The Delta Creed

- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta for the education of youth and the inspiration of maturity, so that I may better learn and live the truth.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as a shrine of international brotherhood: her cornerstone friendship, her foundation conscience, her columns aspiration, her girders self-restraint, her doorway opportunity, her windows understanding, her buttresses loyalty, her strength the Everlasting Arms.
- I BELIEVE in Delta Tau Delta as an abiding influence to help me do my work, fulfill my obligations, maintain my self-respect, and bring about that happy life wherein I may more truly love my fellow men, serve my country, and obey my God.

The President Reports

In reviving this column, it is the hope of your President to provide a regular means of communication, mainly for facts about the Fraternity and, occasionally, opinions and ideas.

The story of the New England Karnea in this issue should make all Delts not in attendance regret their absence. And yet there were a few unhappy occurrences, principally the demise of Gamma Gamma Chapter at Dartmouth. The college had required that all fraternities certify that they were free to initiate any one they chose, without repercussions from their national organizations. We, of course, do have restrictions on membership, though none specifically based on race or religion; but, among such requirements as character and scholarship is the requirement of acceptability to the Fraternity as a whole. We could not, therefore, in honesty, make the required certification, to which the leaders of Gamma Gamma Chapter agreed. In order to avoid the ignominy of expulsion from the campus, Gamma Gamma elected to disaffiliate voluntarily, and the chapter president notified the Arch Chapter that Gamma Gamma no longer was a unit of Delta Tau Delta but has assumed the status of a local under the name of Bones Gate Club. At its meeting immediately prior to the Karnea, the Arch Chapter adopted a resolution "That the surrender of the charter of Gamma Gamma Chapter be accepted with the utmost regret, and that it be held by the Central Office until such time as conditions permit the re-establishment of the chapter." These actions were reported to the Karnea and there discussed, but no feasible method of honorably remedying the unhappy situation was forthcoming. Regrettably as this is, I believe that Gamma Gamma and Delta Tau Delta can both take pride in the fact that we did not compromise our integrity and went down with flags flying.

I look forward to the next two years as your President with pride in the honor conferred and humility in the knowledge that it is a big job. I must confess that my succession to the old badge of James B. Curtis, initiated in 1880 and President of the Fraternity from 1907 to 1919, which is tradition

Were You at Swampscott in June?

DELTA TAU DELTA convened at its Sixty-fifth Karnea in Swampscott, Massachusetts, this past June. Were you among the 400 Delts, both undergraduate and alumni, in attendance? Or were you among the missing? If you are included in the rank of Delts who missed this latest of the Fraternity's biennial national meetings, you will be interested in knowing exactly what took place. If you are a Delt who has experienced attendance at past Karneas, you will want to know that, as usual, there was a fine balance of business and pleasure; that most of the traditional Karnea proceedings were again observed and, as usual, there was a generous sprinkling of innovations that added to the traditional program in a most beneficial and interesting manner.

It all began many weeks prior to June 22 when Karnea Chairman Joel W. Reynolds, Tufts, '23, appointed his smooth-working Karnea Committee. Chairman Reynolds and his Committee had many meetings and when delegates began arriving in Boston on the 22nd day of June, things were all thoughtfully arranged—that is, all save the New Ocean House itself, which was still undergoing the finishing touches of an extensive modernization program. Delegates showed great versatility in their choice of transportation for arrival in Boston. Some came to Logan International Airport by plane; others debarked from trains at the Hub City's South Station; and others tested the Bay State's fine network of new interstate highways; but all arrived at Swampscott itself by car, and all arrived with a feeling of expectancy and anticipation that only arrival at a Delt Karnea can foster.

The Central Office staff and the Karnea Committee met the arriving delegates in the lobby of the New Ocean House and quickly and efficiently saw to it that one and all were made comfortable in the hotel and were properly registered. The earlier arrivals helped greet their brothers who came later, and by Wednesday evening the long lobby of the hotel was full of congregating groups exchanging experiences and making plans for the days to follow. Wednesday evening the Arch Chapter held a reception to enable those who had not previously met each other to become acquainted. Alumni were busy seeking out the undergraduate delegates from their respective chapters, and undergraduates who normally enjoyed fine rivalries with other chapters in the same state or locale were seen joining forces with each other as a prelude to subsequent campaigning for the site of the Sixty-sixth Karnea.

Thursday morning all of the delegates were up for an earlier-than-usual-for-summer breakfast—the hotel reservations included meals—and then began to assemble in the Ballroom for the first business session. Presiding at the session was Fraternity President Francis M. Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan, '31. Following a few words of greeting, Chairman Hughes introduced Joel Reynolds, who welcomed the visiting Delts to New England and acquainted them with some of the social activities planned for them during their stay. Chairman Hughes appointed a five-member Committee on Credentials, which promptly adjourned from the session for the purpose of preparing its report. Upon motion properly made, duly seconded, and unanimously passed, the temporary officers of the Karnea were seated as permanent officers and President Hughes took up the gavel as Chairman and Field Secretary Jack A. McClenney took up the sharpened pencil as secretary. Now the Sixty-fifth Karnea was officially under way. The Chairman appointed the usual five-member standing committees as follows: Nominations, Constitution and Laws, Chapters and Charters, Audit and Finance, Resolutions, and Time and Place. Two alumni delegates and three undergraduate delegates were named to each of these committees. For the first roll call of the Karnea, the Chairman decreed that upon calling of the chapter name, the two delegates would come to the microphone at the front of the hall and introduce themselves. It is quite an event to witness nearly 200 young college men parade across the front of the room, tall and short, thin and stout, and inroduce themselves in accents representing every section of the country and Canada. At the conclusion of the roll call, Chairman Hughes introduced many of the outstanding alumni present, men outstanding in their contributions to both the fraternity and to the nonfraternity world. The Committee on Credentials made its report and the first session was then adjourned.

Among the many sessions of the Karnea, perhaps the best attended were the luncheons and dinners which took place in the bright red Main Dining Hall of the hotel. A selection from the varied and tempting menu took much careful and thoughtful consideration. After such delicious repasts, it was only natural that many of the Delts chose to go outside for a short stroll along the ocean front for some fresh air and relaxation before again convening in the Ballroom for the next business session.

noon's schedule included two fine forums. The first of these was the one on scholarship, moderated by Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, Jr., Butler, '37, professor at Columbia University and Supervisor of Scholarship of the Fraternity. Assisting Dr. Kershner as members of the panel were undergraduates from Ohio Wesleyan, Maine, Oklahoma, and Georgia Tech. The forum was most informative, and the entire panel did an excellent job of discussing the importance of good scholarship and in presenting many interesting and helpful methods to be used in improving scholarship and maintaining a helpful attitude toward scholastic attainments in the chapters.

At the conclusion of the scholarship forum, Edwin L. Heminger, Ohio Wesleyan, '48, President of the Northern Division of the Fraternity and a Findlay, Ohio, newspaper publisher, was introduced as moderator of the forum on pledge education. This forum is traditionally one of the most interesting ones at any Karnea. This year was no exception as Mr. Heminger and his panel of undergraduates from Lafayette, Wabash, Washington, and Auburn led an interesting and inspiring discussion highlighting the importance of a sound program of pledge education and stressing the necessity for a program presenting information to the pledge and geared to result in developing the pledge to be the high type man sought as an initiate of the Fraternity.

The pledge education forum concluded at 4:00 p.m. and the last hour and a half of the afternoon was devoted to the first two round-table discussion groups. Half of the delegates met in the Colonial Room for the always interesting discussion on rushing, led by Edwin H. Hughes, III, Editor of THE RAINBOW and chapter adviser to Beta Beta Chapter at DePauw University. Undergraduates from Stevens, Emory, Nebraska, and Illinois Tech also served as discussion leaders. The remaining delegates met at the same time in the Red Room for the group discussion on chapter finance and house corporation relations. The group leaders for this discussion were W. Foster Oldshue, DePauw, '24 (who later in the Karnea was named to the Fraternity's Distinguished Service Chapter) for many years president of the Beta Beta house corporation, and undergraduates from Western Reserve, Minnesota, Kentucky, and U.C.L.A.

Sandwiched in between the conclusion of the round-table discussions and dinner were meetings called by the chairmen of many of the standing committees. All of these groups, however, managed to adjourn in sufficient time to allow the members of the committees to get to the dining room on time for the evening meal.

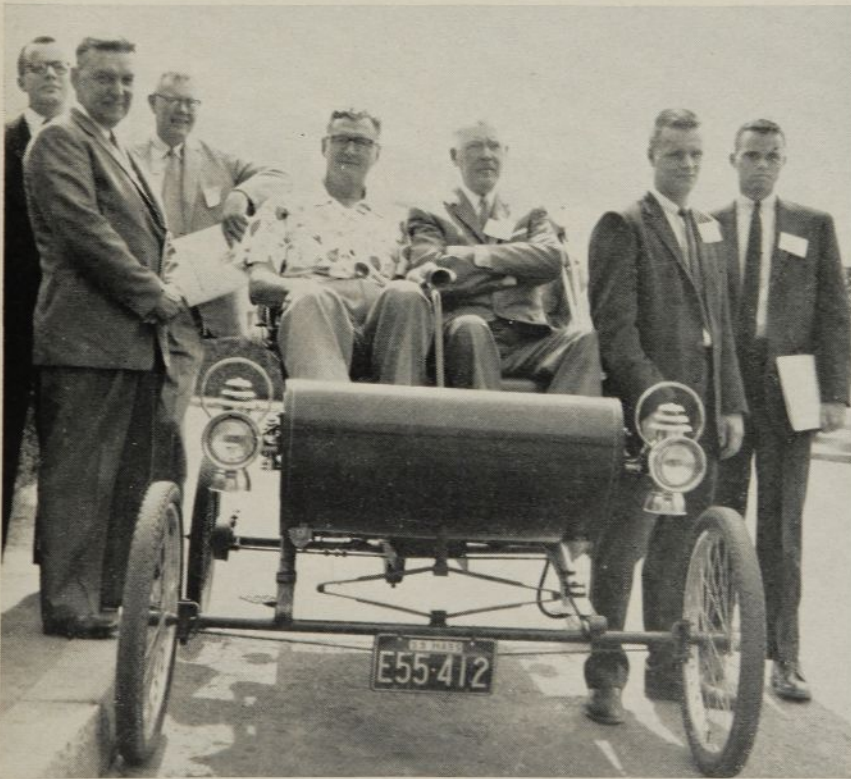

Traditionally, one of the outstanding events of any Karnea is the Model Initiation Ceremony. Certainly, this year was no exception to this fine tradition. The model initiation team, composed of members from Beta Mu Chapter at Tufts, put on an excellent performance in initiating Edward A. McCarthy, Jr., Tufts, '63, as a member of the Fraternity before the appreciative eyes of the assembled Delts. Needless to say, the entire performance was carried off without a hitch and afforded many alumni an opportunity to enjoy the initiation ceremonies for the first time since they had completed their undergraduate careers.

As mentioned previously, Karneas are not all work. The first opportunity to participate in planned fun and recreation was presented to the delegates following the conclusion of the Model Initiation Ceremony. The Karnea Reunion convened in Convention Hall at 8:30 p.m. Mable proved herself to be most versatile on her accordion by picking up the Delt tunes to accompany the informal singing of the happy and relaxed delegates. Professional entertainment had been engaged for the evening, including music and comedy routines, and featuring Sid Radner, world famous detective of crooked gambling who was engaged by the government during World War II to detect and end crooked gambling in our armed forces. Sid held the complete attention of the entire audience as he demonstrated techniques used by crooked gamblers that only the most watchful and experienced person could detect. His deft card handling was amazing.

Although the official program was always concluded at a modest hour of the evening, it was a common sight to see groups of undergraduates congregated around the lobby until well after midnight. Sometimes they would be continuing discussions that had been started in the round-table discussion groups and not concluded due to the pressing element of time. Often, in the center of the group would be a Karnea Hound (any alumnus who has attended five or more Karneas is eligible for this exclusive and sought-after title) recounting to the undergraduates tales of previous Karneas and events and customs of his undergraduate days. And if, in the telling and the passing of the years, the stories had become embellished a little, it did not serve to detract any from their interest to the assembled undergraduates.

With each passing day, the tempo of the Karnea picked up more. At Friday morning's opening business session, Joseph D. Boyd, DePauw, '48, Dean of Men at Northwestern University, addressed the delegates on the subject of "College-Fraternity Relationship." Dean Boyd's talk was one of the finest in the history of Karnea speeches.

Another Karnea high light followed Dean Boyd's address. Norman MacLeod, Pittsburgh, '17, former President of the Fraternity and a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter Committee, assembled a panel on the subject of public relations. The panel, without doubt one of the most talented ever assembled any where on this subject, included Mims Thomason, Tennessee, '31, vice-president and general manager of United Press International; Lee Sellars, Ohio, '31, director of advertising for the Washington Steel Corporation; Frank A. Tredinnick, Jr., Tufts, '43, vice-president of Tufts University; and William P. Raines, Pittsburgh, '48, President of the Eastern Division and director of advertising and public relations for the Koppers Company. The panel treated the various methods whereby undergraduate chapters can present favorable publicity to its various publics, including the general public, the colleges and universities, the college town, the faculty and administration, other fraternities, and parents of undergraduates and pledges. It was an excellent panel and proved to be a session of immense interest and value to all of the delegates.

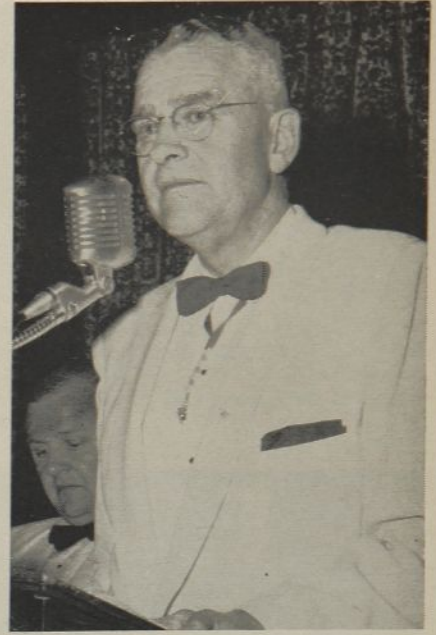

An innovation to the Karnea program at the Sixty-fourth Karnea in Pittsburgh in 1958, was the Recognition Luncheon. It proved to be such an outstanding feature of the program that it was repeated at Swampscott at noon on Friday. It was not on quite so large a scale as the first affair at Pittsburgh, but it still ranked as one of the outstanding events on the program. The honored guests were former members of the Arch Chapter. The principal address was given by Clemens R. Frank, Western Reserve, '19, former President of the Northern Division and prominent Cleveland attorney.

At the conclusion of the Recognition Luncheon, the delegates changed their attire to clothes suitable for an outing. The time had arrived for the much-publicized New England clam-bake. The busses were waiting at the front of the hotel to take the excursion to Stage Fort Park, Gloucester. The threatening weather failed to dampen the spirits of the crowd and singing was in order as the busses took their route through historic Salem and on to the famous home of Yankee fishermen. Announcements on the radio had warned of heavy storms approaching the area, but the storm considerably passed the area, leaving the excursionists to contend with fringe benefits of misty rain and cooler weather. The Kendall clam-bake crew had everything in readiness at Stage Fort Park. The large tents had been erected. The pit had been prepared for the bake, and the fire was under way. Baskets of lobsters and clams were unloaded and the festival was in full swing. Undergraduates and dates, alumni and their families ringed the area as potatoes, clams, and lobsters were placed on the fire and then expertly covered with seaweed and tarpaulins. In a relatively short time, notice was given that the tarps were ready to be removed and the crowd again crowded around for the sight. With great ceremony, the tarps were removed and when the steam cleared away the feast was revealed. Large kettles of clam chowder were now ready to be ladled out and the line started to form. Plates heaped with delicious steamed clams were served. The only casualty was one eager west coast alumnus who mistook his cup of drawn butter for apricot nectar and nearly choked on his first big swallow. No sooner were the clams devoured before the waitresses started serving everyone lobster. Without the advantage of the special tools customarily furnished in fashionable eating places, it was necessary for some of the New Englanders present to assist their brothers in the art of eating lobster out of the shell. Even the most inexperienced quickly mastered the technique and by the second or third lobster, no one was observed still having any difficulties. The bus ride back to the New Ocean House was even more festive than the ride to Gloucester had been. By now, it was dark and sightseeing no longer interfered with any of the singing. It was a fully satisfied group that left the busses back at the hotel.

Saturday morning came and with it the start of the last day of another great Karnea. The delegates assembled in Convention Hall promptly at 9:30 a.m. to start the next-to-the-last business session. A great deal of behind-the-scenes campaigning was taking place in efforts to secure support for the cities seeking selection as the site of the 1962 Karnea. The morning business session adjourned at 10:30 in favor of the two remaining round-table discussions. The alumni relations round table met in the Red Room and the round table on internal organization gathered in the Colonial Room. Robert L. Hartford, Ohio, '36, and undergraduates from Indiana, Baker, Toronto, and Duke, led the discussion on alumni relations and Arnold Berg, Indiana, '32, and undergraduates from Ohio, Tufts, Alabama, and Idaho led the discussion on internal organization.

Immediately following lunch, the call was issued to all delegates to assemble in front of the hotel for the Karnea picture. At the beginning there were nearly as many taking pictures as having their pictures taken, but eventually all were assembled and the official picture was taken. No one fell off the benches and no one made the wild dash from one end to the other in an effort to be included in both ends of the picture.

The final business session is cus-tomarily the most exciting one. The Saturday afternoon session was no exception to the general rule. Reports of the Committees on Chapters and Charters, Audit and Finance, and Resolutions were given and received in routine manner. The reports from the Committees on Constitution and Law, Nominations, and Time and Place were presented. The issue of membership requirements was formally brought to the floor. There was a great deal of sentiment expressed for action to be taken which would change the situation in existence at Dartmouth College and enable Gamma Gamma Chapter to continue as an undergraduate chapter of the Fraternity; however, the delegates rejected the several proposals made for constitutional changes which would make this possible as none of the proposals gave assurance that the situation existing at Dartmouth could be alleviated and still have the autonomy of the Fraternity preserved.

The Committee on Time and Place of the next Karnea presented a report that invitations had been received from Portland, Oregon; Chicago, Illinois; Cleveland, Ohio; Minneapolis, Minnesota; and New Orleans, Louisiana. Spokesmen for the various groups were given opportunities to speak on behalf of their invitations. The presentations were all well presented. Most of the campaigning had indicated that the final choice would be between Portland and Chicago; however, a splendid example was given that the charm and friendliness of the South can never be discounted. When the final votes were tallied, New Orleans was chosen as the place for Delts to gather for their Sixty-sixth Karnea in the summer of 1962.

There now remained but one item of unfinished business. The highly important task of selecting the officers of the Fraternity for the next two years was next on the agenda. The Committee on Nominations presented to the delegates the following candidates: President: Robert W. Gilley, Washington, '30, Portland, Oregon, attorney completing two terms as Vice-President of the Fraternity; Vice-President: John W. Nichols, Oklahoma, '36, former member of the Arch Chapter and prominent Oklahoma oil man; Secretary of Alumni: Robert L. Hartford, Ohio, '36, proposed for re-election to the office he had held for the past two years; Treasurer: Arnold Berg, Indiana, '32, vice-president of Indianapolis Life Insurance Company and former Northern Division vice-president; Secretary: G. Sydney Lenfestey, Florida, '34, also proposed for re-election to the post he has held for the past two years; and Supervisor of Scholarship: Frederick D. Kershner, Jr., Butler, '37, who has held this office for the past four years. The latter is the only office for which a man may serve in excess of two consecutive terms. Upon motion duly made, seconded, and unanimously passed, the Secretary was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for the election of the candidates named, and with the conclusion of the election, the final business session of the Sixty-fifth Karnea was adjourned in the knowledge that the Fraternity will continue in capable hands.

All good things must come to an end. Karneas are no exception to this, but they have a wonderful manner in which to conclude. The Karnea Banquet is the last event on the program. The Main Dining Room of the New Ocean House was filled with Delts and Delt Dames on Saturday evening as members of the Arch Chapter and other distinguished Delts seated at the head table marched to their positions attired in their white dinner jackets. The banquet, toasted so ably by Tufts University Vice-President Frank A. Tredinnick, Jr., featured an address by United States Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, Texas, '22. Undergraduate scholarship awards were presented by Dr. Kershner; selections of the Fraternity's new graduate scholarship recipients were announced; and five alumni were given Citations to the Distinguished Service Chapter. The five alumni so honored were President Francis M. Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan, '31; William Edgar West, Ohio Wesleyan, '23; Clyde Burr Christopher, George Washington, '28; William Foster Oldshue, DePauw, '24; and Horace Halbert Johnson, Carnegie Tech, '23. Entertainment was presented in the form of vocal selections by Robert J. Tam, Purdue, '50. The banquet concluded with singing of "Delta Shelter," and another memorable and wonderful Karnea was officially at an end.

All that remained to be done was the traditional Choctaw Walk-Around. It was only natural that Harley D. Carpenter, Allegheny, '09, should be the leader as he had been at so many Karneas in the past. And this proved to be the last one to be led by Brother Carpenter, the beloved "Mr. Choctaw," for not long after his return home from Swampscott, he passed on to the Chapter Eternal after suffering a fatal heart attack.

This, then, was the Sixty-fifth Karnea. No new attendance records were established in June, 1960, but another Karnea has passed into the record books that will live in the minds of several hundred Delts as one of the finest and best that the Fraternity has ever had. A great amount of thanks and appreciation are due Joel Reynolds and his committee members for the fine program they arranged and for the accomplished manner in which they carried it out. Credit, too, must be given lavishly to Mrs. Reynolds and the wives of the other committee members who were responsible for the finest women's program in Karnea history.

Were you at Swampscott? Those who were all agree that it was a wonderful time, a memorable time, and a most worth-while example of the type of constructive achievement and unsurpassable good times that prevail when Delts in Karnea assemble.

Gamma Omicron To Hold Reunion At Syracuse

Gamma Omicron Chapter at Syracuse University is holding its 50th anniversary celebration on Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29. Headquarters for the celebration will be at the Sheraton-Syracuse Inn.

On Friday evening there will be a "get-reacquainted party" at the Sheraton Inn for all Delts and their gals. Saturday morning, Gamma Omicron Association, Inc., will hold its annual meeting at the Gamma Omicron Shelter.

The program for Saturday afternoon is arranged to permit everyone to see Syracuse's national champion football team in action against the Pitt Panthers. The high light of the weekend will be the 50th anniversary banquet held at the Sheraton Inn on Saturday evening. The program includes dinner, speeches, and dancing.

Appearing on the banquet will be Norman MacLeod, Pittsburgh, '17, and G. Herbert McCracken, Pittsburgh, '21, both former Presidents of the Fraternity and members of the Committee of the Distinguished Service Chapter. Dr. Eric Faigle, Vice-President of Syracuse University, will speak on behalf of the University, and special tribute will be paid to the 18 living charter members of the chapter.

Members of the committee are John T. Deegan, Forrest H. Witmeyer, and Fred Tyminski.

The Twenty-Fifth President Of Delta Tau Delta

By FRANCIS M. HUGHES, Mu, '31
Twenty-fourth President

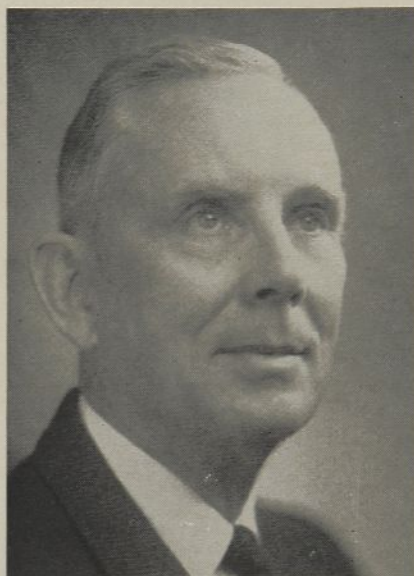

IN THE FALL OF 1926, during the rushing season at the University of Washington, a member of Gamma Mu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta called upon a promising freshman to extend to him an invitation to dine at the Gamma Mu Shelter. In a moment of compassion, the Delt also extended a dinner invitation to the prospective rushee's roommate, a boy named Bob.

It was a fortunate circumstance for the Fraternity that this particular Bob happened on that occasion to be in the right place, for he was pledged and initiated into Gamma Mu Chapter. It is my pleasant duty now more formally to introduce Bob to the Fraternity as Robert W. Gilley, Washington, '30, the 25th President of Delta Tau Delta, elected to the highest office of the Fraternity by the 1960 Karnea.

Bib Gilley, who thus became a member of the Fraternity by fortuitous chance, is a classic example of the Good Delt, whose devotion in the bond since his initiation has altered only to increase. As an active and interested undergraduate and alumnus, he is possessed of a wealth of knowledge and understanding of Delta Tau Delta as he assumes the leadership of the Fraternity during this biennium.

Brother Gilley brings to the office of President an impressive record of service to Delta Tau Delta. Following his graduation from law school, Bob became vitally interested in the affairs of the Portland Alumni Chapter, serving as secretary, legal adviser, a member of the board of governors, and as president.

After serving for some years as Vice-President of the Western Division of the Fraternity, Bob in 1952 was appointed President of the Western Division to serve the unexpired term of John W. Nichols, Oklahoma, '36, the former Division President who was elected Secretary of the Fraternity by the 1952 Karnea. Brother Gilley thus became the first Delt of the Pacific Northwest to head the Western Division. Prior to his appointment to this office, Bob received the Fraternity's highest honor when he was cited to the Distinguished Service Chapter.

Brother Gilley served four years on the Arch Chapter as President of the Western Division, and at the 1956 Karnea was elected Vice-President of the Fraternity, holding that office for the four-year period until his election as President at the 1960 Karnea.

As Vice-President, Bob did efficient work in the selection of chapter advisers, and rendered a great service to the Fraternity in the revisions of the Ritual, as adopted by the 1958 Karnea.

The Delt tradition in the Gilley family is being carried on in the persons of Bob's two sons, R. Stevens Gilley, Oregon State, '56, and David D. Gilley, Oregon State, '61. And his charming wife, Fran, a constant companion of Bob's at Karneas and Fraternity functions, is indeed well qualified to serve as the first lady of the Fraternity.

Since his graduation from law school, Bob has been a distinguished member of the Portland, Oregon, bar, and extremely active in the civic affairs of the community. As a dedicated Christian gentleman, he has served the Episcopal Church in many capacities.

It was the writer's privilege to serve with Brother Gilley for eight years on the Arch Chapter of the Fraternity. He has always manifested an intense interest in Delta Tau Delta, and an unselfish loyalty to the Fraternity, and is possessed of sound judgment and unusual executive ability.

Bob is the first Delt from the Pacific Northwest to serve as President of the Fraternity. Although his base of operations may be thousands of miles removed from many of our chapters, the problem of distance will be completely minimized by his interest in the welfare of Delta Tau Delta and his devotion and attention to its program and its ideals. In the selection of Robert W. Gilley as its 25th President, Delta Tau Delta has indeed chosen well.

Five Cited to DSC at Karnea

AT THE SIXTY-FIFTH Karnea banquet, held in the main dining room of The New Ocean House at Swampscott, Massachusetts, on the evening of June 25, five loyal and outstanding members of the Fraternity were presented with Citations to the Distinguished Service Chapter. Those so honored were: Francis Montgomery Hughes, Ohio Wesleyan; William Edgar West, Ohio Wesleyan; William Foster Oldshue, DePauw; Clyde Burr Christopher, George Washington; and Horace Halbert Johnson, Carnegie Tech. The texts of their Citations read as follows:

NEW CHAPTER TO BE INSTALLED AT EAST TEXAS STATE COLLEGE

Following Arch Chapter approval to grant a charter to the Cavalier Social Fraternity at East Texas State College at its meeting in June, President Gilley has directed that the new chapter will be installed on Saturday and Sunday, January 7 and 8, 1961. The new chapter is to be designated as Epsilon Eta Chapter.

More details respecting the installation, as well as information and pictures of East Texas State College, will be presented in the Winter number of THE RAINBOW.

Epsilon Epsilon Contributes To Growth of Arizona

ALTHOUGH Delta Tau Delta has been on the Arizona campus only one year, the Epsilon Epsilon Chapter joins the University in its 75th anniversary celebration. The University of Arizona is composed of ten colleges, four schools, and 52 departments, and includes 22 divisions of research and extension. The bachelor's degree is offered in 126 fields, the master's degree in 53 and the doctor's degree in 27. The resident enrollment in the first semester of 1959 was 11,277.

The campus is located in the residential district of the historic city of Tucson, which was founded in 1776 as a Spanish presidio and has known allegiance to four flags: Spain, Mexico, the Confederacy, and the United States. The present city is a modern metropolis with a population of 220,000. The altitude of 2,400 feet, the dryness, and the sunshine unite to provide one of the most healthful climates in the world.

The University library contains more than 450,000 volumes. The College of Engineering operates one of the two largest atomic reactors on any campus in the United States. Kitt Peak, 40 miles southwest of the University, has been selected as the site for the National Observatory. Data processing facilities for the observatory are presently under construction on the University campus.

Twenty-six national social fraternities have chartered groups at Arizona. On April 11, 1959, Delta Tau Delta chartered the Crescent Club, which had been recognized in January, 1958, as a colony by the University of Arizona administration. During its colony period the Crescent Club three times won the coveted scholarship trophy as the outstanding chapter at the University of Arizona. The Delts are justifiably proud of the record they have made on the Arizona campus in the two short years since their founding.

The Arizona interfraternity council is nationally known for its efficient program of service. In 1956 it was named runner-up by the National Interfraternity Conference in the annual competition to select the most outstanding IFC.

In 1959, at the 50th anniversary conference, the NIC selected the University of Arizona IFC as first in the nation among major colleges and universities. The program which brought this distinction about includes service to member chapters, the University, the community, and to fraternity ideals. One of the most noteworthy projects is the fraternity row

Leadership: Individualists vs. Security

By HENRY M. WRISTON, Wesleyan, '11

THERE HAS BEEN a spate of books, articles and speeches bewailing America's lost leadership. Politician after politician cries out for "bold and imaginative" action—seldom defined at all and never with any precision. Religious leaders bewail moral decay, as preachers have since exhortation began. Publishers dominant in the field of mass media assert that we have lost our sense of mission.

The wailing wall is crowded, and ululations fill the air. When one asks where new leadership is to come from, who is to define the national purpose, and who will summon us from moral lassitude, the answer is an embarrassed silence.

Recently there was a symposium on the national purpose. A number of people gave their view of what it had been, when it was lost, and what should be done to recover it. I found it intriguing that not one of the great minds ever mentioned the individual and his responsibility. Every criticism was cast in collective terms, in terms of society.

There was a time when the individual was at the core of our political, religious, and economic thought. Indeed, the key to our history is the concept of freedom. One man may chase the dollar and consider it almighty. Thoreau could go to Walden Pond in search of his own goals; Emerson could exalt the thinker; Walt Whitman could extol the pioneers and assert that "the crowning growth of the United States is to be spiritual and heroic." Franklin, Jefferson, Edison, Theodore Roosevelt—and millions more—could follow their insatiable curiosity. Initiative is decentralized; responsibility is personalized; the individual is the ultimate value. His freedom is the key. Judge Learned Hand put the philosophy in a few words: "It is enough that we set out to mould the motley stuff of life into some form of our own choosing; when we do, the performance is itself the wage. 'The play's the thing.'"

FAR-OFF HEROES

In far-off days we were not ashamed

Dr. Wriston, a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, is presently chairman of the Committee on National Goals by appointment of President Eisenhower. He is President Emeritus of Brown University and president of the American Assembly at Columbia University. This article is excerpted from a lecture delivered at Bowdoin College.

to speak even about rugged individualism. We respect men like Elijah Lovejoy, who lost his property and ultimately his life at the hands of a mob, because he stood for principles. But such heroes of the past do not seem very real to us.

Somewhere in the 1930's, or thereabouts, rugged individualism became associated with industry piracy, with defiance of moral checks, with exploitation of one's fellow men. If I may borrow an expression familiar in Britain, when we denounced rugged individualism, we "threw the baby out with the bath water." We went too far, for nothing is more obvious than that leadership is a word which describes a quality of individuals, not of a society.

Surely the century which has known Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, Franklin Roosevelt, Charles de Gaulle, and Ghandi should not find it difficult to realize that leadership requires not only individuals but rugged individuals.

Temptation to shed responsibility is not unique to our day or to this generation. In a brilliant passage in his famous book "Revolt of the Masses," the great Spanish philosopher-historian Ortega y Gasset summed up the tendency and explained in a few words how the dictator rises to power not by his own strength so much as by the weakness of others. "Many men . . . homesick for the herd . . . devote themselves passionately to whatever is left in them of the sheep. They want to march through life together, along the collective path, shoulder to shoulder, wool rubbing wool, and the head down." It was this impulse to escape the harsh task of thought, to avoid responsibility, that made "he will decide" one of the great slogans of the Mussolini era in Italy.

This passion for security and anonymity has not passed America by; as a great jurist said, "They are the defenses against the intolerable agony of facing ourselves. . . . We are in deadly fear of life, as much of our own American scene betrays." To some extent because of eagerness to have others make the hard choices of life, there is loud complaint that "Washington does not give us leadership." But Washington is inhabited by individuals like the rest of the nation. If the goal of living is to hide in a social group, if we do not want to be rugged individuals, if we consistently decry individualism, why should we expect leadership? Whenever you sell individualism short, you lay the axe at the roots of democratic leadership, though you open the way for demagogues.

This recent denigration of the individual runs very deep and appears in unexpected and seemingly innocuous ways. For example, we demand guidance counsellors in school. But what kind of guidance have they been giving? All kinds, of course; but it is writ large upon the record that counselling since the great depression has been predominantly defensive. This defensive character of counsel is one more evidence, among many, that though we have recovered from the economic and financial disasters of the 30's, the psychological damage has not yet been repaired.

For this reason, counselling has not been a summons to students to be themselves or to take the risks that go with rugged individualism. The slogan implicit in too much advice has been "safety first"; security is put before all else. Students are told to aim for certain jobs because there are plenty of vacancies and therefore not much danger of unemployment. They are advised to train for certain vocations because the pay is good, rather than because such employment of one's talents and energies brings intellectual, spiritual and emotional satisfactions. This kind of defensive counsel will never help to produce leadership.

The Soviets are candid about their central doctrine. Whatever else they keep secret, this is no secret at all. Economic determinism is the professed key to their philosophy and to their policy. They say explicitly that "the material life of society . . . is primary, and its spiritual life secondary, derivative"; "one must look for the source of social ideas, social theories, political views, and political institutions . . . in the conditions of the material life of society." Communists are relentless in their logical defense of that concept, unswerving in their devotion to that idea. Such a doctrine is the complete denial of the historic American dream. It is the precise opposite of the great ideals which shaped American history, proclaimed with such eloquence by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence.

NOISY CHATTER

Few Americans, therefore, would explicitly avow such a philosophical foundation for their way of life. Yet many, implicitly and in action, exemplify this grossly materialistic premise. Much of the recent advice to young men and women has been cast in the tone, the mood and the framework of economic determinism. Amidst all the noisy chatter about resistance to Communism, there has been a silent surrender to one of its central ideas, namely the assumption that economic interest is primary, while other phases of life are secondary, derivative.

Ironically, some of those who have shouted loudest about un-Americanism and Communist infiltration have swallowed this doctrine—and never felt it in the gullet as they gulped down this most un-American of all political and economic dogmas. They clasp Stalin's doctrine to their bosoms while with their voices they denounce him and all his works.

If we have been blind to this fact, others have not. It accounts for the feeling often expressed in the new nations of Asia, and Africa that there is little to choose between the avowed materialism of the Soviets and the unconscious materialism that they observe in the United States.

A guidance counsellor who has made a fetish of security, or who has unwittingly surrendered his thinking to economic determinism, may steer a youth away from his dream of becoming a poet, an artist, a musician, or any other of thousands of things, because it offers no security, it does not pay well, there are no vacancies, it has no "future."

Among all the tragic consequences of depression and war, this suppression of personal self-expression through one's life work is among the most poignant.

If you wish to speak in social terms, rather than in terms of individual self-expression, that suppression, when effective, is fatal to the concept of leadership. For leadership requires courage, boldness, and the willingness to accept risks. To use the most dreadful word permitted to be uttered in public, leadership inevitably, inescapably, involves insecurity.

The retreat from the effort to stimulate leadership arises in part, also, from a profound misinterpretation of democracy. No political thinker of any stature in all history ever interpreted democracy as equality in all things. What you will find set forth as an ideal is that every individual, however broken his body or limited his mind, shall have equality before the law and equality of opportunity to fulfill his own highest potential. That is the American ideal.

In the reaction against rugged individualism, however, this historical and rational concept of democracy gave way to a sentimental and superficial idea that people should somehow be made equal. We can observe this effort all too clearly in education. During the last generation there has been a strong tendency to level requirements down, in order that the slowest, in the words of the sentimentalists, should not have their tender personalities "damaged by failure"—as though failure were not a normal experience of every human being.

With some validity it could be said that "security has become the opiate of the people" in America. You do not get boldness, or dedication to public service, or even responsible citizenship from those who choose as much idleness as possible as a way of life. They cease to be masters of the state, as the democratic thesis demand; they become its wards. When the citizen accepts the government as his guardian, democracy is in decay.

POVERTY AND DEMOCRACY

In the American tradition poverty is regarded as an unmitigated evil. It is partly because this concept is so deeply embedded in our thought that we have made a fetish of security. Thus it has been said times without number that the poor cannot be interested in freedom, that democracy can flourish only among the relatively well-to-do.

All the evidence, when fairly examined, is against that shallow view. Our forefathers, who set our democratic pattern, were not leaders of a wealthy nation; far from it. And if wealth meant happiness, we, incomparably the wealthiest people in the world, should be correspondingly the happiest. But the weight of the evidence is to the contrary; if we are to believe our thought leaders—the columnists—we are not happy.

If wealth and comfort and security are really the preconditions of the democratic process, we might as well write off Latin America, Asia and Africa as ineligible to participate in democracy, and we shall soon be an island in the midst of a hostile sea of anti-democratic ideologies.

There is nothing in the Bill of Rights that promises that the freedom there guaranteed can be enjoyed in comfort or in a serene atmosphere. In the long history of freedom, discomfort has always accompanied speaking on controversial matters. There never has been a time when there were not social sanctions against candor. But if freedom is to amount to anything, one must be ready to pay the price. When a man speaks out, he must be ready to receive, if not absorb, criticism. Dostoevski lived in a land of tyranny; he knew its corrosive effect. With the wisdom that comes from lack of liberty, he asserted that "tragic freedom" is better than "compulsory happiness." It is a lesson we need to ponder.

I am asserting that those who misrepresent the normal experiences of life, who decry being controversial, who shun risk, are enemies of the American way of life, whatever the piety of their vocal professions and the patriotic flavor of their platitudes.

Advanced Study Scholars Named

Clinton, Brueckner, Platz, and Hogendorn Gain First Grants

THE FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT of the Fraternity's establishment of the Advanced Study Scholarship Program appeared in the September, 1959, number of THE RAINBOW. In the June, 1960, number of the magazine, a selection committee was named, composed of Robert C. Becherer, Purdue, '23, president of Link-Belt Company; Russell A. Griffin, Hillsdale, '29, Dean of Students and professor of English at Western Reserve University; and Leon H. Wallace, Indiana, '25, Dean of the School of Law, Indiana University. In the latter article, the qualifications for selection were set forth and the facts concerning the scholarships were reported.

At the Swampscott Karnea in June, Dr. Frederick Kershner, Butler, '37, the Fraternity's Supervisor of Scholarship, had the pleasure of announcing the names of the first winners of the Advanced Study Scholarships. Receiving the checks of $1,400 each were John J. Clinton, Jr., Baker, '60; David A. Brueckner, Ohio, '60; George A. Platz, III, Northwestern, '60; and Jan S. Hogendorn, Wesleyan, '60.

John J. Clinton, Jr., who commonly uses his middle name of Jarrett, will use his scholarship at Kansas University School of Medicine. It is Jarrett's hope to be a medical missionary. He majored in chemistry at Baker University, and during his undergraduate career was on the Dean's List every semester. He also won the freshman mathematics award, the freshman physics award, and the F. H. Driggs Chemistry Award (in his junior year). In extracurricular activities, he was a member of the Men's Glee Club, the German Club, the Student Council, president of the sophomore class, a student minister during his junior and senior years, and was president of the Gamma Theta Chapter.

David A. Brueckner had planned to use his scholarship for graduate study in structural chemistry and atomic physics at California Institute of Technology. His plans, however, will be delayed for a year as he was also awarded a Fulbright Scholarship for study at the University of Glasgow in Scotland. His Alvan E. Duerr Graduate Scholarship of $1,400 will be held for him when he enters California Tech in September, 1961. Upon completion of his graduate work, he hopes to become associated with a research institute or to devote himself to college teaching. A major in chemistry and mathematics at Ohio University, Dave is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, and Blue Key. He was president of student council, president of his sophomore class, winner of many awards in both scholarship and extracurricular activities, and was both rush chairman and activities chairman of Beta Chapter.

George A. Platz, III, having been admitted to Harvard University School of Law, will apply his scholarship toward obtaining his law degree. Associate Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, hearing that George hoped someday to merit consideration for appointment as a law clerk to one of the Supreme Court justices, stated in the opening remarks of his banquet address that if George achieved any-

Beta Omega Holds Alumni Reunion

By DICK NEUMAN, California, '62

THE UNDERGRADS of Beta Omega Chapter at the University of California took a step in the right direction in strengthening their alumni relations by holding a successful dinner reunion on May 7, 1960. Seventy-five alums, from as far south as San Diego and as far east as New York, turned out for this event. The reunion was held in the barbecue area of the chapter's grounds. It was an informal, afternoon, barbecue-type affair with plenty to eat. A golf match was held that morning at Tilden Regional Golf Course with 24 Delts trying their luck and skill. Some of the undergrads caddied for the alums to make sure they could make it the full 18 holes. Pete Marshall, '36, from Lodi, California, was low gross with a 78.

The day's festivities included a trip to Memorial Stadium to watch the Cal Bears scrimmage; campus tours so that the alums could see the vast changes that have been made at the University; a volleyball tournament in which the alums challenged the undergrads and won; and a tremendous dinner. The dinner will probably be the thing most remembered by the alumni. It consisted of a sizable barbecued pig, prime ribs of beef, baked potatoes, peas, four different kinds of salad, sheet cake, and a whole host of hors d'oeuvres. Bob Snyder, '62, and Chapter Adviser Stu Manners, '51, were responsible for the preparations of this dinner.

The oldest alumnus at the reunion was Bob Myers, class of 1911. The Delt that came the greatest distance was also Mr. Myers, who resides in New York.

Plans for the new addition to the chapter house were put on display so that everyone could see what the house will look like by the end of the summer of 1961. All in all, it was a highly successful reunion and one that has laid the foundation for a stronger alumni relationship as well as having established a new tradition: an annual alumni reunion.

In January, he was elected to the board of trustees of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc. He also served as a director of the Davenport area YMCA-YWCA $1,995,000 building fund campaign. Later this spring, he was elected president of the YMCA board of directors. In April, he was presented with the Quad-Cities Sales Executives Club annual "Distinguished Service Award." He was also given the Junior Chamber of Commerce Award for "outstanding service to the community." In addition to being vice-president of Palmer School of Chiropractic, he is also vice-president and treasurer of the Central Broadcasting Co., the Tri-City Broadcasting Co., and Palmer Enterprises.

Western Reserve University has awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree to Dr. URSUS VICTOR PORTMANN, Western Reserve, '09, a Tucson, Arizona, radiologist. Dr. Portmann joined the Cleveland Clinic in 1922 and served with the clinic for 30 years, before retiring in 1952. Upon retirement, he moved to Tucson, where he is a practicing therapeutic radiologist. He was a consultant in radiology for the Veteran's Administration from 1942 to 1952 and has been a trustee and examiner of the American Board of Radiology since 1939.

Sigma Delta Chi has awarded its annual award for distinguished reporting to WGN, Chicago's only non-network TV station. The station also received, for the second straight year, the award for its "Great Music in Chicago" series. The general manager of the station is WARD QUAAL, Michigan, '41. Mr. Quaal has been a leader in the presentation of color TV shows. This summer WGN began presenting color telecasting of the Cubs and White Sox daytime games. He started in broadcasting early, as an announcer, writer, and salesman for a Marquette, Michigan, station even before entering the University of Michigan. While in college, he was a student announcer for WJR, Detroit. He joined WGN immediately following his graduation. After service in the Navy during World War II, he returned to WGN in 1945. He left the station in 1949 to head up a broadcasting channel in Washington, D. C. From Washington, he went with Crosley Broadcasting Corp., of which he was later named a vice-president. In 1956, he returned to WGN. In addition to his pioneering and advance in the field of color TV, he has been very active in emphasizing the necessity of insisting on a proper level of truth and taste in commercials. In spite of chancing a loss in revenue, he has rejected "undesirable" advertising.

Dallas

The Dallas area alumni and their wives were guests of General and Mrs. Albert Sidney Johnson at a highly successful dinner affair in May.

The beautiful swimming pool and gardens were the setting for the social period, which was followed by an elegant buffet served in their colonial home.

Among the 60 persons present were Paul W. Platter and Dr. Robert B. McBride, members of Gamma Iota during its early years.

Following the dinner, alumni chapter officers for the ensuing year were elected. They are: William C. Herndon, Jr., president; Jess C. Hammock, Jr., vice-president; Lloyd Birdwell, secretary; and Tipton Housewright, treasurer.

These officers and their wives met on August 11 for a dinner meeting at the home of the president, 3001 Southwestern. Plans were completed for sponsoring several rush activities in Dallas during the month of August. Others assisting in the planning were Peyton Townsend, rush chairman of Gamma Iota, General Albert Sidney Johnson, and J. J. Robertson, of Houston.

Any Delt alumnus in the Dallas area not now on the group's mailing list is invited to contact William Herndon at his home, phone EM-8-5027, or office, phone RI-2-3481.

Denver

The Denver Alumni Chapter of Delta Tau Delta at the annual business meeting on May 12, 1960, elected the following officers: E. Dee Gray, president, Idaho, '40; B. C. Emerson, vice-president, M.I.T., '39; David R. Milek, secretary-treasurer, Colorado '49.

The high light of the summer season was a trip to Central City on August 27, 1960, for dinner and the New York stage play "A Thurber Carnival." Fifteen Deltas and their wives chartered a bus for the event and enjoyed a wonderful evening.

The monthly parties are being held the first Sunday of every month at Cherry Hills Country Club from 4-6 p.m. All Deltas and their wives are welcome to attend.

DAVID R. MILEK

Indianapolis

The Indianapolis Alumni Chapter sponsored a rush party for the five undergraduate chapters in the State of Indiana during the second week in August. The party was held at the Governor's Mansion with Governor Harold W. Handley, Indiana, '32, acting as host.

More than 150 alumni, undergraduates, and rushees gathered on the spacious lawn of the Mansion for dinner and fellowship. Insofar as Governor Handley is not a candidate for re-election this year, it will be necessary to hold the annual event at a new location next year.

The fall meeting, yet to be announced, will feature election of new officers for the coming year and planning for the Christmas party and annual Founders Day banquet and dance honoring the five undergraduate chapters at Butler, DePauw, Indiana, Purdue, and Wabash.

DAVE ENGLEHART

Los Angeles

Under the leadership of its new president, Richards Barger, the Los Angeles Alumni Chapter has been having a very successful year. Other officers for 1960 include Jerry Harrington, vice-president; Don Swensen, secretary; and Alan Gilchrist, treasurer. The new location for the regular monthly luncheon meetings is the Los Angeles Athletic Club. On the third Tuesday of the month local Deltas gather to hear Dan Ferguson, Nat Fitts, and Frank Rethlefsen recall some of the old Delt days. All Deltas in the area, or any visitors to Los Angeles, are encouraged to attend the monthly luncheons.

High light of the year has been the Founders Day Banquet when 150 Deltas were fortunate to hear President Francis M. Hughes deliver an inspiring address.

Early in September will be a get-together at the Mission Room of the Pabst Brewery. This function has been re-instituted after a lapse of several years.

Assistance has been given to the Santa Barbara Deltas in their work for a new chapter house. A committee from the L.A. alumni furnished some recommendations as to methods of financing the project.

JERRY M. HARRINGTON

Oklahoma City

On Monday evening, the 27th of June, the Oklahoma City Alumni Chapter held the second in a series of planned monthly meetings at the home of Walter Jones, Kansas State, '30.

A turnout of 64 more than tripled the 18 persons who attended the first meeting in May. Our present aim is to achieve a 100 per cent turnout of the 130 Deltas in the greater Oklahoma City area.

An election of officers was held with Don Holt, Oklahoma '46, elected president; Joe F. Gibson, Oklahoma, '34, vice-president; Jerry Marshall, Oklahoma, '57, treasurer; and Don Rosser, Missouri, '57, secretary.

Representatives from Oklahoma State, Oklahoma, and Westminster were present, and plans were made for a combined rush party to be given by the alumni in August.

Deltas from eight different chapters attended and all the brothers thoroughly enjoyed making new acquaintances and renewing old ones.

RONALD E. ROSSER

St. Louis

This year's Founders Day celebration in St. Louis was a dandy. A good crowd was on hand April 22 at Ray Quinlan's Party House to hear Bill Gentry deliver an excellent address which covered many points concerning the eight Founders of our Fraternity of which I am sure many of us had been unaware until then. Bill was quick to explain, however, that the data on the Founders was not firsthand knowledge, although he was the senior member present, having graduated from the University of Missouri in 1921.

Other voices heard included President

THE DELT CHAPTERS

Alabama

Delta Eta had reached what the brothers considered the pinnacle of success midway of the spring semester, only to find that more and better things were still to be ours.

Not only are the 'Bama Delta tops at Alabama, but, according to new IFC records, we are now the largest fraternity on campus.

We thought, after winning the five positions we sought in SGA elections, things could not be better. These victories, however, proved to be the calm before an even bigger storm. Brother Gary Jackson was elected president pro tem when the SGA Legislature was organized. Brother Shan Wilcox was elected secretary of the IFC, and the board of publications named Brothers Donald Stewart and Reggie Hamner to the two associate editorships of the University's yearbook.

In the field of intramural sports, the brothers at Delta Eta made a last-minute surge to place second in competition for the all-sports trophy. This final surge included winning both the volleyball and softball championships. The outstanding job done by Brother Travis Bowden in directing the chapter's athletic program for the year was made known to the campus when he was named the outstanding sports chairman by the intramural department.

The chapter's outstanding leadership abilities were recognized when the outstanding ROTC cadet awards were given. In addition to having the outstanding freshman cadet, Delta Eta claimed the awards for the outstanding sophomore and senior cadets. The recipients were Brothers Joe Stewart, Bill Cocks, and Max Allen. We consoled our loss of the outstanding junior award by the mere fact that we did not have any junior cadets.

Delta Eta was pleased when its entry, Miss Lou Hollis, was selected for the Miss Commerce Day title at the annual spring dance of the Commerce Association. Lou is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The spring houseparty at Panama City, Florida, during spring holidays, and the other social functions immediately preceding final exams proved to be a real inspiration. The chapter's scholastic standing rose to a new high. A number of brothers made the Dean's List and two made all A's. The actual standings have not been announced, but Delta Eta will be among the top in this field also.

Several summer rush parties at various points throughout the state greatly benefited our rush program as well as providing enjoyable gatherings for all. One such event was a repeat of last summer's outing at Lake Martin given by the Montgomery Alumni Chapter.

The visit of Brother Hugh Shields and the announcement that Delta Eta could expect to occupy a new Shelter, barring any unforeseen complications, in the fall of 1961 provided a grand finale for, undisputably, the most successful year any chapter could hope for.

We at Delta Eta extend our best wishes for a most successful 1960-61 school year to each Delt chapter as we all strive to spread our great Fraternity's name throughout our nation.

High light of the spring semester at Alpha Chapter was the spring formal, held at the Oakland Beach Hotel. Over 100 people attended the combined dinner-dance. During the intermission Sally Sayers was crowned Delt Queen for 1960. Everyone enjoyed himself and felt that the evening was a fitting end to another wonderful year. Two weeks before the spring formal was the spring party, held at the Shelter and based on the theme of an old-fashioned picnic. The afternoon was spent playing softball, horseshoes, and having a good time. Dinner for the hungry Delts and their dates was cooked over our outdoor grill. The evening was spent dancing and singing around the traditional bonfire. Thanks are in order to the social committee, headed by Tom Thomason, for its work this semester.

The softball team, coached by Jim Erny, had a fine season and received enough points to finish third in the all-sports race. Alpha is looking forward to an even better standing next year with almost all the teams retaining the same men. Although we did well in sports, the biggest push has been for improved grades. Everyone feels confident that this past semester will be a great improvement over the last.

We are all looking forward to next year, with the idea of making it better than the last. We will miss the graduating seniors, but the rush committee is working to attempt to replace these men. Already six men are bid for the coming year and will be the largest fall pledge at Alpha Chapter. Brother Hagen is presently planning their pledge program.

JIM MERCHANT

Arizona

After dispersing to the coast, Mexico, and other points south, Arizona's Delts reassembled after Easter vacation for the conclusion of the spring semester.

Highlighting the last month of school was our spring formal, Baile de Oro. The all-day event was staged at Rancho del Lago, a guest ranch east of Tucson. There, Delts and dates spent an afternoon of swimming and tennis before the buffet dinner and evening of dancing.

Queen of the event was Gloria Magdaleno. Her crowning climaxed a semester of outstanding social events, a tribute to Social Chairman Kent Dussair.

Earlier in the semester, dessert exchanges with the Tri-Delts, Thetas, and AOPi's supplied midweek social activity, but as the semester progressed, social events moved out-of-doors. One of the more memorable of these outings was that led by Brother Dick Young, an excursion entitled "Safari to Sabino." The term "safari" referred to the manner in which Young led brothers and dates to his secluded hideaway—somewhere in the depths of Sabino Canyon.

Athletically, UA Delts wound up their second year in competition by placing ninth among the University's 26 fraternities. Next year, with the starting members of each intramural team returning, Epsilon Epsilon hopes to threaten the perennial "Top Five" with experienced teams in all competition.

On campus, several Delts received recognition during the second semester. Chuck Loop was elected president of the University Journalists, colony of a national journalism fraternity. Loop will also serve as circulation manager of the Wildcat, campus newspaper. Bruce Burkhardt was elected vice-president of the UA chapter of Beta Beta Beta, while Jon Wardrip was selected to Chain Gang, the University's junior men's honorary. In spring sports, Ray Dull lettered as a member of the UA swimming team.

Scholastically, besides maintaining its hold on fourth place among fraternities, Epsilon Epsilon had four graduating seniors who received graduate fellowships. They are: Gary Hyde, Don McArthur, Dave Montgomery, and Ross Popkey. A fifth brother, Craig Trueblood, will enter Marquette dental school, while Chris Roberts has been selected for OCS.

With a new selective rush system set for the fall, Arizona Delts participated in an active summer rush program. On September first the chapter reassembled for formal rush and a promising fall semester.

JON WARDRIP

Baker

Gamma Theta established an unequaled record on the Baker campus for the year of 1960.

In varsity athletics, Delta Tau excelled. With 13 lettermen in football, six in basketball, nine in track, two in golf, and one in tennis we had a grand total of 46 per cent of the varsity lettermen. One of the outstanding performances was a 1:56.1 880-yard run by Doug Roberts, a fine sophomore from Olathe. Jim Kean, a senior, retired the Geotz athletic scholarship trophy by winning it for the third straight year.

In intramural athletics, Gamma Theta picked up eight firsts and two seconds, thus winning the intramural sweepstakes trophy for the eighth consecutive year.

Athletics was not the only place where Gamma Theta left its mark. Delts dominated the top offices in both clubs and all-school positions and went on to win the scholarship trophy by pulling down the top index on campus.

Gamma Theta Delts have done a commendable job this year, and to one person goes a great deal of credit for this achievement. Our new housemother, Mrs. Harrold Crosby, has been an inspiration to each and every Delt at Baker. Her charming personality and motherly understanding have brought us closer together in our love for Delta Tau Delta.

This year's pledge class was a great one. Every one of these 27 men will be fine leaders in our group next year. Already these men have shown their talents by having a tremendous pledge party, president of the freshman class, and seven lettermen, as well as quite a few noteworthy scholars.

One of the high lights of the year is the building of our new Shelter. Construction of this symbol of progress was begun early this spring. We hope that it will be ready for occupancy this fall. The house will be built of reinforced concrete and brick and will accommodate 40 men.

Gamma Theta has set its sights as high as ever when it comes to selecting a group for this fall. Our first rush party was held July 9 and several more will ensue this summer.

The crowning event of this year, as in all years, was the annual Orchid Ball.

Traditional "pooling" of brother follows a pinning at Arizona

At this event, Nancy Boudrot was crowned Delt Queen for 1960. Thousands of purple, white, and orchid napkins stuffed into frames, highlighted by the Delt Crest and a 10-foot high orchid, bid a fitting farewell to an illustrious year at Baker University.

ALLEN WEIDE

Brown

Beta Chi had a particularly outstanding year in 1959-60. The year was highlighted by the outing to the Brown Reservation over homecoming and the very successful faculty party in the fall and the "Sweetheart" and well-known "Jungle Party" week ends in the spring. The final climax of a successful year was the presentation of the Lanpher intramural cup to the chapter.

The Lanpher Cup is awarded each year to the Brown fraternity which has amassed the best record in intramural sports throughout the year. Beta Chi topped the 17 fraternities on campus by placing second in football, fifth in volleyball, third in basketball, tying for first in wrestling, first in swimming, fourth in baseball, and second in track. The Brown Delts showed much desire and were pointed out as the intramural organization with the most spirit by the athletic department.

Standouts in the intramural year were Steve Rice, who copped first-string positions on both the all-University football and basketball teams; Tony Petrarca, who led the football team (also an all-University choice); Norm Enman, who captained the swimming team; Joe Kelly, who was high scorer for Delt basketball; Bob Klarsch, who led the wrestlers to victory; Ben Hall, the player-coach of the baseball team; and Bob Keith and Steve Rice, who pulled in high honors in the track meet.

Beta Chi's sweetheart for the year was vivacious Pat Heffron.

Under the leadership of Harry Usher, the rushing program went well for the chapter. We got 14 freshmen and three upperclassmen, all of whom are sure to be excellent additions to the chapter. The new pledges will keep the Delt house one of the largest and strongest on campus.

Under the presidency of Clarke Ryder, the coming year promises to be just as fruitful and enjoyable as the past. Plans are already under way to redecorate the TV room and build a trophy case in the party room.

SANFORD GLADDING

Butler

As the year 1959-60 rolls rapidly to a close, the men of Beta Zeta Chapter face the busiest time of the year. In February, we elected new officers to lead the chapter through this semester. The men elected were John Ross, president; Dick Simmons, vice-president; Dave Kotzbauer, recording secretary; Tom Simmons, corresponding secretary; Owen Muir, treasurer; Ray Smigla, guide. These men are all capable of leading the chapter through an outstanding year.

On the athletic field, Brothers Don Carr and Andy Zipkoare starred for Tony Hinkle's baseball team. Andy was the starting second baseman and Don handled the catching chores. Pledge Mike Peary is on the freshman track team, running the hurdles. On the chapter level, the actives beat the pledges in a basketball game earlier in the semester. Lance Middlekauff paced the winners with 14 points. The pledges, still not convinced, challenged the actives to a softball game. Lastly, the team of Charlie Spiher and Denny Dwyer defeated our housemother, "Mom" Parry, and Bill Bangs in a bridge tournament. Some are still claiming that the winning team merely "got the cards."

The chapter was recently increased by the addition of five excellent initiates.

Rush Chairman Charlie Spiher, has been hard at work throughout the semester. During the first weeks of the semester, his efforts resulted in the pledging of 15 new men. He is now concentrating on spring rush in hopes of garnering an outstanding pledge class for next fall. We have had one rush party and are planning on having another before the end of semester.

Social Chairman Bill Thompson has many activities lined up for the brothers. We have exchange dinners and socials with the Pi Phis, Thetas, and Kappas to add to our social calendar. True to form, the spring semester was one of much activity. Incidentally, Bill Thompson is serving as president of IFC.

Song Leaders Bill Thompson and Byron Schoolfield whipped 17 of the brothers into shape for the Spring Sing. They chose "The Halls of Ivy" and "Love Is Just Around the Corner" in an effort to return the trophy to our case.

It was a good year for Beta Zeta. Let us hope that this fall will prove even better.

TOM SIMMONS

California

As finals signify the end of the semester and of the school year, the brothers at Beta Omega are looking back to one of the best years in recent history.

Along the lines of scholarship, Dave Grether brought the first Phi Beta Kappa key to the Shelter in many years. Barry Patton, a sophomore, has an A average in his major of math and physics, and should make Phi Beta Kappa as a junior.

Socially, this last spring we held our annual Boat Party, Overnight, and Vikings Party. All three proved to be quite successful.

The last year saw the Delts very active in campus policies. Dick Thinger was men's representative. Brian Van Camp was lower division representative and was recently elected to representative at large for the coming year. Don Alves was president of the junior class and was also recently elected to the position of first vice-president of the associated students of the University of California. It is noteworthy that both Don and Brian, along with Dick Dumke, were invited into Cal Club by the president of the University. This is the greatest honor that can be bestowed upon an undergraduate in the California state university system. Additionally, Whit Nicolas was vice-president of the sophomore class and will be one of Cal's five yell leaders in the fall.

The Delts have also been active in collegiate athletics. Carl Bergeron and Ed Protiva were on the football team, while Dick Coveny played soccer. Dick Stewart, Bill Cull, Kent Harvey, and Willy Norberg all participated on both the water polo and swimming teams. Bob Snyder was a member of the wrestling team, while Dick Neuman was a stalwart member of the golf team.

Additionally, Ted Falk, Kevin Scarpelli, and Robbie Ward were all members of the Cal baseball team that came so close to representing the west coast at the NCAA in Omaha.

In intramurals, Beta Omega won the football championship and came very close to winning basketball. The high light of intramurals, though, was the football victory over the Stanford Delts.

Finally, this spring we held our first annual alumni reunion. It was very successful, with alums from all over the state participating. Everyone is looking forward to the second reunion next spring.

Beta Omega had a very successful year. The brothers hope all other chapters were as fortunate, and we join in extending our wishes for the best luck possible to everyone in the coming year.

BILL AUSFAHL

Cincinnati

The 1959-1960 year at the University was brought to a fitting climax at the annual spring week end. The week end started off with a Dogpatch Party at Twin Oaks Country Club in Kentucky. The following night held the setting for the spring formal at the Cincinnati Club. The program for the formal included the awards for outstanding chapter achievement during the past year. First of all were scholarship awards. For the active chapter, Brother Don Plane won this award for the fourth consecutive year. Larry Goodridge had the highest scholastic average for his newly initiated class. Next, the intramural award was presented to Brothers Dick Foley and Al Deckebach for their outstanding participation in intramurals. The outstanding pledge-of-the-year award went to Paul Marshall. The Delt Pillars, a group of men of outstanding chapter achievement, chose Brothers Carl Rue and Bill Gervers as new members. Finally, the "Mr. Delt" award, for the man who has given most to the chapter during the past year, was awarded as a tie to Harold Whitney and Ken Lehr.

The final day of the week end was a relaxing picnic at Alumnus Howard Fishbach, Jr.'s, residence. The past was very successful for Gamma Xi. Two events which led to this success were the Sigma Sigma carnival and the Mother's Day sing. Gamma Xi, for the third time in four years, won the "Most Popular Booth" trophy of the Sigma Sigma carnival. The theme was "Pelt a Delt," and upon breaking two out of three balloons, a contestant could throw a pie at a Delt. Brother Craig Devine was chairman of the booth's committee.

At the Mother's Day sing, Gamma Xi took its second runner-up trophy in two years under the expert directing of Brother Harold Whitney. The chapter as a whole worked very hard as the competition was stiff for the top four places.

Intramurals this year were greatly improved over last year as Intramurals Chairman Bill Gervers kept the chapter on the ball. This year we placed in the top ten, at least 15 places above our previous year's standing.

JACOB DOTY

Cornell

Over the summer we have had some notable improvements in the Shelter. The Beta Omicron House Corporation has had the exterior of the house painted, along with repairs to the stucco and gutters. The interior was brightened up through the efforts of Max Dorsey, our faithful houseman. Four more steel desks were purchased by the chapter through Warner Orvis, '06. With Tom Halsey as house manager this year, we are hoping that the physical plant of our 65-year-old Shelter will be kept up.

Last spring our assistant social chairman, Bud Fackelman, was elected to Mummy Majura and Fessors Majure, two social honoraries. Bud also plays saxphone in a dance band. Roger Demler and Tom Halsey were elected cocaptains of this year's varsity sailing team. Fletch Street and Chuck Baker, both sophomores, earned their numerals last year and are two of Cornell's top skippers. Also on the lake last spring were 150-lb. crew men, Tony Seaver and Louis Nees. These two are orientation counselors this fall. Tony is president of Beta Omicron and is in chemical engineering. Louis is in engineering physics.

Jack Evans has returned for a year of graduate work in industrial engineering. Jack is head resident of a freshman dorm and will live there. Bill Huenefeld will also be a dorm counselor. John Fleischauer is the manager of the Cornell Men's Glee Club and is busy working on a trip to Russia for the group. Howard Bruschi is assistant manager of the Glee Club.

Intramural football prospects look bright for this year with all but three of last year's regulars returning. The sophomore class shows plenty of promise. The fall social season will be highlighted by parties after five home football games. Included in these are alumni week end and fall week end. We will welcome back the alums with a lighting display in the front yard. Roger Demler is in charge of this project. Fall week end is always the biggest thing this side of spring week end at Cornell.

BILL HUENEFELD

Duke

Delt Kappa wound up a highly successful year, and although we are losing a fine group of brothers through graduation, our excellent pledge class insures us of having an outstanding group for years to come. The Delt Serenade, led by Joe Lanning, honoring our pin-ups, was a great success. In athletics, our softball team finished in the runner-up spot in the school championship. The championship game was the swan song for such intramural veteran campaigners as Ed Greene and Duane Bowman. On the intercollegiate level, several Duke Delt were outstanding. Bob Turner was a valuable relief pitcher on the Duke A. C. C. runner-up club. Tom Bazemore captured the A. C. C. championship in the 880-yard run, while Jerry Nourse won the two-mile and finished second in the mile. Bazemore and Wain Barnes were also members of the winning mile relay team. The brothers of Delta Kappa, under the presidency of Lee Seybert, are looking forward to another fine year.

F. W. BARNES

Emory

Spring quarter proved to be another quarter full of honors for Beta Epsilon. In the campus elections, Bill Garland was elected treasurer of the student senate and Joe Rainey was elected vice-president of the college council. Jim Spence and Chip Seagler were also elected to the college council.

Honorable mention decoration winner at Emory

George Slade was elected regional president of the Newman Club. Dave Strimer will be the justice of Emory's traffic court next year. Bill Garland has recently been elected treasurer of Circle K. Ben Lacy will serve as cocaptain of Emory's wrestling team next year.

In scholarship, the Delt ranked first fall quarter and second winter quarter by .04 of a point. If we stood high in scholarship last quarter, we will be first on the row scholastically for the year. Bill Kennedy was tapped by Alpha Epsilon Upsilon, lower division honor society.

Out of nine seniors leaving this year, Beta Epsilon is fortunate to have at least six returning to Emory for graduate study. Those leaving are Nat Long, John McKeever, David Marsh, Jim Major, Danny Byrd, Jim Prevatt, Mike Biggs, Linn Wagner, Bill Fackler, and Doc Fuqua.

At the last combo party of the year, Bill Fackler was recognized as being the outstanding brother for the year. Ben Taylor was recognized as the outstanding freshman.

In addition to several combo parties which we had spring quarter, Dooley's Frolics dances, which featured Tommy Dorsey's band, added to the Delt's social life. In the annual Dooley's lawn displays the Delt received honorable mention for their display entitled "The Age of Science." Jim Spence, Dooley's chairman, deserves much of the credit for making our lawn display a success.

Each year at Emory the Tri-Delt sorority recognizes the four fraternities who have contributed the most to the campus during the year. We at Beta Epsilon were proud to be listed as one of the four fraternities who were outstanding in "scholarship, athletics, and participation in outside activities on the campus."

As another successful school year for Beta Epsilon was concluded, we anticipated another successful rush week next year.

JIMMY COWELL

Florida

Delta Zeta has an excellent all-around record to look back on last year. As school opened we secured 41 of the best pledges on campus. We excelled in intramurals as we placed fifth out of 23 campus organizations. We are extremely proud of our scholastic record first semester, as we were first on campus for both brothers and pledges. The ratings for the entire year aren't out at this writing, but we all worked hard and hope we can hold our top position.

As the year progressed we had many successful enterprises to add to our record. We won second-best house decorations in the homecoming pageant. We won the intramural sportsmanship trophy. We received many compliments on our Mother's Day reception, that it was the best affair of its kind on campus. We received compliments from the sororities on our social events, which we think have been the best on campus.

Within our ranks men have been distinguishing themselves as top leaders both off campus and on. Larry Stewart was given the Dean Brady award for being the most outstanding student in student government. Four brothers, Emmett Anderson, Buck Bradford, Larry Stewart, and Wayne Williamson, were tapped for Florida Blue Key, which is the outstanding honor on the Florida campus. Bill Biglow has become Florida's most outstanding debator. Gavin O'Brien was elected chancellor of the honor court. Dave Qualls made Phi Beta Kappa. L. E. Hicks is playing first string for the "Fighting Gators." Steve McBride went to the national diving championships and, as a sophomore, came in 16th in the nation. Bob Gilmour is serving as feature writer for the Florida Alligator. Buck Hicks was elected chief justice of the interfraternity council tribunal. Six Deltas are serving on the executive council of their respective colleges, and 18 Deltas have been picked for honorary societies. All in all, this shows a well organized and efficient group of outstanding men.

Our younger brothers are already becoming active in the chapter and on campus. We believe they are ready to carry on the great traditions, and bring honor to Delta Tau Delta.

Although many of our older brothers are getting married, we still have a fine nucleus of men to carry out a great rush program. This will be supplemented by our fine alumni here in Florida.

Here's wishing good luck and good rushing to all Delt chapters from Delta Zeta in the Sunshine State.

GARY SORRELL

Florida State

Delta Phi began the spring semester in anticipation of eclipsing the record achieved last fall. As this school year closes, we can look back with pride on attaining this goal, and upon a very successful semester.

Beginning things with a roar, our intramural football team mowed through the opposition like the "Grim Reaper." Ably coached by Brother Jim Crosby, and led by stellar quarterback, Jerry Barry, Delta Phi compiled an 8-1 record, scoring two points for each one made by opponents. The big game was in beating the Phi Deltas for the championship. Coach Crosby acquired a few gray hairs quickly in the tense moments of the game to add to those gained in leading the Deltas through other tense but dramatic events in bringing us from tenth to third place, in the final standings. He was under great pressure the whole year, but withstood them all, and did a great job. President Steve Helgemo won his weight class in wrestling for the second straight year. Other athletic Deltas were: Marty Sobol, as a star first baseman on the freshman baseball team; and Jerry Hourdas, Bruce Darcy, Mike LeBlanc, and Al Bocacio, all pledges, on the varsity football team.

The biggest event of the season, besides our annual week end, was the winning of Campus Sing. It was a terrific experience for Delta Phi, and a personal triumph for our director, Brother Sal Lanza. Dressed formally, and professionally directed by Sal, the Deltas sang "Ave Maria" and "Ole Arks A'Moverin'." Last year we placed second in this event and received a standing ovation. This year's performance was so close to professional quality that when we finished, quiet prevailed for a few moments before thunderous applause cascaded through the auditorium. That was a proud moment for Delta Phi and for Brother Sal.

Then Easter vacation came. A week end of fabulous fun prevailed for all, highlighted by a party at Pledge Sandy Sharpe's house, with Deltas from all over the nation in attendance.

Delta Phi is proud that its gracious, lovable, and charming housemother, Mrs. Mary Barrett, is beginning her fifth year with us. We only hope that she continues to be as proud of us as we are of her. The Deltas also warmly welcome their new chapter advisor, Mr. Dee Edington, an alumnus of Iota Chapter at Michigan State. Mr. Edington is a swimming coach at Florida State.

Socially, the Deltas were never caught lagging. Jealous rumors ran rampant through fraternity row at some of the parties held this year. The biggest noise was about our Egyptian theme, annual week end. At the formal dance beginning the fun, the high light was the crowning of Miss Debbie Kindernay as queen and sweetheart. Miss Mary Jane Will never looked lovelier as she relinquished the crown she had so graciously worn all year.

The Florida Supreme Court building was the site of the initiation of a fine crop of neophytes last semester. The affair was so successful that we are planning on using the site again. Following the initiation, the Deltas and dates enjoyed a banquet. Brother Doyle Sparkman was awarded the "Athlete of the Year" award, and Brother Charles Maultsby won the scholastic award, after leading the chapter with a fine 3.7 average.

Being very active in campus affairs, Delta Phi more than held its own in winning honors. Brother Bernie Abbott was elected chief justice of the honor court, and was tapped by the national men's leadership honorary, Gold Key. He also was initiated into the national military honorary, Scabbard and Blade, as were Deltas Jerry Barry, Charles Maultsby, and Johnny Boesch. Brother Boesch was chosen commander of the Pershing Rifles, and won an outstanding cadet award. Deltas comprise over half of the membership of the Pershing Rifles local company. President Steve Helgemo was elected to senior men's judiciary, and Junior Holland to junior men's judiciary. Other Deltas are active in groups such as Cavaliers, Theater Dance, and in religious organizations.

Our pledges held frequent parties last semester to earn money for their project. They did a good job and did not receive ample recognition for their efforts.

Delta Phi was sorry to lose Brothers Dick Straw, Rick Howes, Dan Evans, Jerry Barry, Bill McCrocklin, John DelVecchio, Gus Sardinha, and John Fleming, by graduation.

The Deltas at Delta Phi are looking forward to an even greater year in '60-'61.

LEWIS W. BILLUPS

George Washington

The school year 1959-'60 was a banner year for Gamma Eta Chapter at George Washington. Our chapter as a whole ranked above the all-fraternity scholastic average for both semesters. Brother Tim Mead was the student body president, and the student council, under his leadership, formulated many important student benefits. Brother Ed Hino cocaptained GW's football team, and fell a few yards short of setting a new Southern Conference passing record, ranking high among the nation's quarterbacks. He was accompanied on the gridiron by Brothers Bill Smythe and Gene Posati. Other brothers competing on varsity squads included Jim Whitehead, who helped GW win the Southern Conference tennis title, and Harvey Montgomery, who bolstered GW's crew team.

In intramurals, Gamma Eta copped both the intramural bowling and volleyball championships, and stood high in football, basketball, and wrestling. Brother Jerry Bowman was given a trophy for being the outstanding intramural bowler, and Brother Jerry Cornelius won the University's outstanding intramural athlete award. Gamma Eta's biggest trophy was the one awarded for first place in the Interfraternity Sing. Our song director, Ken Larish, won the outstanding Fraternity Sing director trophy. Soloist Chuck Johnson played the lead in the University stage-production, "Dam Yankees."

Gamma Eta's other distinctions were legion—we copped the trophy which annually goes to the fraternity displaying the most school spirit at athletic contests. Brother John Calarco was the University mascot (portraying our founding father, George Washington) at all athletic events. Brother Tim Mead took first place in the intramural extemporaneous speech contest. Brother Bob Nichols was campaign chairman for the University political party. Brother John Whiting won the "Mr. Apollo" contest by virtue of the votes from the sororities; and Brother Bill Reagan captained the University's Pershing Rifle detachment.

Socially, we had exchanges with the Kappas, DGs, Thetas, Chi Os, Pi Phis, and AE Phis; the first four were held in the temporary house, the last two in our new Shelter, which we entered in late December. We had a hayride with the Kappas, a "Roaring Twenties" party, and a pre-finals picnic in the spring, held in the "heart of ole' Virginy," as well as open houses for parents and alumni.

With our rush chairman, Brother Bill Peeples, and our president, Brother Bob Lineberry, now working overtime, we plan to have several traditionally hectic rush parties this summer, and another big pledge class next fall.

JOHN H. CLIFFORD

Georgia

As another college year opens for the Delts at Georgia, we can look back and say that Beta Delta had a very successful year. We improved our chapter a great deal in the past year, and we are going to be even better this year.

Our annual RAINBOW Formal closed out the year for the Delts, and it was the most successful party that we had last year. During the dance we crowned our new sweetheart, and we are all very happy to have such a wonderful girl with us. She is Miss Martha Martin. She is a member of the Alpha Omega Pi sorority on our campus. Martha is one of the finest girls on the University of Georgia campus, and we at Beta Delta know that she will be a great help to us as our Delta Queen for the coming school year. At our RAINBOW Formal we presented our chapter adviser and his wife with a little token of our appreciation for the fine job that they have done at Beta Delta. Last year was first for Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Howell with us, but we all know that we could not have had such a successful year without their guidance. We are all truly indebted to them.

Our housemother, Mrs. E. K. Overstreet, will not be with us this year. Mrs. "O" is going to retire at her home in Sylvania, Georgia. We are all sorry to see Mrs. "O" leave us. A banquet was held in her honor, and some very nice gifts were given to her as a token of our love.

We at Beta Delta conducted a big rush this summer. Under the direction of Brothers Richard Wemmers and Jim McIntyre we attempted a new summer rush program. This rush program was just for the state of Georgia this year. The above mentioned brothers contacted the alumni in certain towns and asked them to help in contacting and arranging parties for these rushees.

Last quarter we rated fifth on the scholarship chart out of the 20 social fraternities on our campus. This quarter we are going even higher because everyone is trying just a little harder to make better grades.

Several of our brothers have distinguished themselves on the campus with outstanding honors. Jack Thompson and Joe Bowden were elected to the X Club, which is one of the highest honors that a boy can receive. Rhett Tanner, our president, was tapped for a Phi Beta Kappa key; and Jim McIntyre was elected secretary of the Political Science Club. Ron Robinson was given a ribbon at the University's honors day program as being in the top 10 per cent of his class.

We at Beta Delta were very glad to hear from one of our outstanding alumni, Mr. J. Frank Sprouse, of Augusta, Georgia. Mr. Sprouse has offered to donate a trophy to our chapter. The Delts at Georgia are always glad to hear from any of their alumni, and we hope that each and every alumnus of Beta Delta will drop us a card or come by and see us whenever he can. The alumni of any chapter play an important part in the success of its goals and activities.

In sports for the year, Beta Delta finished in fourth place. The Delts at Georgia have been represented in all of the intramural activities for the past year and we are making plans to get the No. 1 position next year.

Well that just about wraps it up. As the football coach at LSU said, "Georgia is the school to watch next year." This is just one way to say that we at Beta Delta are really going places this year, and everybody will see our smoke as we pull ahead.

RICHARD WEMMERS

Georgia Tech

The ending of the spring quarter brought to a close one of the most successful years in the history of Gamma Psi Chapter. It also brought to a close the college career of a fine graduating senior class which had helped to make the year so good; however, three of the graduating seniors will be back with us next year to get their master's degree. Brother Bob Lawler was the recipient of the Atomic Energy Commission scholarship, which will enable him to continue his work toward a master's degree. Brothers Charles McGuirt and Bill Abercrombie will be back to get their master's degrees on a fellowship and scholarship, respectively. Another graduating senior, Marvin Alston, closed out the year by winning the industrial management award for being the outstanding senior student in this department.

The seniors, however, were not the only ones who brought honors to themselves and to Gamma Psi. It took the diligent and co-ordinated work of all the brothers to send the chapter into the final weeks of school leading in IFC points in the race for the best fraternity on campus. An example of this was the winning of the "Old Newsboys Day" charity drive by the brothers of Gamma Psi. This enabled the Deltas to make a sweep of the charity drives this year. The Deltas also took fourth place in the school intramural golf championship.

During the spring, many brothers distinguished themselves in campus activities, honoraries, and athletics. John Walker was elected president of the World Student Fund and to the honor board. Leo Parrish was elected president of Scabbard and Blade. Dekle Rountree was elected to the student council. Many brothers were named to important positions on the school publications for next year. John Walker will be managing editor of the school paper, and Bill McCaslin will be associate news editor. Ed Joy will be the fraternities editor of the school annual.

Many Deltas were also elected to important positions in scholastic honoraries. George Calcott will be president of the civil engineering honorary, Chi Epsilon. Bill McCaslin and Dan Hartley will both be officers in Phi Eta Sigma. Leo Parrish and George Calcott were both selected to Phi Kappa Phi.

In varsity athletics, Gamma Psi was represented by Gordon Clayton, who ran on the track team. There were many brothers who made the freshmen teams. Ray Easterlin played baseball and John Lemarr was on the freshman tennis team. Richard Kierbow, Wayne Griffin, and Dan Hartley were on the track team.

One last, but important, part of the spring quarter was the pledging of eight good men.

BOB MASSEY

The climax to all the spring activities at Delta Mu was the winning of the school intramural trophy. The success of the intramural program this year is due (to a large extent) to its manager, Terry Ward. During the spring, as all during the year, Brother Ward organized the teams, attended intramural meetings, and kept up the spirit and enthusiasm which is so essential for winning the trophy. As the school year drew to a close Terry's hard work started to pay off. Brother Dick René retained his campus horseshoe crown and along with Team-mates George Dickinson and Norm Gisel, walked off with the team championship. The golf team found itself only one stroke short of winning the golf trophy and the softball team, coached by Don Winzler, stood fourth when the totals were tabulated.

Idaho's Deltas performing at Songfest

For the second year, Delta Mu won the Help Week Trophy for doing the most outstanding civic project. The brothers donned their old painting clothes and painted the Moscow swimming pool. The project, under the direction of Tom Schmidt and Rob Tyson, took place during May.

The City of Moscow, in an effort to raise money for the Crippled Children's Home, sponsored a pancake breakfast. A trophy was given to the living group which ate the most pancakes. With this challenge, Delta Mu rose to meet the occasion, and proved it had the biggest "lunch mouths" on campus.

Brother Bob Schumaker was elected president of Blue Key for the coming year and directed the annual talent show, which is sponsored by that honorary society. Another Bob who was active on campus last spring, is Bob Schini. Brother Schini was elected president of Hell-divers, a swimming honorary, after serving as vice-president last year. Bob was also elected Knight of Knights in the Intercollegiate Knight service honorary. Among the newly initiated Iks are Brother Chuck Robertson and Pledges Gunter Amtmann and Barney Sanholtz. In the ROTC program, Delta Mu's Vaughn Estrick was selected as the most outstanding sophomore Air Force cadet and Leo Unzicker the most outstanding Naval cadet in his class. The recipient of the outstanding physical education major award this spring was Glen Potter. Brother Pot-

Doyle, and Gary Michael led a strong Idaho track team. On the gridiron, Ron Kulm showed promise in spring practice of becoming an outstanding back this fall. The Idaho golf team, in departing for the national play-offs in June, is depending on Lynn Hansen. The bowling team owes much of its success to Dick René.

For two weeks before Mother's Day, the Shelter was filled with the strains of "Waltzing Matilda." The songfest competition was approaching and Songleader Jerry Shively was organizing his 45 voice choir. Finally, on May 8, the competition began. When the results were announced, Delta Mu was awarded honorable mention.

Plans are being drawn up for an addition to the chapter house, which will be started next spring. The addition will enlarge the living room, dining room, and kitchen facilities, as well as adding additional study rooms and remodeling the sleeping porch. This addition is the first major improvement to the chapter house in many years.

Scholarship, despite the heavy schedule of activities and sports, remained on the high level of last fall, when Delta Mu was second on campus among fraternities. The pledge class, led by Chuck Robertson's 4.00, especially improved its scholastic endeavors.

Rush Chairman Dick Davies conducted an extensive rush program this summer. Rush parties were held throughout the state, the third being the annual Boise alum-rush party. This party enables both actives and alums to meet with the rushees.

Last year was especially successful. The Shelter had the honor of having two class presidents, the vice-president of the student government, and an executive board member. The triumph in intramurals, being active in all varsity sports, participating in various campus organizations, building the winning float at the homecoming parade, and maintaining high scholarship standards showed that Delta Mu has achieved an enviable record among the fraternities on the Idaho campus. The brothers are looking forward to an equally successful year, as they return to the Shelter this fall.

Finals are over, all the boys have gone home and now I can take that much needed summer vacation.

It has been a hectic year, but boy did I have fun! I have always enjoyed seeing the boys come back in the fall, but I was particularly happy to see them again last fall.

Well, after I had greeted everyone, including the 34 new pledges, I sat back and watched that old spark of Delt Fraternity life take hold once again. The boys really started out with a bang. First the Delt street dance, then those wonderful football games and the alumni, whom I am always so happy to see. I especially like Homecoming! What a week end! And never will I forget Jerry Anderson, my favorite football player. I didn't even care when he threw that cross-body block into my front door. I think this happened after we had whipped Michigan and of course he was happy! Weren't we all!

As the year progressed, the spirit grew and grew. I particularly enjoyed the week end dances and brunches, and the Wednesday evening exchange desserts with those sweet sorority girls.

Of course, the boys didn't entertain continuously. As a matter of fact they studied most of the time. Bless 'em! Why sometimes it was so quiet that I could hear the clicking of the light switches. Yes, and when the first-semester finals were over, the boys found that all their efforts had been rewarding.

The second semester saw the Deltas earn more and more rewards for their efforts. Tom Chase was elected "King" of the freshman class. The boys sang superbly in the I.U. Sing.

Along came spring and warmer weather and the boys flattered me with a "top to bottom" cleaning bee. Of course I was never allowed to get very dirty, but a Corken will be treasurer for statewide activities and will hold a position on the executive board of Young Republicans. Taking care of the secretarial work for Hawkwatch, Naval ROTC society, will be Brother Evan Ridgway.

Cheering K.U.'s teams on to victory this year will be Brother John McCartney, who will wear the K.U. "Jayhawk" for a second year, and Bruce Bee, Jack Cannon, and Winston Cochrane, members of the cheerleading squad.

The Gamma Tau Delts have been very active in intramurals this spring, participating in softball, tennis, golf, bowling, and horseshoes; and have softball and tennis teams in the semifinals of the "Hill" play-offs.

Our annual Spring Formal was held May 14 with "Bali-hai" as the theme. Decorations included palm trees, mountains, and a fountain complete with goldfish. Brothers Graham Moore and John Wood were responsible for the decorations and a fine party. Other events on our social calendar included picnics with various sororities and a Casino Party, complete with roulette wheels and dice tables, compliments of Harold's Club, Reno, Nevada.

The following men have been elected to chapter offices for the coming year: Clay Edmands, president; Jim Robinson, vice-president; Barry Cooper, guide; Bob Allen, recording secretary; and Ken Lyle, corresponding secretary.

At the annual senior banquet, Ted Hall was presented the "Delt Man of Finals again for second semester—gross quantities of coffee and concentrated cramming! And now, vacation.

Well, I'll be! Here I've been rattling off about my boys for almost an hour. I hope I haven't bored you, Mr. Kent. It's just that my pride is overwhelming when I realize that I play a direct part in training these boys to face whatever the future may hold.

Oh! Here comes Lee Ford. He'll be polishing my woodwork today. You know, he's quite a part of me and indeed shares my feelings.

I hate to be rude, but I must excuse

As this year draws to a close, the Gamma Tau Delts have many additions to their long list of offices and honors.

Brother Clay Edmands has been elected president of SACHEM, senior men's honor society, and is treasurer for Student Union activities next year. Brother Dick Harper has been elected to Owl Society, junior men's honor society, and was re-elected treasurer of Young Republications for next year. Brother Bob

The Gamma Tau Delts look back with pride at the achievements of last year and at the same time look toward the future and its promise of better things to come.

KEN LYLE

The spring session is over and the brothers of Delta Omega are beginning to rest from final exams and enjoy their summer vacations. Not all will be rest for some of the brothers though, as we will be making plans for the coming fall season. The summer and fall rush program will be under the direction of Wayne Wyles and will utilize a system of area rush chairmen in the northern Ohio area.

Looking back on the spring quarter, the Delts have placed many of the brothers in key campus roles. Again the brothers are running the business end of the campus daily The Stater. The business manager's position has passed from Dick Keough to Ron Ross. George Newkome will be the advertising manager.

From the large K.S.U. junior class, Brother Tom Cooke was selected as the year's outstanding junior man at an all-University banquet.

Dick Kahler ran the hurdles for Kent's varsity track team. Only a sophomore, Dick has received his first varsity letter.

He is expected to represent Kent admirably for the next two track seasons.

The spring pledge class, while small in number, contains four outstanding men. They are: Roger Baker, Bob Blumel, Dave Harmon, and Ed Wyderney. John Miller is their pledge trainer.

For the coming fall quarter, Kent is expecting over 3,000 new freshmen. Always an important job on the campus is the new student week leader to guide the freshmen about the campus and the University has selected Delts for over half of the leaders.

Appointed by President Keough for the fall social chairman was Dave Mile-tich. Dave held the position for a short time last fall and did an excellent job. Under his leadership the fall social season should be successful.

The winter formal, held in Cleveland at the University Club, was very successful. During the intermission, the chapter's awards were presented. Don Hicks received the trophy for the year's scholarship, Ron Ross the trophy for the most improved scholarship, Leo Sparr the athletic trophy, and Don Woodcock the outstanding pledge award. The brothers selected Alice Clatterback as the Delta Queen for the year.

The new school year of 1960-'61 will find the brothers of Delta Omega improving their strong campus position. The rush and social programs are already well beyond the planning stages and the Shelter will be in good repair awaiting the return to school. The brothers encourage the alumni to return to the Shelter and renew old friendships and view our progress.

JOHN G. MILLER

Kentucky

Delta Epsilon received the adulation and the plaudits of the campus as it annexed the intramural crown. It also merited the cupidity of various fraternal organizations who were desirous of the trophy. The crown was a result of hard athletic work by the whole chapter. The intramural chairmen, Buddy Gumm and Mort Harkey, receive an ovation from this corner for their effort in effecting the laurels.

Congratulations are due to four Delta Epsilon men who were granted scholarships for graduate work on the basis of their meritorious undergraduate work. Three out of the four scholarships granted in the engineering college were awarded to Delta Epsilon men. They were Carleton Godsey, Joe Johnson, and Bob Linkner. Brit Kirwan was also awarded a scholarship for excellence achieved in the department of mathematics.

In the athletic department, a Delta Epsilon harrier is attempting to win a free trip to Rome via the Olympics. At the time this is written, Buddy Gumm, winner of the Southeastern Conference quarter-mile dash is attempting to gain a high enough berth in the NCAA championship track meet to obtain entrance to the Olympic Trials and from thence to Rome.

Another track star, John Baxter, finished fourth in the mile during the Southeastern Conference meet. The Kentucky baseball team faltered during the stretch drive and failed to garner the S.E.C. crown in that sport. This failure was obviously due to the lack of a steady-fast receiver. This lack was due to a series of injuries which beset Delta Epsilon's Bob Linkner, U.K.'s regular catcher. His index finger was broken.

At the Founder's Day Banquet held in May, Harold Barnett was honored as the most valuable member and John Burkhard received the honor of being named the best pledge. Honored above all, however, was Jim Shropshire, who has been the chapter adviser and is now serving as President of the Southern Division.

As a result of his fine work as chairman of the IFC rush committee, which recently adopted the delayed rush system for the University, Dickie Wallace was elected vice-president of the interfraternity council.

John Sargeant has been named rush chairman and he will attempt to put the new plan into effect. Already rush has seemed to congeal under him. In August, Delta Epsilon will have its first rush party.

BEN PATTERSON

Kenyon

Chi can now boast of a division full of new furniture thanks to the efforts of the officers of the Chi Chapter Alumni Association, who sponsored and promoted the fund drive which enabled the chapter to purchase the new furniture. The alumni who returned at Commencement seemed pleased with the new furnishings of the division and expressed their approval of the work done in the Lodge.

The chapter weathered another academic year with few losses other than eight seniors and the intramural trophy. The intramural race was close, but the Chi Deltas only managed a second place this year, close behind the winners, going down only 40 points on the year's totals. With this year's championship football team remaining largely intact, with the addition of the new initiates and the return of 1958's leading pass receiver in the intramural league, Pete Roche, as well as the return of the championship intramural swimming team, this year's hopes for the intramural trophy are high.

Once again Chi sparked the Kenyon lacrosse team by furnishing eight men for the team: Seniors Mark Powdermaker (captain), Jim Riddle, and Ward Van Epps; Juniors John Clark, Dave Brown, and Tom Carlisle; and Freshmen Jon Hobrock and Dave Shollenbarger. Swimmers Jim Carr and Phil Mayher were again elected captains of the swimming team and with the help of seven more Chi Deltas expect to go to another conference victory. Bob Ramsay will again captain the basketball team and the golf team this year, and in spring sports, Chi furnished four men for track: Phil Post, Jim Mieuire, Terry Owen, and Rick Riemenschneider; three baseball players in John Colwell, Jim Rosenstiel, and Tom Collins; Wells Wagner in tennis; and Dave Newhall in golf.

This year Chi expects to continue and, if possible, better its social activities. The once quiet and studious nature of the third floor is expected to shift to the second floor next year with the change in occupancy.

In general, Chi expects a group of hard-working students this fall, with occasional diversions in athletics and social events.

JIM RIDDLE

Lehigh

Although torrential rains dominated alumni week end at Lehigh, many alumni of Beta Lambda returned to the Shelter for a rousing reunion. The house corporation, led by President Whitey Martindale, heard the annual report by Chapter President Walt Kryesiewski, and received committee reports. Bill Hall, Beta Lambda, '02, expressed his wish of donating his Badge to be presented yearly to the outstanding member of each new class of initiates. This thoughtful gift was received graciously and will be initiated in the 1960-'61 term.

Last summer, several of us were fortunate to have found jobs. Tip Galyon romped through the dust at Bethlehem Steel, Bob Colonna used his math at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Walt Kryesiewski labored at his father's lumber yard, Dick Eelman found work in a metallurgy plant, and Marty Bentley, not to be outdone, kept the Youngstown golf courses busy.

The first annual Beta Lambda Regatta was held at the beginning of June. Bob Gaido hosted nine graduating seniors and several juniors at his summer home at Point Pleasant, New Jersey, while Jay Flynn lodged eight sophomores at his cottage in nearby Breton Woods. The outstanding event of the outing was the cruise from Point Pleasant to Breton Woods. On June 7, Captain "Toad" Gaido commanded his craft, loaded with passengers, on the six-mile voyage. After two hours at full sail, the captain honored his crew and the reception committee at shore with a 20-round volley offshore before dropping anchor.

This fall brings some important events. A large parents' week end is planned. A banquet will honor our parents who have recently had the opportunity to contribute to the house. The athletic schedule is inviting. Lehigh's wrestling team should be greatly improved since last year, especially because of the excellent form of our own Bill Munson.

But probably our biggest, but most rewarding job here at Beta Lambda, will be the training of the new pledges.

JIM WILLIAMS

Maine

The Maine Day festivities at the University of Maine last year were met with enthusiasm and interest by the students and fraternities, who entered the annual Mayoralty Campaign, IFC Sing, and Maine Day Float Parade with unheard of spirit and energy.

Co-operation and interest were high as Gamma Nu turned out in full support of its candidate for mayor, Chuck Giles. New England generosity was well realized as we set out to find the paraphernalia needed for the campaign and found we were able to borrow such items as a horse, a horse trailer, and an old horse-drawn hearse. The wearied campaigners were sorry to learn of defeat, but found that the chapter's spirit greatly benefited by the experience.

These Deltas were more fortunate the next day, as they sang their way to an honorable mention in the IFC sing, with Pete Haynes directing. The pledges worked hard all through the night building a float for the parade. They were well rewarded with a first place award among the 17 fraternities.

The Sophomore Owl Society elected to its ranks for the 1960-'61 season four Delt pledges, the maximum for any one fraternity. Brothers Orm Wade and Larry Cilley were tapped by the Senior Skull Society, which subsequently chose Orm as its new president. Other presidencies held by Deltas are student senate, by Larry Cilley; Scabbard and Blade, by Stan Allain; and the Maine Christian Association, by Dave Robinson.

With a full house in sight, we are looking forward to a highly successful fall semester, and cordially invite all alums to the Homecoming events which will be held on October 6.

M.I.T.

Social high lights of the past spring term include a square dance at "the barn," IFC week end, a beach party at Plum Island, and the Senior Swan Song. Top spring social event was IFC week end, which included a formal dance, alumni party, and a softball game. Several swinging informal dances on the campus, from Dixieland jazz to rock-and-roll, and an evening at the "Boston Pops," added to the IFC week end festivities.

Most of the Deltas of Beta Nu are probably lounging in the summer sun as this report is written. Thoughts of M.I.T. may be somewhat removed, but the rewards of living the past year at Beta Nu Chapter are certainly not forgotten. With the beginning of fall term we hope to replenish the Delt numbers with another strong pledge class. Plans for the approaching school year include a wide variety of fine Delt parties along with continued scholastic success.

A death-like silence fell over the Shelter at Delta Chapter the last two weeks of school. Parties were forgotten and the social calendar was closed as final exams approached. Textbooks were reopened and were studied long hours into the night in a last-minute attempt to review the work of the semester. The brothers lived on coffee and dexadrine, fighting off the dreaded sleep that took precious time away from studying. And each day they would join in that long grey parade down the hill to the classrooms where they would sit for three hours trying to recall what they had learned during the semester.

But there was much they had learned that they could not put down in the examination book: the meaning of brotherhood, the feeling of working and playing together with a group of men knit by a strong bond and strong ideals, the feeling of accomplishment gained at Michigras and the IFC Sing, the friendships, the understanding, and so much more.

Most succeeded in their examinations; a few failed. But for all, there was much more obtained this year at school than could ever be learned in books.

And then the long line home. Brothers spreading all over the country—from California, to New Jersey, to Washington. Now the Shelter stands empty, waiting silently for their return in the fall when the brothers will once again return to renew old friendships.

But what of summer plans? Perhaps the most exciting are those of Todd Grant and Jack O'Brien. They are touring Europe for three months. The brothers are hoping that they will bring back something like the Mona Lisa, or at least one of the girls from the Lido. In any case, we know that there will be some wild tales to tell.

Delta Chapter at Michigan

Andy Morrow is traveling out to the West Coast to compete in the Olympic trials for swimming. Steve Williams will likewise be competing in track. The brothers wish both these men the best of luck.

Keith Johnson is coming all the way from Washington for the Karnea in Swampscott. He will be joined there by Bob Benson. We are expecting them to bring back much information that will aid the Delta Chapter next year. Of course, we know they won't neglect the fun that the Karnea provides.

Our plans for the fall have not been completed yet, but much is being done along this line over the summer. Dick Knab is working on a rush booklet which we hope will be of invaluable aid in bringing new men up to the Shelter during rush. And then of course there's homecoming, pledge formal, and all the excitement that a new semester brings. We're looking forward to a fall program that is bigger and better than ever.

STEVE VANDERVOORT

Michigan State

With fall term getting under way, we here at Iota are looking forward to another successful year which will further strengthen our position at Michigan State. But before going into forecasts for this new year, comments on previously unreported high lights of last spring term are in order.

The past spring term saw Iota gain more laurels for the chapter in the form of four new trophies. When added to our previous awards won in the earlier part of the year these four trophies bring the total up to eleven new honors that Iota won for the 1959-'60 school year. Michigan State's Greek Week was the setting for the winning of these merits. Iota's togaclad squad for the Greek Olympics, under the direction of Jim Dobrei, showed their heels to all competition and finished in first place. Later in the week, in an almost exact repeat performance of the Olympics, the Delt thinclads sped their way to another trophy in the annual interfraternity track meet. Compliments go to Brother Dobrei for his fine showing in winning the 220-yard dash and placing second in the 100-yard dash. As Greek Week continued on its course, Iota continued to gather more honors. The "Junior 500" pushcart race was the scene for the next victory. Running in conditions that were far from ideal, due to intermittent howers, Brothers Rody Sherrill, Don Kratt, Jim Dobrei, John Grech, Chuck Schneider, and Driver Terry Braverman maneuvered the Delt cart to a third-place finish with not more than 15-yards separating the first three winners. With three trophies already in the case, Iota was anxious to add a fourth prize. The last event of Greek Week, water carnival, gave us this opportunity. Under the excellent chairmanship of Bob Dall, the brothers pooled their efforts with the Pi Phi's to construct a float for this annual event held on the Red Cedar River. The judging showed the Deltas to be ranked third among the 32 entries. While on the subject of water carnival, congratulations are in order for Brother Terry Braverman for the fine M.C. job that he turned in at this event.

On the scholastic side, grade ratings showed Iota's point average to be well above that of the all-university men's average and also the all-fraternity average. The chapter's consistent high rating in this area is the essential cornerstone for maintaining the balance between activities and academic achievement that we strive for.

For the crowning touch of the school year Iota learned that the Kiplinger Magazine, a nationally known publication that specializes in surveys, had taken a poll of M.S.U. fraternities. The results of this survey showed Delta Tau Delta to be rated in the No. 1 position among all the Greek houses at Michigan State. This is an honor in which the brothers take great pride and will try to maintain. On this happy note Iota ended one of its most successful years on campus.

With studies out of the way the summer rush program under the leadership of Brother Bob Lintz began to take form. Good results are expected from the efficient planning and work that Bob has given the program.

Iota has much work ahead if it is to maintain its high position on M.S.U.'s campus. But we are confident the cooperation and participation that stem from brotherhood will carry us through with flying colors; however, this will have to be accomplished without the help of the many fine graduated seniors who contributed so much to the chapter. In a few words, progress and achievement in all fields of activity are the guideposts for this coming year.

In ending, we at M.S.U. send best wishes to all Delt chapters for a successful year. We also would like to re-emphasize our open invitation to visit the Shelter whenever possible.

BARRY BONE

Minnesota

Final exams and the end of another school year have again come to the Delt Shelter. Fifteen of the brothers are staying at the Shelter this summer while attending summer school. Our summer rush program this year will consist of eight or nine rush parties at different cities in Minnesota. Steve Miller is our summer rush chairman. We are expecting his program to have very good results this fall.

Spring quarter at the Delt Shelter was a busy one, as it always is. Three men were initiated into Beta Eta Chapter. Our spring rush was also very successful with the pledging of eleven top men.

On May 13, the Minneapolis Club was the scene of our 1960 spring formal. On May 27 we held our annual South Sea Island Party, our biggest house party of the year. The house was decorated on an island theme with costumes ranging from natives to tourists.

Founders Day was held at the Normandy Hotel in Minneapolis with Major Stockdale as our speaker. Brothers Jack Heen and Brad Johnson were elected to represent Beta Eta at the 1960 Karnea this summer.

Athletically, this spring our baseball team placed second and Jack Heen won the University's bowling tournament individual competition.

Spring has brought much pleasure and hard work to the Delt Shelter, but with all summer to recuperate, Beta Eta will again be a top chapter on campus.

ROSS LOUREY

Northwestern

As the year drew to a close, ten Delts received their undergraduate diplomas and left Beta Pi and Northwestern. The graduating seniors, now Delt alums, are: George Platz, Kent Mallquist, Bob Serhant, Don Vacin, Bob Allin, Roger Clarke, Dick Urevig, Tom Vana, Bill Wolter, and Chuck Wonderlic. Seven of these men plan to continue their education in various postgraduate schools.

Although closing out a comparatively poor year in intramurals, the Delts finished strong in spring sports to take sixth place in the Sweepstakes race. Delta Tau Delta did not lose substantial strength in any sport through graduation and plans to climb to the top in the 1961 Sweepstakes race.

During the 1959-'60 school year, Delts claimed many important positions on the campus. Fred Schlegel, Bill Kunkle, and Al Spooner held important elected offices in their respective freshman dorms. Ed Bryant, along with Brothers Schlegel and Kunkle, were on the freshman council. Bryant was cochairman of the freshman variety show. Several brothers directed various freshman carnival operations. John Doolittle was treasurer of Junior I-F, and later was named to the SGB activities and organizations committee. During the spring, Brother Doolittle served as master of ceremonies for Women's May Sing.

Summer rush activities were in full swing during the months of June, July, and August. Rush Chairman Dennis Kyros, assisted by Bob Mathey, busily engaged himself preparing the rush lists and directing rush visits by the brothers.

GERRY BALL

Ohio

Big news at Beta Chapter this spring was the winning of the all-campus volleyball championship. The Delts defeated a team composed mostly of varsity basketball players to take the title.

Another honor was bestowed on Senior Dave Breuckner when he was chosen by the chemistry department as the "Outstanding Senior in Chemistry at Ohio University." Breuckner, past president of student council, was also tapped into Phi Beta Kappa. Beta Chapter has 15 new pledges for the spring semester.

They are Chuck Abookire, Tom Kaiser, Bob Kumnick, Orin Keplinger, Larry England, Neil Delfs, Tom Smith, Jim Lane, Bill Bloom, Sam Polo, Rick Thatcher, Rich Seaman, Jed Frost, Tom Ledbetter, and John Shantz.

The spring social opened with the annual Shipwreck Party. The Delts, and a good share of the campus, turned out for the third annual Delt Regatta. The Delts build boats, or something resembling a boat, and race several miles on the Hocking River. A party at the Delta Yacht Club topped off the week end long affair.

Other events this semester were mother's week end, J-Prom, and the "Gay Nineties" party.

Beta Chapter's delegates to the 1960 Karnea are Bob Kraft and Dick Littlepage.

MIKE TRESSLER

Ohio State

Summer rush chairmen, Chuck Coryn and Larry Fullen, are doing a very fine job co-ordinating rushing for the state of Ohio. Larry has the job of delegating districts to area rush chairmen and co-ordinating their efforts. Chuck is in charge of Columbus rushing and is planning many events for this strategic area. Many area rush parties are being planned together with several statewide functions.

Beta Phi ended a very successful year initiating 21 men.

At our spring formal awards were given to outstanding men in our chapter. Sam Shannon was awarded the "Mister Delt" trophy, awarded to the active who has given outstanding service to the chapter. Joe Popplestein was awarded the model pledge award; Jim Oshust, outstanding alumni; Bob Watson, "tough-break" award; and Bob White, activity award.

Beta Phi's winter quarter initiates

The 1960 Delt Sweetheart and court were chosen at the formal. Carol Kiten-ger was chosen Sweetheart, with Sandy Footer, Judy Stevens, Pat Filipeck, and Nancy Draut as members of the court.

Ohio Wesleyan

During the summer vacation the brothers of Chapter Mu have been able to look back on a most successful year. We're happy to be able to say that we have again retained most of the many honors the chapter has been winning annually. After a rush week which produced a truly excellent freshman class we were proud to win the homecoming display trophy for the sixth consecutive year. We continued to do well scholastically. Brother Buchanan's election as student body treasurer will continue our strong representation on student government. We retained great power in the publications field with the business managers of both publications again being Deltas. We occupied our usual position in the annual interfraternity song fest, second again. That's one record we'd like to change next year. Again Deltas excelled in varsity athletics; 17 starting positions on Ohio Wesleyan varsity teams were filled by brothers.

We all know, though, that we've got to look to the future, too. The most important event of the new year will probably be the groundbreaking, at long last, for our new Shelter. It will be part of a new fraternity circle the University is planning. We're going to try mighty hard to keep on top in all fields. We intend most of all to start the year off right with another top-notch pledge class.

In the new era of fraternity life which the new decade is sure to bring, Mu Chapter again hopes to be a leader in the changes which all fraternities will have to make in answer to increasing public criticism of the system. We are determined to look objectively at ourselves and at the whole fraternity system. We know that Greeks cannot hide their heads in the sand, but must clean their own house in response to valid criticism. We shall try our utmost to continue the high ideals of brotherhood we all cherish and at the same time make our fraternity a better and more inclusive group than it now is.

JESSE SELL

Oklahoma State

The annual Orchid Ball climaxed the Delt social year with the crowning of Miss Nancy Green, Kappa Alpha Theta, as Delt Sweetheart for the coming year. In the queen's court were Sarah Coley, Pi Beta Phi, and Karen Ludwig, Chi Omega.

As a break in the hurry and scurry of final examination week, the Deltas teamed up with their neighbors, Kappa Alpha Theta, for a high-scoring softball game and street dance.

As the end of the school year approached, many Deltas were recognized as "Big Men on Campus." Ed Heald was elected president of the engineering student council as well as the senior editor of the Engineering Magazine. Larry Blackledge, a junior architecture student, won a $500 scholarship award for his design of an outdoor patio and living area. The award was from the American Tile Company and the contest was nationwide. Deltas Jerry Moyer, Gary Smith, and John Wilkes were in the finals to wear the cowboy uniform of "Pistol Pete," the symbol of the Oklahoma State Cowboys.

Activities within the Delt Shelter found Andrew Cummins the recipient of the Bob Cox Service Award. Andrew served as president for two consecutive years. He received the award at the Founder's Day Banquet at the University of Oklahoma.

To fill the vacancies of men graduating and getting married, Brother Ted Dittman has been elected assistant treasurer; Richard Brand, recording secretary; and John Wilkes, chapter historian.

With the summer here, the men of Delta Chi are doing many different things. Jim Wilcoxon is planning a trip to Europe. Jerry Marlow is managing a large restaurant and catering service, and Tom Thorne is assistant reptile curator at the Oklahoma City Zoo.

The summer rush program is under the leadership of Richard Hollis. Some of the events will be a swimming party in the home of Delt Alumnus Walter Jones, a private screening party of a coming movie, and a Yost swimming party.

Oklahoma State University has sent Dick Shavey and Chapter Adviser Dr. John Venable to the Karnea at Swampscott. This Karnea was of special interest to the men of Delta Chi because the Fraternity board of directors discussed a 40-man Shelter which would replace the present living quarters. The men will return to the Shelter for fall rush week September 3 for a fast and furious three days in which they will renovate the old house for rush week. Rush week begins September 6 with a Delt Combo playing for all rush dates. Delta Chi is looking forward to the next year and is planning to better its fine record of last year.

KENDALL JOHNSON

Pennsylvania

The Omega Deltas rounded out the 1960 school year in a blaze of glory that forecasts continued campus leadership next year.

Barney Berlinger was presented the Spoon Award, symbolic of Pennsylvania's outstanding senior, on Hey Day. He was elected permanent class president as well; a tribute to his service and leadership. Dave Landry was elected permanent class secretary.

Larry Turns was elected chairman of the undergraduate council for the 1960-'61 year. In this position of leadership, Larry will be aided by three other Deltas who will serve on the 15-man student governing body: Bunky McPherson, abbot of Friars; Tim String, president of the Varsity Club; and Al Doering, president of Hexagon and treasurer of Undergrad. Larry is a member of the undergraduate council by virtue of his post as Christian Association president.

We are proud that ten of the 19 juniors in the chapter were elected to senior honor societies. Sphinx claimed six of our men, the society's constitutional limit from any one fraternity. They are Bruce Cummings, All-Ivy football tackle; Ted Irvine, chairman of the Mask and Wig Club and secretary of the Houston Hall board; Pete Schantz, varsity football halfback and wrestling cocaptain; Ed Smith, Penn's only three letter man in the last 20 years (football, wrestling, and track); Tim String and Larry Turns.

Friars tapped Bunky McPherson, the new abbot; Wil Derby, chapter president and president of the Kite and Key Society; and Bob Holt, president of the Glee Club and secretary-treasurer of the Mask and Wig Club. Hexagon claimed Al Doering, the new president. Sophomore football blocking back, Connie DeSantis, was elected to Phi Kappa Beta Junior Society and is the new vice-president. Our hats are off to these men who have done so much for the chapter and for Pennsylvania.

On the spring sports scene, Stroke Tony Palms and Bow Man Tim String are rowing on what is now the finest crew in the east. They are looking forward to the July Olympic trials. Al Doering and Dave Robinson are also rowing. Doug McKay was a regular outfielder on the varsity baseball squad. John Doubman was a starting defense man on the lacrosse team that won the Pen-Del League championship. On the track scene, Ed Smith, strong weight man, made a good showing. Freshman Jim Beckley is the proud possessor of many first-place finishes in the javelin throw. Bobby Murray was a starter on the frosh baseball team at second base.

Last March the chapter held its annual Founder's Day Banquet, with President Wil Derby presiding. The main speaker was Mr. Frederic Hyde, a Delt from Wesleyan who is a journalism instructor at Penn. Dr. Froelich Rainey, world-famous archaeologist, and a Midwest Delt, was honored for his contribution to his field. Barney Berlinger received the "Outstanding Senior" award and Vince Colianni the award denoting the outstanding senior scholar. Many alumni attended the festive function. This is another step in strengthening our relations with the graduate members of the chapter.

An active, generous year has passed. We look forward to a better year in 1960-'61.

DAVID B. LANDRY

Purdue

Although no one will dispute the fact that school life is interesting and fun, the men of Gamma Lambda were all relieved when the first of June rolled around and Purdue's spring semester ended. For the graduating seniors, this has been the last semester as a Delt undergrad; however, 1960 has been a very good year, and many accomplishments may be looked back upon.

The high point of the spring's work was the Mother's Day week end and University Sing. This is an annual affair at Purdue during which the various housing units compete for honors as the best choral singing group on campus. Each group sings two numbers, one of its own choosing and one selected by the Purdue Musical Association, which runs the show. Originally, University Sing was just an informal get-together in which fraternity men sang house songs; recently the campus attitude has become more refined and competition has been very stiff. This year Gamma Lambda sang an arrangement of "Greensleeves" at the evening final competition in Purdue's gigantic music hall to place second out of 40 men's housing units; this an improvement over last year's third-place finish, and leaves us with a very obvious goal for next year. Ou. songleader, John Dzien, worked himself into a nervous wreck to accomplish this year's results, and is already planning for 1961.

Individual honors for the spring are many, and occurred throughout the various campus organizations. Dan Carsello was appointed campus copy editor of the Exponent, Purdue's daily newspaper; Twins Bob and Dick Berg completed an interesting, though slightly less than perfect, season with the varsity tennis team and still managed to keep their heads above water in the difficult electrical engineering school here, and Jay Verneuil succeeded in overcoming all obstacles in the course of putting out his first issue of the interfraternity council newspaper, the Purdue Greek, as its new editor. Further sports honors included Jack Buckman, the third Delt on the varsity tennis team, and Larry Tolle, Jim Rieth, Charlie Rust, and Ron Dolwick, all members of Purdue crew. Larry completed a fine season as this year's captain, and the whole group took an active part in the official "end of training" celebration held at the close of the semester.

Military honors for the spring went to Dave Fleming, who was initiated into Scabbard and Blade Society, an ROTC honorary, and Doug Roby and Dick White, who were initiated into a Navy ROTC honorary, the Quarterdeck Society. Graduating Seniors Tom Thomas and Emil Smider were commissioned as officers in June; Tom will go to Quantico, Va., for Marine advanced officer training, and Emil, an ensign in the Navy, is looking forward to duty on Okinawa as a cryptography officer.

Just about all of Gamma Lambda's Delts have an interesting summer to look forward to. For some there is the drudgery of summer school, while others will sample the discipline of military life at Army and Air Force bases and Navy cruise ships. A large number are planning to journey to the superior corner of the nation referred to as New England for this year's Karnea. R...h Chairman John Dzien has organized an extensive summer rush program too, which should ease fall rush a great deal.

Gamma Lambda has concluded a fine year in all three important phases of college life: financial, social, and scholastic. We feel that we are ready to enjoy the events of the coming year, and successfully meet all the challenges it has to offer.

DOUG ROBY

Rensselaer

Looking back at our first year in the new Shelter at Upsilon, we feel that it was a very successful one. At the dedication of the house last November, we were honored by the election of Brother Ernie Warneke, chapter adviser, to the Distinguished Service Chapter. Without Mr. Warneke's tireless efforts, Upsilon would still be located in the dilapidated frame house on Oakwood Avenue. We owe this and much more to Brother Warneke, and we were very happy to see him honored by Delta Tau Delta. Dedication also brought back many well-remembered alumni and led to the establishment of an Upsilon homecoming week end which will be held late in the fall.

In interfraternity athletics last year the Delts won fourth place, and if the track meet had not been canceled we quite probably would have raised our standing. The Upsilon teams in football, basketball, and Ping-pong were runners-up for the school championships. The Delt softball team went undefeated and won the IF trophy.

On the varsity scene, Tom Graves wrestled his way to election as team captain, a feat which has been accomplished only once before in the history of RPI sports. In two years Tom has lost to only one man. Another Delt, Pete Grigg, was elected captain of the water polo squad. Pete is an outstanding defenseman and was also honored by nomination to the all-East team.

Upsilon was strongly represented on the varsity lacrosse team by Jim Rich,

John D'Auria, Tom Kennedy, and Dan Williams, all of whom were lettermen. Not to be outdone, Vic Andrade, chapter president, won his second letter and a special award for varsity baseball.

We are especially pleased to have had Brother Tom Kennedy elected president of the senior class last spring.

As ever, the Delt Shelter was the scene of many happy week ends and parties. Our social committee was very successful in eliminating any slack in the spring social season. This, however, was not at an academic expense and we are proud to have received the IF award for most improved scholarship.

Upsilon, therefore, looks back at this past year with pride and looks forward to the coming year with great expectations. We hope to strengthen our position in student activities, particularly in campus politics, and to raise further our academic standing. The fall rushing looms immediately ahead and we are preparing ourselves for a successful effort.

FRANK LOGERFO

Santa Barbara

The Santa Barbara all-sports banner, emblematic of supremacy in the school intramural program, today is flapping in the breeze atop the Delta Shelter at UCSB as a result of a very successful athletic year by the Delta Psi Chapter.

The Delta teams, down by 100-points in the team standings after the fall semester and mired deep in second place, scrambled off the deck during the spring campaign and staged a rally unequalled in the exciting annals of UCSB intramural history to walk off with the top prize last June.

After finishing second in both football and basketball last fall, the Deltas made the rest of their competitors sit up and take notice when they waltzed undefeated through the volleyball season. They then placed third in the golf tournament, thanks to a 66 from "Slammin' Sammy" Stevenson, and won the school wrestling championship behind sterling victories by "Gorgeous George" Linn, "Mighty Mouse" Myracle, and "Big Daddy" Orth. But the inspired Delta crew didn't stop there, as they went on to grab the badminton title, with Pope winning the singles competition, and then teaming with Birdie Haskell to win the doubles play. Lew Linn and Percy Potts helped the Deltas to pick up second place in the tennis tourney, and top performances from P. R. Ross, "Legs" Dorn, and Victory Vaughan vaulted the Delt squad to a second-place finish in the track meet. To cap successfully their fine season, the Deltas defended their baseball championship, going undefeated through six games, running their unbeaten string to seven straight seasons, and staking claim to a monopoly on the school horsehide honors. The winners averaged 15 runs per game, while star hurler, Bartley Jones, sparkled with 0.69 ERA, tops in the circuit. Art Breeder, Admiral Yamamoto, Tiny Tim Rubber, Dumbo Morgan, and Impala Bell also played key roles, as evidenced by their being named to the all-league team. Aladar Harcos, Hula Hattie Patterson, Tijuana Martin, Al Zingsley, and Bob Zooks were given honorable mention ratings, as every Delt player made the all-loop squad.

Other honors which came to the Deltas last year included Ron Neugar, named American Window Company's "man of the year" and the outstanding member of the Villa del Sur living group; Al Kingsley, given the annual Leonard Bernstein award for the greatest contribution to spring sing; Honest Abe Gorder, winner of the school "whiskerino" contest at the end of the year; U. B. Utterson, presented the Jimmie Fidler scholarship to study radio broadcasting; Bob Brooks, named as Santa Barbara's entry in next year's "Destruction Derby"; John Soth, elected vice-president in charge of filling the soft drink machine; and Pledges Ted England and Jim Kean, making the Dean's List as a result of their outstanding contribution to dormitory living during the final week of school.

TOM MORGAN

Stanford

Spring quarter brought rushing to Stanford University and once again Beta Rho came up with the outstanding pledge class on campus. Athletes, intellectuals, student leaders, and legacies all flocked to the Delt fold. All told, the pledge class numbered 20 and will certainly give an account of itself in the years to come. Rush Chairman Jack Carter must be congratulated for his fine job.

Lovable old "Cactus Jack" and the coaching staff welcomed 20 Deltas for spring football practice. Most impressive among this group and fighting for first-string berths are Quarterback Rod Sears; End Rich Hearney; Backs Gil Dowd, Archie Schmidt and Bob Price; and Guards Tom Walsh and John Butler. Deltas on the basketball team were four first stringers: John Windsor, John Arrillaga, John Hendry, and Bub Bowling. Al Simila and Phil Kelly were traveling squad members who played key supporting roles in the past season. Arrillaga was team captain, northern California's "player of the week," and an all-conference selection.

Other athletes who were outstanding in their individual sports were Ed Rothman, Tal Ray, and Mike Lloyd in boxing; Dick Denny in wrestling; Jerry Winters and John Northway in track; Paul Hait in swimming; Bill Elfving in Ping-pong; Steve Reynard in whist; and George Boyton in ornithology. Rothman reached the NCAA heavyweight boxing finals before losing to Archie Milton of San Jose. Winters is ranked as the second collegiate shot-putter, behind Dallas Long of USC, and Hait is a US Olympic team hopeful in breaststroking.

Doing a credible job academically, Beta Rho had an extremely vigorous social life this past quarter. The high point of the quarter was with the election of the Delt queen and her court. Chosen for her looks, charm, and service to the chapter, Miss Tony Regis is the Spring Queen of Beta Rho. Her vivacious court consisted of Lynn Yeomans, Bev Byrd, and Helen Chamberlain. Rhythm and blues was the format for the majority of our parties, featuring such famous personalities as B. B. King, Hank Ballard and the Midnighters, Ray Charles, and Lester Lanin. The easy blues sound of Sylvester Grisby was a distinct favorite at the pledge formal. Next year's social chairman, Marc Sisk, has promised to deliver us a more balanced social diet.

Realizing the importance of campus leadership, Deltas have entered enthusiastically into student affairs. Four freshman sponsors have been chosen from the ranks of Beta Rho: Tom Boysen, Mike McKnight, Dick Denny, and Bob McKensie. Bob Harrison was selected head of the interfraternity council judicial committee, and Wally Hawley presided over Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity. Elected to succeed Hawley for the next year was another Delt, Buster Brown. We only hope that this year's enthusiasm, under the fine leadership of Sid Garber, will continue as strong next year.

BILL ELFVING

Stevens

This spring term proved to be one of the most fruitful and successful in Rho's 87-year history. The Deltas set a torrid pace on the Stevens campus in every form of fraternity activity.

The term started out under a cloud. As a result of a farcical IFC trial, the chapter suffered the loss of the final three days of the two-week closed rushing period. Under the leadership of Prexy Paul Hausmann and Rushing Chairman Jack Stamm, we rushed as never before and came out on top, pledging 28 of the best men from the class of 1963.

Socially, Rho also set the pace with one of the most enjoyable social schedules ever conducted. The usual round of parties was complemented by a series of theme parties. Starting off with a "Roarin' Twenties" party, and later with a "Shipwreck" theme, the term was brought to a glorious conclusion as Rho went native for an "African" party, thrown by the pledge class.

The Delts led the way in interfraternity athletics, copping the IFC all-sports trophy for the tenth time in the past eleven years. Rho won individual championships in football, basketball, Ping-pong, and squash. The chapter also received the IFC activities trophy, awarded annually to the fraternity whose members are outstanding for their participation in extracurricular activities. Delta dates ruled spring sports week end as queen and first attendant. Barbara Dipel was selected queen in the annual contest. Runnerup to Barbara was Ann Millman.

Rho Delts also dominate the student governing organizations. Earl Greenleaf, '61, after serving three years as president of his class, was elected president of the student council. Jack Stamm, '61, was elected chairman of the athletic association and John Schaeber, '63, was chosen to be sophomore class president.

Tennessee

It's that time of year when everyone at the Delta Delta Shelter is making preparations for the oncoming summer; but not without thoughts of the past year. It was an exciting, eventful, and happy year for Delta Delta. It was one of the most successful years that the chapter has had in some time. It was a year marked by a big increase in membership, a happy, active social life, an increase in participation in campus activities, and outstanding academic growth.

With a strong rush program, led by Rush Chairmen Charles Hoskins and Jerre Haskew, the Delts greatly increased their membership during the period of rebuilding. New pledges who have been added and who should be of great help next year include: Ronnie Helms, Fenn Quigley, John Hudson, Jerry Grant, Lance Arnold, George Flack, Bill Buis, Wendell Howard, George Cook, Bill Hoskins, Bill Roark, Max Cooper, Gene Watkins, Phil Gardner, Bill Glass, Sam Fields, Fred McMurray, Jack Rhymes, and Matt Harmon.

With this increase in numbers, Delta Delta has taken its rightful place in campus activities. In politics, Charles Hoskins ran for vice-president of the junior class. Brother Bill Spielmann, the chapter's political representative, was active in campus politics, serving as vice-president of the interfraternity council and representing U-T at the Southeastern IFC convention at the University of Alabama. Brother Spielmann also served as political leader of the Vol students party and a cochairman of the Carnicus publicity committee. He was recently named to membership in Scarrabeau, highest honorary fraternity for men at U-T.

However, not all was work at the Shelter last year; the Delts had one of the best social programs on the campus. Social high lights of the year included: a hayride after the Georgia Tech football game with Gamma Psi Chapter at guests; a Halloween party; the homecoming dance; a tea for Kappa Delta Sorority; the annual Showboat and Greek parties; and the pledge-sweetheart dance, at which Miss Alice Young, an Alpha Xi Delta pledge, was crowned pledge sweetheart by Vic McLaughlin, pledge president.

The most important social event of the year, the RAINBOW Ball, was held in conjunction with the annual Founder's Day Banquet, at which Sid Lenfestey, Secretary of the Fraternity, was the guest speaker. Miss Jane Holston, a Kappa Delta, was chosen to reign as the Delta Queen for the coming year.

A trip to the mountains in the late spring, followed by a going-away party at the Shelter, closed the social year.

The Delts also displayed outstanding talent on the athletic field. Delta Delta participated actively in all intramural sports, and the bowling team, led by Brothers Spielmann and Tunison, finished in a close second position. Brothers Hoskins, Jones, and Haskew, along with Pledge George Cook, deserve mention for their relentless participation in the various athletic contests. To add to the Delt sporting spirit, the chapter sponsored various athletic events among the brothers, including the annual pledge-active football game and a tennis tournament.

In the midst of all these extracurricular activities was an academic life which received just emphasis. The actives placed third on the campus last fall, while the pledges ranked first for the year in scholarship, paced by Bill Glass's 3.75 average.

We are looking forward to an even more successful year for 1960-'61. We feel that we have elected officers who will lead us in that direction. Officers for the coming year are: Chris Clements, president; Joe Kerigan, vice-president; Harry Tunison, treasurer; Bill Helton, corresponding secretary; Fred Gentry, recording secretary; Jerre Haskew, assistant treasurer; and Bob Boyd, guide.

BILL HELTON

Texas

New officers were chosen recently for Gamma Iota chapter for 1960. They are: president, Mike Kirkpatrick; vice-president, Peyton Townsend; recording secretary, Milam Johnson; corresponding secretary, John Jenkins; and treasurer, Keith Hansen. The old officers, John Bell, Dick Ince, David Spoor, Terry Stembridge, and Sam Sparks, were congratulated for their good record during 1959.

Mike Cotten, quarterback for the Southwest Conference champion Texas Longhorns, was elected to Cowboys, and Leon Graham, active editor of the school newspaper, The Daily Texan, was elected to Silver Spurs. Cowboys and Silver Spurs are honorary service organizations to which BMOC's are elected members, and in which the Delts have more members than any other fraternity on campus.

The Delts placed fifth in intramurals last year out of 31 fraternities, and have so far held a shaky second place this year. Track and baseball could drop us to third place or boost us to first.

Scholastically, the Delts were third on campus last year, the top two being fraternities of less than 20 members each. With finals nearing, we are all hoping that this year's average will be as high—individually and as a group.

In campus activities Delts were leaders in every area. Peyton Townsend was in charge of Round-up, the annual University homecoming. We were happy to host a number of visiting alums, always welcome in the Shelter. Especially exciting were planning sessions for a new Delt house, which is needed badly. The Delts placed second in Sing Song, the University songfest, for which Delts are famous on campus. We have placed in the top three, eleven of the past 14 years.

Social functions have included a Dog-patch Party, the Delt Formal, a Mexican party, the usual parties with sororities, and a never-to-be-forgotten house party at Brackettville on the Mexico bor-

With finals over and the summer offering many opportunities for the Tech Deltas, enthusiasm reigns high. We finished the spring term in fine shape.

Our big event this spring was our annual RAINBOW Formal held on May 6. We crowned Miss Pat Rudy as our new Delt Queen. Pat is a junior interior design major from Dallas and is a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority.

Athletically, we finished second in softball, third among the fraternities in the intramural track meet, and third in golf.

Miss PAT RUDY, Epsilon Delta's Delt Queen

We captured second in the sing-song again this year. Our thanks to Brother Tommy Sanders for guiding us to the second place honor.

Scholastically, it is a little early at this writing to obtain the grades from the Dean's Office, but hopes are high for a good scholastic rating.

At the end of this summer, Epsilon Delta will have lost quite a few of its members due to graduation. Lost were Brothers Don Davis, Norris Green, Ham Jenkins, Morris Scales, Ed Ratliff, Nelson Sager, Tommy Sanders, and Lee Roy Whitley. May they find the happiness in life that is theirs to deserve.

As far as the summer activities go, much is planned as over half of the brothers returned to continue their studies through the hot months. Don Davis planned several lodge parties for the week ends. Some work has been done on rush for this fall as we are hoping for a big one; however, as is widely known, the spring rush is the big one on the Tech campus. The Deltas are planning for the biggest and best rush thus far attempted here at Texas Tech.

As the summer moves along, the Deltas at Texas Tech will continue to improve both the chapter and the Fraternity. It is our hope that the Karnea was a big success and that much was accomplished. As we enter this fall year of school let's move forward, for progress is the key to success.

As the underclassmen wilt under the pressures of final exams and the graduating seniors lustily look forward to senior week, another year is drawn to a close.

But a year has never closed so quickly that spring could not arrive first to perpetrate its socially and aesthetically joyous, but academically devastating, effects. Spring hasn't yet failed to coax the pale student out into nature to partake of its sports, be it tennis, softball, sailing, loafing, or grassing on the hill. This spring the Delt softball squad, coached by Frank DeLeone, captured a second place in interfraternity competition. The tennis team also managed a second place, but Spring Sing didn't fare so well. However, Emcece Gene Mayer told some good jokes. Tom O'Brien, nattily attired in red bermudas, black sneakers, and green argyle socks, was frequently seen polishing his tennis game; but Jack Kramer hasn't contacted him yet.

Nineteen pledges were initiated recently and, as has been the tradition since last year, Sandy Tredinnick spoke at the formal banquet which followed.

Among the numerous active duty orders received, Brothers O'Brien and Jeffries were both appointed to submarine school and both proudly bought foreign sports cars—must be something to that sub pay.

And spring brought girls. The Chi-O's again were given the house for one night so that they might experience the joys of having their own house.

Spring brought finals also, and contrary to implications, the brothers and the campus in general were academically preoccupied. This may be attested by the facts that: we had no party raids (post April 1959); no rebellious riots; and only one appreciable water fight, which the Deltas unofficially won, a possible consolation victory appeasing the close second place we were obliged to accept in competition for the trophy of trophies. We expect to be above the All Men's Average for the sixth successive semester and in the top third of the fraternities.

Graduation hearkens, seniors, and while it's been great having you around, it's time for you to move down that long white road and let us lead the Chapter to new heights and glories.

VAN FOSTER

U.C.L.A.

Delta Iota is preparing for the 1960-'61 year by initiating an extensive summer rushing program. A new rushing policy has been formulated at U.C.L.A. and Delta Iota plans to take full advantage of it.

The chapter will be led by President Philip Thompson from Orinda and Veep Rodger Fagerholm of El Monte. Jim Jennings will continue to serve as house manager. He will be assisted by Steve Boyd and Andy Barclay.

Athletically, the Deltas showed excellence by nailing down fourth spot in the All-U standings, out of 35 fraternities. The softball team won its league pennant with a 6-0 record. The Delt swimmers won the 440-relay and Brian Kniff captured the intramural high jump at 6' 3" to highlight the spring sports.

On campus, Kniff holds down the Varsity Club presidency. Ken Gunn, Ron Johnson, and Peter Fielding were stalwarts of the Bruin rugby team.

Socially, Friday evening stereo parties proved to be very popular with the brothers. We can thank the Mothers' Club for the new stereo set.

The final party of the year, the Beta-Delt "Moon Over Los Angeles" party was one of the best affairs ever held by Delta Iota. Everyone had a good time and it was a tremendous success.

Final grades have not been recorded as yet, but the Shelter's scholastic standing for the spring term will be average. However, this is a definite improvement over the fall semester.

Everyone at Delta Iota is looking forward to a very successful year to follow a much enjoyed 1959-1960.

JON HANSEN

U.S.C.

Summer is over and a new school year upon us; it promises to be a most successful one for the brothers of Delta Pi.

With the graduation of over 25 seniors last year, rushing has become particularly important to the S.C. chapter. Under the guidance of Rush Chairman Randy Hall, a barrage of parties and other events is planned to woo prospective pledges.

Socially, a large number of exchange parties is already in the planning stage.

Also a number of T.G.I.F.'s will aid in making the coming semester a memorable one. In early December comes the granddaddy of all our parties—the Las Vegas formal.

New officers for the year are: Jim Krueger, president; Mike Gingrich, vice-president; Bill Clarke, social chairman; Ernie Horacek, scholarship; and Jim Dittmar, who is in charge of house maintenance. All are very capable and are expected to do an excellent job of managing the affairs of the chapter.

Speaking for the chapter, I would like to take this opportunity to wish you the best of luck and a prosperous year.

JIM ROBINSON

What kind of year has it been? For the men of Beta Psi it has been a rewarding year with achievements, honors, and awards, all of which helped keep the chapter on top and brighten the future for next year.

An important advancement was the addition of 14 new lettermen at the conclusion of spring sports. Freshmen Glenn Pride, John Strickland, and Hank Rodgers received letters in track, and another freshman, Lee Nickerson, picked up a varsity letter for his work on the diamond. The Deltas dominated the golf team with three men earning letters and holding down three of six team positions. Senior Don Good, along with Freshmen Tom McGee and Warren Ford received golf letters. Replacing graduating Letterman John Johnson as the Delt representative on the tennis team, was Junior Dave Rose. Junior Austin Brooks received his tennis numeral and should be a strong contender for a starting position next year. The six men who earned varsity letters in winter sports were Charlie West, Bob Templin, Jim Johnson, and Bill Wilson in basketball, and John Doherty and Steve Jay in wrestling.

Top honors went to Beta Psi in campus activities and honoraries. In spring elections, seven presidencies were handed over to Delt men. Chapter President Austin Brooks was elected president of Blue Key and will serve on the board of publications for his second consecutive year. Tim Conlon stepped into the presidency of Pi Delta Epsilon, the journalism honorary, and will serve as chairman of the board of publications and secretary of Blue Key. Graduating Bob Kryter relinquished the presidency of Sigma Pi Sigma, physics honorary, to Senior Dave Bohlin last spring. Bohlin was also chosen as Pi Delt secretary. Junior Jim Johnson was elected IFC president, while his classmate, Brent Sutton, was chosen president of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatics honorary. Bob Latham became president of Young Democrats while another junior, Bill Byers, assumed the job of secretary-treasurer of that organization. Junior Pack Carnes will serve as vice-president of Alpha Psi Omega. Other men elected to honoraries were Wayne Cobb, Pi Delt; John Hodges, Bill Sanders, Terry Anderson, Alpha Psi Omega; Al Witt, Eta Sigma Phi; and Bob Kryter and Bob Winter, Phi Beta Kappa. Ned Shorter worked as feature editor of the Wabash Bachelor.

At the June graduation, the Delt seniors received their share of honors as four of the ten graduates received recognition. Junior Phi Bete John Johnson received the Butler award, which is given to one of the most outstanding seniors of the graduating class. Johnson also received the highest score possible, a one, on comprehensive examinations and was graduated summa cum laude. Bob Kryter and Bob Winter also received ones on comps and were graduated with magna cum laude honors. Both were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. John Stiles received a two on comps and was graduated cum laude.

Throughout the spring we found ourselves in an extensive rushing program and at date of publication have six pledges for the 1960 pledge class. Jim Johnson carried the responsibility of rush chairman, and with the help of his efficient committee, formulated an effective rush program which was highlighted by two summer rush parties in Indianapolis and Chicago.

With the termination of the spring semester, four men were welcomed into the chapter as Beta Psi held its annual spring initiation. They were Juniors Charlie West, and Bill Sanders, and Freshmen John Doherty and Hank Rodgers.

For the third consecutive year Beta Psi was caught in the excitement and feverish efforts of Pan-Hel, but had to settle for a second place in the booth decorations after capturing first place in the two preceding years.

Intramurals gave Beta Psi many problems this year, but we finally managed to end in a respectable fourth place. This year was not a year for breaks as the softball team finished in fourth place with a 7-3 record. All three losses were by one run. We also managed to take third in the outdoor track meet, finishing only four points behind the winner.

Forty-six actives are returning for the opening day of classes in September. With the usual pledge class of 20, the chapter enrollment will increase to around 66, making Beta Psi the largest fraternity on campus. With the additional lettermen, Beta Psi will be represented in every varsity sport. Finally, with the success of spring elections, Beta Psi will hold offices in most of the campus organizations and activities.

LEE ANDREAS

Washington

The Gamma Mu Deltas began the 1959-'60 school year on the dead run, pledging 34 new men during formal rush. Our maximum number of pledges for the year was a whopping 38, and the number successfully completing their pledgship was 23, with ten left to be initiated early fall quarter.

In campus activities we have excelled. Bill Morse was selected for the varsity yell staff of the coming year. Jim Moore has been elected IFC treasurer. Scabbard and Blade president was Jim Flint. And Jim Todd was the JIFC vice-president. Four Deltas were initiated into Scabbard and Blade and four others were selected by Sun-Dodgers as initiates for the coming year. Then our biggest prize, ASUW first vice-president, captured by our own Wally Tweden.

Musically, we made another fine showing in the University's annual songfest. And our beatnik band, featuring the "beat" poetry of "Big Daddy" Tim Caldwell, was a sensation at the University's annual talent show, "One Night Stand." A note of special interest on the musical side, four Delt pledges have recently organized a quartet. Tom Fisher, Tim Dorner, Dave Hovland, and Lee Noorda make up the group. Lee has composed a new Delt pin song which will be incorporated into our list of songs. We have high hopes for this group.

Socially, the barn dance, pledge dance, spring formal, and active dance composed the "Big Four" on our social calendar. These were well supported by an occasional fireside, numerous exchanges, and serenades.

On the sport scene, Dave Kinley rowed first boat for the Husky crew. Carl Olson alternated between third base and left field for the baseball team, and John Marchino made a fine showing at guard for the frosh eleven. The Delt intramural football team placed second in its league. In basketball we did likewise, and the baseball team was finally beaten in the semifinals of the all-University championships.

Scholastically, we have improved over last year, placing, at the count, above the all-fraternity average. Dick Saunders was our finest scholastic asset, being selected Phi Beta Kappa. Dave Hovland, Dave Cortelyou, John Engstrom, and Bob Zumwalt compiled averages above 3.5.

Altogether, this has been an outstanding year for Delta Tau Delta, and we are looking forward, anxiously, to an even finer one next year.

PETE MCCALLUM

Gamma Chapter's spring pledge class

W. & J.

Beginning with this fall semester we, the brothers of Gamma Chapter, are looking forward to our centennial celebration. According to the plans, which are in the process of being approved, the pledges of this fall's pledge class will be initiated on February 22 in a formal ceremony. This ceremony will be open to all alumni of our chapter and to those Delts who might wish to visit with us at this time. The pledges to be initiated are: Robert Deely, Guy Shane, Charles Popovic, David Trieger, and Darrell W. Kuntz. Also assuming membership will be Louis Di Bello, Jerome Baron, Bruce Bowes, Clayton Wright, and Gerand Zubert.

Recently new officers were elected to head our organization. James Gilson has been elected president. Jim replaces Allan Allen, who served as both our president and president of the interfraternity council. Gerald Cook, vice-president, was replaced by George Penn. George is a pre-med major. Jim Delozier has replaced Jim Gilson as treasurer.

The last party of the social season was the prom. The College held a formal in the George Washington Hotel on Friday night and for the rest of the week end it was up to the brothers to show their dates a good time. Saturday evening the Delts held a senior barquet, which everyone attends to wish the seniors good luck in the future. The seniors at this time tell the rest of us just what it takes to graduate and how hard work is the best policy. After this banquet we returned to the Shelter to prepare for our party which was built around a "hillbilly" theme.

WILLIAM D. SHAW

W. & L.

As the academic year of 1959-'60 drew to a close, Phi Chapter looked back on another successful year of campus activity.

The new slate of chapter officers is as follows: Steve Suttle, president; Tom Luthy, vice-president; Reg Smith, treasurer; Dave Cook, house manager; Ned Ames, corresponding secretary; and Don Thalacker, recording secretary.

Campus elections saw Steve Suttle become secretary of the junior class and Dave Montgomery secretary of the sophomore class. Ned Ames will be editor-in-chief of the yearbook, The Calyx, and the freshman handbook. George Honts and Ken Beall will be managing editors of the campus newspaper, The Ring-tum Phi, and the humor magazine, The Southern Collegian, respectively. Freshman Ashley Wiltshire will be secretary of next year's Christian Council.

In other political activity, Phi Chapter had more state chairmen in W. & L.'s 15th mock presidential convention than any other fraternity on campus. State chairmen were Warren Welsh, Michigan; Dave Cook, Rhode Island; Ned Ames, Virginia; and Bill Young, Kentucky. The convention, the most authentic in the country, nominated Senator Kennedy for president and Senator Jackson for vice-president.

Athletics saw Phi Chapter again showing its first-place rank on campus by winning, for the second consecutive year, the overall intramural-intercollegiate trophy. This trophy is given annually to the fraternity with the highest intramural points and intercollegiate participation. We also collected individual trophies for first place in intramural wrestling and swimming and in intercollegiate football. Charles Gummey won the outstanding W. & L. freshman athlete award. Eighteen Delts won 24 varsity letters, and eleven freshmen won 14 frosh numerals during the past year. Captains of next year's varsity teams include Terry Fohs, football; Danny Dyer, wrestling; Ned Hobbs, baseball; and Jim Hickey, track.

Academically, Les Peard and Tom Luthy were elected to the commerce fraternity; Bart Dick to AED, pre-med honorary; and Ned Ames to Pi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary. Warren Welsh was chosen president of the latter group.

Typical of Phi Chapter's versatility was Bill Young's outstanding performance in one of the lead roles in the spring musical. Phyz Lemmon was appointed assistant head freshman dormitory counselor for next year. Jerry Hyatt and Terry Fohs will also be counselors.

On the social side, Phi Chapter was active this spring under the leadership of "Ben" Beall. The February beatnik party and the April Polynesian party saw many original costumes and highlighted our social season. Other parties were held on university dance week ends and during the mock convention.

Our chapter was host to a very successful Southern Division Regional Conference in April. Later that month Brent Buchheister and Stan Atwood were elected delegates to this summer's Karnea.

EDWARD A. AMES

Wesleyan

As one more successful year is written up in the records of Gamma Zeta, the brothers are found busily preparing an elaborate rushing program for the fall.

A 16 page booklet, written by Al Williams, with photos by John Harvey and John Reeder, and put together by Bruce Butler and George McKenzie, will describe the personal as well as the academic, athletic, and extracurricular activities of the brotherhood. The book is scheduled to be delivered to the incoming freshman class about July first.

In addition, each brother will call on or write to seven or eight sub-frosh who live in his neighboring vicinity.

Perhaps the highest honors received by any Delts this spring was the election of Al Williams and Tom Buckovich to the Mystical Seven, a secret senior honorary society. This is a particular honor for the Delts since usually not more than one of the seven members is elected from anyone of the twelve campus fraternities.

Al was reelected as captain of the wrestling team, is cochairman of the influential college body curriculum committee, leader of the Jibers, the campus quartet, and maintains an A-average.

Tom Buckovich was recently elected captain of the baseball team, is a member of the college body rushing and athletic committees and maintains a B+ average. He is also Gamma Zeta's rushing chairman.

Special academic honors have gone to several Delts who have been allowed by their major departments to work on distinction theses during the coming school year: Jerry Rice, chemistry; Bruce Butler, government; Al Williams, psychology; Fred Scherrer and George McKenzie, economics. Butler, Scherrer, and Williams have also received grants ranging from $400 to $500 from the college to do summer research.

Outstanding athletes in spring sports from the Delt Shelter were Tom Buckovich at second base for the baseball team, George McKenzie at defense on the lacrosse team, and Andy Schrader and Don Falkenstern on the track team. Andy was on Wesleyan's relay team, which took first place at the Penn Relays, and Don came within a few feet of breaking the school discus record.

The high light of the social season was, of course, spring house parties. Friday the Shelter rocked and rolled to the theme of a bundle party. Here, each brother and his date made a bundle of clothes and exchanged them before the festivities began. Saturday night the chapter had another costume party with the traditional flats painted to resemble a jungle.

Thus, with the summer before them, the Delts look forward to the Karnea and to another school year.

GEORGE MCKENZIE

Western Reserve

At honors chapel this semester, several Zeta members were recognized. Rex Hyre and Ed Crum were taken into Omicron Delta Kappa, and Mike Ostergard, who just returned from a year of study at the University of Madrid in Spain, succeeded Al Robinson as president of that organization. Brother Robinson became the third man in the history of Adelbert College to win both the Twing and Warrior Awards, and Jim Chatterton was selected outstanding freshman.

Robinson, in addition to his other awards, was named to Phi Beta Kappa along with Brother Keith White; and Jack Waslyn was taken into Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary. Rex Hyre was admitted to Phi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary, and was also chosen editor of our yearbook, the Lux, a post which has been occupied by a Delt as editor or coeditor for four consecutive years.

We also gained the following offices in class and various organizational elections this semester: Jim Chatterton was elected president of the sophomore class; Rich Morgan received a seat on the student senate; Jerry Ault became president of the student union advisory board, a body which handles the activities carried on in the student union throughout the year; Phi Society elected Bob Weiss as its representative to student council; and Bob Boerner was elected secretary of the judiciary committee of the interfraternity council.

This year's May Day activities were climaxed by the canoe tilts, which were won by two Delts, Bill Ostrander and Darryl Rogers, and by singout, where many favorable comments were heard about the two selections we sang.

In the field of sports, Zeta Chapter finished ahead in over-all competition and won the all sports trophy for the second straight year. Our individual sport championships include: basketball, second semester; handball; badminton; and tennis. In addition to intramurals, Brothers Ed Crum and Terry Wenger played varsity baseball this spring.

This year has been a fine one for Zeta Chapter. Our cross section of campus leaders in nearly every field and our willingness to work together have enabled us to remain at the top, or very near the top, in all facets of fraternity activity. I, personally, am happy to be able to report on Zeta Chapter's achievements this year, and I look forward to next year with the hope that we can continue to maintain, or even better, our record here at Western Reserve.

ROBERT BOERNER

Westminster

Delta Omicron successfully closed its spring social activities with the annual spring formal week end. The festivities were set in motion with an elaborate banquet held at the spacious West-Woods Pizza House preceding the dance. The theme was the "Big Top" and the St. Louis band provided a variety which pleased everyone. The week end was climaxed on Sunday with a journey to the Ozarks for a day of swimming, skiing, and relaxing.

The Westminster Delts continued their superiority in intramural chess, as we again captured the chess trophy, a habit which has lasted since the beginning of the award.

Numerous athletic achievements were made as six Delts lettered in the spring sports: Jerry Powell and Bill Bennett, baseball; Bill Dodson and Bruce Jones, track; Bob Bloom in golf; and Lyle Breeding in tennis. Tennis Captain Breeding also brought the conference singles trophy home to Westminster and is looking forward to a comparative showing in the national tournament. Lanny Larason, basketball letterman and editor of the school paper, also added the presidency of the letterman's club to his many other activities.

At our senior banquet we said goodbye to our graduating seniors, but our ambitious summer rush program, headed by Bill Bennett, should adequately prepare us for September's rush week. Even though our president will be spending his summer doing research in California, rush parties in both St. Louis and Tulsa are in the plans. A fine delegation is being sent to Swampscott for the Karnea in the hope that we can contribute and learn more to improve the already high calibre of Delta Omicron and Delta Tau Delta.

DAVID BYNUM

West Virginia

We of Gamma Delta finished up one of our most successful years with a "bang." This "bang," of course, came from our "Gunsmoke Party," in which the brothers and their dates came dressed as characters from the "Olde West." Most of the brothers were "outdrawn" and shot at least once during the night.

Our last social event was our biggest of the year, the Delt formal. Starting off with a banquet, we danced and dined from four until midnight. We rounded out the week end the next day with a picnic at a state park. Phil Lang and his social committee deserve the credit for bringing this wonderful week end off so smoothly.

Hard work and strong spirit paid off for us when we won second place in the Mothers' Day Sing. We have now placed two years in a row and are quite proud of this achievement. We placed second among the 19 fraternities on campus in scholarship for the first semester. We are hoping that we were strong enough to bring it up to first for the entire year.

A fraternity project during April and May was the paving of our basketball court in the backyard. Jan and Joel Dyckes and John Thackston were the chief engineers of this spirit-builder.

We have four rush parties planned for different cities throughout the state this summer. These get-togethers, which usually consist of a dance and a stag picnic, provide excellent rushing opportunities and a chance to keep in contact with each other during the summer.

We of Gamma Delta are proud of our achievements during the past year and are looking forward to continuing our campus leadership throughout the coming school year.

JACK GRIMM

Wisconsin

The spring semester saw mounting enthusiasm for sports and we entered golf, softball, and tennis. The softball team battled its way to the semifinals but the tennis team monopolized the lime light. The doubles team of Brothers Jim Voxman and Don Lewis went undefeated. Brother Fred Schadt and Pledge Dixon Gahnz also played fine tennis and the team took the second place trophy.

April brought many lovely DG's to the Shelter when we started preparing for Campus Carnival. Brother John Eddy took charge as general chairman for our booth, which was called "Shoot the Bull." The main feature of the booth was a 20-foot head of "Dudley the Bull," complete with blinking eyes and smoke from his nostrils. Hard work and high spirits were evidence of the drive behind this project and many individuals of both houses sacrificed many hours to see it through. We considered our joint effort acknowledged by the honorable mention that our booth was awarded.

Our pledge class was rounded out late last semester when we pledged three outstanding men. Bill Shannon, a journalism major; Bob Schmidt, on the varsity crew; and Gary Hobbs, freshman basketball player, were the final additions to a talented group of would-be Deltas. Basketball star, Brother Mart Gharriy, relaxed last semester by playing varsity golf and Brother Matt Iverson ended a brilliant college career by being chosen outstanding senior man.

We wish to thank our alumni who, as usual, responded to our call for rush recommends by sending us the names of outstanding rush prospects. We hope that this year we will be able to expand and strengthen our alumni contact through more and better alumni publications. We hope that your response will be as encouraging as it was when we asked for rush recommends.

ally handed down from President to President, was not too promising. At the Karnea banquet, Fran Hughes handed me the box containing the badge with a nice speech about its passing to safe hands. But, darn him, he had the box upside down. Of course, the badge fell out when I opened the box and there was a mad scramble to retrieve it from the floor. Fran recovered his composure enough to crack, "This shows that Gilley is capable of picking up where I leave off."

I hope to visit many of our chapters and expect to report in future columns what I find. I also expect to let you know from time to time what the Arch Chapter and its members are up to.

Remember, you undergraduates, that the reputation of the Fraternity in your community and on your campus is built of the bricks of your day-to-day activities.

Faithfully yours, thing like the kind of record in law school that he attained during his undergraduate work, he would see that his ambition to become a law clerk to a Supreme Court justice was realized. At Northwestern, he majored in public address and group communication. He was a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Pi Mu Epsilon (mathematics honorary), sophomore and junior class councils, and was a writer for the school humor magazine. He was on the Dean's List every semester he was in school and won a speech scholarship for obtaining the highest grades in the sophomore class. He served as corresponding secretary for Beta Pi Chapter in his junior year and was chapter president his senior year.

Jan S. Hogendorn, another of the Fraternity's advanced scholarship winners who was also awarded a Fulbright Scholarship, will pursue his graduate studies at the University of London School of Economics. His $1,400 from the Fraternity's scholarship, as in the case of Dave Brueckner, will be held for him until the 1961-62 school year. It is his plan to take two years of work at the University of London. The first year will be under the auspices of the Fulbright Scholarship and the second year will be made possible by the Duerr Scholarship. Jan is seeking an advanced degree in economics. Upon completion of his work in England, he plans to return to this country for the purpose of entering law school. His work in economics and law would be utilized in a career of government service, specializing in the legal and economic problems involved in the relationship between the United States and the poorer nations of Africa and Asia. While an undergraduate at Wesleyan, Jan majored in economics. He was a member of Junior Phi Beta Kappa; he served as student body secretary-treasurer and as president of the Debate Club. He was the New England champion debater, sang in the glee club, played in the band, and was president of Delta Sigma Rho. He also served as vice-president of Gamma Zeta Chapter.

These four young men are the worthy recipients of the Fraternity's fine graduate scholarships. It is hoped and planned that as they progress in their fields of study and in their chosen line of work, THE RAINBOW will be able to follow them and report to the Fraternity on their advances and accomplishments. Their records will serve as an inspiration to many Deltas who will follow them as winners of the Alvan E. Duerr Scholarships; the opportunities made available to them will serve to encourage other members of the Fraternity to seek the help these scholarships provide.

Oerter Again Wins Olympic Gold Medal

The cover of the December, 1956, number of THE RAINBOW featured a picture of Alfred A. Oerter, Kansas, '58, as he won a gold medal while setting a new Olympic record of 184' 10½" in the discus throw at Olympic games held in Melbourne, Australia.

This past summer, Al Oerter was once again a member of the United States Olympic track and field team. In the games held this summer in Rome, Italy, Al led the United States team to a sweep of the discus event. For Al, it was the second consecutive gold medal victory in Olympic competition. What is more, he again set a new Olympic record, breaking the one he had set in Melbourne, with a throw of 194' 2".

Brother Oerter has firmly established himself as one of the greatest Delt Olympic participants of all time. He has established himself as one of the outstanding United States performers of all times in the great international sporting competition.

Noble Ray Carroll, Western Reserve, '08, Sixteenth President of the Fraternity and a member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, died on May 18, following a long illness.

Active in state politics as a state representative and state senator, Mr. Carroll was prominent in Florida banking circles. At the time of his death he resided in Kissimmee, Florida. He became president of the First National Bank of Kissimmee in 1941, holding that position until his death. He was on the board of directors of several other Florida banks and was on the Atlanta District Federal Reserve Board. He was elected President of the Fraternity in 1935 and served for the following two years.

Harley D. Carpenter, Allegheny, '09, member of the Distinguished Service Chapter, founder of the Choctaw Alumni Chapter, and the Fraternity's "Mr. Choctaw," died on July 1. It was a familiar and established sight at all Karsneas to see Brother Carpenter lead the long, twisting, circling line of Delts in his beloved "Choctaw Walk-Around."

Starting from scratch in the electrical business, he built a prosperous utility empire. He had a retail and wholesale appliance business, as well as an electric utility service. He gave the highest loyalty to his college and to his Fraternity.

housing plan. This ambitious undertaking provides 12 new fraternity houses at a cost of $2,500,000. Funds are being furnished through a Federal Housing loan made by the Board of Regents, which enables the chapters to purchase the properties over a 40-year period at three and one-eighth per cent interest.

Students at the University of Arizona may literally, "Ski in the morning and swim outdoors in the afternoon."

Delt Alumni Chapters

Jim Vaughn, of Delta Omicron Chapter at Westminster College, speaking in behalf of a sizable contingent of undergraduates who journeyed in from Fulton for the occasion. Jim brought us up to date on the activities of his chapter and presented Brother Bob Kroening with Delta Omicron's Distinguished Alumni Service Award for 1959. Bob is the able chapter adviser at Delta Omicron as well as the chief raconteur and public speaker of the St. Louis alumni.

In addition to guiding the evening's program with a skilled hand, President Bob Zeitinger of the St. Louis alumni, introduced us to a new money-making gimmick called "badge inspection." While I can't divulge the mechanism of the system, I can advise all destitute treasurers to contact Bob at once to obtain the secret of fattening their coffers.

Founders Day is always an excellent opportunity to pick up bits of news, and this one was no exception. We were sorry to learn that one of our stalwart members, George Fisher, who is also president of the Western Division, is being transferred from St. Louis to Dayton, Ohio. Although we won't be seeing as much of George as we have in the past, he has promised to visit often. At the same time, we were very happy to welcome two new members, Jim Staley and Bob Van Sickler, who were just recently transferred to St. Louis. We certainly hope that they will join us in all our activities, including our usual Monday luncheons at the Mark Twain Hotel.

With Founders Day now behind us, we are looking forward to an active summer program and the active participation of all the Deltas in the area. If, somehow, you are not on our mailing list, please call the secretary listed in the Directory of THE RAINBOW.

Chapter Eternal

Chapter and for many years treasurer of the Gamma Sigma House Corporation, died on June 19 in Pittsburgh.

He joined the U. S. Corrugated-Fiber Box Company following World War I, serving as sales and district manager. At the time of his retirement a few years ago, he was the oldest employee in the company in years of service. In addition to his intense interest in the Fraternity, he was an active member of the American Legion.
