

Ingham County News to Observe National Newspaper Week (Picture Page on A-7)

The Ingham County News and its affiliated newspapers are making plans for the observance of Newspaper Week October 8 to 14 with open houses and coffee hours.

A coffee hour is planned at the offices of the Ingham County News, and Holt-Diamondale Community News Thursday, October 12 from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m., and at the Stockbridge Town Crier on Wednesday, October 11 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. They are open to the public.

Throughout the week the Ingham County News office will be open for visitors and a special invitation is extended to members of journalism classes of high schools in the area to visit the plant between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The Ingham County News is one of the oldest weekly newspapers in Michigan. It came into existence June 23, 1859, and last June observed its 109th birthday. Its first editor was D.B. Harrington.

The News has been owned by the Brown family for 44 years. Vernon V. Brown purchased it in 1923 and served as its editor until 1928. He served as Auditor General of Michigan and later as Lieutenant Governor. He died in 1965 at the age of 90.

At his start he had his son, Nelson Brown, as his assistant. When Vernon Brown entered state politics in 1928 Nelson took over as editor. In 1954 he was joined by his 2 sons, Jim and Richard, who succeeded him as co-publishers upon his death in 1961. Under their management the News began an amazing growth. In 1963 they let contracts for the construction of the News' present home at 222 W. Ash street, and moved into the new quarters in the summer of 1964.

The new plant was equipped with the latest machinery for offset printing.

The Brown brothers had built the proverbial "better mouse trap" and soon orders for printing came through the plant's doors in increasing numbers. At the time of the move to the new home the Ingham County News had about 10 employees on the newspaper and 5 in the plant's job printing establishment. Today that number has grown to 80 on the newspaper staff. The job printing plant was leased in 1965 and sold in 1966.

And as the business grew, expansions came. The Brown brothers established the Stockbridge Town Crier in 1965 and then founded the Holt Community News in 1966. In 1967 the News acquired the Diamondale News and merged it with the Community News. These are all grouped under the banner of Graphic Publications.

Graphic Publications now employ more than 100 persons and its payroll amounts to $360,000 annually.

But that isn't all the story. In addition to the 4 publications mentioned, the Browns purchased the Davison Index at Davison, Michigan, in December 1965.

All of these publications are printed at the plant of the Ingham County News along with 15 other newspapers and 25 other types of publications every week.

The 19 newspapers have a combined circulation of 257,000 copies weekly.

The Graphic Publications plant is one of the largest in Michigan and more newspapers are published at Mason than in any other plant in the state.

Some other interesting facts are revealed in reading the history of the Ingham County News. It was in operation here 5 years before Mason became a city and 8 years before the Michigan Press association was formed in 1867, and became one of the charter members of that organization now in its 100th year.

The News, in its long career, has weathered journalistic storms and long has been a champion of right.

New Committee Named to Handle Business Queries

There are 3 prospective businesses which are interested in coming to Mason. To fill the gap until the Mason committee on Community Development can make its recommendations sometime in February, an Action sub-committee was appointed this week to handle all inquiries from prospective businesses.

William Bopf, city manager and chairman of the community development group, appointed Frank Guerriero, Richard Brown, Dewayne Evans, himself and Thomas Hopp, and ex-officio member, to the committee.

The Action committee will have its first meeting Friday, October 6, at 7 a.m. for breakfast at Crowner's Restaurant. At this meeting they will formulate a means of handling inquiries from prospective businesses.

"This committee will operate with a handicap because the main study group will not complete its investigation for some time," Bopf said, "but we will have to do the best we can with the information available."

"If an industry or business would definitely like to locate in Mason, it will be the Action group's responsibility to help the prospective newcomer in every way possible. They will present recommendations to the Community Development committee and this group, in turn, will make a recommendation to the council for their acceptance or rejection."

The various other subcommittees which were appointed last week have quickly swung into action for their information gathering must be completed by October 24.

This week the Ingham County News in carrying a questionnaire which will be part of the community attitude committee's study. The group is attempting to determine whether or not Mason residents want community development and, if so, what type of development.

Assessor Is Hired By City

Mason city councilmen approved the hiring of a city assessor/building inspector on a full-time basis at their regular Monday night meeting.

Hired for $6,500 per year was Bobby J. Powers of 2316 Forrest avenue, Lansing. He is a former Lansing fireman, where he dealt with building structures and fire codes, and is currently a computer programmer.

Powers has indicated he would like to move to Mason with his wife and 3 daughters. The 34-year-old Korean war veteran was selected from 12 applicants for the job.

In other business a public hearing was held on the N. Okemos street proposed assessment roll. There were some 12 residents, who would be affected by the assessment, present to discuss the proposed improvement costs.

Councilmen approved the assessment roll, but did take into consideration the arguments presented by the citizens. Assessments will be payable over a 6-year period rather than the usual 3-year period. The first payment is due on July 1, 1968.

The special assessment roll for sidewalk improvements in one section of town was approved. Bids for the sidewalk repair and re-construction will be accepted at the October 16 meeting at 8 p.m.

The American Tank company of Missouri was awarded the contract for cleaning, sealing, and painting the interior and exterior surface of the water system standpipe. Their bid was $679 as opposed to the next lowest bid of $1,390.

Company officials indicated their bid was low because they had a good crew of workmen available in the area and their experience and good equipment allowed the firm to cut costs.

The purchase of 2 traffic counters and associated equipment to cost $180 was approved by the council.

Community Chest Campaign Kick Off Luncheon Slated

The Mason Area United Community Chest campaign will kick off this year with a luncheon on October 20 for all workers. The United Church Women are providing the luncheon at the Methodist church beginning at noon. Glen (Bud) Dunn will be toastmaster for the event, which is intended to inform all Community Chest workers of this year's goal and get the drive off to an enthusiastic start.

This year's goal is $14,504 for the Mason area, an increase of 3.6 percent over last year. The additional funds are necessary to finance 2 new United supported organizations: The Boys Club of Lansing and the Florence Crittendon home. The goal increase is also attributed to increased demands on the USO, the Red Cross, and increased operating expenses.

Of the $14,504, some $3,000 will be put to use by the Mason area recreation program with the remainder going to support the other 57 national, state and county United Fund agencies.

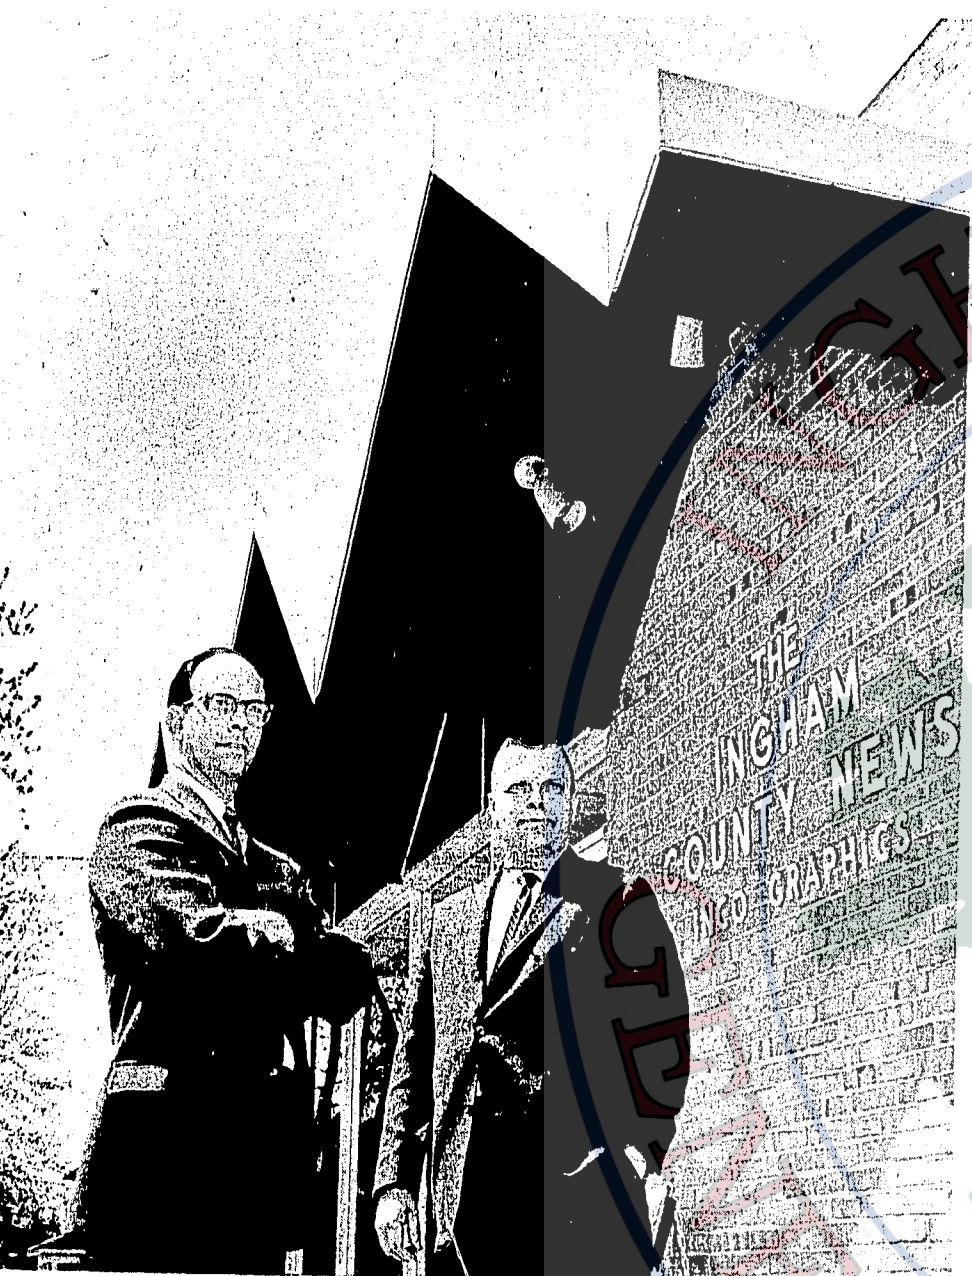

This year heading the campaign will be Harry Spenny, chairman of business and government; Paul Richards, industry; Claude Cady, area; and Mrs. Donald Cairns, residential.

Last year the United Community Chest workers were successful in achieving their $14,000 goal of "Fair Share" contributions. Hopes are high that success will again highlight this year's campaign.

Junior High Teachers Request New Election

A letter was received by the Mason board of education at its Monday night meeting urging a new bonding election date be set as soon as possible.

The letter was signed by 22 junior high teachers. They requested that the bond issue should not be reduced, because the proposed junior high just met the recommended amount of floor space considered necessary for a junior high facility. There are 33 teachers in all at the present junior high.

Prompted by the recent $3,150,000 bond issue defeat, the letter indicated that the junior high teachers felt a new junior high facility was needed and that they wanted the opportunity to show what they as teachers could do under better working conditions.

School board members took no action on the teachers' letter and made no mention of an immediate bonding election.

"Today's teachers are not interested in teaching more than 30 students in a classroom and would prefer 25 students to a classroom," Robert Watts, superintendent of schools, said. Board Member Robert Ware indicated he felt Mason's teachers should be commended for so aptly accepting classes with over 30 students.

In an information report to the board, Watts said there were a total of 102 women staff members compared to 41 men staff members.

"Mason has a fairly young staff with the median age for teachers being 40 and median age of the administrators set at 43," Watts said.

Vandals Hit School Bus Garage

Vandals caused considerable damage to 6 Mason school buses at the school garage on Dexter Trail and highway M-36 Tuesday night.

Melvin Darrow, bus supervisor, said the tires of several buses were left flat, ignition wires were pulled out of others, the gasoline tank of one was drained, the outside mirror on another was broken and the choke wire on another was bent.

Ingham county sheriff's officers are investigating the case.

Two other cases of vandalism were reported to the department.

Thomas Gay of 3119 Hagedorn road, Mason, said that when he arose Tuesday morning he found that someone had taken a double ox yoke he had just sanded and painted white and placed in his front yard. The yoke was supported by 2 posts.

He said the intruders pulled the posts out of the ground, left them and then made off with the yoke.

John Busch, who operates a garage in Onondaga, reported that someone cut a hole in a window of his garage and then entered the building. He said there was apparently nothing missing except possibly some bottles of pop. The intruder used a metal object to cut a hole 14 by 19 inches in the window.

Record Breaking Budget For County Is Approved

The largest budget in the history of Ingham county was approved Wednesday, September 27, by the board of supervisors, with no interested citizens present to question or approve at the public hearing.

Totaling $5,927,100, this year's budget is an increase of approximately one-half million dollars over last year. John M. Patriarche, East Lansing supervisor and chairman of the Ways and Means committee, indicated the increase was due to county employees' salary raises, leasing of an additional building for the Probate Court offices and just general cost increases.

In addition to the 5 percent across the board wage increase to county employees, the county has also authorized the hiring of several new employees.

Largest appropriations were realized in the prosecuting attorney's office, sheriff's department, county health department, child care fund, friend of the court offices, and the probate court offices. "These increases are largely due to additional staff members needed to complete the ever growing demands placed on these departments," Patriarche said.

Estimated income for the year is set at $1,160,000, which is accounted for by revenue: $690,000; county's estimated share of the new state income tax; $370,000; and estimated balance on hand; $100,000.

According to the budget, county taxpayers will have to raise $4,767,100 through property taxes. The county's state equalized valuation is set at $831,970,552, with the county tax rate set at 5.73.

Classified Results

It seemed to Mrs. Wilson Force of 1842 Simmons road, Mason, that she got 100 phone calls on one classified ad offering to rent a 2 bedroom country home. "I could have rented 10 houses easily with all those calls," she said.

Teacher Feels Must Uphold Profession

It is because I feel a sense of responsibility to my profession that I must answer the loose accusations and misleading half-truths included in Mr. Dilday's column in your September 20 issue. If these views were those held only by a student not yet fully educated I would feel that they would probably need to be dignified by any kind of reply. However, it would appear that his article tends more to reflect the attitudes of many of those older than himself, rather than being strictly original. It is with this in mind that I will attempt to clarify some of the statements which were, at best, misguided and misleading.

Concerning the "example" provided by teachers who have chosen not to work rather than accept intolerable conditions of employment but have chosen instead a time-honored and rather reputable method of defending their honest beliefs, it would seem somewhat hypocritical to condemn teachers for backing their beliefs with appropriate action. Responsible courts the land over have upheld and will, I believe, continue to uphold the right of a teacher, or anyone else, to resign from a position they consider untenable.

moral and social issues than we ought.

Another lesson is on that same page, I note that the price of haircuts has gone up 25¢ in Mason. I did not note anything in the advertisement which said teachers would pay the old rate. While this increase may well be justified, and I have no reasonable doubts about it, the cost of living for teachers is rising as it is for everyone else. The kind of spineless acquiescence that our student writer mistakes for "dedication" is a thing of the past. Teachers have found that this type of thought has little relation to reality. Our families can't live in it, eat it, wear it, or drive it. We have a responsibility to them also.

In conclusion, it might be added that our student writer can learn many lessons from the forthright and morally honest position the teachers of Michigan have taken in pressing for those goals which they, as professional educators, feel are right for the bettering of educational opportunity for Michigan children.

Defends Cheers

Last week I had the disappointment of reading a letter by a certain reader and I would like to state my views.

Our sweet, demure cheerleaders are not urging our football team to a homicidal act. The accepted terminology for the word "kill" as it relates to football is to play your hardest and to hit the other team with authority. If we wanted to commit homicide we would go on the field with knives and guns.

With our definition in mind, I can assure you that we will continue to "kill" for the remainder of the season.

I just cannot see how any modern football team can be motivated by the chick-rickaboo-boom cheer. The days of leather helmets are over and with it have come new cheers that should be accepted by the public for what they are—cheers not ancient Roman pleas for blood.

Defends 'No' Vote

Last week your paper carried a letter to the editor which I think calls for a rebuttal. My first reaction was to shrug it off as the prattle of a young squirt who would someday be wiser and more realistic. When "Randy" has finished school and has found a job and is raising a family he'll come face to face with some stern realities of life.

Where did Randy get the idea that a great calamity is about to befall our Jr. High school? Why is he trying to scare the people of the community? That building is only forty-six years old and no authority has ever hinted that it was structurally unsound.

Randy, where do you get this idea that the no vote was a kick in the shins for our soldiers of two World Wars? I am of the impression that those who fought and died in the past or at present did it so I could vote no if I wanted to.

It was not the 18¢ (your figure) per day that was voted down but also next springs 18¢ per day, more or less, for operating costs and another operating millage when the new Jr. High becomes a reality. It was the seemingly never ending taxes on real estate that was voted down. The school tax is about the only tax that the payer can vote on and they are trying to tell the spenders something. It's about time they began listening.

You also stated that I could keep that 18¢ per day in my pocket that I saved by voting 'no'. Thank you, that's $65.70 every year or over $2000.00 with interest during the life of the bond. Not much money you say, true for one who is still living at home and enjoying the luxuries of home without the worry of providing them. It looks bigger to a farmer whose prices are the lowest they have been for twenty years, according to a recent news release. Also it's a real burden to the person living on a pension or social security.

Maybe we do need a new Jr. High school and maybe we don't. Maybe there is another solution but if further study proves we do need it let's not belittle the cost or try to shame the people that feel otherwise.

SEMI-FINALIST--Jean Gilpin, National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist from Mason High school, shows Robert Prudon, high school principal, some of the forms and applications yet to be filled out before scholarship winners are determined.

Jean Gilpin Scores High In National Competition

Jean Gilpin, a senior at Mason high school, has qualified as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program.

The program this year is awarding about 2,900 scholarships valued at more than $8 million dollars. These include 2,400 four-year scholarships and 500 one-year scholarships of $1,000 each. This is the first year the program has included one-year scholarships. Winners of 4-year scholarships receive up to $1,500 a year, depending on individual need.

Semi-finalists become finalists in the program by receiving the endorsement of their schools, taking a second examination and submitting information about their interests and achievements.

Jean's interests include music and dramatics. She is a member of the Mason school band and enjoys sports from the spectator's side. She also is a member of the pep club.

Jean plans to attend Michigan State university, where her brother Andy is now a sophomore. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Gilpin, 405 Rogers, Mason.

The National Merit Qualifying test was administered nationally last February. Semi-finalists represent fewer than one percent of the graduating high school seniors in the nation, according to the National Merit Scholarship corporation.

Finalists will be announced in early May.

More than 15,000 students have received Merit scholarships, amounting to more than $52 million, have been awarded in the 12 years of the program.

He accuses teachers of being selfish. Perhaps a short lesson in practical economics would be useful. Teachers are among the lowest paid working people in the U.S. In many cases an untrained worker in a local industry will receive a larger starting salary than is paid to a starting teacher in the same community. May I be so unkind as to take Mason as an example. In the same September 20 issue an article appeared on page B-1 telling of the search for more Ingham County Police officers. It was with no previous training and no experience and only a High School diploma, will receive a yearly salary in excess of that paid to a starting teacher with four years of college training and a Bachelor's degree in the Mason School System. This is not considering fringe benefits far in excess of those a teacher receives. This is not to be interpreted to mean that these officers do not deserve this. For the work they do, they deserve this and more. My point is that we may be giving less attention to more highly trained people who are in the business of fostering positive attitudes on

Harvest Festival Plans Set

Plans are just about complete for the 6th annual Harvest Festival at the Waterloo Farm Museum Sunday, October 8, from 1 until 5 p.m. Because attendance at the special fall even has been increasing each year, members of the Waterloo Area Historical society are braced for a record crowd. An estimated 3,000 people came to see the 120 year old farm house and enjoy the country fair atmosphere last year.

A number of visitors last year, caught up with the spirit of the occasion, said they wished they had brought their musical instruments so they could play with the Waterloo Band. Hearing the reports, William Parks, director of the band, said, "We will be there again this year so tell everyone who has a band instrument to bring it along and join right in."

Visitors are also invited to bring "grandmother's" old pieced quilt and hang it on the clothes line at the museum to help make a huge, colorful display. Quilting frame will be nearby and visitors will be invited to "set a spell" and take a few stitches.

The festival will also feature demonstrations of soap making, weaving, spinning and other pioneer activities. The day will be highlighted by a demonstration by an Ann Arbor rifle team, dressed in authentic period costumes, using Civil War style muzzle loading rifles.

The Dewey School Museum, located at Territorial and Parks roads, will also be open Sunday from 1 until 5. The one room school has been restored so that it looks the same as it did around 1900. A small museum is being created in one of the cloak rooms where visitors can see what rural schools were like from about 1830 on. In this room can be seen many pictures of students and teachers of the Dewey, Parks and Moss schools. There are also many newspaper clippings telling the story of the restoration of the Dewey school and its transformation to a museum.

The Dewey School committee, composed of Mrs. Martin Hannevald, Mrs. Edgar Sweet, Mrs. Max Cool, Mrs. Erma Tisch and Mrs. Frank Trapp, will be on hand Sunday to greet visitors.

Former Mason Woman Describes Hurricane "Beulah" in Texas

A former Mason woman, Mrs. Edna Doolittle, who now lives with her son Ross in Edinburg, Texas, recently wrote to a friend describing hurricane Beulah and its impact.

Mrs. Doolittle wrote the letter on September 25. She said that her community had been without power for 55 hours and that still on September 25 the power hadn't been restored yet.

The rain started Tuesday night and by the following Friday some 20 inches had fallen. Winds whipped the small town for 20 hours from 35 to 65 miles per hour.

According to Mrs. Doolittle all businesses and schools were closed, with windows boarded and doors sand-bagged. Over 1,000 persons were evacuated to schools, churches and government buildings on high ground.

Mrs. Doolittle and her family were warned before the storm hit, so they had drawn a supply of drinking water. They also cooked meat on hand and did some baking. Throughout the entire storm they got along fine only the food was all cold.

Describing the storm's destruction, she said the winds filled their yard with branches and leaves stripped from trees. Green grapefruit and oranges covered the ground and the city business section was a lake, which had just begun to recede the day the letter was written.

Following the hurricane, Mrs. Doolittle said the weather had been quite sunny, but her son still had to detour around town to get to work due to existing storm damage.

Representative Davis Talks of State Taxes

State taxes the topic of discussion at the regular Mason Lions club meeting September 27.

State Representative Charles Davis of Onondaga was the main speaker.

Davis said taxes are "something no one likes, but everyone wants to know about." He said the state estimates the new state income tax will bring in $174 million the first year and $239 million the second year.

He said the revenue is designed to keep the state's income "in harmony with the expenditures." He noted that the state operated with a $170 million deficit during the last fiscal year.

Davis said the major areas of state spending include school aid, $662 million; higher education, $245 million; social welfare, $164 million; and mental health, $131 million.

Michigan pays 8 times as much to the federal government in taxes than it does in state or local taxes, Davis said. He said the total amount of Michigan taxes paid to the federal government last year was $12.5 billion. "This boils down to $1,500 from every man, woman and child in the state," he said.

Trooper Midwives Lose Race with Mother Nature

STOCKBRIDGE - State police officers tried to help, but there was little they could do when Mrs. Vixcom B. Green gave birth to a 5-1/2 pound daughter on her way to Mercy hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Green stopped at the State Police post for an escort to the hospital. Two troopers agreed, but noticed shortly that the Green car had stopped.

Upon investigation they discovered covered that the baby had already been born. "She was born before Vixcom could get around to my side of the car," Mrs. Green said.

The 2 officers, John Chargo and William Krueger, helped the Greens as best they could. One held the baby for the remainder of the ride to the hospital.

The baby is the Greens' fifth child. She was born at 12:05 a.m. at the Jackson city limits.

National Newspaper Week

This is National Newspaper Week.

Usually we take a dim view of the numerous weeks set aside for this, and everything else. But National Newspaper week is a week that has meant and will continue to mean much here in the United States.

The first obligation of this and all other newspapers is to print the news. There are other functions of a newspaper but the primary obligation is to present the news honestly and fairly, whether that news be good or bad.

The newspaper in the United States and most other English-speaking countries occupies a unique position. Here in the United States, a newspaper's freedom to print is guaranteed under the constitution. From the beginning of this republic the newspaper has been considered and has served as the instrument of the people's will.

Newspapers and other news media are the first targets of the dictator. The first act of any dictator has been to gain control of newspapers.

Yes, readers may agree on the value and worth and on the responsibility of the big daily newspapers, but what does the Ingham County News do here at home, they may ask.

That first obligation of a newspaper holds for The Ingham County News. We are charged with printing and presenting fairly and accurately that which happens at meetings of the board of supervisors, the city council, the school boards, the township boards and the village councils. Through the Ingham County News the people know what transpires in the courts of the county. They know what county offices are doing and why.

They know what the churches are doing. They know about the activities of the social and fraternal organizations.

In short, the Ingham County News acts as the eyes and the ears of the community in reporting and informing the community of what is happening. An uninformed community is soon a dead community.

National Newspaper Week is not an occasion for self-praise. It is an opportunity for self-appraisal. It is a time for newspapers to rededicate themselves to the trust placed in them and to the responsibilities our chaotic world direly needs to have performed.

Here at the Ingham County News we resolve to make every week National Newspaper Week as we put ourselves wholeheartedly to the task of informing the people so that this community, this state, this nation can attain a sound and ever-progressing way of life.

Is He the Same Man?

A senator strode to the microphone on the senate floor in Washington and belted the administration with these words:

"The clamor of public irritation and impatience can not be brushed aside like a bothersome fly with the flip and snobbish judgment that the public is uninformed. The American people are tired and they are fed up with double-talk in Washington.

"This circle of confusion must end. Without an overall plan, the congress can not legislate wisely, the military can not plan intelligently, the diplomats can not proceed wisely and the American people can not confidently lend their support to the efforts of their government.

"Congress did not intend that our troops should be sent into battle with one arm tied behind their backs."

Built To Kill

Chinese who invented gun powder and those who originated and designed guns, rifles and bullets had only one thing in mind--a better way to kill. Yes, firearms are designed to kill.

It's a subtle guarantee of freedom to possess guns and ammunition in one's own home. The fact that thousands of Americans possess their own weapons cannot help but be a prime challenge to any takeover of the United States from within or without.

Yet, with the admitted danger of firearms, too many people use them carelessly and without thought of their killing power.

Who is the senator who made these caustic comments against the president? Is he a dove? Is he a hawk?

These statements were made by a Texas senator, Lyndon B. Johnson in 1950 as he tore into President Truman's Korean War policy.

What a difference a few years makes. This senator who was a critic of the administration credibility, is the same person who, as president, is speaking with some heat against "passionate voices" contending that the war in Vietnam is unwise and not being handled right. This is the same man, who as president is annoyed by critics of his policies and refers to "doubting Thomases" who know nothing about which they talk.

What a difference a few years and another war makes in the public pronouncements of one man.

With another hunting season upon us, hunters will be dusting off their firearms. They will be looking down muzzles. They will be checking their aim.

So, this hunting season, please take care. Remember that firearms are designed to kill. They can kill you, your family or your friends just as well as they will kill pheasants, rabbits and deer.

Oh, Forget It

It is ten minutes before three o'clock in the morning and downstairs on the driveway at the side of the house, a well-dressed young man is noisily removing the hubcaps from your car. Croggy with sleep, you stagger to the window and watch him work.

Your first rational thought is: "Why does it have to be my hubcaps?" The city is full of hubcaps, many of them of surpassing brilliance. The young man obviously doesn't need just any old hubcaps, for his own car, parked in back of yours in the driveway, is a yellow convertible of the latest vintage. At its wheel sits another young man. . . "The get-away driver." These young men's parents plainly have been good to them. . . because you don't buy yellow convertibles of the latest vintage with the proceeds of hot hubcaps.

In any case, the first sleepy emotion is a bitter surge of self-pity. If my parents had bought me a yellow convertible of the latest vintage when I was 16, you think, I wouldn't have driven it around stealing workmen's hubcaps.

As the brain finally comes alert, however, the necessity for taking responsible civic action asserts itself. One recalls the Genovese case in New York, in which 38 citizens awoke in the night, and did nothing while hearing a woman being murdered. What is the citizen's duty when witnessing his hubcaps being stolen? The citizen immediately convassed a number of alternatives. The first was to put on his robe, go outside and confront the young man. This was rejected for the following reasons;

He had forgotten where he had put his robe. He feared that the young man might open his skull with the tire iron he was using on the hubcaps. He has always had a distaste for having curious crowds clustered around him while lying unconscious and bleeding on the side-walk. . . in his robe.

The second alternative was to point a gun out the window and order the young man to "Reach for the sky," . . . or better yet, to fire two warning shots through his windshield. Unfortunately, he had no gun. He had reasoned years ago that men who keep guns in their bedrooms commonly end up shot by their wives. He also had reasoned that it would be better to lose a few hubcaps than to give them a nervous woman access to a workable firearm and live ammunition.

Alternative number three was to bluff. . . that is, . . . to pretend that he had a gun and shout out the window. . . "Stand right where you are until the police arrive, or I'll shoot." This was patently impossible, and he knew it. . . since he was quite sensitive to drafts and there was no telling how long the youths might take to realize it was a bluff and speed off into the night.

Another thing was that he has one of those introverted personalities which cannot say, . . . "Stand right where you are, or I'll shoot," with any degree of conviction, whatsoever. And, in addition, after the young man had disappeared into the night, his wife would have told the story all over town and his friends would have done funny party imitations of his playing at being Wyatt Earp.

The fourth alternative was to telephone the police. This he also rejected. He reasoned as follows: if the police failed to arrive in time, he would lose the rest of his nights sleep sitting in the kitchen filling out police reports.

If the police did arrive in time to save the hubcaps, endless difficulties would ensue. He would have to appear in court for the prosecution of the young men. Having a yellow convertible, of the latest vintage, they would doubtless have superb lawyers whom might persuade the jury that any man who leaves hubcaps in his driveway at three o'clock in the morning, should be charged with corrupting youth.

Moreover, there would be terrible courtroom confrontations with the youths' parents. . . "How can you do this to our sons for a set of common hubcaps?" And, to cap it all, the court might very possibly rule that these boys were merely expressing their hostility to a society that gives them too many yellow convertibles, of the latest vintage and might turn them loose to come back to slash the tires the next time a hostile society cut off their beer at two a.m. . . or something.

So he went back to bed, secure in the knowledge that he would call the insurance company in the morning. . . his conscience eased by the realization that he had narrowly averted a social calamity by his contribution of four hubcaps. . . just as the clock struck three.

Church Influence Dips

Serious thought is warranted by the results of one of the latest Gallup Polls, which shows the influence of the church in the United States is waning rapidly.

The results of the polls are so clear, and the trend in the past 10 years so overwhelming, results can hardly be contested. In the last decade, the Gallup Poll asked Americans the same questions on four occasions. In 1957, over 69 percent of those answering thought the church was increasing in influence.

In 1962, the percentage had dropped to 45 percent. In 1965, it was down to 33 percent. Last year, it was only 23 percent.

Likewise, in 1957, over 14 percent said churches were losing influence. In 1962, nearly 31 percent thought they were losing their influence. In 1965, those who believed church influence was declining had reached 45 percent, and by last year, the percentage had risen to 57 percent! These are disturbing figures, and proved beyond much doubt that churches and church leaders face a critical decision, either adopting to circumstances and the knowledge of today or continuing to lose influence on the people of the country.

One of the more somber results of the poll was the finding that young people are taking a more pessimistic view on the church's influence than older people.

The issue is squarely up to church officials and church leaders. We realize in our community that the findings of a national poll do not necessarily apply to our situation, and hopefully the outlook in the Metropolitan area is not as dismal as it is on a national level, but the handwriting is on the wall. Sooner or later, all areas of the country are affected by trends which become national in scope.

Realistic Job Training

What's wrong with a good vocational education and a technical high school diploma? Why should it be considered, as it so often is, inferior to a college preparatory course?

A survey made by an Ohio educator in his state found 75 percent of parents and students desiring vocational education in the schools. But only 19 percent of the public high schools were offering such training, the survey reported. Parents and students appeared more aware than educators that the Ohio economy was in need of many more technically trained recruits than it was getting.

Statistics point to the fact that they were right. The state's industrial job force needs only 7.6 percent college graduates but requires 42 percent trained craftsmen or technicians. But until the appearance of some regional vocational schools in the last few years, only 4 percent of all highschool students were getting any training for the largest category of jobs. The percentage is still very low.

Ohio is probably a typical state in terms of vocational education. Throughout the United States, and in some other industrialized countries, vocational education has long been a stepchild. Only the academic curriculum has had prestige. The boy or girl who turns away from college to train for a job too often loses status in the eyes of his teachers and companions. The high school which boasts of the high proportion of its graduates going to college is disappointed in him.

The time has come to wipe out these old snobberies. One way to do this is to provide much better vocational education than is now offered. And to introduce it into schools and communities which now lack any form of technical training at the high school level.

Barbs and Praise

By DICK BROWN

Returning home to Mason after being away for 25 years or so is always a shock to a former Mason businessman. Shock was the reaction Glenn McNeilly had Friday morning when he stepped off in Mason.

McNeilly managed the Schmidt department store, located where Dancer's store now operates. He was a charter member of the Mason Lions club.

The shock came when he started asking questions about the businessmen of Mason at the time of his Schmidt connections. As he reeled off names of A. B. Ball, Nelson Brown, Vern Brown, Ross Thorburn, Earl Salisbury, Walt Peters, Floyd Harkness, Don VanderVein Sr., Hugh Slisby Sr., and many more who have departed, the shock became more and more apparent.

He recovered, though, when Neils Ferrity walked into the office.

McNeilly manages a Battle Creek shoe store and owns a chain of restaurants.

"It matters not who wins or loses, it's how you play the game." This quote, or words to that effect, will have to suffice for the lost weekend of sports we perennial sophomores in Michigan sustained.

It was a tough week in Mudville after booting home losers in the Mason-Gabriels football game, the Michigan State-Southern Cal contest, Michigan-California, Detroit-California and Lions-St. Louis.

Just to prove that it was a loser's week end, I also came out second best in a game of 21 with 11-year-old Tom on the driveway basketball court.

Oh, well. Wait until next year.

Just Thinking

By VERNON BROWN

I found a mimeographed letter under my doorstep the other day and after reading it thought that it would be worth repeating.

"Dear Sir or Madam: We have the distinct honor of being members of a committee to raise $50,000.00 to use for placing a statue of Lyndon B. Johnson in the Hall of Fame in Washington, D.C.

The Committee was in quite a quandary about selecting a proper location for the statue. It was thought unwise to place it beside that of General Washington, who never told a lie, or beside that of F.D.R. who never told the truth, since Johnson could never tell the difference.

After careful consideration we think it should be placed beside the statue of Christopher Columbus, the greatest of them all. He started out not knowing where he was going, and on arriving did not know where he was, and upon returning,

While there were plenty of losers around, President Johnson can get some satisfaction from being a recent winner. He lost George Hamilton as a prospective son-in-law but he won a U.S. marine.

Walter Reuther has been busy spouting off about the capitalistic, greedy automotive corporations. He talks like a handful of privileged capitalists, tightly grasping the reins of industry, are trying to do the common man out of everything.

Truth of the matter is that recent figures show that 20 million American people, (more than a quarter of the adult population, own stock in some 6,700 of the nation's industrial concerns.

What's more, 35 percent of these "capitalists" are housewives and widows. He wants to cut their ugly profit.

Few people will argue the fact that the tax squeeze is on homeowners.

Wilson Davis was doing some rummaging through old files recently and came up with a tax receipt dated 1915 which points out the squeeze.

The receipt, signed by George Deuhl, city treasurer, was for taxes paid on the first house the Davis' purchased in Mason. The valuation was placed at $600. Today the same house on Maple street carries a valuation figure of $4,000.

In 1915 the tax breakdown amounted to a state tax of $1.73; county tax of $2.07; school tax of $4.24; and city tax of $5.15 for a total real estate tax of $13.19.

Two 4-H Groups Complete Area Beautification Work

4-H helps youth develop into intelligent, capable citizens. The program sponsors citizenship, leadership, science, production of conservation, personal development, career exploration, family life, community improvement, and international understanding.

The Wheatfield club under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rector and the Vantown 4-H club under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Traver, have had community service projects during the year.

Their project kept the lawn mowed around the Grange Hall, mowed the softball diamond and painted the backstop on the softball diamond, built a flower bed in front of the Grange Hall and refinished picnic tables at the township hall.

This club had a delegate to work on a beautification program for other 4-H members of Ingham county on a project to re-do the courthouse lawn, at Mason. She attended several meetings along with other Ingham county 4-H members on community beautification. This club activity teaches 4-H members to do something for their community and at the same time beautify the community as well.

TRIP FOR TRASH--Youngsters of the Vantown 4-H club covered a 4-mile block collecting trash and rubbish. Shown is only a part of the day's collection.

Hunger Still Remains Despite Bumper Crops

BY MELVIN WOELL

In the Bible we read: "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved..." (Jeremiah)

In modern context and with different meaning, much the same could be said of the hungry people of the world in spite of a just-completed bumper crop year.

Crops over much of the world have been exceptionally good, and yet reports persist of hunger and malnutrition, with starvation a very real specter in many nations. Why should this be? In the Common Market area of Europe, all countries except Italy registered remarkable increases in grain crops, France has a crop of 4.5 million tons higher than last year and West Germany, 3 million tons more than a year ago.

For the first time in some years the harvest has been good in Russia and a number of satellite countries. Even in Red China, wherever internal strife has not halted production, there are good harvests.

Here in the United States, American farmers have harvested the largest crop on record with soybeans reaching the one-billion bushel mark for the first time in history and the wheat crop expected to reach a record 1.5 billion bushels.

Since world harvests are excellent, why then the starvation? "Traditional eating habits, religious taboos, prejudice, nutritional ignorance, low income, lack of processing facilities, inefficient handling and distribution and avoidable wastes and losses" are reasons listed by Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

The answer? "Greater capital investments in agriculture by the involved nations and improved know-how," says Shuman, who adds that there are ample natural resources and knowledge in the world to produce all the food needed, but that socialist nations cannot efficiently use either because of their government-managed economy which prevents the incentives of profit.

4-H Farm and City Clubs Stage Exchange Day Event

As a citizenship project to encourage better understanding of others who live in different areas, the Tomlinson 4-H club had a Farm-City club Exchange day Saturday with the Bishopettes club of Greater Lansing as their guests.

The group of 50 4-Hers left the home of leader Phyllis Brown at noon for a hayride tour of the Blossom Orchard of Leslie where Jay Wardowski gave a tour of the orchard, the packing room, the grading and sorting machinery and the cider press. Next stop was at the Charles and Dennis Smalleys antique steam engine and thrasher display.

From there they traveled to the swine farm of Russell Rows where he gave a tour of his farming operation. Ron and Gary Rowe gave a 4-H demonstration on fitting and showing swine. At the next stop Lewis Shaw assembled and explained his milkers, milk conveyor and bulk tank. He then showed the group his dairy setup and showed the silage operation in progress.

Mrs. Harold Relyea served afternoon refreshment furnished by the cooking girls. The hayride then continued to the Dansville State Game area where it joined the horse members who had a morning trail ride to this area and set up an overnight camp, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Parker. They were assisted by the Duane Barrs. The horse members gave demonstrations on fitting and horsemanship, ending their part of the program with rides for all.

A hotdog campfire supper was served to the group, after which games and a scavenger hunt was enjoyed.

Another special guest for the day was Piergiorgio Maule, International Farm Youth Exchange from Italy and Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Houghton, lead-

Home Rule City Talked in Leslie

LESLIE--The Leslie village council Monday night passed a resolution setting a special election for Tuesday, December 12 on the question of Leslie becoming a home rule city.

At the same time voters will elect 8 charter commissioners to draft the charter. These petitions must be filed with the village clerk by Tuesday, October 24 and must each bear 20 signatures of registered village electors.

Voting in the November election does not qualify electors to vote in a village election.

Ten days after the election, if the vote is favorable, the commission must convene to draft the new charter which must be submitted to the people by a special election within 90 days, along with a slate of officers which the charter will create.

There will be at least one public hearing on the pros and cons of becoming a home rule city, but the date and place have not yet been set.

In other action the council: Granted Gary Davenport, sewer plant operator, permission to attend a 2-day training meeting in Flint, November 8 and 9, with the village paying his expenses.

Waterfront Conservation

By Elmer E. White

Debris. Pollution. Stagnation. Stench. These rapidly turn beautiful inland lakes and rivers into smelly, unsightly eyesores. Communities once proud of their attractive waterfronts now see all sorts of rubbish crowd out green and wooded shoreline. Sparkling blue water becomes sluggish and brown.

But forward-looking communities can deal with such conditions. Public-spirited citizens can restore and maintain original beauty through community cooperation. The city of Owosso, using local volunteer labor, has completed now its second annual cleanup of 3 1/2 miles of Shiawassee river shoreline.

An editorial in the Owosso Argus-Press on May 7, 1965, pointed out that the city's "Cleanup Week" might include improving the appearance of the Shiawassee river.

Nothing was done that year, but in July of 1966 the Shiawassee River Assn. proposed a community-wide river cleanup. The city proclaimed July 30-31 Owosso "River Days" and under the leadership of local attorney James S. Minor, citizens rolled up their sleeves.

Businesses and the Argus-Press promoted the project throughout the month, and more than 500 persons turned out to restore charm and cleanliness to the river and shoreline.

The city supplied a bulldozer to deepen the river and level riverbed "humps." City and privately-owned trucks were used to haul away junk and debris. Refreshments and food were furnished to workers by residents living along the river. Teenage workers outnumbered adults. Crews cleared more than a mile of river bank as the first step toward building a riverside walkway from the east city limits to downtown.

Participation was strong again this year. Following last year's turnout there was speculation that citizens would lose interest in future cleanups. However, about 150 people showed up August 12-13 to continue the improvement program.

"We had fewer people this year, but we didn't need as many," Minor commented.

Project to Encourage More College Students In Politics and GOP

A new program to encourage outstanding college students to become active in politics and to interest them in public service careers will be launched at the University of Michigan, November 18 under auspices of the Republican Party of Michigan, Party State Chairman Ely M. Peterson, announced today.

Known as "Opportunities, Unlimited," the project is designed to attract more young people into the Republican party as well as to induce them to participate in politics and government.

Mrs. Peterson said, "We're attempting to show the uncommitted college leader that his ideas and abilities can best be expressed and used through active participation in a political party and that the Republican party wants his talents. We also plan to expose these young men and women to the career opportunities available in public service."

The "Opportunities, Unlimited" conference is sponsored jointly by the Michigan Republican State Central committee and the Republican National committee. University of Michigan College Young Republican club members will be conference hosts.

HOME announced today that it was calling a statewide meeting in Lansing on October 7 for all organizations and people concerned with civil rights. The October 7 open-housing rally will be an effort to persuade Governor Romney to place open-occupancy legislation on the agenda of the Special Fall Session of the Michigan Legislature. In a telegram to Robert Craig, Chairman of the HOME Rally Committee, Ingham County Democratic Chairman James A. Harrison pledged the complete support and cooperation of his organization in any effort to achieve open-housing legislation in Michigan. Harrison stated that Ingham County Democrats would join the rally in Lansing on October 7 at 11 a.m. in Union Baptist church, 1020 W. Hillsdale street, Lansing.

"We got twice as much junk from the river last year, and it appears that Owosso residents have learned not to use the river as a dumping ground."

The city has increased enforcement of anti-litter laws. Police and residents have become highly sensitive to offenders throwing trash into the water.

Benefits of waterfront improvement are numerous. Restoration of natural beauty, water conservation, increased property values and expansion of community park and recreation facilities can result. And such a community effort brings a feeling of community accomplishment and pride.

The idea has already caught on in other parts of Shiawassee County. It may start a trend.

$29 MILLION PROBLEM

Resort owners along Lake Michigan can expect next year's alewife problem to be as bad as this year, according to Dr. Wayne Tody, chief of the Michigan Fishery Division, Department of Conservation.

In 1967, miles of sandy beaches were covered with dead alewife, an almost useless fish about the size of a herring.

Most effective control over exploding alewife population is introducing millions of coho smelts (Pacific salmon) to the Great Lakes. Salmon find alewife tasty meals upon which to multiply, Dr. Tody points out.

However, at the rate Michigan is producing the smelt control may never be reached. Three to four million smelts can be hatched each year under present facilities, he notes. Long-term goals call for 45 million smelts; 30 million from hatcheries and 15 million from natural hatching in Michigan streams.

The problem is financing. Some Federal funds are available on a match-money basis, but the entire project is estimated at $29,500,000. The lion's share would have to be financed with state monies since there is a ceiling on Federal participation.

If financing were made available this fiscal year, it would still be 1975 before full effects of the project would be felt, Dr. Tody said.

The solution to the problem rests with the people. Legislators respond to constituents. If the people wish to eliminate alewife littering beaches, clogging water intake lines and depressing more desirable species of fish, they must make their wishes known.

Hurricane Beulah Hits IFYE Delegate's Village

By RON DROSCHA

IFYE In Mexico

Water, water everywhere and not a drop to drink; Water, water everywhere and watch the houses shrink!

This was my immediate reaction when I reached Rio Verde, the day after "Beulah." This same cyclone became well known in Texas for her destruction. Real evidence of the power of water was felt in many of the surrounding villages in north central Mexico.

Making the last leg of my journey to the small village in which I am now living, I wondered how the people survived. The streets had been ripped and many of the homes were literally dissolved.

In this village nearly all of the homes are made of brick adobe, a natural soil condition which allows one to cut a brick out of common mud and to build with it. The walls, when dry, are unbelievably strong and are used to keep out animals and rain.

When the rain first started that day no one was alarmed. It is common for it to rain 4 or 5 inches in any day. But at noon, as the rain increased with high winds, the residents became concerned.

It was only minutes before a flood wave came rushing down the main street, sweeping animals and small children with it. Evidence still remains of water at least 5 feet deep in the streets.

Imagine the conditions inside the homes! Believe it or not, it was fairly dry—until 2 hours later. Then the mud bricks began to dissolve, not one by one, but whole walls at once. In came the water and out went the residents. The grass roofs floated away as the owners swam for the safety of a tree or hill.

That is how it looked when I arrived about 10 the next morning, many people homeless and all the schools and public buildings which remained were open to sick and hungry stragglers. Around my present home, which is located on a hill, thank goodness, farmers had staked out their remaining livestock.

Some of the residents made light of the tragic situation, saying, "This is the Mexican Exposition. Here on the right is the dairy display, on the left is the swine, and oh over there is an 'ornery old sow' who had to give birth to 8 little ones in the middle of the flood waters."

Federal help soon arrived, and food and clothing were distributed to those without them. Some persons, somewhat rested after a weary night, began wandering back to their homeless plots, waiting for the mud to dry so they could rebuild their homes.

At the present time I am about 250 miles north of Mexico City in the state of San Luis Potosi. The climate here is sub-tropical and this is the rainy season. This is my third home, one per month.

About That 'Kill' Cheer

By Douglas Dilday

It seems that there has been a great deal of controversy about the cheers that are yelled during Mason football games. One cheer that has really gotten kicked around is the one where everyone says "KILL."

As a member of the team, I would like to say that the "Kill Cheer" came from the defensive unit of the varsity squad. It was and is used to

2 Vandalism Cases Probed

Two cases of malicious destruction of property were reported to the Ingham County Sheriff's department last Thursday.

Phillip V. Shirley, 262 S. Waverly road, Aurelius township, reported that when he came to work at his farm on Branson Bay drive, just south of Columbia road, he found that 70 feet of rail fence had been torn down and thrown into the roadway.

Ida M. Mathews, 3650 Aurelius road Onondaga township reported that early last Thursday evening she heard a car slow up in front of her home and then some one threw a walnut through a front window of the house. Then, she said, the car speeded away.

"psych out" the offensive players and that is its one and only purpose. No one else hears the yell on the field because everything is so loud with the fans and all, and the playing field is where the players keep it. Mason isn't the only team which uses it, either. Other teams in the league use this cry, plus some college teams, such as Notre Dame, so, it must have some effect. Besides, Mason used this yell all last year and no one said anything until this year when people other than the players picked it up.

Now people who think this cheer is used to fire up everyone have taken it and exposed it to the public. Thus others who associate this word with a hoodlum, maniac action have led others to frown on this form of raising defensive spirit.

This cheer belongs to the team, and the team alone, but

According to state officials the Huron board has an allocation system superior to that used in many other counties.

Michigan Frontier Area Open to Public Sunday

One of the very few remaining frontiers in southern Michigan, seen by only a few people since Michigan became a state, will become available to those who appreciate nature's untouched beauty, Sunday afternoon, October 8.

Located in Lenawee county, 2 miles southeast of Hudson, Michigan, 8 miles north of the Michigan-Ohio line, and recently located and purchased by the Eastern Michigan Nature association, the 55 acre area is densely wooded bottomlands out from other farmland by a meandering loop of Bean Creek.

"The Bean Creek Nature Sanctuary will be preserved as a natural living arboretum and nature study area without benefit of modern improvements," Miss Bertha Daubendiek of Saginaw, Secretary of the Eastern Michigan Nature Association, said.

Opening day for the sanctuary, to which the public is invited, will feature an old-fashioned pot-luck type Sunday dinner from 12 noon until 2 p.m., followed by foot trips guided by members of the association and Toledo Naturalists association. Visitors should wear comfortable clothing suitable for tramping through fields and woods.

After October 8, the sanctuary may be visited at any time by individuals or groups. A register box and self-guiding sheet of instructions will be the only facilities provided.

Miss Daubendiek says that, "Since Lenawee County was first pioneered in 1829, and the land which is now the sanctuary was 'located' through government patent by the original owners in 1834, the 160 acre farm of which it was a part has passed through very few hands. It remained in one family's possession for over 117 years (1840-1957), and during all that time no way of crossing over the Bean Creek into the wooded area, which is partially flooded at times, was ever made.

"An astonishing variety of trees is the most spectacular feature of the Bean Creek sanctuary. It is an outstanding example of the original magnificence of our rich native forests, a splendid mixed stand with many species not common in Michigan today. Fifty species of trees, half of all the kinds that are native to Michigan, have already been identified there," she said.

The various trees have been labeled by a committee of EMNA directors assisted by local amateur naturalists over a mile long trail which is the only walking path that will be put into the woods.

Bean Creek Nature Sanctuary is the ninth nature area purchased by the Association solely for the purpose of preserving examples of Michigan's native flora and fauna and keeping them as nearly as possible as they were when the early settlers came.

EMNA is just now entering into its second year of a 3-year drive to establish 20 nature sanctuaries in both the lower and upper peninsulas of Michigan. The program is supported entirely by contributions of members and the interested public.

Gabriels Defense Throttles Mason for 13-0 CC Victory

Doug Dilday came up fast Friday night to stop Mike Curl on this end sweep. Gabriels earned a 13-0 win in a tight defensive struggle.

Mason is still looking for its first football win of the season. Friday night Gabriels turned back the Bulldogs 13-0 for the third loss of the season and the second in Capital Circuit play.

Friday night Mason will have another tough assignment. The O'Rafferty Raiders will come to Mason and they are smarting from the last-quarter let-down which allowed Okemos to pull from far behind to victory. The Raiders have a strong offensive attack with fancy runners and a good passing game.

That's what is worrying Coach Bruce DePue and his Bulldogs this week. In the 3 games played Mason has shown vulnerability to the air attack. Gabriels has a Friday night date with Haslett. This should be a breather for the Rocks. Haslett has not a game yet.

While Mason lost another Friday night, there were some bright spots. The defense played much better with Doug Dilday, Keith Kranz, Joel Argersinger, Dale Lawson, Gordon Clark and Rick Hoadley doing much of the work up front.

The offense just couldn't get going against Gabriels. Handicapped by penalties and a couple of costly fumbles, Mason just couldn't open up.

Miscues dulled the drives in spite of the fact that Craig Webster and Doug Engle came up with good runs.

Neither team could get away to a fast start but late in the first quarter the Rocks put 6 points on the board when Jim DiVetri broke loose for 17 yards and a score. A pass from Chris Rundle to Bill Montgomery providing the extra point.

Mason had a golden opportunity go sour late in the second quarter after Hoadley had recovered a Rock fumble on the Gabriels 30. Ron Underwood, Engle and Webster punched away at the line for one first down but the Rock defenders dug in and held.

The third quarter was all defense with neither team able to put together a sustained drive. Mason's one threat was nipped on an intercepted pass. Gabriels had its one threat cut off when Kranz covered a fumble.

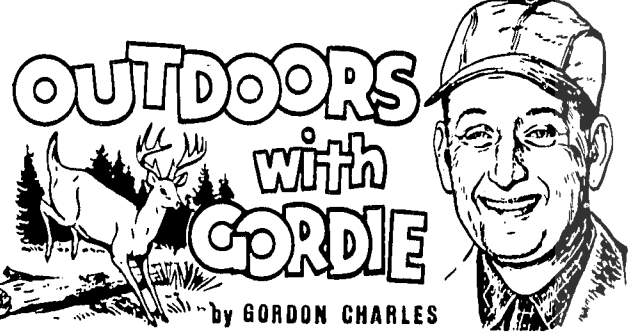

Late in the last quarter Gabriels started a drive from its own 15. Punching away for short gainers plus one 11-yard pass play, the Rocks scored on Rundle's roll out run covering the final 13 yards.

Mason made one more bid with Webster breaking loose on a 50-yard run but he was finally forced out of bounds on the Gabriels 25. A pass to Jim Powers picked up a first down but time ran out on the Bulldogs.

Mason's Dave McClung jarred Chris Rundle, Gabriels quarterback, loose from the ball in this bit of action.

Unless we miss our guess badly, some member of the Legislature is going to come up with the idea that "there ought to be a law" to prevent fishermen from drowning themselves.

This will be one outcome of the September 23 disaster off Frankfort when a still-unknown number of fishermen, drawn there by the coho salmon fishing, were caught in a squall and drowned. Shocking though it was, it still points up the fact that all the laws in the world won't prevent some fishermen from taking terrible chances with their lives.

Sportsmen who know and respect the Great Lakes have been saying for many weeks that the big waters were going to claim some lives. The U.S. Coast Guard, responsible for enforcing safety laws on the Great Lakes, have been almost beside themselves trying to stop fishermen from going out in almost anything that would float.

You name it--somebody had it out in Lake Michigan fishing from it. Midget boats that would almost be out of place on an inland puddle were plying the waters alongside canoes, rafts and elaborate cabin cruisers. Despite the fact that federal law requires life preservers for every passenger, violations were more common than compliance with the law.

Even today, with the disaster behind, some fishermen seem to have learned nothing by the example. Unsafe boats are still working Lake Michigan waters as the fishermen in them succumb to coho fever

Glads Topple Panthers With Power to Spare

The football Panthers of Stockbridge high school were turned into a group of tame cats by Fowlerville Friday night as the Gladiators romped to a 31-13 victory in the first league contest for both teams.

Fowlerville proved that they are a power to be reckoned with when they scored 24 points in the first half then coasted the rest of the way with reserves playing much of the 2nd half.

About the only bright spot in the game for the Panthers was the passing of quarterback Ron Mead who hit on 5 of 13 for long yardage, and reserve quarterback Bruce Barbour who passed for a touchdown.

Fowlerville started their scoring when John Allshouse passed to M. Sober for a 17 yard scoring play to cap a 30 yard march in the first period. The drive started after the Glads recovered a Panther fumble.

In the 2nd quarter Chuck Hicks blocked a Stockbridge punt on the Panther 10 yard line and Larry Sparks promptly rambled into the end zone for another 6 pointer. Later in the same period, Gary Kenroy plunged the last 4 yards to end a 60 yard drive by Fowlerville. Shortly before the first half ended Allshouse went to the air again, hitting Mel Lewis for 30 yards and another TD. The teams left the field for intermission with the Panthers trailing 24-0.

It looked like the Panthers might be coming to life in the 3rd quarter when Mead hit end Barbour to end Bob Price. Benny Bennett booted the extra point.

High defensive point getters for Stockbridge were Howard Adams with 33; Phil Harris, 27; Brian Boyce, 16; and Fred Singer, 14. Harris had another pass interception Friday night, making a total of 3 for the season so far.

Both the varsity and junior varsity teams will be in action Wednesday, October 4. The varsity will be at Dansville for an afternoon game at 4 p.m. and the little Panthers will play host to Dansville at 7:30 p.m.

Stop--This was the usual view Mason quarterback Ron Underwood saw when he attempted to pass Friday night against Gabriels. Big Jim Labioda aimed for Underwood as he led the charge for the Mason passer.

and continue willing to take unnecessary risks.

If a fisherman does not care enough about his own life or that of his companions, how in the world can anyone be so optimistic as to think common sense can be legislated?

Fished the right way, from safe boats and in safe boating weather, the coho salmon can provide some of the finest fishing Michigan has ever seen. It would be a shame if the Legislature, prodded by well-meaning people to "do something," should cripple the entire fishery by unnecessary restrictions. Misguided emotion could do this without accomplishing a thing.

"There ought to be a law," indeed! There IS a law. There are a whole bundle of laws designed to keep fishing a safe sport. Yet, all the laws in the world can't guard the fisherman from his own worst enemy--himself.

Until every fisherman learns this for himself and keeps it in mind at all times, we will continue to have tragedies on the water.

Peewee Football

In Peewee Football action last week, the Golden Eagles and Green Hornets continued their winning ways with the Eagles winning over the Vikings 28-0 and the Hornets over the Wolverines 13-0.

The Eagles were led by Terry Wright's 3 TDs and defensive standouts Tony Ryal and Jim Vanderveen, who led a defensive line that scored a safety. For the Vikings, Terry Mulvaney gained some good yardage with several fine runs.

Jim Collins and Doug McClung scored a TD each for the Hornets while Mike Kotola and Mark Elfert led the defense. The defensive line of the Wolves, led by Stan May, Jeff Sheldon and Russell Copen, kept the Hornets fairly well contained most of the game.

Craig Webster, Jim Engle and Jim Powers did the officiating.

This weeks games feature Golden Eagles vs the Roaches and the Wolverines vs the Vikings. The Hornets draw a bye.

Seeley Sparks Hounds To Win over Haslett

Eaton Rapids took advantage of a good night by John Seeley and rolled over Haslett 28-14. Seeley played quarterback, halfback and fullback at various times Friday night and scored 2 touchdowns as well as passing for a third.

Friday night Seeley and company will play at Howell. The Highlanders were having tough sledding until Friday night when they jumped on Holt for a 13-6 upset win.

Haslett has a tough job lined up for Friday night. The Vikings will entertain the Gabriels scoring machine.

The Eaton Rapids win gives the Greyhounds a 1-1-1 season record. The loss was the third straight in as many starts for Haslett.

Eaton Rapids did not waste any time getting on the scoreboard. With Seeley at a halfback post the Greyhounds picked up 2 touchdowns in the first period. Seeley blasted over from the 7-yard line for one and capped that with a 13-yard touchdown run.

The Lakers came back with a touchdown when Pete Raphael plunged over from the 2. Seeley switched over to quarter in the second quarter and with 5 seconds remaining in the half tossed a 35-yard TD bomb Al Haskell.

Eaton Rapids picked up one more touchdown in the third quarter on an 8-yard dive by John Colestock.

Haslett's hope flared briefly when Raphael took the kick-off back for 80 yards and a touchdown but the Eaton Rapids defense was up to the job and throttled any more scoring threats.

Hornets Sting Aggies

Williamston came up with a 14-0 win over Dansville in its first Ingham County league outing and joined Leslie and Fowlerville in the top flight of the young season.

Friday night the Hornets will put their bid on the line over at Leslie. Dansville will try to pick up its first league win Wednesday afternoon when Stockbridge comes to Aggie land.

Dansville held down the Hornets Friday night until late in the first half when Dan Gullick picked off a pass interception and raced 35 yards for the tally. Mark Hatt ran the extra point over.

Then in the third quarter Dave Faustman found an opening and scooted 35 yards for another Williamston touchdown. This time Tom Hendricks went over with the extra point. That ended the scoring.

Frosh Get by Gabriels

Mason's freshman grid squad made it 2 straight Wednesday night by stopping Gabriels 14-6 in the first home game of the season.

As was the case against Okemos the previous week, Mason used a strong defensive game with a strong running game for the win.

The Bulldogs picked up an early touchdown when Chuck Perfit broke through tackle and raced 45 yards. Dan O'Brien banged over the extra point. Later in the first half Perfit and Gary LaMothe took turns reeling off long gainers as Mason moved the ball to the one. Perfit again went over and added the extra point.

In the second half a couple of long passes put the Rocks on the one yard line and they went over from there. The try for the extra point was stopped.

In the closing seconds Gabriels again took to the air but was stopped on the one foot line as the game ended.

Wednesday night Mason will take on O'Rafferty at Athletic field. The game is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Lifetime Production Levels For Area Holsteins Listed

Lifetime milk and butterfat production levels for Registered Holstein cows in this area have been announced by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The individual animals have been credited with career production totals exceeding 100,000 lbs. of milk under official testing supervision.

Because of current replacement heifer rearing and purchase costs, cows that stay in the herd longer and achieve high lifetime production have proven to be more profitable. The Holstein Association has more than 26,800 cows on file that have attained the 50-ton production milestone.

Local Holstein breeders and their long-time producers reported by the organization include:

Spring Frost, Hail Storms Damage Area Fruit Yields

Frequent freezes last spring have taken their toll in the fall fruit crop in Ingham county.

Charles Dockter, owner of Dockter's Orchard in Dansville, said the freezes, combined with the 2 spring hail storms, brought his crop this fall to about a quarter of normal production.

He said apples have been about 25 per cent, cherries, about 20 per cent and plums less than 20 per cent.

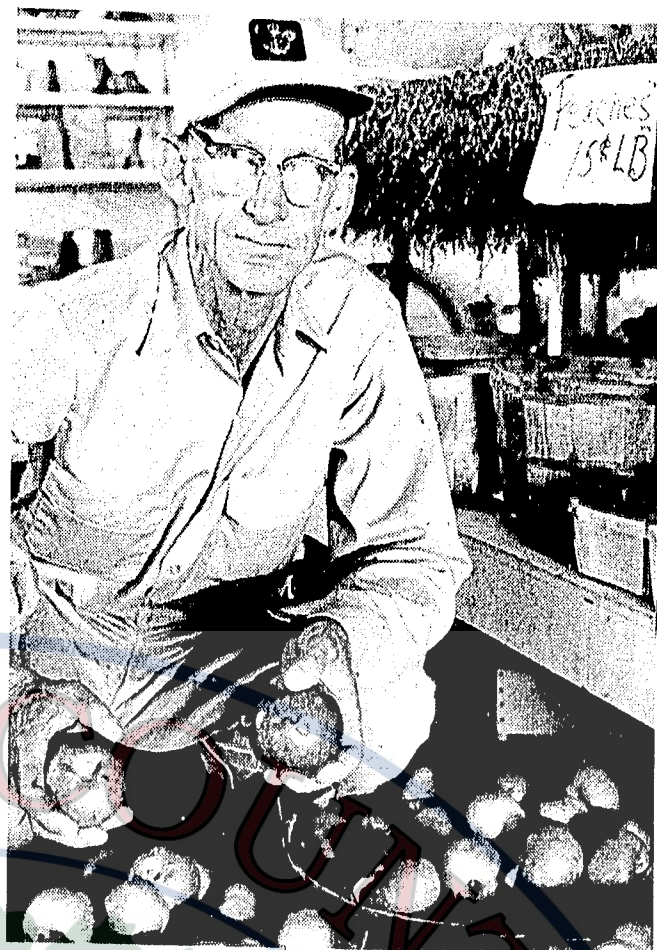

Dockter said there have been no other problems with this year's fruit crop. "We can handle the insects and we don't need the large labor forces so the weather, which we can't do anything about, is our only real problem," he said.

Blossom Orchard in Leslie did not show quite as much of a loss from the spring frost. "The quality of the fruit is exceptionally good this year. The cool nights we have been having lately have been very good for the apples especially," Alfred Wardowski, owner of Blossom Orchard, said. "They have been getting more color and more sugar in them because of the cool air."

Wardowski said he has found no labor problem this year. He said the big labor requirement is only starting now and will continue for the next week or 2. "If they stay with me I won't have any problem at all," he said.

Crop production has been short in Wardowski's orchard, as it has throughout the state. He said peaches and pears are about half a crop, apples are about 3/4 of normal, and plums have been close to normal.

Robert Palmer, owner of Palmer Orchard in Leslie, said the losses have not been too bad for his orchard. "They were bad, but not as bad as we expected," he said. Pears and peaches are poor, apples and plums are fair, he said. He estimated that the crop as a whole is about 2/3 of normal production. Palmer said there have been no problems other than weather this year. "We always have to fight the insects, but we seem to have them under control," he said.

HAIL DAMAGE -- Charles Dockter points out some of the damage done to the apple crop due to the spring hail storms.

State Farmers Buy Increasing Numbers Of Drying Machines

Since much of Michigan's corn crop is used on the farm where it's harvested, more farmers are purchasing their own corn drying equipment.

Robert G. White, Michigan State university agricultural engineer, says volume is the best key to determine the method of drying needed on any particular farm, but it should not be used alone as the basis for making the choice. Existing equipment and storages, labor available, expansion abilities and market outlets need consideration.

In general, White makes these suggestions:

(1) Select drying equipment that has the capacity to dry in 16 hours, the amount of corn that can be harvested in 10 hours or one day.

(2) Select harvesting equipment that has the capacity to harvest the crop in 15 days or one-half of the allowable harvesting period of 30 days.

(3) The rate of drying depends on temperature of the drying air, humidity of the air, rate of air flow and to a lesser extent, the moisture of the grain kernel.

Investments for drying equipment will depend on capacities, drying rate, and the number of automatic controls and conveying equipment. Operating costs run from 1/2 to 1/4 of a cent per point of most moisture removed.

Farm Views And News

By R.C. LOTT

One of the questions often asked is: "What type of farming pays the biggest returns?" There is no simple answer. Furthermore, the answer is not the same every year.

Perhaps the best answer would be the type of farming you like to do and can do best--if it makes you money.

Analysis of Michigan State university Telfarm accounts over a 5-year period gives some averages for the state. But whether these figures would be correct for every individual in every county is a different story.

Analysis of these records show that potato farmers earned an average of 15.2 percent on their investment in this 5-year period--a labor income average of $15,532. Cash grain farmers were next with a 7.6 percent average return on investment and a $3,987 labor income.

Third was the swine raiser with 6.7 percent return on investment but a $4,744 labor income. Southern Michigan dairy farmers earned 5.6 percent on investment and an average labor income of $3,877.

Beef cattle feeders made only 5.4 percent return on investment and a labor return of $3,079. Tree fruit farmers had the lowest return--3.4 percent on investment and labor income of only $619 annually.

Regardless of the type of enterprise, cover crops help conserve the soil. Farmers not planning to put wheat on silage and field bean land now being harvested may want to consider planting rye for a cover crop.

While October 1 is near the "late" period for planting rye, it often makes good growth before freezing sets in and makes excellent growth in early spring.

Farmers planting rye late for winter cover may want to use from 1/2 to 2 bushels of seed. Balbo is the recommended variety for cover. If the soil has been tested recently, use the same fertilizer program recommended for small grain.

Heavy spring winds, runoff of water from melting snow and spring rains often cause erosion that rye can help control. Plowing down the rye early next spring will add humus to the soil and help make fertilizer more effective.

Potato Rail Rates Cut Second Time

Use of a new type of railroad car that facilitates bulk loading of potatoes has resulted in a lowering of rates to some southern points, the second time this year that Michigan potato shippers have received a rate reduction.

The lower rail rates were achieved by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's marketing division. It is a part of the department's effort to improve markets for the agricultural products of our state, said the director, B. Dale Ball. The potato industry has been placed in stronger competitive position through lower rail rates to the south.

Savings up to $210 a car are made possible through lower rates that permit bulk loading. The cars have built-in equipment for loading and unloading bulk potatoes. This type car had its first use in Michigan recently on a 2-car shipment to a potato chip manufacturer in Atlanta, Georgia. Cars were loaded at Pearl in Allegan county by Metz Brothers. The shipper was Hybel Produce company of Kalamazoo.

The hundredweight rail rate from Pearl to Atlanta on the bulk shipment was 92 cents. Compared to the previous rate of $1.34 a hundredweight, the saving was 42 cents a hundredweight. This is in addition to the savings in bags.

Earlier this year efforts of the state agricultural department paid off to the Michigan potato shipper when a rail rate reduction of as much as 46 cents a hundredweight to some southern destinations was granted. This could mean a saving of up to a quarter of a million dollars annually to the state's potato industry.

Michigan this year is expected to harvest about 91/4 million hundredweight of potatoes. Considerable of the crop goes to manufacturers such as potato chip makers and soup plants. Nationally about 35 per cent of the potato crop goes to manufacturers.

JCC Library To Honor Atkinson

Jackson Community college's proposed library for its new campus will be named in honor of Dr. William N. Atkinson, president, the board of trustees announced recently. The structure, one of 6 yet to be added to the Summit township campus during the first phase of its development, will be known as the William N. Atkinson Resources center.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENTS ON PREMISES

PHIL YOUNG OWNER

BIG, BETTER CABBAGE--Irrigating half of a field of cabbage has proved to James Zeitz of Stockbridge that it is well worth the time, effort and additional costs. He estimates his crop will show an increase of 500 tons this year because of irrigation.

For Stockbridge Man

Irrigation of Cabbage Crop Proves Profitable

Does irrigation of farm crops really help production? As far as Jim Zeitz of 2224 Catholic Church road, Stockbridge, is concerned the answer is: "You bet!"

Zeitz experimented with irrigation this year in half of his cabbage acreage. Half of his 25 acres in the crop was near a creek, this received approximately 3 inches of water at important times during the growing months.

What were the results? The crop receiving no benefits of the irrigation is going to produce about 20 tons of cabbage to the acre, while the watered cabbages will produce 35 tons to the acre, an increase of 15 tons.

Zeitz estimates that his irrigation practices will increase his total yield by 500 tons or more--certainly proof as far as he is concerned about irrigation's value.

Thinking to next year's cabbage crop, Zeitz dug a 12-inch well in August about 110 feet down. This well produces 250 gallons of water per minute and brings the water within 5 feet of the surface. Next year's crop will be totally irrigated.

With 25 acres planted in cabbage, Zeitz has a lot of potential saurkraut on hand. He contracted with a Jonesville saurkraut plant and makes 3 runs to daily to the factory during harvest season. The farmer has 2 trucks and hauls 5 tons of cabbage per load, amounting to 1/3 of the total tonnage supplied to Jonesville.

Zeitz also drives the furthest distance of all the cabbage suppliers going to Jonesville. A family operation, Zeitz has help with some of the driving to market duties from his daughter Nancy.

He and his sons harvest the crop. During the cabbage planting and growing season Zeitz has some migrant labor help. A Mexican family helps Zeitz with his harvest of 5 acres of cucumbers and then assists with some of the hoeing duties in the cabbage field.

In addition to cukes and cabbages, he also has 6 acres planted in cauliflower.

Probably 2 other reasons attributing to Zeitz' success are his heavy use of fertilizers including the micronutrients and hand sowing of his cabbage seed. The seed is planted in a small area and when it reaches a height of 3 or 4 inches is transplanted out in the field. During the growing season the plants were sprayed twice for cabbage worms. The Stockbridge farmer is anticipating a real big year next summer for his irrigation system will be 100 percent in operation.

Guidelines for Better Farmer-Hunter Relations

As the hunting season approaches, Michigan hunters should review a few hunting rules as carefully as they check their equipment, Michigan State university game management specialists say.

Michigan United Conservation clubs, farm organizations, the Michigan Conservation department and the MSU Cooperative Extension Service have joined in an effort to maintain good relations between farmers and sportsmen. MSU specialists point out that some Michigan conservation clubs continue to offer rewards for the conviction of hunters causing damage to farm property. One of the main reasons for the reward is that thoughtlessness has caused a great deal of private land to be posted.

Extension specialists list a few simple rules for hunters:
1. Hunting on another man's land is a privilege. Abuse of that privilege usually results in loss of a place to hunt.
2. Never hunt on a farm without permission. Ask the farmer first--he expects and has a right to grant or refuse hunting privileges on his land.

3. Proper introduction to a farmer will help get permission to hunters on a farm. Farmers like to know who is on their land.

4. Guns and dogs should be kept in the car until after hunting permission is granted. As common courtesy, a hunter should not approach a house with a gun in hand.

5. Don't impose upon a farmer or land owner by hunting with a large party or when another group is already on the land. An "army" of hunters and dogs will be resented. Three or 4 persons to a party is sufficient.

6. Locate farm boundaries before you venture into the field. This will prevent trespassing problems.

7. Note location of livestock and perishable crops such as soybeans, alfalfa, clover and buckwheat.

Farmers do not appreciate hunters and dogs trampling through these fields or near areas where livestock are pastured.

8. Keep dogs under control at all times, and don't allow them to chase livestock.

9. Always close gates. No farmer likes to round up his cattle on a neighbor's farm.

10. Don't break down fences. Go under them, or climb over at fence posts. If necessary, dogs should be lifted over fences.

11. Observe game laws and gun safety rules. Don't fire shotguns in the direction of livestock or buildings, even though they may be out of range.

12. Keep guns unloaded and pointed in a safe direction when near people and livestock. Firing guns near farm animals may frighten them.

13. Be careful with matches and cigarettes. Don't be a litterbug.

2 Officials Re-elected To Association Posts

Two Ingham county officials have been reelected to top posts in the United County Officers association of Michigan. Harry Spenny, county treasurer, was named again to the presidency of the group and Mia Belle Humphrey, county register of deeds, was elected secretary - treasurer for another term.

Vice-president of the association is George Farris, prosecuting attorney for Macolm county, who was also re-elected.

The association met September 26 for its annual meeting at which time members elected officers and discussed possible legislation to be proposed to the state to aid counties.

The association is made up of all elected officials from each of Michigan's 83 counties.

Chest X-ray Service Set

DANSVILLE--A free chest X-ray service will be conducted in Dansville, October 9. Louis Philip, coordinator for the Ingham County mobile X-ray service, said the mobile unit will be in operation at the high school from 3 to 4:30 p.m.

Everyone age 21 and over is urged to take advantage of this free health service to check for TB and other chest conditions.

Summer Has Provided Delicious Vegetables

By EILEEN BELL
Extension Marketing
Agent

Summer will soon end but how thankful we are for the beautiful, delicious fresh vegetables—tender, crisp, colorful and sun-drenched. Do treat them with tender, loving care. Keep the color and vitamin-rich goodness by careful handling. Keep fresh vegetables refrigerated until the last minute before preparation, clean them quickly and cook in the smallest amount of moisture the shortest possible time—'til just fork tender. They can be steamed, baked, braised, fried, or broiled.

Local vegetable offerings include green beans, wax beans, sweet corn, eggplant, carrots, peas, onions, summer squash and cabbage. Tomatoes come into-market in large amounts now with lower price than they have been all summer. The cherry tomatoes are flavorful. This is the time to serve green peppers often. You may want to freeze a few for next winter when the prices skyrocket. The hard-shelled squash coming into vegetable displays remind us that fall is coming soon.

Recent hot weather has been good for the melon crop. Can-taloupes from nearby fields are ripe and sweet smelling, as well as reasonably priced—low as 4 average or 5 small ones for a dollar.

Better quality and lower price than previously make the Thompson seedless green grapes look—and taste—tempting.

Blueberry quality and price shows wide variation. Avoid dirty berries with stems and reddish, tinted berries. Peaches, pears, plums and apples, the Michigan Apple Council reports, as apples will be nice size. Not as many apples, though. About half as much applesauce as last year will be canned. For flavor, color and crispness, Michigan apples are always tops.

District Church Meet in Dansville

DANSVILLE--The Dansville Free Methodist church will host the fall session of the Lansing District Quarterly Meeting this Saturday and Sunday, October 7 and 8.

The newly elected district superintendent, Rev. Carl W. Koerner, will preside at the meeting.

Saturday's schedule includes the district business conference at 9 a.m., a report on Free Methodist work in Ireland at 2:30 p.m. and a youth rally at 7:30 p.m. featuring Lucien Behar, a leader in the denominational Christian Witness crusade program.

On Sunday Rev. Koerner will speak at 11 a.m., Miss Gertrude Haight will speak at the missionary rally at 2:45 p.m. and Behar will speak at the closing service at 7:15 p.m. Church events this week included "Music 1967" which was presented during the Sunday evening family gospel hour. Thirteen groups were featured. Some 80 persons were on hand to hear the varied program which included solos, duets, ladies trio, Crusader Quartet (male), Cadet choir, instrumental numbers on piano and trombone, and several other selections.

Sixteen church members took part in the retreat at Camp Kiwanis this past week. After the dinner a program presented suggestions revealing ways to be more active and ways to be more effective. Last Sunday was Rally Day in the Sunday school with 119 on hand to hear the announcement of the enlargement campaign for the next 5 weeks. As the quarter ends the Sunday school continues to show a gain in average attendance over last year. The quarter average is 114 which is an all time high.

HOLT--Things were normal at Holt High on Monday morning--except for many odd looking students walking through the halls and attending classes. On close inspection one discovered the "strange ones" weren't so strange after all. They were Holt girls going through the Girls' Athletic Association initiation.

Initiates were told to wear a "basic" outfit consisting of a father's old shirt complete with a wide, wide tie; a toothbrush dangling from one ear; one half a head of pin curls with the opposite side of the initiate's face made up; father's pants held up with a rope; a boot on one foot and a thong on the other with nylon stockings rolled down to the ankles.

Last, but not least, the girls were told to wear an old cowboy hat hanging down their back on a string. Giving the instructions were initiates "Eig Sisters", which were selected at a meeting last Thursday. Each "Eig Sister" had other instructions for "Little Sis."

The extra things initiates had to do included carrying books in a minnow bucket, carrying raw eggs in their pockets and wearing either an onion or garl c necklace. The day did end on a pleasant note for the new members. A banquet was held Monday evening on behalf of the G.A.A. initiates and was sponsored by the group's older members.

GAA officers this year are Vadia Burt, president; Sue Surateaux, vice-president; Sue Mastin, secretary; Nora Mitchell, treasurer; Jackie Murphy, point chairman; and Diane Jarrad, historian. Sponsors of the group are Miss Jean Johnson and Miss Pat Bird.

Officers were elected at the Wednesday meeting of the newly formed Holt High School Pep Club. Serving the club will be Candy Brown, president; Ruth Skinner, vice-president; Gail Swartzkopf, secretary; and Sheila Lance, treasurer. After the elections, the students attending the meeting divided into 2 groups. One group the meeting made plans for the Pep Club dance, which was held Friday evening after the game. Entertainment was provided by the Alaskan Desert Patrol.

Dansville High School

DANSVILLE -- Last week was a very ordinary week other than the fact that the students were anticipating the game Friday night with Williamston.

On Tuesday the Pep club met for the first time this year with the new President, Linda Battige. The dues were set and there was a discussion about raising enough money this year to buy a new scoreboard for football.

It was decided and voted on that the seventh graders would sell pencils with the basketball schedule on them as in the previous years. They will be doing this to raise money for the Pep club.

This week ends the suspense of the winning team for the Seniors in their magazine sales. Although the magazine sales will be over, the Christmas Card Sales are just beginning, so as everyone can see, the seniors have been keeping themselves pretty busy.

It's not only the Seniors that are selling, but also the Juniors, who are selling stationery, napkins and thank-you cards. They started last week selling and are out busily making their rounds to meet their goal.

The cheerleaders put on a Pep Rally Friday afternoon in the gym to help boost the spirit for that night when the Dansville "Aggies" would oppose the Williamston "Hornets". They led the student body in a few yells and put on some skits.

During the Pep Rally, the cheerleaders presented Mr. D. George D Harris

signs and be responsible for placing them on the lockers. The other students attending (Continued on page B-15)

West, one of the coaches, with a gift for his baby boy (Adam West), who was born last week. It was said that this was the best Pep Rally ever put on with the new pep band which was organized this year. The pep rally ended with the superior playing of the pep band and the student body singing the school song.

Even though Dansville was beat that night by Williamston, it was a real exciting game. Each team was bursting with energy and enthusiasm so played their best.

This Friday, the Dansville "Aggies" will make on the Stockbridge "Panthers" with everyone hoping for a victory.

MHS Seniors Discuss Annual Class Trip

Bulldog's Pep Week Begins October 16

By NANCY BROWN
Mason High News

Seniors met in a class meeting to discuss many up-coming events. Among the topics talked of was the senior trip to be taken in the spring, just before graduation.

Each homeroom selected a representative to a committee to explore sites and trip possibilities. The seniors are hoping to do something really unique this year.

With homecoming approaching at a fast pace, clubs and students are beginning to prepare. Many of the clubs and classes have already decided upon themes and decorations for floats.

The big day for the parade and game is Friday, October 20. The mighty Bulldogs will be battling with the Holt Rams. Game time is 7:30.

The parade of floats and royalty will drive through town beginning at the high school at 6 p.m. Pep week will begin October 16. All classes will prove their support of the team on a separate day, with everyone joining together on Friday.

A bonfire and pep rally will be staged Friday night. Royalty is to be selected from the senior class. From a court of 4 couples a king and queen will be chosen by the student body. Princes and princesses will be the remaining 3 couples.

The titles will be given on Friday, the final day of homecoming week. A special dance in honor of the royalty will be held in the school cafeteria following the game. Alumnae are invited to attend.

After starting off with a rough season of losses, the Bulldogs from M.H.S. are out to win. May they do so, with the support of all of Mason at the game to cheer them to a much hoped for victory.

Senior portrait retakes were taken on October 2, Monday. Photographers from Powell Studios of Detroit took the photos. Nine negatives will be returned to the seniors for a choice to be made. Being photographed are those who missed the sittings scheduled (Continued on page B-15)

Homecoming Floats Under Construction

Stockbridge high school students have been given the go-ahead to start work on their homecoming floats. According to the rules laid down by the student council, work may not begin until Thursday, October 5, and the total sum of money that can be spent on floats cannot exceed $25.

Each class has secured a sponsor for its float and they are as follows: The Stockbridge State Bank will sponsor the freshman float; The sophomores are being sponsored by D & D Lanes; The Town Crier is sponsoring the junior class and the seniors are being sponsored by Felpausch's.

It was also announced that there will be a parade through town on Friday night, October 13, before the homecoming game with Leslie. The floats will be judged before the game with a trophy and $10 to be awarded the winning class.

Judges will use a point system in determining the winning float. Twenty five points will be given for the float whose theme (song titles) ties in best with the football game.

Other categories include: Originality, 35 points; workmanship, 25 points; general appearance including eye appeal and over all opinion of the judges, 25 points.

Any float which does not have people riding or worked into the theme in any way will be awarded a special bonus of 5 points.

Stockbridge cheerleaders sponsored a unique contest last Friday with the winner receiving a free ticket to the Stockbridge-Dansville football game.

Each varsity cheerleader had one word of a new football slogan pinned to her back. The first person to put the words together correctly was the winner. She was Mary Rob and the slogan is: "Things Go Better With Stockbridge Panthers."

Williamston Yearbooks Feature Senior Colors

By CHRIS STEWART
Williamston High School

WILLIAMSTON--The 1967-68 Williamston High School yearbooks have been ordered by the students of W.H.S. for the past 2 weeks.

Yearbooks this year are going to cost $5. The reason for this is that the book will contain some colored pictures. The cover of the book will be light and dark blue, the senior class colors. A blue theme will be concentrated on throughout the book.

CHRIS

Books can also be personalized for an extra 75 cents. A pep rally was held Friday. The football game that night was the first home game of the year for the Hornets. The game was between the Hornets and the Dansville Aggies. Williamston's Hornets, of course, came out on top with a score of 14-0.

This was the third consecutive win for the Hornets and their second conference game.

A dance was held in the high school cafeteria after the game. It was sponsored by the student council.

The High School Catholic Religion courses began Monday night with a meeting in the Church hall. The meeting was attended by students from Williamston, Webberville, Dansville and Fowlerville, and their parents. Upon arriving, each student registered, and then got a bingo card. Each person circulated his bingo card for signatures of those attending. A movie about teenagers began the meeting. A game of Bingo was played.

The 2 winners were Jeff Huet, and Chris Stewart, they won a copy of the New Testament. After the movie, the different grades went to their designated tables with their teachers and discussed the movie.

A highlight of the evening was a sing-a-long for everyone with Sister Diane Marie supplying the accompaniment on her guitar. Cokes and coffee were served concluding the evening.

People seeing the Stockbridge high school marching band in the coming weeks will be able to note a distinct change. They will see a winsome lass totting and playing a tuba. She is Cindy Groschans, a regular trombone player who says of the switch, "Well, it's something different."

Our Panthers didn't do so well against Fowlerville but maybe it wasn't all their fault. They might have done better with a solid, vigorous, ambitious, yelling rooting section. Let's go to the games and give our team all the help we can.

Skeeter Hill Club Plans Special Event

The Skeeter Hill 4-H club is planning a banquet on October 7 at the Alaledon township hall. Dinner is to begin at 6:30 p.m. Be sure to bring your own table service.

Wilmot McDowell of Mason will be the guest speaker. He will tell all about his tour of Africa. Following his talks there will be a business meeting and awards given out.

"Malicious destruction of property."

That line, which appears daily on police blotters all over the country is causing more problems for law enforcement agencies than virtually any other crime on the books.

Malicious destruction of property includes virtually every kind of vandalism from knocking down mail boxes to tearing interiors of homes apart, destroying school property and other acts that lead sometimes to assault and battery and even to murder.

The culprits in most cases are boys ranging in age from 15 to 20 years, according to police records.

They seem to get a "kick" out of throwing a rock through a car windshield or the picture window in a house, shooting out lights with BB guns, breaking down fences and even breaking into stores and other buildings where they usually steal cigarettes, beer and any loose change they find lying around.

Ingham county sheriff's officers and Mason police have had their troubles with many of the youths who commit these depredations.

According to Ingham County Sheriff Kenneth L. Preadmore, during the past 8 months his officers have investigated more than 600 cases of this type of crime during the first 8 months of 1967.

Chief Tim Stolz of the Mason police says his department has recorded 64 of these crimes over the past 8 months in Mason. Twenty-five cases involved glass breakage and 39 miscellaneous acts of vandalism.

One of the worst cases of malicious destruction in Mason occurred on March 28 when vandals broke into the Mason senior high school, tore up the cafeteria, kitchen, and the library, poured sticky syrup along hallways and tipped over a large aquarium and smashed it, killing the fish inside. They ransacked the library throwing books around and dropping a typewriter on the floor. The water from the aquarium ruined several books.

Several windows in doors inside the school were smashed so the looters could get into classrooms.

Several youths were arrested and among them were some who had broken into The Jug, a Mason downtown bar, where they stole beer and some money.

Since then there have been scores of cases involving vandalism, but none of as great magnitude as that at the high school.

No part of the county has been free from this type of depredation. Rural areas are as subject to destruction as are urban centers. The favorite pastime there, is knocking down rural mailboxes, breaking fences and stealing parts from parked automobiles.

In Lansing only a few weeks ago, a gang of boys invaded a home on the city's west side, broke lamps, tore clothing from racks in closets, ripped a television set from the wall and deposited it in the yard and engaged in fistic battles with the occupants of the home.

—And where we'll stop, who can know?
We do have the best educational system in the world. But what will your child think and want and demand once we've educated him?
For in our system—unlike the Russian — we impart truth rather than ideas. We give our children the tools of thought, not the party line.
Does your child know that the center of all truth is God? Does he measure his aims by Christian standards of faith and morality? Has he learned where unbridled human passions of greed and power and selfishness can lead? Does he respect the religious faith and spiritual opportunities which motivated American Liberty?
Nobody can brainwash an American family. But it's up to each American family to choose every Sunday between the "around and around," and the center of truth—GOD.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Peaches, pears, plums and apricots join summer early apples for easy fruit selection.

Strawberry apples have been popular and now we may look for the first-of-season McIntosh apples. A few Controlled Atmosphere apples are still available from last year.

Redhaven, Richaven, Halehaven and Kalhaven peaches are coming off trees into fruit displays. All are good for fresh eating and freezing and canning—except Halehaven tends to darken in freezing unless ascorbic acid is added.

Flavorful, locally grown melons harvesting now in mostly large sizes and now is peak supply time.

Contrary to popular opinion, "shake, rattle and roll" are not the words or the methods to use when choosing a top quality cantaloupe. Look instead at the outside of the melon. A good quality cantaloupe will be slightly ribbed with a well-defined netting over the entire melon. Color of the outside rind should be yellow-green to gold. The scar (stem) end should be smooth and slightly sunken with no pieces of the stem remaining. Attached stem fragments indicate that the melon was picked before it was ripe.

After you've looked for all of these quality signs, then smell the melon. A ripe or almost ripe Michigan-grown cantaloupe will give off a sweet, musk-like aroma. Pinching, poking, shaking, rattling or rolling a melon only causes damage to the melon and increases costs.

The heavy supply of watermelons is moving very slowly due to the wide variety of locally grown fresh fruits and cool weather.

Michigan purple plums are piling high in many local fruit displays. Michigan-grown plums, of which 85 percent are the Stanley variety, go more into cans (60 percent) than are sold fresh (40 percent). Many new plum trees are bearing this year, so the future will probably show lots more Michigan plums. That's good news for happy purple plum eaters.

Plums make out-of-hand treats, and there are lots of other ways to use them. Plums make jam and make colorful, tasty addition to fruit salads, too.

Glossy, beautifully colored eggplants shine temptingly among local vegetable displays. September is peak harvest in New Jersey, California, Ohio and New York. Michigan fields are producing nice, medium size eggplants this fall. Select one which sports rich, purple skin which is smooth and firm and the vegetable heavy for its size. Baked, fried crisp and stuffed are favorite fixing ways.

Lots of cabbage is coming to local vegetable cases and it's lower in price. It's a good idea to use those heads. Cooked or raw, cabbage rates high nutrition and crunchiness to meals. The greener the cabbage the higher in vitamins.

Cheering news results from the summary of the year's harvest outlook. It's a record year for field crops. The wheat harvest rates 31 percent above average, corn is harvesting 20 percent more than average of recent years. Soybeans, from a record 40 million acres, are harvesting 35 percent above average. Slightly fewer oats and sugarbeets and 4 percent less late summer potatoes are the exception to the overall record harvest of this year.

Harvest of the popular McIntosh apple is well underway in Michigan now. Every year a committee of distinguished horticulturalists and growers meets to determine the ideal starting date for harvest of McIntosh, Delicious and Jonathan apples. They do this in an effort to forestall too early picking of under-ripe fruit. A green apple can sour apple appetites for a long time, and growers are very much interested in customer satisfaction. Among factors considered in arriving at a picking date are a chemical test for the conversion of starches to sugars, seed maturity, change of green skin color to yellow-green, and an evaluation of temperature records during the growing season. Soon we'll be getting good Michigan McIntosh apples.

September meat price outlook shows no large drop in pork prices, as in some years past. There's a smaller pig crop. Prices for pork stand now about as low as they're expected to be for some time, as there has been a good supply but slow demand for pork during the summer months. Have you considered country style spare ribs lately? They're mottier than regular spare ribs but less known, which makes less demand for them, which, in turn, puts them at lower price.

Expect beef prices to edge up a little. A large amount of beef sold from local meat cases is choice grade. No choice steers sold in Chicago for about 50 cents more per hundredweight in mid-August than a year earlier. This was a dollar higher than last year at this time. Beef prices will stay up due to two other factors, too. Beef imports will decrease and pork will be higher priced, so the usual competition will not be there to lower price.

While you're food shopping, fryers make an excellent price-wise choice now. But the present low price is discouraging the chick-raiser's so they're planning to produce fewer, which will make the price go up. Therefore, it's wise to buy some extra now and tuck them into the freezer, if you have the room.

Lamb prices will be higher this fall than last year. Actually six percent fewer lambs are being produced than last fall. The steady decline now shows only one-half as many lambs being raised as were common in the 1940's.

Chaplain-Evangelist To Conduct Services at Aurelius Baptist Church

Rev. Arthur Paul Sengplehl of Chicago, former Army Chaplain, Lieutenant Colonel, presently in the retired army reserves, now minister at large and evangelist, will conduct evangelistic services at the Aurelius Baptist Church in Aurelius Center beginning October 8 through October 15 at 7:30 p.m., Rev. Frederick Raft, pastor of the church, announced this week.

Chaplain Sengplehl, as a result of his campaigns, in 21 states and the District of Columbia, is emphasizing visitation evangelism as the key to a "Shoe-Leather" revival.

In addition to his army career, Rev. Sengplehl has had a rich and varied counseling background of 20 years ministry as a pastor, public school teacher, author, Chicago skid-row mission worker and 13 years as evangelist on the staff of the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary of Oak Brook, Illinois.

Chaplain Sengplehl received his AB degree from William Jewell College of Liberty, Missouri, his Bachelors of Theology and Divinity and Master of Theology at Northern Baptist Seminary of Chicago.

The Aurelius Crusade will center on spiritual techniques in living. As Chaplain Sengplehl points out many people today are suffering from tensions, pressures, fears and insecurity.

They can be helped, he insists, by a return to peace with God. "Many disorders that lead to self-expression rather than self-expression are adequately handled when a person returns to Christ and the comforting arms of the church," he says.

Rev. Raft will have charge of these services and will be assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Dolbee, choir director. Many other churches in the area will cooperate with them in providing music for each evening.

Finance Bonds Of $115,000 for Mason Approved

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission, announced that the commission approved $115,000 of "1967 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Bonds" for the city of Mason.

Bonds are payable from state collected taxes returned to the city by the state of Michigan. Attorney General Kelley said, "The proceeds will be used to defray part of the cost of listed N. Okemos street improvements in the city of Mason. These bonds will run until 1982."

Other members of the Municipal Finance Commission are Allison Green, state treasurer; and Ira Polley, superintendent of public instruction.

Y-Teens discussed the Summer Conference held at Camp Cavell near Lexington, Michigan. The 4 delegates who attended told the assembled members about their experiences at the conference.

Mrs. Sally Eisenhower, the new Teen Director of the Lansing Young Women's Christian association, spoke to the members.

Debbie Shnaver, Y-Teen president, explained the various committees to the members, and then gave them the opportunity to sign up for these committees: 1-Social and Financial Committee, 2-Service Committee, 3-Publicity Committee, and 4-Historical Committee.

This week found many juniors, sophomores, and freshmen busily rushing around getting signatures on their petitions for class officers.

Elected from the union class are: Doreen Simmons, president; Dan Adcock, vice president; Margaret Myers, secretary; and Debbie Mulder, treasurer.

Officers of the sophomore class are: Jamie Sabatino, president; Steve Cantin, vice president; Jill Galka, secretary; and Debbie Borton, treasurer.

Representing the freshman class will be: Jim Marvin, president; Sharon Patton, vice president; and Connie Gilpin, secretary-treasurer.

Also elected this week were the freshman Student Council Representatives. Elected for this office were Jean Kay Bacon, Nancy Chabot, Lauri Kiersey, and Doug Morrison.

Football team again won their game Thursday night. They deserve to be proud of their score: Holt 20, Howell 0.

our managers have taken over!

This is a special week.

We call it Managers Week.

They've taken over the store.

They've planned a terrific thrift event.

Storewide values that you'll recognize as "first-aid" for your ailing budget.

Why this special week?

First, to express special appreciation to you.

Second, to honor our managers.

Third, to give us a chance to prove "We Care".

If you're a regular A&P customer, this week is for you.

If you've never shopped A&P, this is the week to test-shop A&P.

When you see the savings on your total food bill, when you experience the warmth of being cared about, we think you'll come back time and time again. Millions do.
