit industry.

Seven streets and alleys will get triple-graded blanketing this spring. The work, estimated to cost about $10,000, will begin soon after the spring thaw as possible, according to Richard Morris, chairman of the streets committee. The expenditure is part of the 1956-57 city streets budget.

Explorers Tell Of Camp Plans

Leaders and members of Mason's post of Explorer Scouts told Kivansians Tuesday night of their plans for a camping expedition to Isle Royale this summer. They are now working to raise funds for the trip, they said. They'll need $1,000 and now have $300, they reported.

Lee Austin, former advisor and now a district commissioner, told of the development of Explorers nationally and of their success at Mason. He introduced Jim Armstrong, present advisor. He said the Mason post is the biggest and most active in the district.

Explorers Bill Campbell, Harry Spenny and Larry Bowdre told about Explorer activities and of fund-raising plans for the Isle Royale trip. The Bowdre boy told about Isle Royale and the arrangements being made for transportation across Lake Superior.

Armstrong presented Harry Chandler with an Explorer shoulder patch. Chandler heads the Explorer committee. He became a member of the Kivans club Tuesday night and was assigned to work with the Explorers. The Kivans club sponsors the Explorer troop.

IN COMMAND of the ground observer corps at Mason is Stanley Cornwell. He received official notice Tuesday from the air force filter center at Grand Rapids that he is supervisor of the Mason post.

The air force named Dr. O. K. Pauley as chief observer and Mrs. Reva Sanborn as assistant chief supervisor.

Supervisor Cornwell has recruited observers from Holt and Dansville to augment Mason volunteers. He still needs more, he said. The crew is now sufficient to man the lookout tower only about half the time, he stated.

All County Teams Fail In Regional Title Bids

Ingham county cage teams had 5 chances to gain regional cage honors but failed to cash in on any of them.

Holt, Williamston, Dansville, Leslie and East Lansing all took district titles.

Wednesday night Williamston fell by the wayside when Cadillac pulled a game out of the fire at Alton. Also Wednesday night Leslie was defeated by Ypsilanti Roosevelt at Ypsilanti. Both these were Class C games.

Thursday night Dansville was the team to fold. The Aggies were whipped by Portland St. Patrick in a Class D game at Alton.

Holt fell out of contention in its opener with Lakeview in the Tomla Class C tourney. The Rams lost 79 to 60.

East Lansing saved the county honor Thursday night by defeating Hastings in Class B but in the finals Saturday night the Trojans came out second best in their encounter with Battle Creek Lakeview, losing 79-52.

With the failure of the Ingham county district winner and the losses by Lansing Eastern and Sexton in Class A the state finals played at Lansing will not have you'll find the solution under the picture!

Splatters and splatters all over the place
And it's dripping all over your head!
When it's time to paint ceilings in your house
Don't you sometimes wish you were dead?

(Note: Cheer up man! You don't have to put up with this mess any more. JELLED MAGIC doesn't drip and run and splatter like ordinary paints because it's jelled... clings to brush or roller until it's applied and then liquefies like magic to give you the smoothest, slickest, one-coat paint job you ever saw. Ask for a demonstration.)

State Bar Gives Advice On Highway Right-of-Way

Editor's note: After appearance of a column "If You're Like Me," concerning rights-of-way, Marvin Smith of Leelanau wrote the Ingham County News for more specific information. The letter was forwarded to the State Bar. The reply follows:

Your letter of February 16 addressed to the editor of "If You're Like Me," was forwarded to this office by Nelson Brown of the Ingham County News. The newspaper column is prepared and released by the State Bar of Michigan as a public information service.

We discussed your particular problem with Victor Meier, an assistant attorney general assigned to the Michigan state highway department. He informs us that as a general rule when the route of a highway is changed, or when an old right-of-way is moved, the property owners are not reimbursed for any losses which arise from their being taken off the highway.

The state reimburses individuals the reasonable value of property and fixtures, buildings and improvements, etc., actually condemned by the state, but does not recognize incidental losses which occur when an adjoining owner loses a favored position such as your stand, or a filling station. Therefore, Mr. Meier is of the opinion that there is little chance for recovery in your situation.

If you feel that a more complete explanation of the facts might indicate that you have an unusual case or if any part of

Nixon O.K.

A couple of weeks ago, I suggested that the free wheeling New Deal columnists were doing their best to tell Republicans who they should nominate for vice-president. Well, last week's New Hampshire primary write-in vote for Nixon, followed by the president's news conference statements, has surely put an end to that sort of thing.

While this probably will not stop the attacks on Nixon, I think their hopes of winning a victory have been pretty effectively destroyed. The tremendous write-in is a pretty good indication of the general Republican attitude toward Nixon.

Recently one columnist wrote that one of the president's close friends and golf companions had been busy persuading the president to dump Nixon. That friend immediately challenged the article and compelled the columnist to publish a short retraction which still left a bad impression. That columnist deliberately lied and will probably continue to do so. Every little incident they can find will be magnified and efforts will be made to divide.

Every Republican should be on guard and not trust the malicious and scandalous stories these columnists pour out day after day. They are hoping to defeat every Republican. Having been the victim of some of their smears, I know their tactics and I know what we can expect.

Ask Questions

If enough people ask questions in the right places the Herrick murders can be solved. Ask these questions of friends, neighbors and police officials: Where do you think the killer is? How did he get away? Where should we look for him?

We have not hunted enough for the killer. Hunt means to look for something, to search and search, to hunt and hunt some more. If you don't find it one place, look in another.

Officers said they scoured the area after the escape of Nealy Buchanan from prison. The scouring was not close enough or the convict would have been flushed out of the corn fields. They didn't get enough residents to hunt with them.

Prison officials and state police and sheriff's officers were all lax in not broadcasting word of the flight of Buchanan from prison. Farmers in the Stockbridge area were not alerted. If they had been, Buchanan would not have dared to saunter north along M-36 after the double murder. He would not have dared to go to the Millville store to account a man for a ride. He would not have dared hire a ride to Mason. There he would not have dared to take a taxi to Lansing. Somewhere along the line he would have been recognized for an escaped convict had the people been informed of the escape as they had a right to be.

I have no ax to grind, but I refuse to believe that the killer of Howard and Myra Herrick last September must go unsolved. The killer has been on the loose for almost 6 months. Solution of this horrible crime is worth a few hours of time by all Ingham citizens. Write your opinions or your suspicions or your judgment to me or to the Ingham County News. That may develop into a course of action that will trap the killer.

All of us working together may bring the killer of Howard and Myra Herrick to justice. HARRY H. DOESBURG, Stockbridge

Your property is to be condemned, we would suggest your writing or telephoning Mr. Meier who will be able to explain the position of the state in this matter.

Furthermore, if the amount of the anticipated loss is likely to be substantial, it may be wise to consult an attorney practicing in your community who would be able to advise you as to further action.

We are happy that you read "If You're Like Me" and hope that we have been of some assistance to you.

Tells of Trip

We left Long Beach March 5 on our homeward journey. We came by the way of Palm Springs to Indio, then South along the Salton Sea. This body of water formed between 1905 and 1907. It is 15 miles wide and 40 miles long and somewhat resembles the ocean as you look off in the distance. We stopped at Gila Bend, then went on to Tucson where our granddaughter lives and has a job with the geological survey. We stopped to see Indians play a practice game.

While in Tucson we visited the Basil Coburn family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Coburn, Basil's father and mother of Grovesburg, who are visiting there. The Basil Coburns have a ranch-type home with a large picture window to the south and a cactus garden just outside. Lillian Coburn is much improved in health. We had supper with the families and had an enjoyable time.

We left Tucson Friday morning and came by way of Chandler. We drove from Chandler on to Apache Junction to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown who have a winter home there. When we arrived the Browns were at Mesa watching the Chicago Cubs play ball. We stayed overnight with them, and had a nice visit and drove the 200 miles to Holbrook the next day. GUY McCUE

Cancer Campaign Will Start Soon

Ingham county's 1956 fund campaign will start April 2 with a kickoff dinner at Hotel Olds. "Fight cancer with a checkup and a check" is the slogan which will be used in the campaign, according to Karl Egeler, vice-president of Motor Wheel, and county campaign chairman.

The object of the drive, Egeler said, is to raise money to carry on research, and to curtail cancer deaths through education and early detection.

A goal of $39,000 has been set for Ingham county this year. The national goal is $26,000,000, Egeler said.

Periodic health examinations are saving more persons from cancer deaths, the campaign chairman said. The necessity of such checkups has been increasingly brought home to men and women all over the United States by the American Cancer Society education program, he explained.

Flow of Sewage Will Be Studied

City councilmen bought a 4-part proposed survey Monday night which, they hope, will provide an impersonal report on the present and future operations of the sewage disposal plant and sewerage lines. Councilmen hired Robert McCauley, Michigan State university sanitary engineering instructor. He agreed to make a general study of the plant, make a survey of sewerage flows and determine what kind of sewerage comes from where, give instruction to the sewage plant operator and report back to the council with recommendations.

It will cost the city $800. City Engineer Walter Zimmer agreed that the survey is necessary. While most of the engineering design for improvements to the disposal plant have already been made by Zimmer, he said that McCauley's ideas will be worthwhile for comparison with his.

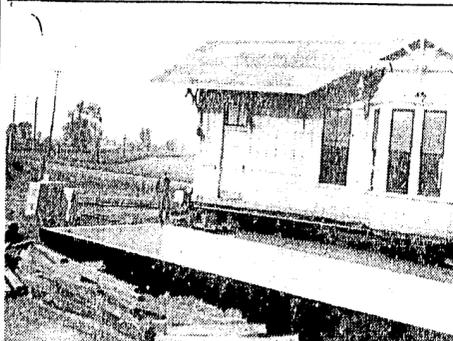

McCauley, didn't paint too bright a picture of the city disposal plant. He declared that the present plant must someday be replaced.

McCauley declared that councilmen must think in terms of abandoning the plant in favor of a newer one. It won't have to be done all at one time, he said, but it gradually must be replaced.

Election Inspectors Needed

George Kellogg, Mason city clerk, is looking for election inspectors for the April 2 city election. The clerk must have application blanks filled out before Monday, March 25. Blanks are available at the city clerk's office.

LEFT AT THE STATION is just the way J. D. Jaqua of Holloway near Blissfield likes it. Last summer he purchased the 53-year-old Holloway station, moved it about a mile down the Wabash Railroad Co. right-of-way where he and Mrs. Jaqua call it home. Jaqua is a nephew of Charles Woods of Dansville. This picture was taken just before the building was moved over a full basement.

Jaqua is telegrapher-freight agent at Cone. Before the Wabash closed the Holloway station in 1954, Jaqua operated both the Cone and Holloway stations. Jaqua has been with the railroad since he was 15 years old. That was back in 1920. The station agent kept the bay window and the telegraph bench in the old station pretty much as it was. He plans upon retirement to prop his feet on the bench and watch the trains go by. In the meantime, he spends many hours each day at the other station at Cone.

Woods, who has visited the remodeled station, said that the exterior has been changed as little as possible. The bay window faces the track and is less than 100 feet from the railroad right-of-way.

Former Resident Dies in Florida

Mrs. Marian L. Hemans, wife of Harris Hemans, died in Doctors hospital, Coral Gables, Florida, last Thursday. She had been sick several months and had undergone 2 operations. She was taken to the hospital from the home at Homestead 2 weeks before her passing.

Before going to Florida to live Mr. and Mrs. Hemans resided at 807 South Barnes, Mason. After going to Florida to make their home they spent many of their summers with Mr. and Mrs. John Hemans of Onondaga. John and Harris Hemans are brothers.

Besides the husband, Mrs. Hemans is survived by a sister, Mrs. Haig Gudenion, Detroit.

Funeral services were in Homestead last Friday. Lee Ware of Mason and Claude L. Smith of Lansing, who were vacationing in Florida, were pallbearers at the services.

GEORGE BEVERLY SHEA, baritone soloist, will be featured at the rally of Greater Lansing Youth for Christ in the auditorium in the new Civic Center, Saturday at 7:30 p. m. Shea, better known as "Bev" Shea, was with Billy Grahams' team for the past 6 years. His home is Western Springs, a suburb of Chicago. He has traveled throughout the United States, Canada and other countries singing in the campaigns of Billy Graham.

Dr. T. W. Wilson of Dothan, Alabama, 37-year-old evangelist, will headline the Lansing rally. For 3 1/2 years he was vice-president of Northwestern Schools in Minneapolis where he was associated with Billy Graham. Graham and Wilson both resigned their posts as president and vice-president in order to give full time in the field of evangelism. Nearly all of Dr. Wilson's time is now spent in city-wide evangelistic campaigns. After graduating from Bob Jones University he studied at the University of Alabama and the seminary. In his work in the revival movement he traveled an average of 135,000 miles yearly as he crisscrossed the United States, Canada and 4 times visited Europe to meet the demand there.

Also back for the third time in the Lansing area is Les Barnett, outstanding organist from Hollywood. Before his conversion he traveled as organist for Martha Raye for 5 years.

Former director of Lansing Youth for Christ, Vern Van Hovel recently returned from Quito, Ecuador, where he spent 3 years as missionary in the Andes at radio station HCJB. Van Hovel will be song leader.

Also taking part, musically, will be a special Youth for Christ chorale with 2 outstanding sacred arrangements, "Martin Luther's 'A Mighty Fortress'" and "Battle Hymn" by Willowsky. Working on these numbers with special effects will be a trumpet trio from Detroit. The entire music staff of Youth for Christ will be taking part.

Capital Circuit Seeks Replacements

Wanted: Two schools with facilities comparable to those of the Capital Circuit to fill positions soon to be vacated. For complete details inquire of principals at Mason, Holt, Everett or Howell.

The Capital Circuit is not using want ads to fill vacancies which will result from the departure of 3 Eaton county schools for another league. Meetings are being arranged, however, to invite any school interested.

At a meeting of coaches, athletic directors, principals and superintendents in the Mason school Monday night, the principals of the 4 remaining schools were authorized to meet with executives of the Ingham County league to learn whether the Ingham County league is interested in a reshuffling.

At Monday night's meeting Capital Circuit executives reported that Webberville wants to enter the league. They also said that Lansing St. Mary and Resurrection are considering making applications for membership. Okemos was reported as showing interest in the Capital Circuit because of the prospects of rapid suburban growth. Williamston was also mentioned, as well as Stockbridge and Leslie.

Capital Circuit officials agreed that any school in the Ingham County league is able to meet Capital Circuit teams on even terms. The same situation prevails with the 2 Lansing parochial schools, they said, but the parochial schools lack facilities. League executives pointed out that the parochial schools must use football fields and gymnasiums of Lansing public schools.

Circuit coaches and principals expressed preference for a 6-team league over either 7 or 8 teams. With 6 teams, dates can be left for non-league games, they said.

There will be no raiding nor coaxing of Ingham League teams to join the Capital Circuit, officials said. If Ingham League teams want to stay put, the Circuit will keep hands off, it was agreed Monday night. There is the possibility, it was explained, that Webberville and DeWitt might enter the Ingham League with Okemos and another of the big schools moving out. The Capital Circuit tabled the Webberville application Monday night.

Coach Ed Kehe of Mason pointed out that athletics at many parochial schools are on a different basis than those of public schools. Support, Kehe said, often comes from clubs or church groups. Although there might be difficulties in scheduling because of lack of playing facilities for parochial schools, Kehe and other coaches said, there would be no barrier resulting from religion. Officials of all Circuit schools which play the parochial schools declared their relations are entirely satisfactory. Parochial teams and their followers are welcome in any gym or on any field, Circuit coaches and principals said.

Supt. Dwight Rich of the Lansing schools attended Monday night's meeting. He said parochial schools will likely be permitted to continue use of Lansing playing fields and public school gymnasiums.

When Eaton Rapids, Charlotte and Grand Ledge withdrew from the Capital Circuit the league lost its officers. Monday night the remaining school representatives elected Archie Ross, Everett, chairman, and Benjamin Leyrer of Everett, secretary.

Robert Schiefer, Holt, heads the committee of principals which will consult Ingham County League representatives. Serving with him are Richard Demlow, Mason; Benjamin Leyrer, Everett; and Theodore Krieger, Howell.

Leslie Vince Re-Elected as PTA President

Members of the P. T. A. returned Leslie Vince to the presidency in a unanimous ballot last Friday night. Under his leadership the membership grew to 200. Others elected were: Mother vice-president, Mrs. Jack Bridge; father vice-president, re-elected, Rev. John W. Bullock; high school vice-president, Mrs. Grace Smith; grade vice-president, Mrs. Donna Coppens; secretary, Mrs. Elroy Hawks; treasurer, Mrs. Carl Barnes; historian, Mrs. Duane Phelps; parliamentary, re-elected, John Wald. The installation dinner will be May 17. The group accepted the advice of the nominating committee in electing the above named slate, and by unanimous ballot. Members of the committee were Mrs. Ernest Winkler, Harold Teachout and Mrs. Kenneth Austin. The meeting took place in the cafeteria-study hall of the new wing of the high school. Health committee chairman, Mrs. John R. Frey, reported that the vision of 140 school children was tested Thursday, March 15. The ways and means committee announced that they would serve the PTA banquet April 23. Mrs. Claude Smith, a former president of Leslie P. T. A., was re-elected historian of the Ingham area P. T. A. at a meeting in Bath March 14, it was announced at the meeting. She was given special commendation for her historian's books. They will be shown at the Leslie P. T. A. meeting April 19. Announcement was made that trees for the elementary school grounds, purchased by the P. T. A., would be planted as soon as grading of the grounds is finished. Mr. Teachout presented a film entitled, "Eager Minds," through the courtesy of the Consumers Power company. Refreshments were served by the second and third grade mothers.

Panel Discusses Soil Bank Plan
County Master of the Grange, Delmar Carr of Wheatfield, presided as head of the panel discussing the proposed soil bank plan at the open meeting in the Leslie Grange hall recently. Other members of the panel were Mel Avery, county agriculture agent; Russ Miller, agriculture teacher at Leslie; Clarence K. Longstaff, Walter Hennig, Elaine Rice and Alfred Wardowski. Avery presented the plan as outlined to date by farm organizations and the administration. During the discussion it was brought out that the proposition would increase productivity of the soil over a longer period of time by better soil conservation methods; would put ready cash in farmers' pocket; and is a voluntary program. Points against it were that it provided means for more governmental control; might not decrease surplus too greatly since most people would put their least desirable acres under the plan; and it is a political football in election year. A potluck lunch was served by women of the Grange.

Boy Scouts Plan For Paper Drive
Scoutmaster Earl Miller and troop No. 69 are planning a paper drive for Saturday, March 24, at 9 a. m. Bundles of paper should be at the curb, and if possible, they should be tied. Clothing donated for the drive should be cleaned and pressed, if possible, for better packing. Frank Lowden of Meridian and Lowden roads was taken to Footie hospital in Jackson Saturday by the Luecht ambulance service. Mr. and Mrs. John M. He stated that it could be grouped under laws pertaining to safety on the highways, education and mental health. Music for the meeting was given by a trumpet trio from the Leslie high school music department. It was voted to postpone the March 27 meeting until April 10, as the speaker, Mrs. Samuel Wenger, and many of the members would be committed to church duties during Holy Week. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. J. Russell Baggerly, Mrs. Harry Wallace, Mrs. Maude Fay and Mrs. Harlo Smith. Mrs. Bertha Variell was program leader.

Pupils' Voices Recorded
Pupils in the second grade at Leslie school had their voices recorded last week.  1 cup shortening
 2 eggs
 1 can No. 2 crushed pineapple
 4 cups flour
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 1 cup nutmeats
 Oven, 350. Drop by spoon. Bake 12 minutes.

They've picked their fairest blossom well ahead of time as Apple Blossom Queen. She's Jolly Ann Saehs, 18-year-old high school senior.

Tom's Oatmeal Cookies

2 cups brown sugar
 1 cup shortening
 2 beaten eggs
 1 1/2 cups flour
 1 teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 Pinch salt
 Mix in 3 cups oatmeal
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1 cup nutmeats
 Oven, 375. These can be made into 2 rolls and chilled and sliced. Cleo Summer says she drops them from a spoon which is quicker. This recipe convinced Pete that an oatmeal cookie can be soft and good. Bake 15 minutes.

Grace McKinney's Refrigerator Cookies

3 cups brown sugar
 1 cup white sugar
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 cup lard
 4 eggs
 1 tablespoon vanilla
 6 cups flour
 1 tablespoon soda
 1 tablespoon cream of tartar
 Mold in 2 long rolls. Chill or leave covered with waxed paper and slice off as desired. It will keep a long time if you can keep the youngsters from grabbing off chunks to eat every time the door is opened. Bake in moderate oven. Keep covered.

There are many other recipes I would like to include such as Mrs. Whitman's ginger balls, Viola Beck's honey drop cookies, Mrs. Ensign's brownies, Grace McKinney's peanut butter cookies, Mother's hermits, several mince-ment cookie recipes, and others. They'll be later.

All of the enclosed recipes have been included in this column during the last 7 1/2 years. They are old standbys now but we like new ones, too.

Oh, what a lot of laughs have come out of my cookie recipes. I guess some folks like all soft cookies so when they made some of them and they turned out hard they were disappointed. One woman said they had to soak them to eat them at all. And you'll notice all these recipes make large batches which is none too many for us. I most always double the recipe, all but Grace's which is a big batch anyway.

Hope the person who gets this ready for the paper rereads it. The wrong amount of certain things will make hash out of the

Figuring It Out Ahead of Time Saves Time

Plan Now for Summer Farm Program

By M. H. AVREY
County Agricultural Agent

This is the time of year when farmers are thinking about and making plans for the spring and summer program. Here are some suggestions that fit in with making plans on farms in Ingham county.

Lime and fertilizer requirements if not already planned for should be taken care of in the next few weeks. If the soil has not been tested recently for its pH or acidity content it would be well to have a test made, especially before planting legume seedlings. When a sample is being taken for acidity, it would be well at the same time to get a complete check for fertilizer requirements so that the soil may be brought to the most optimum point for plant production.

Soil samples may be taken as soon as the frost is down the depth of the plow or may be taken sooner if you are willing to use an axe or pick and chop down to the depth you want to get the soil sample. The extension office is anxious to make recommendations for lime and fertilizer requirements for all farmers who can get soil samples in. These samples should be brought in a couple of weeks before planting time so that recommendations may be made.

Lime plays an important part. In addition to sweetening the soil, as is often said, it helps make other plant foods more readily available.

First, it helps catch nitrogen. When land is limed to the pH of 6.5 to 7.0 and fertilized, alfalfa becomes an almost sure-fire crop. Clovers also require a near neutral soil.

Second, the liming program helps liberate phosphorus. Many limes contain magnesium in addition to the calcium and both are needed by plants for growth and aid in bacteria action in the soil. Plants are more vigorous where the soil has been brought to an optimum lime content. Professor Truog of the University of Wisconsin says that a dollar spent for lime may return as much as $20 worth of crops over a period of years.

Guard Against Mastitis
Ingham county dairymen can save some mastitis trouble by storing milkers in a weak lye solution between milkings. According to Don Murray of Michigan State University, Wisconsin tests showed that the weak lye solution eliminated many mastitis germs. It reduced the outbreaks of mastitis in cows. He suggests storing in a .05% lye solution in addition to the weekly storage in a 5% to 10% lye solution with alternating teat cups each week.

The best way to clean dairy cow udders before milking is a thorough rinse with plain water which is not to be reused, followed by wiping with a cloth soaked in a weak chlorine solution. This is information from Michigan State University dairymen.

Speaking of spring being in the air, Lutell Cheney reports that he has 8 sows which have an average of better than 9 pigs per sow this spring and that Walter Kranz, Jr., has done even better with 2 sows farrowing 38 live pigs.

Rom Graham, in visiting 4-H sheep club members recently, found 27 4-H club members with registered sheep projects in Ingham county, representing 7 different breeds. Many of the 4-H club members' ewes had already lambed and one girl's sheep has set a record—Pat Roosa of the Wheatfield club had 3 Oxford ewes that had 7 living lambs, 2 sets of twins and one set of triplets.

Orchard Sod Needs Help
Orchard sod and cover crops need fertilizer as much as do fruit trees. Orchardists should not forget about sod crop needs when ordering fertilizer for spring application. If fertilizer applications were not made last fall, orders should be placed soon.

Even though fruit crops don't usually respond to phosphorus, it may be a good idea to get a complete fertilizer to take care of the cover crops needs in the orchard. Phosphorus can be applied in combination with potash—using materials like 0-20-20 or 5-20-20 or super-phosphate. If 0-20-20 is used, about 200 to 300 lb per acre would be a satisfactory amount.

Nitrogen and potash are both needed by most orchards and should be included in the fertilizer program. If magnesium is short in an orchard, it is recommended that the orchardist use a dolomitic application of not over 1 to 2 tons per acre.

Watch for Fire Blight
According to Dr. Cation of the botany department at Michigan State University, fire blight is the name applied to a bacterial disease that attacks apple and pear trees. The title is fitting for 2 reasons he says. First, the infected branches look like some one had scorched them with a blow torch and second, the disease spreads like the proverbial wild fire when conditions are right.

Cation says that several conditions are necessary for fire blight to spread. The fruit must be of susceptible varieties such as Jonathans and Wealthys. There must be succulent growth on the trees and a place for the bacteria to enter the trees such as open blossoms or insect wounds. The temperature must be favorable for the growth of the bacteria—75 to 85 degrees and of course humid weather with rain also helps.

If these conditions are right, the disease spreads rapidly. As yet there is no one control that will always be effective in bringing the disease to a halt.

Cation thinks that the antibiotics used in spray form hold the most promise for the future, but a lot of work remains to be done on this phase of research.

Fertile Lawns
Lawns like early feeding. Now is the time to tune up your spreader or purchase your fertilizer for your feeding of your lawn in early April. As a general recommendation, I would suggest 5 to 10 lb of a high nitrogen fertilizer such as a 10-20-20. The amount and the exact fertilizer analysis will vary with the amount of fertilizing done in previous years and the quality of your lawn and how often you wish to cut the lawn during 1956.

Wool Deadline Looms
March 31 is an important date for wool growers in that it is the final date that marketings of wool and lambs will qualify for payments under the current wool incentive program year. The point is stressed by Bruce Clothier, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Those who still have 1955 clip wool to sell and those who shear early this spring and sell their clip on or before March 31 will qualify for the wool incentive payment for the current year. Payments on such sales will be made this summer or early fall. There is no need for hasty or premature marketing this spring, because wool and lambs sold after March 31 will qualify for payments under the 1956 program year which begins April 1. Payments based on sales made after March 31 will not be made until mid-summer of 1957.

Bean Support Is $6.31
The support price for the 1956 crop of dry edible beans is being continued at 70% of parity to encourage movement of bean stocks into domestic and export channels and at the same time discourage overplanting of the 1956 crop, according to Bruce Clothier, chairman of the state ASC.

The support for the 1956 crop will be at a national average of $6.31 per hundred pounds. Support for 1955 dry edible beans was at a national average price of $6.36 per hundred pounds, which also represented 70% of parity.

Agents See 4-H Sheep Programs

Ingham 4-H members with sheep projects are showing every indication they will be doing a good job with their animals this summer, according to Ron Graham, county 4-H club agent.

Visits to 25 sheep members by county extension agents last week found most members doing a good job with their management practices, he said. Animals were in generally good condition with a marked absence of external parasites, Graham added. Many of the members were keeping the recommended phenothiazine-salt mixture before their sheep, to control internal parasites.

Most of the members' ewes are lambing early with a good share of the 4-H lamb crop already dropped. The lambs seem to be unusually strong and the ewe in good flesh condition, he declared. Tabulation of the 4-H members with sheep projects indicate that there will be at least 27 registered sheep projects totaling over 130 ewes and rams, the club agent said.

Members whose projects were visited were Jim and Dick Flanders, Johanna Boyd, James Barlow, David Cardone and Robert Bell, all of Okemos; Jack Hill, Danny Wilkins, Carol Hyde and David Stevenson, all of Mason; David Moore, Holt; Pat and Dick Lantis, David Sweet, Glenn Gauss and Dick Ellsworth, all of Stockbridge; Roger and Carolyn Pfister, Maurice Rabinoux, Ted Noble, Pat Roosa, Robert West and Keith and Nancy Lisk, all of Williamston.

Dairy Products Promotion Set

Both the dairy industry and retail food dealers in the state are teaming up to place special emphasis on the sale of dairy products in Michigan during the coming months.

This was made known following a recent dairy marketing conference at Michigan State University sponsored by the American Dairy Association of Michigan.

Representatives of chain and independent food stores were on hand along with county dairy promotion committees to help launch an intensive state-wide dairy merchandising program, according to Charles E. Stone of Lansing, secretary-manager of the American Dairy Association of Michigan.

Stone said the conference, designed to arrange large scale cooperation between dairy and food people, was the first of its type in Michigan. Special emphasis will be placed on the annual June Dairy Month promotion to tell the value of dairy products in relation to health.

An advertising program covering newspapers, magazines, radio and television is planned, he said. On hand to lead discussion at the marketing conference were H. E. McSweeney, director of merchandising and Clint Hentrich, advertising specialist of the membership relations committee, both of the National American Dairy association headquarters in Chicago.

Rural churches furnish city churches with 55% of their membership, 86 of their pastors, and 62% of their teachers.

Youths Plan Fun Session Near Mason

Ingham county 4-H club Junior leaders will hold a "learn how and have fun" night Friday, April 6. It will be at the Vevay township hall south of Mason according to Romilly Graham, Ingham county 4-H agent.

Joyce Wilson, Lee Thorburn, Elaine Frederick, Joellen Bullen, and Helen Watkins, all of Mason, and Ted Noble, Williamston, and Mrs. Adeline Snyder, home demonstration agent and Romilly Graham, 4-H club agent met at the Wilson home March 13 to make plans for the event.

The committee promises new ideas that junior leaders can use to increase their leadership skill and do a better job in their 4-H clubs, Graham said. They also plan fun for all with a chance to learn some new games and activities usable in the recreation program at 4-H club meetings.

26 Herds Hit 40-lb Fat Mark

Twenty-six dairy herds representing Ingham No. 5 Dairy Herd Improvement association, Ingham-Williamston D. H. F. A. and part of Ingham-West D. H. F. A. averaged more than 40 lb of butterfat in February. The herds are on I. B. M. testing and recording.

High herd and owner in the 3 groups was Hugh Oesterle & Son, 31 registered Holsteins, 60.9 lb fat, 1537 lb milk.

Others were W. C. Wright, 44 registered Holsteins, 55.1 lb fat, 1392 lb milk; Deniz Hill, 17 grade Holsteins, 52.2 lb fat, 1479 lb milk; Raymond Powell, 26 grade Holsteins, 52.2 lb fat, 1363 lb milk; B. Bickford, Jr., 16 grade Holsteins, 52.2 lb fat, 1334 lb milk.

Cull Hen Price Best In March

This month may be a good time to get rid of the "star boarders" in the laying flock, advised Henry Larzelere, poultry marketing specialist at Michigan State University.

He said that prices for cull hens are usually the highest during March. Growers who have been holding back some culls for higher prices, should move them to market now Larzelere said.

Income on Farm Shrinks While Congress Debates

By CARL COLLIN
The farm income report issued by USDA at the height of the senate farm bill didn't seem to have much effect on the voting. The report showed 1955 income went down another $1041 million, net. Last year was the fourth consecutive annual income decline since the Korean war. The peak was 1951. Economists figure another sizable drop this year, regardless of the soil bank plan.

Back of the proposed plan to have a 2-price system for wheat are some interesting data on wheat production in this country: Figures for 1952 and 1953 show a total of slightly more than 1.5 million farms with wheat history on listing sheets. Those with 25 acres or less were over 974,000; 50 acres or less, 1,173,000. Only 26 farms in U. S. were listed as having 5,000 acres or more of wheat. Only 616 farms were listed as having 3,000 acres of wheat.

Based on the 10-year average yields, 39% of U. S. wheat is raised on 25 acres or less. Nearly half of all wheat is produced on 50 acres or less, so farmers who raise 1,000 bushels or less would make up about two-thirds of all growers and account for half the U. S. wheat grown.

Use of insecticides and introduction of parasites show great promise in corn borer control. But the pest still takes great toll of our corn crop.

Last year 155 million bushels of corn grown for grain, worth $182 million, were lost because of corn borer damage. This loss represents 5% of the total national crop but is not as great as in 1951. Greatest losses occurred in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana and Minnesota. Estimates show Illinois farmers lost about 61 million bushels and Iowa growers almost 48 million. Here in Michigan in the main corn area losses were put at $10 thousand bushels with a value of $915 thousand.

Here is the farm paradox according to National Planning Association: Increasing farm productivity is an enormous asset to most people, but not always to the farmer.

For the long pull, the country is going to need skilled farmers on good land. One of the objectives urged in a farm policy is "farm income on a level comparable with the income of non-farm groups and high enough so that skilled operators will stay in farming."

The increase in livestock production and the efficiency in producing animals has been tremendous, but the story of the broiler industry is even more sensational. Fifteen years ago the broiler industry didn't amount to much; now it turns out 2.5 billion pounds of meat a year. Last year 1,063 million chicks were placed in the 22 most important broiler-producing states. Georgia leads the list, Texas and Arkansas are runners up. Turkey meat output also has increased greatly. The significance of this is that it adds to the competition for the consumer's meat dollar.

Chick production in January was again the largest on record for the month. Hatcheries turned out 150 million chicks, a gain of 35% over the same month last year. Number of eggs in incubators February 1 was 20% greater than the same date in 1955.

Speaking of farm surpluses, Senator Anderson said recently that a surplus of 5% can drop farm prices as much as 10%, while surplus of 10% drops prices as much as 25%.

About 5 million acres of wheat are estimated to have been damaged in France by the severe winter on the continent; that would leave about 7 million acres for harvest. Normal yield in France is 32.4 bushels. France will import some 150 thousand

ASC Men Will Check Wheat Bins

Producers who have purchase agreements on 1955 wheat will be visited by one of the loan inspectors of the Ingham county A. S. C. office this month.

The purpose of this visit, according to the chairman is to check grain for heating, dampness and possible infestation with insects or other fungi that would disqualify the grain, so that it cannot be accepted by the county A. S. C. office for the Commodity Credit Corporation, he added.

The inspector will make a visual inspection in addition to probing at regular intervals and checking each sample, according to the chairman.

He will also advise the producer of steps to be taken to recondition the grain so that it can be accepted and that support price can be paid on the commodity, he added.

If it is found to be out of condition the inspector will advise the farmer of the most satisfactory way of disposing of it to the highest bidder. If it is delivered to the CCC and below an acceptable grade, it would have to be sold at the market price for that grade, he cautioned.

tons of wheat for seedling, so some of the winterkill loss may be recovered through the planting of spring wheat.

Scientists have found that artificial light can render apples up to 25 times faster than natural light when the fruit is on the tree. Growers eventually may be picking apples at their prime even when the skin is pale. This could be a big help when apples ripen faster inside than outside, especially in rainy weather.

Marketing people still aren't sure what the trend is in liquidation of bred sows and piggy gilts. Figures for the first 2 months of this year didn't show material gain in marketing of bred stock. Percentage of sows in runs at Chicago the past 2 weeks show noticeable gains over a year ago. Hog report to be issued March 12 by USDA covering 10 patent Midwest hog producing states may tell the story of probable hog numbers and price trends for the rest of the year.

Miscellany. . . One acre of every six in the U. S. was dusted, sprayed, fertilized or seeded last year by aircraft. . . USDA has ordered enough new standard-type grain bins to handle 100 million bushels of grain. CCC is getting ready to take over a lot of 1955 crop corn now under loan. . . On February 15 hog prices were only 57% of parity, lowest for any farm commodity raised in Michigan. . . Winter potato crop is 14% greater than last year's. . . Early spring lamb crop is down 2% from a year ago. . . Oldest Holstein bull in artificial breeding service in U. S. died a short time ago. He now has 45,190 descendants plus 3,000 more that may not be born for 2 years or more.

Chill Boosts Early Tomato Production

Tomato plants that have been "chilled" in a cold frame probably will produce more early tomatoes than those pampered seedlings from the greenhouse.

That was proved in demonstrations with 10 varieties last year at Michigan State university. Horticulturists S. H. Wittwer and F. G. Teubner explain their better results this way:

The number of flowers and the position of the first cluster are determined 4 to 6 weeks before the first flowers open.

Flowers form during the 2 to 3 weeks after the seed leaves expand. This is the time when the plants can be toughened up by a "chill" for the best effect.

In the test, 10 varieties were kept in the greenhouse at 65 degrees F. Plants of the same 10 varieties were grown in a cold frame at 45 to 60 degrees. After transplanting in the field, early yields (Aug. 8) were 65% higher for the "chilled" plants.

There was no difference in the total yield and fruit size, though. Here are the horticulturists' recommendations if you want to "chill" tomato seedlings.

Let the seed germinate at temperatures of 70 to 75 degrees F., and hold the seedlings at warm temperatures until the seed leaves are fully expanded and the first true leaf is just beginning to show. This is about 2 weeks from the seeding date and allows time for transplanting out of the seedling flats.

When the first true leaf begins to show, either before or after transplanting, grow the young plants for two or three weeks at a night temperature of 50 to 55 degrees F. Either lower the temperature where plants are located or move them to a cooler area. Expose them to as much sunlight as possible.

After 2 or 3 weeks of cold, raise the night temperature and maintain it at 60 to 65 degrees F. Seed tomatoes a week or 10 days earlier than normal because they will grow very little during the two or three weeks of cold. Use sterilized soil; otherwise more than the normal loss of plants may result from damping off. "Chilling" doesn't affect early fruit set, the horticulturists say, even though it does bring a greater number of flowers. A fruit setting hormone spray may still be necessary if night temperatures fall below 50 degrees. And you'll get higher early yields from "chilled" plants only if there is enough moisture and fertilizer for the increased number of fruit.

Cost of State Government Will Continue Its Climb

By ELMER WHITE
Michigan Press Association

State government costs will set a new record for next year but everybody expects a balanced budget.

These peculiar forecasts are based on prosperity of the past 12 months with the increases in tax yields just barely offsetting the increased costs of government.

Legislators, juggling such things as the "growth factor" of taxes, the bigger net yield which normally follows a business boom and expanded services are into the final stage of budget business.

At the moment, the 1956-57 budget looks something like $315,000,000.

Governor Williams asked for $369,000,000. Republicans in the senate aimed for $310,000,000. House finance leaders hoped to pare more off the requests, ending with $305,000,000.

Williams based his budget figures on a $25,000,000 surplus, which he said could be used to cover part of the requests. Republicans said the surplus was more like $17,000,000 and hoped to avoid spending it for operations.

"If we did, we would have a government next year that we couldn't afford," said Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton).

Already hanging away at Republican cuts in his requests, Williams is charging that more than $1,500,000 was slashed out of the public health bill.

He said that a tuberculosis case-finding program will suffer, along with other major projects. "We always have and always will take care of the financial needs of any program to safeguard the health of our citizens," said Senator Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) appropriations committee chairman.

Senator Clyde H. Geerlings will run again for the seat in the legislature he occupies for Muskegon and Ottawa counties.

Earlier, he said he would quit because he was tired of "being a champion of lost causes."

Folks back home rounded up petitions, bombarded him with mail and resolutions from civic groups, urging him to reconsider his decision.

So Geerlings, a Republican who often supports ideas representative of the conservative Republican view but who at times lacks support in his own party, reconsidered.

His major irritation was the indifference with which his constituents treated legislation important to their welfare. It's a common plight in Lansing.

Direct mail campaigns are normally pretty well organized, and the sincerity of the appeal is often suspected for that reason. But the mail Geerlings received urging him to run again, smacked of the kind of sincerity most often found in concerned friends. So Geerlings will be back—if he wins—with a slightly different view of his constituents.

Proposals for an automatic Saturday opening of the deer season are dead.

Small merchants and others supported the idea of opening the annual deer hunting season on the Saturday nearest Nov. 15, the traditional opening day.

"They argued that when the season opens in mid-week it causes absenteeism in business and industry. Foes of the plan said men would leave early anyway, causing absenteeism.

"The proposal was killed on the senate floor, but its backers said it would return as an issue next year.

State police figure that the time is approaching when Michigan will learn the effectiveness of its new speed laws.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said the first month or so would bring widespread compliance to the 65 miles an hour daytime ceiling and the 55 at night.

Since the new speed law which went into effect February 2, week end traffic tolls which used to read 20 to 30, now are down to 11 to 16.

"There was a rash of arrests shortly after the laws went into effect, but they have diminished. We expect the people to ease up slightly now, but we hope they won't," said Childs.

Electron Beam Will Control Grain Insects

Michigan State university agricultural experiment station researchers have reported 2 concrete results from tests with the million-volt electron beam generator installed on the campus a year ago.

The electron beam will control most of the common insects which infest grain and grain products. A low dose of electrons will kill eggs and insect larvae and will prevent insects from reproducing.

Since the cost per bushel for treatment would be very low, such a machine may be practical for elevators, said Dennis E. Want, agricultural engineer in charge of research with the generator.

In another experiment, researchers found that irradiation of sugar beets did not decrease their loss of sugar in storage. Some researchers had thought such a loss could be prevented by the treatment.

As for preliminary results, horticulturists say that it may be possible to control brown rot of peaches in storage by irradiation. Here are some of the other research projects underway with the powerful device:

A study of the effects of irradiation on the baking and keeping quality of flour made from irradiated wheat.

Its effect on the keeping quality of high moisture wheat; how it affects milk and milk products; and how radiation affects the shelf life of navy beans.

The generator, also called a cathode ray machine, was installed on a rental basis. It later was purchased by the Michigan agricultural experiment station.

Awards Are Increased

An increased number of incentives are being offered for the 100,000 4-H club members participating in the 1956 national 4-H frozen foods program. State winners in the program will receive all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, in place of a $50 U. S. Savings Bond. At the Congress, 6 national winners will be named and each presented a $300 college scholarship.

The title of "executor" has a grim sound, yet all he executes are the wishes of his friends.

The similarity of the words "executor" and "executioner" is amusing to some people. An executor is no hangman. Instead, he is the person who carries out all the details of settling your estate as set forth in your will.

When a person owning property dies, the settlement of his affairs through the courts is referred to as "probating the estate." Where the deceased person has left a will, the executor acts as his personal representative in winding up his affairs and distributing his property.

Usually the executor is named in the will. If he is not, then it's up to the probate court to appoint one. The executor may be an individual (often a friend or relative of the deceased), or a corporation such as a trust company.

The executor has many duties and responsibilities. He must have the will admitted to probate, after proving its validity. He then secures court authority to act on behalf of the estate and to administer and settle it.

One of the executor's first acts is to find the exact value of the estate. He must take an inventory of all the assets, including real estate, personal property, insurance policies, stock and bonds, and any money owed to the deceased. The real estate and other property must be appraised to determine their current worth.

The executor must find out all the liabilities or debts of the deceased and see that all his outstanding bills are paid and other debts settled, upon approval of the probate court. He must also collect all money due the deceased, including insurance policies payable to the estate.

One important job of the executor is to file returns on any income, inheritance or estate taxes, and to pay any taxes due. If the deceased owned a business, it's up to the executor to supervise this business while the estate is being probated, and often he must sell or liquidate a business.

The executor must keep detailed records and accounts and report to the court. For all his work he is paid out of the estate as provided by law.

Carrying out all these duties may easily take several months, even for a rather small estate. Finally, when all these details have been taken care of, the executor distributes the assets of the estate to those named in the will, or according to its provisions.

If there is no will left by the deceased, the probate court appoints an "administrator" whose duties are substantially the same as those of the executor. In the final distribution of assets, the estate is divided among the heirs according to the laws of inheritance, rather than the written instructions of the deceased.

While the inheritance laws have been developed through centuries to be as fair as possible to the survivors, I'm glad I've written a will that takes care of my family the way I want it to be. And I'm glad I've named an executor, whom I know and trust, to be my personal representative in carrying out these wishes. You know you can't take it with you," but you can see to it that what you leave behind will go to those to whom you intend it.

Check Stored Grain

Stored grain should be checked every few weeks this spring, suggests M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent. Usually, he points out, there is little danger of damage in stored grain during the winter. But when the temperature goes up, insects are active again, he says.

Scientists Undertake Big Job

A research expert predicted many technological advancements at the national dairy engineering conference held at Michigan State university. Engineers of dairy equipment manufacturers along with superintendents and engineers of dairy products came from 13 states and Canada to participate in the 2-day, annual educational session.

Charles Wehrlich, research chief with the Cherry-Burrell firm in Chicago, took the men into his confidence to reveal some of their research projects.

And with a smile in his eyes, he reported also that: "And we are still trying to simplify milking operations by interbreeding the cow with the octopus!"

ALL-CROP Drill bands seeds for better yields

Bands of grain and fertilizer are metered accurately at uniform depths side by side. Twin-band placement protects grain from fertilizer burn, yet places it close enough to side-nourish rootlets for fast start and more abundant growth.

A third band, grass seed, is placed over the fertilizer. This seed, too, is protected from burn, yet is close enough to benefit from all the nourishment the fertilizer offers.

That's the secret of better yields achieved with the ALL-CROP Drill. Let us demonstrate this low-cost, labor-saving way to better seeding. Come in.

ALL-CROP is an ALL-Chalmers trademark.

Country & Town

By Jim Brown

Passenger elevators at University hospital in Ann Arbor go forever upwards or forever downwards. You'll never catch an elevator operator at the huge medical center willing to go in either direction. One elevator originates at the basement level.

It stops at nearly every floor letting folks on and off, but never faltering from its upward flight. When it reaches the top floor and ejects the last passenger, the doors lock shut and the cage plunges to the bottom of the shaft for another load of "up" passengers.

There's another elevator to handle folks who want to descend in the building. When that elevator reaches the bottom of the building, it, too, returns empty (except for the operator) to the top floor for another load.

It's sort of a one-way-street idea.

I was at the University hospital Sunday with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Brown, visiting Miss Dorothy Brown. University hospital is one of the largest and certainly one of the best hospitals in the country. Besides the hundreds of patients, there are also hundreds of visitors roaming the long corridors, riding the elevators and milling in the lounge. In fact, one sweet young thing told me that visitors take almost as much care and control as the patients themselves.

"That looks like Art Summerfield," granddad said, never expecting to see the postmaster general in the lounge of the hospital. Sure enough, it was. The general was waiting to see his wife who is recovering from surgery. He offered to mail our post cards, but we had already dropped them into the chute. Summerfield appears to be a fine man. He's a former Chevrolet dealer from Flint and has the same charm that characterizes our own Al Rice.

Few men know more people from more places than Vernon J. Brown. A dozen called him by name during the 2 hours we were at the hospital. Among them was a produce wholesaler who had sold fruits and vegetables at the Brown grocery store in Lansing 35 years ago.

A nurse spoke up. She had known him when they both were working under the capitol dome in Lansing. Then there was Summerfield. Three other men clasped his hand, talked about old times, but failed to give a clue to their own identity. We met another nurse who waded in the same Higgins lake that we have known so well.

Few places in Michigan or even the nation surpass the wooded, hilly and lake-scattered area between Mason and Ann Arbor in natural beauty. It's a heaven-on-earth. It's a fairy land. But it's a terrible place to get a flat tire. A lot of rubber is burned up along the stretch as the many cars swerve along the winding route. Some of the swerving was done close to my heels as I bent to change the tire.

Traffic seems faster than ever when you've been forced along the side of the road to make repairs.

Eager Beaver Isn't Eager Three Seasons of the Year

Does the eager beaver ever goof off? "Yes," answered George Hunt, instructor in wildlife management at the University of Michigan. "He ignores the time-clock during 3 seasons of the year. But all through the fall, he puts in a full night's work gathering food for winter, or building or repairing his skillfully constructed dam."

"The beaver—other than man the cleverest engineer among Michigan mammals—constructs his dam chiefly of small sticks and mud mixed with a few rocks," Hunt says. Upstream the surface is smoothly plastered with mud. Downstream it is chiefly of small sticks and mud mixed with a few rocks," Hunt says. Upstream the surface is smoothly plastered with mud. Downstream it is chiefly the projecting ends of sticks that are used to form the framework of the structure.

"Dams are usually three to 4 feet in height and 50 to 200 feet in length," Hunt continued. "In general, beaver dams small streams where the current is not too strong. There are often as many as 20 or 30 dams on a stream of 10 miles or so in length."

He explained that all members of the colony, except the small kits (baby beavers), help keep the dam in repair so that a uniform water level is maintained in the pond. This insures that the plunge-hole will be kept under water and so protected from wolves and foxes.

"Back of the dam in the relatively deep water of the impoundment is the lodge—an ancestral home which may be used for many years," Hunt said. "Woody materials along with mud and stones are used to build the mound-shaped lodge, which may be as much as 5 or 6 feet in height and 10 feet in diameter."

He explained that during the crisp autumn nights the beaver is also mighty busy laying in the winter's food supply of felled trees the bark of which he requires for sustenance. Each beaver cuts an average of one tree in 2 days. He cuts the tree into manageable lengths, 2, 3 or 4 feet, gnaws off the limbs and drags them into the water to be floated to the lodge, Hunt said.

Beaver impoundments are valuable for water fowl use—principally for raising of broods. They are also of value to man insofar as they create water reservoirs which can be drawn upon in case of forest fires.

Reverse side of the picture is that beavers have sometimes had to be live-trapped out of an area in order to stop damage due to flooding of highways or farm lands. "Studies, however, indicate that there has been no great damage in Michigan because of beaver activities," Hunt concluded.

Michigan State university, established in 1855, was the first agricultural college in America.

Strawberry Plants Need Early Start

Early transplanting of strawberries pays off in bigger yields the next year, reminds M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent.

Runners that form in June will produce twice as many berries the next year as runners that form in July, he points out. This is true for June bearing varieties. Everbearing varieties produce the best crop the same year they are planted.

Avery says Harry Bell, extension horticulturist at Michigan State university, recommends setting out plants as soon as the ground can be suitably worked in the spring. For Ingham county this date is usually around early April on light soil in southern Michigan and May 1 for northern Michigan.

Avery also advises growers to set plants about 28 inches apart. The ideal spacing is no more than 4 plants per square foot.

Many growers, he points out, have been setting plants about 18 inches apart because of likely losses of several plants. However, plants have become more vigorous with increased control of diseases and insects so that fewer die.

Grass Crops Aren't For Michigan

Ingham county farmers striving for lower feed costs with forage crops may be confused by all the stress on grassland farming.

Articles on grassland farming that originate in other states don't necessarily apply to Michigan, M. H. Avery, county agricultural agent, points out, because the stress here is not on grass, but on legumes.

The reason for stress on legumes, he says, is to get the most feed value for money spent. And legumes have more protein than grasses.

Michigan State university specialists point out that there's a big difference between pastures with just grass in the stand and when the stand is a mixture of grass and legumes.

So when a farmer is advised to apply only nitrogen to make a better pasture, that doesn't apply to an Ingham farmer who has a good legume-grass mixture for a pasture. The alfalfa in the mixture provides its own nitrogen.

More nitrogen probably would make the legumes disappear from the mixture faster because the grass would provide too much competition, Avery explains.

Ingham Men Complete Farm Course

Nine young Ingham farmers were among 61 graduates of the Michigan State university short course department last week.

They completed an advanced farm training course. Men from Mason were Richard Cheney, Franklin Lyons, Russell Rowe and Loren Spink. Others were Stanley Fay, Stockbridge and Marvin Glynn, Dorwin Williams, Paul Mason and Robert Oesterle, all of Webberville.

The Ingham county farmers, all graduates of the Michigan State university short course program, traveled to East Lansing one day each week for 12 weeks to attend classes. Mornings, they discussed farm policy and prepared their own farm programs. A noon luncheon featured prominent speakers from the university staff.

In the afternoon, the farmers attend classes in either soils science or dairy production.

Among the points covered in the dairy class were management practices, breeding, problems of the bulk tank and feeding. In soils science, the students talked about soil types, productivity, structure fertilizers and minimum tillage practices.

Chairman Mills then introduced Miss Helen P. Peck, Miss Phyllis H. Peck and Miss Phyllis H. Peck, who were visitors from the City of Lansing...

Supervisor Ingham moved that the minutes of the meeting held on March 13, 1956, be read, seconded and carried. A communication from the State Department of Social Welfare was read by the Clerk as follows:

As you know, under the new Social Welfare program which became effective April 1, 1955, for the counties which establish a county child care fund and pay for costs of care out of this fund, the state will match county expenditures in excess of the per capita amount of the county rate established in 1954. In addition, the law provides that the state will reimburse the county 90% of expenditures in excess of the per capita amount...

As the county reports monthly on the use of the child care fund, the report should be submitted in May, the month in which the county's child care fund 1955 expenditures are reported. The amount which will be paid in effect for the year 1955 is $1,212,000.00. The total amount for 1955 is $1,417,467.57.

Richard Baldwin, vegetable farmer north of Inlay City, raises onions here long sprouts and are somewhat soft this time of year like those in the picture. Baldwin's product is sold and much in demand. His "secret" is spraying the onion crop two weeks before harvest with a chemical called maleic hydrazide. The chemical's power to prevent sprouting in both onions and potatoes was demonstrated six years ago by Horticulturist S. H. Wittwer of the Michigan State University Agricultural Experiment Station. Some city folks make a special call for Baldwin's product for onions because his product keeps in good condition longer than unsprayed onions. And the chemical can be applied for two to three cents a bushel. The chemical also prevents sprouting in prepackaged radishes when the crop is sprayed before harvest. (M. S. U. Photo)

State Highway Executive Is Given Conference Post

March 22, 1956

The Ingham County News

Part 5

George M. Foster of East Lansing, chief deputy commissioner of the Michigan state highway department, has received national recognition in the highway engineering field by being elected secretary-treasurer of the Mississippi Valley Conference of State Highway Officials. Chief Engineer John Butters of the Iowa highway department was elected president.

The conference is a regional organization within the American Association of State Highway Officials. It embraces principal administrative and engineering personnel of the highway departments of 16 mid-western states, Arkansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Ohio, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

As highway systems of the various states are integrated, it is essential that uniform construction and traffic control practices be adopted by the various states in the interests of better and safer roads and economy. Thus, the Mississippi Valley Conference is a workshop where state highway officials exchange ideas on their common problems.

As secretary-treasurer of the mid-western highway officials group, Foster will be responsible for setting up the program of the 1957 conference in Chicago.

Foster, who is chairman of the A. A. S. H. O. committee on the use of radio in highway work, was awarded a second honor of a national distinction last week when he was selected by the A. A. S. H. O. to preside at a 3-day meeting on photogrammetry and electronic computation in Chicago, held prior to the Mississippi Valley Conference. Some 175 highway engineers from all states and Puerto Rico attended the first meeting. The Michigan highway department is a national leader in both fields.

George M. Foster

Foster is president of the Michigan Good Roads Federation, treasurer of the Michigan Engineering Society and director of the American Road Builders Association, past president of the Grand Valley chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, past president of the Lansing Optimist club, and a member of the bridge committee of the national highway research board, the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan school of civil engineering. He was bridge engineer of the highway department before being appointed chief deputy commissioner in 1951.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Foster have many friends in Mason. They are the parents-in-law of the former Patricia Walcott and are frequent guests in Mason.

City Purchases More Fire Hose

American LaFrance Fire Equipment Co. received a city contract Monday night for supplying 300 feet of 2 1/2-inch and 50 feet of 1 1/2-inch fire hose. Three equipment companies submitted bids. American LaFrance bid $1.80 per foot on the 2 1/2-inch and $1.30 for the 1 1/2-inch.

Fabric Fire Hose Co. of Sandy Hook, Conn. bid $2.00 and $1.78 and Miller of Marshall bid $1.90 and $1.31.

The hose is double-strength and acid- and mold-resistant. It will be ready for Mason's new fire truck when it's delivered this summer.

Rites Are Held For Mrs. Root

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura E. Root, were conducted at Ball-Dunn funeral home Tuesday. She died March 11 at Lake Worth, Florida.

Rev. Raymond L. Norton, pastor of Mason Methodist church of which Mrs. Root was a member, officiated. The Order of the Eastern Star also participated. Mrs. Root had long been a member of the order.

Mrs. Root was born November 21, 1871, in Bunker Hill, daughter of Aaron J. Rayner and Emma Jane Reynolds Rayner. On February 15, 1892, she married Walter Root. They came to Mason at once and maintained their home here until after Mr. Root's death July 25, 1947. There were 4 children. Two daughters died in infancy. There were 2 sons, Reno and Jehial. Jehial died 3 years ago.

Besides the son Reno, Mrs. Root is survived by 2 grandsons, William John and James B., sons of Jehial; and Reno's daughter, Mrs. Harry Johansen of Grand Rapids. There are also 4 great-granddaughters.

While Mrs. Root spent her recent winters in Florida, she made her home.

Council Sets Record

City councilmen rolled up a new record for late meetings Monday night. The session ended up at 12:35 a. m. Tuesday morning. It started the previous Monday night at 7:30. The meeting surpassed the previous marathon session by 18 minutes.

Five Mason Men Go to Chicago

Mason Presbyterian church had 5 representatives at the national council of Presbyterian Men in Chicago last week end.

Representing the Mason council at the mid-west gathering were Rev. Paul L. Arnold, Elton C. Twark, Dr. M. J. Green, Gerald E. Strickland and William D. Dexter.

Plans Are Made For Horse Show

The Block and Bridle club, a student organization interested in animal husbandry, will stage its 8th annual horse show Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7.

Proceeds derived are used for scholarships, paying expenses for the intercollegiate meats judging team, the junior and senior livestock judging teams, and the many livestock activities promoted by the club.

The horse show features student competition in the western pleasure and working classes, as it does in the 3- and 5-gaited flat saddle classes. Many of the students will be using their own mounts, others using borrowed or horses owned by the university.

Special features will include a cutting horse contest, an 8-pony exhibition hitch, golden retriever dog act, clown mule act, Roman riding act, and light and heavy horse pulling contests.

Ten select pulling teams, 5 in each weight division, will compete Saturday afternoon, April 7. The teams will come from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky. The April 6 and 7 evening programs begin at 8:00 p. m., and the Saturday afternoon program opens at 2:00.

Top Stars Share Billing at the Fox

This is the week the top stars perform on the Fox Theatre screen.

In the double bill Friday and Saturday Ray Milland and Ward Bond are starred in "A Man Alone." The second attraction is Walt Disney's full-length musical feature "Music Land."

Filmed in Trucolor amidst the harsh splendor of western Utah, "A Man Alone" presents such notable co-stars as beautiful Mary Murphy and rugged Bond supported by a talented list of featured players headed by Raymond Burr, Arthur Space, Lee Van Cleef and Alan Hale.

"The gripping story opens with Milland, a notorious gunman, coming across the bodies of 6 victims of a stagecoach holdup as he plots alone across a western desert after his horse has died. Taking one of the stagecoach horses, he rides into the nearby town of Mesa where, immediately suspected of the holdup and murders, he is forced to shoot acting-sheriff Alaf Hale when the self-important weakling pulls a gun on Milland without first identifying himself.

In the course of the grim nocturnal manhunt which follows, Milland, under cover of a violent sandstorm, overhears Raymond Burr, the local banker, heatedly arguing over shares of the stagecoach loot with his partner, Grand Rhodes, and Lee Van Cleef, a cowboy accomplice.

When Burr discovers Milland's presence, he opens fire; and in the ensuing battle the banker shoots Grand Rhodes in the back. In order to cover this murder of a partner whom he feared would talk, Burr tells the townspeople that the fugitive (Milland) broke into the bank and killed Rhodes.

"Music Land" is one of Disney's finest. Famous stars who perform in the picture are Fred Waring, Benny Goodman, Freddy Martin, Francis Langford, Roy Rogers and Trigger, Sons of the Pioneers, Ethel Scott and Jerry Colona, plus many more.

Laugh Riot Next
Tom Ewell, who has become Hollywood's leading comedian since his success in "The Seven Year Itch," has scored again in

"A Man Alone," Republic Studios' thrilling drama of romance and violence, stars Mary Murphy and Ray Milland. The Trucolor film will play at the Fox Theatre Friday and Saturday.

"The Lieutenant Wore Skirts," which will play Sunday and Monday at the Fox. In this Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope comedy, which already has been tabbed as the funniest picture to come out of Hollywood in years, he has Sheree North for his costar Rita Moreno, who received her first star billing, heads the strong supporting cast.

The breezy story of a husband whose wife is accepted for military service while he is rejected was written for the screen and directed by Frank Tashlin for producer Buddy Adler.

Ewell, as a TV writer and World War II hero, is the frustrated husband who fights against tremendous odds to stick with his wife, who is accepted as a WAF lieutenant and sent to the American air force base in Hawaii. Miss North is the curvaceous wife, who draws wolf whistles wherever she goes. The wacky things that Ewell does to get his wife out of the Air Force presents one comedy situation after another, which finally ends with Sheree being discharged and Ewell being accepted despite his psychosomatic knee.

Action Is at Its Best

A motion picture of bold adventure and panoramic excitement, Columbia Pictures' "The Last Frontier" plays Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Fox Theatre. "The Last Frontier" stars Victor Mature, Guy Madison and Robert Preston in Technicolor. James Whitmore and Anne Bancroft are co-starred and Russel Collins is featured.

"The Last Frontier" is a story of the American wilderness and of the flesh-and-blood men and women who wrested a vast part of this continent from the mightiest of the Indian nations, the Sioux.

Specifically, "The Last Frontier" tells of one of the last great battles for the American northwest and of an unbridled frontiersman, an Army scout, who opposes his ruthlessly ambitious Army commander when the latter imperils his fortress outpost and the lives of his men by attempting to recapture a lost glory.

Coupled with the bitter struggle between red man and white on "The Last Frontier" is the unusual triangle that develops when Mature, as the untamed frontiersman, finds himself driven with desire for the colonel's wife.

At first repulsed by the unreserved candor of the Indian fighter's outspoken ways, the girl soon softens to his masculine vitality, absent in her coldhearted husband. Longing for his wife's love but unable to return it, Preston as the colonel becomes obsessed with the need to prove he is the better man. His second in command, Guy Madison, is forced to stand by, helplessly bound by military discipline. It is not until the climactic battle with the Teton-Dakota tribesmen of the Sioux that the problem is finally resolved.

City Extends Water Main

City workmen got the go-signal from councilmen Monday night to lay a 6-inch water main on Barnes street from Sycamore to Columbia and on Columbia to Rogers street. The line will serve new construction planned for this spring. The cost will be shared by the city-at-large.

The republican form of government is the only form which is not eternally at open or secret war with the rights of mankind.

—Thomas Jefferson

Servants Become Our Masters

The great delusion of those in charge of legislative graft investigation 10 years ago was that legislators took graft because they were poorly paid. The special prosecutor made that statement many times, big city newspapers carried it frequently. When the special prosecutor became governor he still proclaimed the fallacy as truth. Big newspapers continued with the delusion. The people were thus led to amend the constitution so legislators could set their own salaries.

Until the amendment was adopted, legislators received about $2,000 a term plus travel expenses and other prerequisites for a few weeks of service in the legislature. Since they have had authority to write their own checks they have steadily raised their pay. They now pay themselves $8,000 plus $2,000 expenses for the few weeks of service they render during a 2-year term.

Two weeks ago representatives by a vote of 83 to 22 sought to provide themselves with a pension. At age 60 they can draw retirement pay of up to $3,000 a year. If that bill becomes law the people of Michigan will be saddled with an extra $203,000 cost every year to pay pensions to as sorry a lot of legislators as ever sat under the dome in Lansing.

The great delusion is that an honest legislator or any other honest man took graft because he was poorly paid. A legislator or any other man takes graft because he is dishonest. Being dishonest he would take graft as quick as $4,000 a year as at $1,000. Nobody has to pay an honest man to be honest or to remain honest.

If it were possible to pension off now all the 83 legislators who rammed through their own pension bill the cost to the state might be warranted. But the lust of avarice will not be put down that easily. There is not enough money in the state treasury to content those 83. No matter how high they have set their own pay now, no matter how generous they have been in setting their present pensions, their avarice will not and can not be satisfied.

Through the constitutional amendment which was foisted upon the people in 1948 our servants have become our masters. Their lust for money has blinded them to the needs of the state and to their own duty.

Here in Ingham county we ought to commend Rep. John E. McCune of the second district and Rep. Willard I. Bowerman of the first district. Those 2 and 20 others were the only representatives who voted against the pension bill.

Now we call upon those 22 to make an attempt to block passage. We call upon the senate to defeat the contemptible measure. If that appeal fails, the people will call upon the governor to veto such a dastardly piece of legislation.

Whether the bill is passed or not the people should mark for defeat every legislator who has had a part in its progress to the present point. Regardless of party, we should drive from office every legislator whose lust for money has been made so apparent.

Parking Meters Are No Answer

When parking meters were installed in Lansing it was the general understanding that revenues would be used to provide free off-street parking.

A recent report indicates that more than a million dollars of that parking meter revenue has been used for other city purposes. There has been no free off-street parking provided. With downtown streets and even close-in residential streets lined with parking meters, a lot of business has fled to the outskirts or has gone beyond the city limits.

Parking meters in many cities have hastened development of shopping centers on the outskirts or beyond the city. Shopping centers draw their trade because of convenient and free parking.

So far Mason councilmen have withstood the pitches of parking meter salesmen. Mason has the 4 blocks of the court house square to use for street parking and there are also 2 lots where parking is free.

Yet Mason should not be content to let things ride as they are. Business men for themselves and the city for all of us should be acquiring and developing off-street parking.

Big towns and small towns throughout the United States are undergoing great changes due to traffic. Where traffic and lack of parking have resulted in development of shopping centers downtown business has declined and downtown tax values have slumped. Downtown streets are lined with parking meters but the customers have gone outside the city to buy.

Parking meters are no answer to the problem of holding and building downtown trade. They can be a means of hastening the shopping center trend. Here in Mason and in other small towns business men and city officials should be immediately concerned with providing off-street parking.

Blessing in Disguise

Coaches, athletic directors and other school officials in what remains of the Capital Circuit are disturbed over the outlook. With the 3 Eaton schools withdrawing, only 4 are left in the league, or will be left after another school year.

Withdrawal of the 3 Eaton schools could be a blessing in disguise. Slimming the league to 4 schools or even abandonment of the league could give schools an opportunity to do something with physical education.

We have permitted and encouraged schools to stage programs for spectators more than for pupils. We have been too concerned over championships and gate receipts. Our high school sports programs have been largely a matter of training and developing youngsters who need it the least. We have virtually ignored those who need it the most.

Even in the lower grades at Mason where we have expanded an athletic program the emphasis has been on interscholastic play. Again the boys who need the training least get most of it. We have taken elementary grade teams out of class to compete at neighboring schools. We have stressed winning too much. We have not encouraged general participation enough.

Take a look at boys and girls shuffling along streets. Some of them seem scarcely able to lift their feet. Many of them have poor posture. We transport them from their front stoops to the school house door. We take them back again at night. We stand them on the sidelines or seat them in the bleachers to watch the most skillful play.

Instead of immediately securing other schools to build up the league, why not take the opportunity to build up the physiques and correct the poor posture of youngsters who need it most? Use the time of coaches, now concentrated on building teams to draw crowds of spectators, to build strong bodies for boys and girls unfit for varsity competition. Teach wrestling, tumbling, weight-lifting. Get every boy and every girl interested in developing strength and endurance.

High school athletics in the Capital Circuit and in all high school leagues have needed de-emphasis. Most school officials recognize that need but they have been loathe to take the first step. Here in what's left of the Capital Circuit the 4 schools at Mason, Howell, Everett and Holt can all take the step together. These schools can show the way in a physical education program that can mean healthy, joyous living for thousands of men and women instead of trying to develop a few schoolboy heroes whose feats are soon forgotten.

By showing less concern for spectators, schools can give far more concern to students.

Taking the pressure off interscholastic sports at the 4 Capital Circuit schools could be a blessing — even a blessing in disguise.

Down by the SYCAMORE

Demosthenes and Cicero made many speeches. I have never read where they ever judged an oratorical contest. The outstanding boxing authority, winner of the $64,000 question, couldn't go a round with the lowest ranked bantam weight. Most famous sportswriters couldn't make a basket if they stood on a step-ladder, or run with a football if they had a regiment of marines in front of them. Judges of cherry pie contests might not be able to bake anything edible.

So no apology is necessary over the fact that all the contestants in the Legion oratorical contests did better than their judges could do. I was a judge at all 4 of the contests.

Maybe because I have to listen to so many speeches in my trade of reporting, I had placed a low value upon oratorical ability. Or it could have been that I was assessing oratorical inability. Either way, I have changed my mind. I enjoyed listening to the Legion contestants' orate about the constitution. I came out of the contests with a new conception of the value of oratory, as well as the value of the constitution.

There are 500 men in Ingham county who know more about the dairy business than Homer Martin. Yet it was Homer who took over leadership at many meetings. There are preachers who have heard the call as clear as Billy Graham. Yet crowds throng about Billy wherever he goes at home or abroad. There are leaders in the Roman Catholic church as well versed in church history and law as Bishop Sheen. By his oratory the bishop has won many converts.

With his silver tongue William Jennings Bryan gained thousands of followers from among people opposed to his logic. FDR with his fireside chats gained millions of votes. Oratory still plays a big part in civilization just as it did when Pliny the Younger said, "Far more effective than books is the spoken word. There is something in the voice, the intonation, the hearing, and the gesture of the speaker that concur in fixing an impression upon the mind deeper than can even vigorous writings."

This week in the United States 2,500 professional lecturers are making 20,000 personal appearances. The lecture business has developed a $10 million a year business, with women's clubs accounting for 65%. There's money as well as fame in being able to orate.

Every day all of us ought to speak a few reasonable words, even if we don't get paid for them.

Entertainment runs in cycles. Bicycles had almost disappeared until 10 years ago. Now there are probably more bicycles in use than ever before. Croquet became almost forgotten until the revival set in a few years ago. Roller rinks were big business 50 years ago. Then they petered out. Rinks at Dansville and Mason, Pleasant lake and what was then Pine lake were boarded up or converted into dance halls. Now roller skating has made a comeback. Crowds flock to Palomar. A new rink is being built at Holt. The Legion post at Mason is going to have a fling at skating.

Pool and bowling have had the same fluctuations in popularity. Bowling was out of favor for 25 years. Public poolrooms in Mason have been abandoned and few people even in lodge rooms play pool or billiards anymore. But there'll be a comeback some day, so if you're a pool player don't think you misspent your early life in vain.

Our Heidelberg press came down with wanderlust. It arrived in New York on schedule from the banks of the Rhine and reached Columbus, Ohio, in due season. The press left Columbus by truck on a Friday afternoon. It reached Mason the next Friday.

Truckers first hauled it to Indianapolis, thence to Cincinnati, back east to Dayton and thence to Detroit and from there to Lansing before heading for Mason.

It's in operation, printing English with a German accent. Come in and listen.

Mrs. Farmer Peck identified the birds I recently described as goldfinches. They have a sparrow-like look in the winter, she said; dull grays and browns in the winter, with black wing bars. Their voices are also muted in the winter. Thanks a lot to all the Pecks.

Frank Schmidt, Jr., makes things go. He has done more than any one man to jerk the Legion up by its bootstraps. He promotes affairs of St. James parish. He made the Legion oratorical contests click. Frank gets things done. It's a pleasure to work with him and for him.

All the Constitution

The constitution of the United States is all of it, not just parts of it. We have heard so much about the fifth amendment and the 13th amendment recently that we are apt to forget that the constitution contains 7 articles and has had 22 amendments.

We are apt to forget that the constitution is and should be something alive. Thomas Jefferson pointed it out when the constitution was new. He said: "Some men look at constitutions with sanctimonious reverence, and deem them like the ark of the covenant, too sacred to be touched. They ascribe to men of the preceding age a wisdom more than human, and suppose what they did to be beyond amendment. . . . Laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind. . . . We might as well require a man to wear the coat that fitted him as a boy, as civilized society to remain ever under the regime of their ancestors."

On 4 occasions within 2 weeks boys and girls came to Mason to give orations about the constitution. They came for the Legion county, district, zone and state contests.

The orators and their auditors all learned much from the contests. The most important lesson is the one that Jefferson pointed out so long ago; that our constitution is a living, breathing guarantee of basic rights and that those who claim those rights thereby have responsibilities and duties to perform.

Owners Protest 25% Increase In Valuation

Residents of Quinlan addition, 25 in all, protested the 25% increase in the valuation of their property in Williamston township Monday morning. The board refused to lower the valuations, and decided Tuesday to deny the group's request to delay the increase for at least a year until adequate tax figures are available to determine the fairness of the assessments in the township.

Members of the present board are Earl Leeman, chairman; Milo Clark and Harold Powell.

The protesting group charged that the increase was discriminatory in that 25% would result in suburban home owners paying more than the fair share of taxes in relation to farm owners taxes in the township.

Chairman Leeman stated that suburban residences were long overdue for an increase in taxes and that he was told 4 years ago to raise the valuations 50% but didn't do it. The county board told him that farm property was well-qualified in Williamston township. The farmers received a trimming last year because the tax rate was raised and if he delayed the raise on suburban homes, the farmer would get another trimming. Inasmuch as he has to have the property equalized in 3 weeks, he said he could go along with the wishes for delay.

The question was also raised whether supervisors are qualified to serve as assessors. It was suggested that special tax experts be hired for $5,000 to $10,000 to review the township tax assessments. Supervisor Leeman stated he did not know where they would get that kind of money, and that the township will be in need of funds to pay $1,500 for a proposed zoning ordinance.

Card Party Date Set

The community card party will be Saturday evening, March 24, from 8 until 1 p. m. at the American Legion hall on South Putnam street. Bridge, canasta or other card games will be played. Refreshments will be served during the evening. Those attending are to take their friends and neighbors and a deck of cards.

Children Study American Indians

Missionary program for children of the Community Methodist church has just completed a course with primary children of the first, second and third grades in school. They learned and studied all about the American Indian, their ancestral history, their religion and their industrial contribution to the country. Mrs. Lester May was teacher of the course.

Beginning Monday, April 2, the course will be advanced for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The group will meet after school from 4 until 5:30 p. m. Mrs. Bernie Adams will be teacher. At the conclusion of the course a program will be presented for the parents.

Class Has Meeting

Crusaders class of the Methodist Sunday school had its March meeting recently in the church basement. More than 30 adults and children attended the potluck supper. After a short business meeting all took part in a white elephant sale with Bud Nixon as auctioneer. The next meeting will be April 14 and plans are in the making for a progressive supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepply and family have moved to Greenville.

Board Confirms Release of 2 From Faculty

Williamston board of education has confirmed the report that teaching contracts for high school principal Don Kunev and head basketball coach, Royce Moekel, will not be renewed.

The action was officially taken at a special board of education meeting March 5. At the board meeting March 12, Everett White, president of the school board, explained he had requested no publication of the matter until the 2 men in question had a chance to present their side of the matter. The board said that it was stepping up the quality of education in the school system and is looking for men to better fit into the long range program. The board said it decided the best thing to do was not to renew their contracts.

Members of the board said they do not agree on Coach Moekel's teaching methods at all. They conceded he was a good athletic man, referring to his coaching abilities. They also added that they felt it was time for Moekel to better himself in regards to coaching positions. Moekel coached the Hornets to a district championship. In addition to his coaching duties he has also taught mathematics.

Both Moekel and Kunev said they had no indication that they were to be released, and that the board's charges of Kunev's teaching methods are untrue and unjustified. Kunev has no plans for the future as yet. He is completing his third year here. The board added that it would recommend Kunev to other schools, but pointed out that he did not fit into the local program.

The board in addition to White includes Ed Wiegandt, Herb Miller, Rudy Lange and Ted Latham. They said that Supt. Wilbur Bochsler had nothing to do with the releases.

Head football and wrestling coach Monte Hoke is still undecided as to what he will do. He announced earlier he planned to resign to assume coaching jobs in his native Oklahoma. In other business of the meeting, Howard Gorsline requested that the school board discontinue some of its banking business in Lansing by shifting to the local Williamston bank which pays the taxes.

Party Honors William Hodge

William Hodge, long a resident of Williamston, celebrated his 78th birthday anniversary Tuesday, March 13. The Odd Fellow lodge No. 205 surprised him at 8 o'clock in the evening when they called at his home on White street to help him celebrate the occasion.

The men visited and played cards until 9:30, at which time 3 women of the Rebekah lodge, Anna Cassidy, Fern Shaw and Ruth Gibson called with birthday cake, ice cream and coffee. Mrs. Cassidy made and decorated the cake. After lunch, Ralph Bartlett, local photographer, dropped in and took pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Logel and family were dinner guests Saturday of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thurber.

This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles. (Psalm 34:6.)

While in military service, we assembled one day in chapel to sing and to hear a word of encouragement from our chaplain. Following the sermon, he asked those to come forward who desired to humble themselves before God and ask forgiveness for their sins. He said, "The Lord knows what troubles our hearts. He asks only that we confess our sins and become confirmed Christians." A soldier slowly came forward. When he reached the altar, he broke into sobs. Later we learned that this soldier had been an accomplice in a murder. Since he has given his life to Christ, this lad's heart must be lightened as he serves his prison term. He has faith in God and the consciousness of God's forgiveness of his crime, though he must pay his debt to society.

Do we also seek God's forgiveness for our sins, whatever they may be, and have faith in His power to forgive?

PRAYER

O God, help us to remember that Thou art an ever-present help. May we come to Thee, humbly asking forgiveness where we have erred. Thou alone canst forgive us and give new hope. Praying in Jesus' name, we come to Thee in faith. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

NEW LIFE

So many things develop from within, and so do we. The chick comes out of the egg, the flower from a tiny seed, the tree adds rings year after year to its outer core. Always it is the inner life.

And so it is with the heart of man. When the inner man is fed by God's Holy Word, the outer life becomes a joyful expression, a vital power that overcomes all obstacles and sweeps on to eternal life.

The Church nourishes the inner life of spirit so essential to outer growth and beautiful expression. From the Church comes the instruction and inspiration for happy, worthwhile living. Attend some church regularly, and see what a difference it makes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Book Talk

"In nature's infinite book of secrecy A little I can read," — Shakespeare

How very little we can read in nature's book! Our grandparents and great-grandparents who had to depend on nature for much of their food and most of their raw materials for other homemade necessities could read much more. However, with equipment that we are able to purchase and the traveling around we do, we can study many things that they knew little about.

For example, did you ever think of microbes as something to study and experiment with? It is true that some of them are "nasty germs" that will make us sick, but there are many more like bread and fruit molds, pond-algae, and the yeasts that you can study. Lucia Lewis new FIRST BOOK OF MICROBES which you may get at the Ingham county library in the boys and girls' department tells many fascinating facts about microbes. Others, like THROUGH THE MAGNIFYING GLASS by Schwartz, the STORY OF MICROBES by Schutz, and MICROBES AT WORK by Selsum, suggest fascinating experiments that can be done at home while you are waiting for the out-of-doors to dry up a bit.

Jauss's DISCOVERING THE YEAR AROUND suggests interesting things to see out-of-doors each month of the year.

There is a new book in Margaret Waring Buck's series called IN PONDS AND STREAMS. It pictures and describes all the kinds of flowers, underwater plants, ferns and rushes, water worms, snails, clams, shellfish, insects, fishes, salamanders, tadpoles, frogs, snakes, turtles, birds and mammals that you are likely to find in inland ponds and streams and on their banks, as well.

If you are planning on a trip to the seashore, Selsum's SEE THROUGH THE SEA will tell you about the unusual plants and animals you may expect to see on the shore and in the shallow water, as well as what you would see if you could go down in a diving bell.

Another interesting animal that you may see along either coast is the harbor seal. You may read all about him and his larger relatives in Louis Darling's SEALS AND WALRUSES.

Dorothy Sterling leads the way into a very handy but often-overlooked field of nature study in her STORY OF MOSES, FERNS, AND MUSHROOMS. These modest little plants are the next step up from the algae and molds we met in the books about microbes.

Still staying close to the ground, we find a book of stories about OUR TINIEST ANIMALS, by Morton S. Malter. The pictures are in real life size with a ruler beside each to show just how tiny these little animals really are. This book is for younger readers.

Dorothy Hogner's SPIDERS will be a welcome addition for readers who can never find enough about these fascinating little creatures and their cousins the mites, ticks, and crabs.

The well-known bedtime story writer, Thornton W. Burgess, has written a different kind of animal story in AUNT SALLY'S FRIENDS IN FUR. It tells about the doings in the wood-house night club that Aunt Sally set up for the raccoons, skunks and other little animals that came there for food. Mary Venn's GRAY SQUIRREL is another fine story for young readers who like to know how animals live.

If you are not counting on a vacation and do not get a chance to tramp around in woods and fields, you can do a good bit of nature study right in your own backyard garden. Millicent Selsums PLANTS WE EAT tells you how.

Of course, you do not need to leave your own backyard to study the moon. If you have wondered how it got its dark markings read all about them in EXPLORING THE MOON, by Gallant and Hess.

Last, but not least, the Ingham county library has several new books on 2 of the most popular nature hobbies—rock collecting and bird watching. MY HOBBY IS COLLECTING ROCKS AND MINERALS by Jensen, and MY HOBBY IS BIRD WATCHING by Pettit are excellent manuals for those not only have plenty of "how to" information but lists of societies, books, magazines, places to buy equipment, and outstanding collections to visit. THE ADVENTURE BOOK OF ROCKS, by Eva Knox Evans, tells a lot about the history of rocks and how to start collecting. It also suggests other books to read and places to buy rocks you cannot pick up. This is for beginners.

ALL ABOUT BIRDS, by Robert S. Lemmon, is not an identification manual. It tells how birds fly, how they build their nests, how to keep them near your home, and other facts about birds in general. Probably the most interesting special feature of this book is a section on how to feed and care for orphan baby birds.

VULCAN, THE STORY OF A BALD EAGLE, by Robert M. McClung, and BARN SWALLOW by Paul Sears, are interesting stories for younger readers.

Parents, teachers, Boy and Girl Scout leaders, 4-H leaders, and others who are concerned with helping young people learn to read "nature's infinite book of secrecy" will find help in the following books: Hillcourt, Field Book of Nature Activities; Comstock, Handbook of Nature Study; Pettit, Book of Nature Hobbies; Candy, Nature Notebook; Jordan, Hammonds Guide to Nature Activities; Shuttlesworth, Exploring Nature with Your Child; Sterling,

GIANT TRY—Bob Lennon is after more than the ball as he anticipates arrival of a hot liner at Phoenix, Ariz., where the New York Giants are in spring training. Lennon appeared in three games with the Giants in 1954. He spent last year with the Minneapolis Millers. Despite a shoulder separation he batted 31 homers in 114 games and hopes to up the score in his new go-round with the Giants.

The idea of Tuberculosis stamp sales near Christmas time originated in 1907 with a Danish postal clerk. The first year's sales brought in $135,000—$17 million in 1947. In 1905 the death rate from T. B. was 188 per 100,000 population, and in 1945, it was 32 per 100,000. This is one stamp that has really paid off!
