Dear Friends:

Welcome to Los Angeles: a dynamic, ever-evolving destination that thrives on authenticity and the unexpected. An inclusive place where everyone is welcome, the city proudly celebrates its rich ethnic and cultural diversity throughout its distinct neighborhoods.

A long-standing beacon for dreamers and innovators, L.A. is a city where new ideas are exchanged without judgment or limit. Our unrivaled talent pool of thought leaders and intellectual capital spans several sectors including entertainment, technology, aerospace, international trade, medical, biotech, and more. Simply put, there's no better destination in which to connect individually and innovate collectively.

Let our city serve as a blank canvas for any type of meeting or event and unleash your creativity at an endless array of only-in-L.A. venues. With its real-working movie studios, botanical gardens, classic theatres, storied cultural institutions, prestigious Hollywood award venues, and iconic stadiums, Los Angeles can bring any creative vision to life.

The current epicenter of culinary creativity, L.A. is home to influential tastemakers who unconventionally push the boundaries of experimentation. Our vibrant mosaic of cultures is magnified throughout our culinary landscape with an incredible breadth of worldly cuisines encompassing Mexican, Korean, Chinese, Middle Eastern, Japanese, and more.

Los Angeles is ready to roll out our signature red carpet for your next meeting or event, from intimate gatherings to large-scale conventions. No matter what you choose to do, I hope you create treasured memories in our City of Angels.

With best wishes,

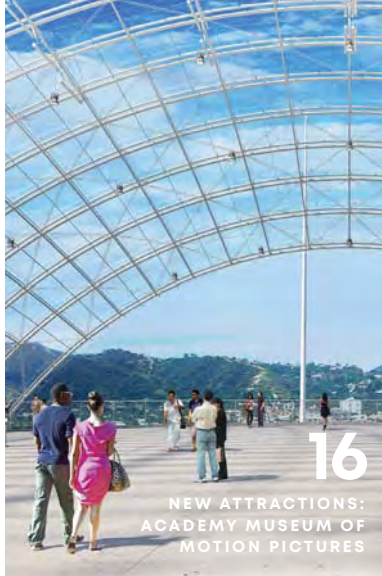

Ernest Wooden Jr.

A Chance to Make a Difference

Bringing social responsibility to the conference setting.

IF YOU HAD BEEN IN DOWNTOWN LOS ANGELES EARLY IN THE MORNING ONE DAY LAST April, you might have been surprised to see 140 runners, mostly clad in neon yellow T-shirts, hearing a bit of local history as they went speeding past. You might have been even more surprised to find out the participants on the 3.6-mile fun run consisted of attendees at the annual meeting of the Institute of Scrap Recycling Industries (ISRI) along with members of the Skid Row Running Club. The connection was made through the Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board (Los Angeles Tourism), which includes corporate social responsibility (CSR) initiatives in its work with meeting planners.

These kind of activities have become increasingly important over the last decade, says Darren K. Green, senior vice president of sales at Los Angeles Tourism, and the ability to set up corporate social responsibility programs is now often part of a meeting request for proposal (RFP). "There's a variety of things people can do," Green says. "Some corporate groups use it as a team-building exercise, a way to roll up their sleeves together and get employees to connect. At a lot of conferences, people do something in the convention center, but that doesn't allow them to touch the community. Los Angeles Tourism tries to elevate the experience by getting attendees out to a place where they can meet people and talk with them."

The ISRI run last spring was a great example. ISRI has been incorporating social responsibility into its conventions as often as possible since 2007, when it held a conference in New Orleans and raised money to help build two teaching kitchens at local high schools, says Chuck Carr, meetings vice president. "We always try to find a fun way to do some type of service work," Carr notes. "When we came to L.A., we were looking for something unique." Carr's team had envisioned a fun run, perhaps, as part of a health-oriented push. "We contacted Los Angeles Tourism," he says, "and they connected us with the running club."

Founded by Judge Craig Mitchell almost a decade ago, the running club connects its Skid

SKID ROW RUNNING CLUB

Row members to the wider community. The program provides support in overcoming homelessness and alcohol and drug abuse and helps members achieve positive life goals. The collaborations with conference attendees, however, extend beyond that; they benefit everyone involved.

“We go to the convention hotel,” says Judge Mitchell. “We mingle and introduce ourselves.” Then the group follows a route that allows Mitchell to talk about the background of Downtown L.A. “People are fascinated,” Mitchell says. “The initiative eliminates the divide between those who come to L.A. to visit and those perceived negatively because of struggles with addiction and homelessness. I

“The initiative eliminates the divide between those who come to L.A. to visit and those perceived negatively because of struggles with addiction and homelessness. ...It’s a powerful statement when the professionals who come to L.A. think it’s worth their time and effort to run with people from Skid Row.”

—JUDGE CRAIG MITCHELL, FOUNDER OF THE SKID ROW RUNNING CLUB

can’t emphasize enough that it’s a powerful statement when the professionals who come to L.A. think it’s worth their time and effort to run with people from Skid Row. That’s a powerful motivator for a running club member.

“The experience for our folks was terrific,” adds Carr, whose organization budgeted a $5,000 donation to the running club. “Everyone enjoyed

THE INTERCONTINENTAL DOWNTOWN

“Everyone enjoyed meeting the runners, and it not only connected us with a need, but also to a part of the community we [might otherwise] never see.”

meeting the runners, and it not only connected us with a need, but also to a part of the community we [might otherwise] never see.”

Other meeting groups have come up with corporate social responsibility projects that tie in closely with the organization’s professional expertise. “The American Academy of Neurology had a Brain Fair a couple of years ago where they invited people from the Downtown community to have scans,” says Darren K. Green. “The mental health component really fit with local issues. The American Dental Association also set up dental hygiene areas around the Convention Center.”

Los Angeles Tourism frequently calls on L.A. Works, an organization that rallies support for worthy causes, to organize hands-on programs and make the connection with local nonprofits looking for volunteers.

“We work with nonprofits across all issues and in the geographical area of Los Angeles,” says Deborah Brutchey, the group’s executive director.

“We’ve been receiving requests from event planners and companies for years. There are so many needs and interests. The opportunities are as diverse as the city we live in.” For example, those interested in the environment can do an urban park cleanup in the heart of the city or head out to one of many beaches.

“We are a nonprofit but also a social enterprise,” Brutchey adds, “so companies hire us, and we’ll organize events from start to finish. We know the community and also make sure the activity is not a burden on our nonprofit partner.”

A few examples of the customized, hands-on, volunteer events the group has organized in the past year hint at the range of activities open to groups meeting in Los Angeles. One conference, with 500 attendees from all over the world, wanted to get out into the community. “We bussed them to an elementary school,” says Brutchey, “and they transformed it, painting, planting, and building outdoor areas for creative play.”

At another meeting volunteers stayed at the convention center to assemble kits for people moving from shelters to housing—including blankets, cleaning supplies, and other essentials as well as a personal letter of encouragement. A third group put together suitcases that contained teddy bears, clothing, and books for kids entering foster care.

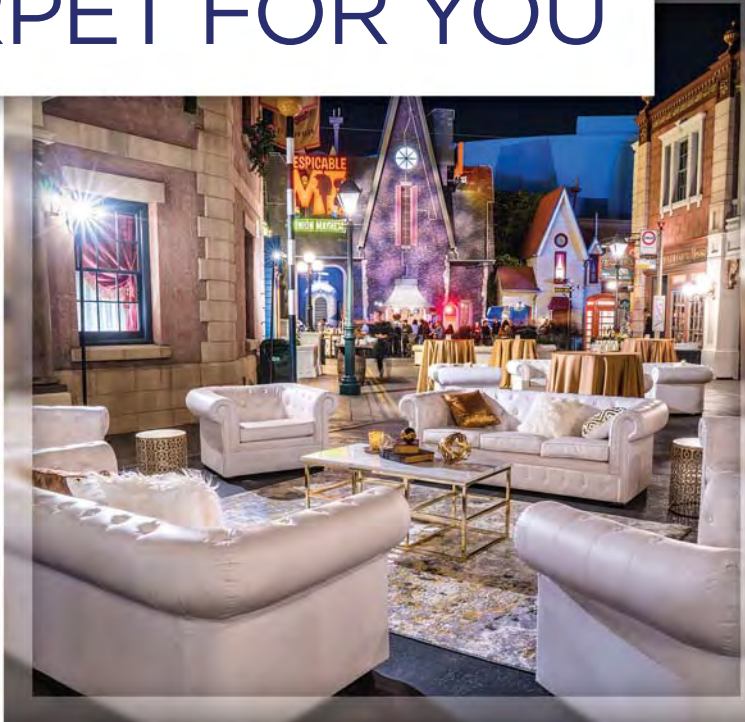

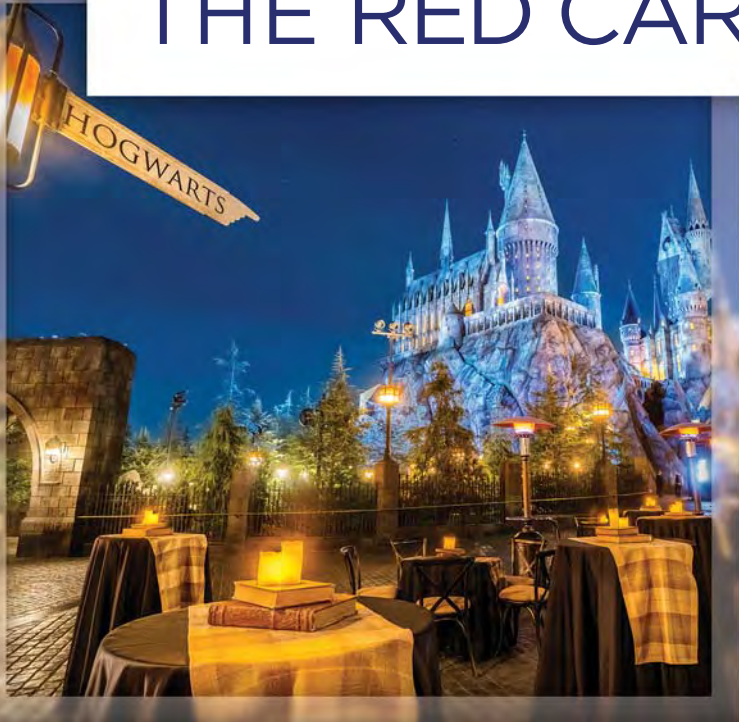

“If a company is passionate about some issue, we can do something that matches,” Brutchey says. “It’s wonderful when we hear volunteers say, ‘I hadn’t thought about that. I could speak to my elected official or bring ideas back to my community.’ It’s good to hear their takeaways. It does take lead time to plan these events, though, maybe several months,” she cautions. “If you’re coming to L.A., one of the first calls should be to us.”

Los Angeles Tourism expresses appreciation for participation in kind. “We’d like to get more groups to take advantage of these resources,” Green says. “One thing we do is focus our amenities on giving back. For example, we’ve partnered with Bombas socks. For every pair we give, another pair is donated, and we include a note to our planners saying that a pair has been given on their behalf to a local mission, shelter, or charity.

“That feeling of giving back...you can’t put a price on it,” he says.

High-Tech Tools

The newly designed virtual tools of the Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board offer the ultimate in meeting-arranging convenience.

Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board's (Los Angeles Tourism's) newly revamped meetLA.com website is a must-have tool for meeting and event professionals looking to do business in Los Angeles. The updated site is the ideal answer to their evolving needs. "We understand the increasing demands on meeting professionals' time, and we want our website to really be an asset to them. The new site offers an easy-to-navigate one-stop shop of resources to help plan a meeting and easily connect to our team for support," says Darren K. Green, Los Angeles Tourism's senior vice president of sales.

The site has been redesigned for easy, streamlined, and mobile-friendly navigation. Features include an updated venue-search tool with interactive mapping and new, easy-to-use filters for type of venue, region, size, and capacity of meeting rooms, making it simple to compare venues. Additional transportation information allows for planning the ideal times for moving your group from Point A to Point B.

New interactive content includes personal videos of each member of the Los Angeles Tourism sales team with their tips on must-see spots and notes on what they love about L.A., along with a new Downtown walking tour. Recently added content throughout the site focuses on important industry trends like public transportation, corporate social responsibility, and more. Eye-catching sizzle videos, a robust image gallery, and vibrant virtual reality tours of Downtown L.A. and premier venues provide an immersive experience and bring the city to life. And best of all, meetLA.com makes it easy to connect with Los Angeles Tourism Sales and Client Services experts to help plan impactful and memorable events.

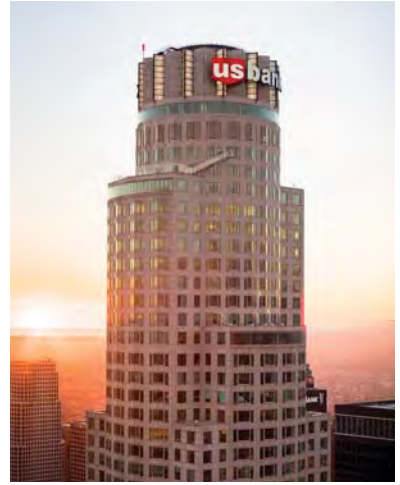

Venue-Finding On the Go

A brand-new free app, MTPG is a convenient mobile version of the venue-search tool on the meetLA.com website. The handy app is a digital companion to both the printed Los Angeles Meeting & Travel Professionals Guide and the website, completing a seamless trio of invaluable planning platforms. The recent release of the redesigned app marks the first time member listings have been available in mobile form for on-the-go access in the palm of your hand.

Select a category and use the smart filters at the top to browse through potential meeting locations by category, subcategory, and region. It's a planner's dream that includes up-to-the-minute details, descriptions, and capacity information, along with listings for alternative spots for unique events. Mark your favorites, and click on links to venue websites. The free download is available in the App Store and the Google Play Store. Look for the blue and white icon.

JW MARRIOTT LOS ANGELES L.A. LIVE

EnVision 2020

Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board plays host to another major meeting-industry event.

The Los Angeles Tourism & Convention Board (Los Angeles Tourism) is proud to play host to major meeting-industry events, viewing it as an exciting opportunity to highlight the assets of L.A. for leading industry professionals who attend. This year, the board partners with the City of Los Angeles to welcome EnVision 2020, a strategic event conceived by Experient (experient-inc.com), a Maritz Global Events meeting and events management company. EnVision 2020 takes place at the JW Marriott Los Angeles L.A. LIVE March 18 through 20, 2020.

Host with the Most

This marks the fourth year in a row that Los Angeles Tourism has hosted such an industry gathering, and the aim is to continue to host one per year. "Having hosted ConferenceDirect Annual Partner Meeting in 2018 and coming off of PCMA EDUCON [Professional Convention Management Association's Education Conference, held in June 2019], we recognize the importance of these events, and we are aggressively continuing to showcase our destination to industry event professionals," says Darren K. Green, senior vice president of sales at Los Angeles Tourism.

Scott Durkin, vice president of partner development at Experient, points to a lively market and good business relationships as factors that contributed to choosing Los Angeles for the company's 2020 event. "There is a lot going on in L.A.," Durkin says, "and we wanted a West Coast destination. We do a significant amount of business in L.A. already, and have worked with Darren Green at L.A. Tourism, along with Javier Cano, vice president and market general manager at JW Marriott Los Angeles L.A. LIVE. They were pivotal in making our decision to bring EnVision to L.A. It's the first time in L.A. for this event and we're excited about it."

Valuable Connections

An annual event, EnVision focuses on internal Experient business planning and education, while providing a unique forum in which to build relationships with and product knowledge among Experient suppliers and business partners through a marketplace, one-on-one appointments, and shared educational sessions. An estimated 650 participants will attend the event, including Experient team members, other industry professionals, sponsors, and local hosts. Participating members of the Experient team will include staff with direct responsibility for recommending and sourcing destinations, hotels, and supplier partners for client programs.

With a dynamic approach and relevant content, EnVision actively engages attendees, providing them with key takeaways and actionable insights to strengthen their expertise in designing and delivering exceptional event experiences. As with all Experient events, the aim is to make it shine across the full spectrum of touchpoints for all guests, including attendees, exhibitors, sponsors, partners, and meeting and event planners.

"EnVision also enables us to bring together our people to celebrate the previous year's success, and provides an opportunity to conduct business meetings to plan for the upcoming year, network, and build relationships for partnering," says Durkin.

Between the meetings and sessions, there are opportunities to get out and explore. "We'll look at other parts of the city prior to the event, and there will be some off-site events put together by the team," says Durkin. Los Angeles awaits with open arms.

L.A. Snapshot

There are 88 incorporated cities in Los Angeles County, ranging from Vernon (population 113) to Los Angeles (population 4 million). Los Angeles County is the first county in the nation to exceed 10 million residents. If the Los Angeles five-county area were a state, it would surpass all U.S. states in total population with the exception of California, Texas, New York, and Florida. The County of Los Angeles alone would be the seventh most populated state.

Population

CITY OF LOS ANGELES: 4 million
COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES: 10.1 million
LOS ANGELES FIVE-COUNTY AREA: 18 million
(Los Angeles, Riverside, Ventura, Orange, and San Bernardino counties)

Climate

With the sun shining 80 percent of the year, Southern California's climate is often described as "perfect," and for good reason. It is mostly sunny and warm with gentle ocean breezes in the summer. The humidity is low with little rain.

AVERAGE ANNUAL PRECIPITATION: 12.16 inches
AVERAGE SUNNY/PARTLY SUNNY DAYS: 292
AVERAGE MEAN TEMPERATURE: 75°F

Hotels

Los Angeles County boasts more than 104,964 hotel rooms ranging from hostels to luxurious five-star resorts, with a diverse selection of amenities to meet individual needs and budgets. Los Angeles is the sixth-largest hotel market in the United States. There are 13,203 hotel rooms and more than 100 properties in Downtown Los Angeles alone.

The Regions of L.A.

Discover L.A.'s vibrant regions, home to an incredible diversity of cultures, attractions, hotels, restaurants, museums, and activities. All of that, plus stunning beaches, picturesque mountains, and year-round warm weather, makes L.A. the perfect place to keep meeting attendees entertained and inspired.

Downtown/ L.A. Metro

The pulsating heart of the city's core, Downtown L.A. recently experienced a renaissance that transformed it into a walkable, dynamic urban center featuring scores of new and refreshed hotels. The neighborhood showcases world-class museums, concert halls, theaters, and critically acclaimed restaurants. With rapidly expanding public-transit options, a thriving nightlife and art scene, and countless new shops and boutiques, Downtown is a thrilling setting for meetings and events. (For more on Downtown/L.A. Metro, see page 29.)

Elevate meetings and events to red-carpet affairs in Hollywood, the epicenter of the entertainment world. The epitome of the L.A. experience, Hollywood features myriad attractions and endless entertainment. Experience Tinseltown glamour at TCL Chinese Theatre and the nearby Hollywood Walk of Fame, which has honored celebrities for more than 50 years. The state-of-the-art Dolby Theatre® at the Hollywood & Highland Center is home to the Academy Awards®. Universal Studios Hollywood™ is L.A.'s premier theme park and serves as the perfect backdrop to events of all types. The iconic Hollywood Bowl outdoor amphitheater nestled in the mountains and the delicious multicultural cuisines of nearby Thai Town and Little Armenia are sure to keep guests entertained. (For more on Hollywood, see page 63.)

West Hollywood

West Hollywood's rock-star pedigree, boutique shopping, progressive attitude, and nonstop nightlife will create a fun-filled and stylish setting for your events and meetings. The world-famous Sunset Strip, Melrose Avenue, and Robertson Boulevard provide a wide range of bar, club, and dining options, and a thriving arts and LGBTQIA+ scene make WeHo a fast-paced mini-metropolis. (For more on West Hollywood, see page 64.)

Westside

The Westside is Los Angeles at its most upscale and glamorous. Meetings here offer proximity to major medical, entertainment, and federal government hubs. Many of L.A.'s most acclaimed luxurious hotels can be found on the Westside, which boasts a wide variety of meeting and event venues. From Culver City's hip arts district to Museum Row to Brentwood's fine dining, the Westside features high-end shopping, world-class cultural attractions, and quality entertainment. (For more on the Westside, see page 77.)

Beverly Hills

Beverly Hills is synonymous with glamour and affluence. More than 100 renowned high-fashion retailers line Rodeo Drive, the shopping street known around the world. Sophisticated hotels offer more intimate event space for smaller VIP events and meetings, while exclusive shopping, five-star dining, spa treatments, and lush scenery will permeate your meetings and events and keep attendees basking in luxury. Meetings in Beverly Hills benefit from proximity to a major concentration of private medical-industry and law firms. (For more on Beverly Hills, see page 78.)

Beach Cities/LAX

Harness the endless summer of L.A.'s stunning coastlines, where the Beach Cities can accommodate groups and events of all sizes. Enjoy easy access to the beach towns of Hermosa Beach, Manhattan Beach, Marina del Rey, Venice, and Malibu for shopping, dining, and relaxation after a full day of meetings. Attendees can extend their trip to include a vacation on the Pacific. Ferries to Catalina Island depart regularly from local ports. The mountains of Malibu offer a range of activities including hiking, horseback riding, and wine tasting. (For more on Beach Cities/LAX, see page 87.)

Santa Monica

Santa Monica offers a blend of urban energy, beach-town atmosphere, and oceanfront hotels with a Pacific Ocean backdrop. Attractions include the historic Santa Monica Pier and numerous restaurants, shops, and cultural activities. Santa Monica's culinary scene is renowned for seasonal ingredients, international influences, and al fresco dining with ocean views. Shopping opportunities are abundant at trendsetting boutiques and the open-air Santa Monica Place. (For more on Santa Monica, see page 88.)

The Valley

The San Fernando Valley is one of L.A.'s entertainment capitals. Located there are NBC Studios,

Warner Bros. Studios, and more. In addition to broad streets, abundant parking, and economical meeting and event venues and restaurants, the Valley has sophisticated hotels and sleek alternative venues and conference centers. Countless bustling restaurants line Ventura Boulevard, and the NoHo Arts District is a vital creative hub. Meetings and events in the Valley offer unparalleled value for quality, with business centers and conference hotels boasting some of the largest inventory of meeting spaces in the L.A. area. (For more on the Valley, see page 103.)

Pasadena

Famous for hosting the New Year's Day Rose Parade, Pasadena is just a few miles away from Downtown L.A. and is the site of a variety of meeting and event venues. Sun-splashed Pasadena's small-town charm, world-renowned art and cultural institutions, superlative shopping, and diverse dining options ensure that meeting attendees will want to stay long after the meetings are over. (For more on Pasadena, see page 105.)

Neighboring Regions

From the desert to the sea and from the mountains to the valleys, all of L.A.'s stunning diversity is captured in Neighboring Regions, which include Ontario, Pomona, La Habra, West Covina, and many other communities. These regions are rich with large and vibrant ethnic neighborhoods, offering a rainbow of exciting international cuisine. (For more on Neighboring Regions, see page 113.)

HIP HOTELS, TRENDSETTING RESTAURANTS, WORLD-CLASS entertainment venues, and a thriving arts and culture scene along walkable streets make Downtown Los Angeles a unique meeting and convention destination. And there's an impressive list of luxurious, one-of-a-kind Downtown facilities that are flexible and designed to accommodate large groups for unforgettable gatherings.

New and Mainstay Hotels

Among the newest options for accommodations is the Downtown Los Angeles Proper Hotel, which inhabits the historic former L.A. Press Club building on Broadway and 11th Street. The fresh lodgings include 148 guest rooms and two spacious presidential suites, and delectable menu options are offered at the two ground-floor restaurants as well as the bar and restaurant on the rooftop, which also features a dazzling pool.

On 7th Street, the 12-story, 241-room NoMad Hotel Los Angeles in the historic 1923 Giannini Place is a favorite hangout/event venue with a lofty rooftop swimming pool. Sky-high panoramas are also a hallmark of the nearby Freehand Los Angeles. Housed in the historic Commercial Exchange building, the hotel features the award-winning Broken Shaker rooftop poolside bar along with multiple indoor and outdoor event and meeting spaces.

The Hotel Figueroa, named for the street on which it's located, was designed to evoke the city's Spanish origins. The 1926-founded property has a variety of group-friendly sites, all couched within an exotic vibe. About a block away, the Hotel Indigo Los Angeles Downtown showcases the Golden Age of Hollywood with a modern flair. Thanks to the property's 350 guest accommodations, 12 meeting spaces, and exhibit space, planning an event there is a snap.

Remarkable mainstays, like the Sheraton Grand Los Angeles on Hope Street and The Ritz-Carlton, Los Angeles on Olympic Boulevard, have gained reputations for their memorable panoramas, which stretch from the city skyline to distant mountain ranges.

Urban landscape unfurls beneath the JW Marriott Los Angeles L.A. LIVE when witnessed from the rooftop pool. Just right for groups, the hotel has 878 guest rooms and 44 event rooms at the ready.

"Unrivaled" best describes the views from Spire 73, a chic cocktail lounge on the roof of Wilshire Boulevard's InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown. The 889-room hotel houses 94,000 square feet of event space, including a Grand Ballroom, 33 meeting rooms, and Spire 73, named for the number of the top floor on which it is perched and known as the tallest open-air bar in the western hemisphere.

At the Ace Hotel Downtown Los Angeles on Broadway Avenue, a restored 1,600-seat 1920s theatre adjoins the hip 182-room hotel, where five additional meeting spaces are also available.

Event-Centric Venues

The grande dame of L.A.'s event spaces is the Los Angeles Convention Center. This stalwart glass structure in the heart of Downtown across the street from the L.A. LIVE entertainment complex hosts more than 300 conventions, trade shows, exhibitions, meetings, and special events each year.

Other statement-making venues are all about City of Angels views. Topping the list is South Park

DOWNTOWN/L.A. METRO

Center, a sleek skyscraper with a concourse level that features a fully equipped 500-seat theater for corporate events, dinners, and meetings.

From The Terrace at L.A. LIVE, an 8,100-square-foot event space on the rooftop of the GRAMMY Museum® that accommodates up to 300 guests, meeting participants can spy both the iconic Hollywood Sign and the metropolitan horizon.

At OUE Skyspace LA, where California's tallest open-air observation deck provides 360-degree cityscapes from nearly 1,000 feet up, the 70th floor offers a 3,400-square-foot event space.

With views of the ocean, Santa Monica, L.A. LIVE, and the Fashion, Financial, and Jewelry districts, City Club Los Angeles provides private dining, meeting rooms, and ballrooms with versatile seating options for a wide variety of activities and events. Spaces accommodate groups from six to 250.

For maximum flexibility, Convene Los Angeles offers two premium locations with on-demand meeting space for groups from two to 500.

Dining

L.A. is a foodie's paradise, and Downtown restaurant venues are known for their gourmet delights. From multicultural cuisine at Freehand Hotel's The Exchange restaurant to speakeasy fare at The Edison lounge, there are flavors for every palate.

The Palm restaurant, a favorite among classic steakhouses, hosts groups of up to 225. Also available for buyouts and corporate functions are Boca Restaurant at the famous Conga Room on the L.A. LIVE campus, and Redbird restaurant and Vibiana event facility, both located in the building that housed the former St. Vibiana's Cathedral.

High above the L.A. skyline in The Ritz-Carlton, Los Angeles hotel, Wolfgang Puck's award-winning Asian fusion restaurant, WP24, is ready to treat groups to award-winning cuisine and spectacular city views. A number of event spaces are available within the elegant 1939-built Union Station railway terminal, and the newest addition opened last year.

Located in the terminal's Fred Harvey Room, the Imperial

Western Beer Co. craft brewery and The Streamliner brewpub feature a 1940s full bar and al fresco patio service.

Attractions

Downtown L.A.'s world-class entertainment arenas stand ready to create memory-making events for parties of all sizes. Microsoft Theater at L.A. LIVE has 7,100 seats and is home to the Emmy™ Awards and the American Music Awards. Just across the street, STAPLES Center presents major concerts with stars like Justin Timberlake, Keith Urban, and BTS, as well as the sporting competitions of home teams: the Lakers, the Clippers, and the Sparks basketball organizations, and the Kings hockey team. Just down the street next to the Coliseum is the new 22,000-seat Banc of California Stadium, which is now home to Major League Soccer's Los Angeles Football Club.

Arts & Culture

L.A.'s thriving arts and culture scene provides plenty of opportunities for group entertainment, too. Perusal of Arts District galleries, such as Hauser & Wirth and Royale Projects, can reveal historic insights as well as leading-edge perspectives. In the Bunker Hill district, guests can pore over contemporary art at MOCA and The Broad before heading next door for a musical performance by the LA Philharmonic at Walt Disney Concert Hall. For a historical look at the significance of American music, meeting participants can visit the GRAMMY Museum®.

For great theater, groups can enjoy performances at the 739-seat Mark Taper Forum, part of The Music Center, which is also home to the LA Opera, Center Theatre Group, and Los Angeles Master Chorale.

Shopping

A host of specialty shopping quarters located in Downtown are attractions in their own right: the Fashion, Flower, and Jewelry districts. Open-air malls FIGat7th and The Bloc offer additional opportunities, and Olvera Street, a preserved Mexican marketplace, is lined with gift shops and street vendors that sell handmade crafts.

Los Angeles Convention Center Transformation

A new renovation will integrate this business hub with the greater L.A. LIVE campus.

LOS ANGELES CONVENTION CENTER

THE LOS ANGELES CONVENTION CENTER (LACC) IS UNDERGOING a massive renovation that promises to attract more business clients and groups and add octane to the DTLA community's economic engine.

Starting in summer 2020 and slated for completion in late 2022, the nearly $1 billion Convention Center at L.A. LIVE transformation project will increase the center's total useable space to more than 1.2 million square feet, which will include 900,000 square feet of exhibition space. The facility will provide 250,000-plus square feet of meeting space with more than 80 meeting rooms and a new, column-free multipurpose hall that can be divided as needed. The plaza in front of the LACC will be dramatically reimaged and expanded to accommodate an additional 25,500 square feet of outdoor space designed by OLIN, a landscape architecture design firm.

The LACC renovation is part of a larger DTLA project, explains Doane Liu, executive director at City of Los Angeles Department of Convention and Tourism Development. "To exceed the growing expectations of all clients and groups, the increase in space within the Convention Center will be complemented by an integration with the L.A. LIVE campus, additional outdoor event space, and an increased hotel supply within close proximity," Liu says. "There will be a seamless connection between the two existing halls and adjoining hotels on the campus. The overall project will create a dynamic, unified, and modern district, transforming the Convention Center and adjacent L.A. LIVE campus in Downtown Los Angeles into a fully integrated, 100-acre meetings and conventions destination that is unrivaled on the West Coast, with 2 million square feet of event space, 2,240 hotel rooms, 20 restaurants, unique venues, and more."

The Convention Center will be fully operational throughout the renovation process. "The project has been designed to work with the existing infrastructure and create minimal impact during the construction phase," Liu assures.

As the first convention center of its size in the U.S. to earn a LEED Gold recertification in 2015, the LACC will continue its environmentally friendly efforts pre- and post-renovation. The facility boasts a sweeping array of electricity-generating solar panels, an extensive waste diversion system, a comprehensive recycling program, and a 9,500-square-foot rooftop garden. It is also among the few U.S.-based convention centers equipped with 5G wireless-networking abilities.

"This project will redefine the L.A. meetings and conventions experience while offering attendees the space to take advantage of our year-round, near-perfect weather," says Liu. "The future for meetings and events in Los Angeles has never been brighter."

FIRST-CLASS SERVICE The LACC team specializes in creating successful events that exceed clients' expectations. In order to achieve this, the facility partners with industry experts to provide clients and guests with superior services. Taste of L.A. by Levy Restaurants is the LACC's signature and exclusive dining experience. Taste of L.A. is committed to sourcing local products, using the freshest ingredients available, and preparing exquisite meals to deliver heartfelt joy to its guests. Offering concessions, catering, portable options, food truck alleys, exhibit booth service, customized staff meal options, and so much more, Taste of L.A. delivers excellent food inspired by the City of Angels. Smart City is the exclusive, in-house telecommunications provider and offers clients and attendees unparalleled expertise and service. The LACC also offers a full-service business center powered by Los Angeles based Image Quest Plus.

ENVIRONMENTAL INITIATIVES The LACC reduces its environmental impact while providing a positive experience to clients and guests. In 2015, the venue became the first U.S. convention center of its size to be recertified at the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Gold level. In 2017, the LACC received California's highest environmental honor, the Governor's Environmental and Economic Leadership Award (GEELA). In 2018, the LACC plugged in a 2.21 megawatt solar array, making it the largest solar array on a municipally owned convention center in the United States. The LACC is committed to leveraging its position in the community to raise awareness of environmental issues and inspire others to take action. To mitigate negative environmental impact, it invests heavily in sustainable products, technology, and practices.

Contact the LACC to learn how it can bring your event vision to life!

AS THE TALLEST BUILDING ON THE WEST COAST WITH awards from Travel + Leisure, Condé Nast Traveler, Meetings Today, Wine Spectator and more, InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown forever redefines the city skyline. Located in the epicenter of downtown's historic financial and arts district, and mere blocks from Staples Center and L.A. Live, InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown leads the way as the new architectural icon of luxury hospitality.

The hotel features 889 elegant guestrooms, including 109 suites replete with floor-to-ceiling windows and a host of culinary venues to satisfy every craving and occasion. Culinary outlets include La Boucherie, a high-end steakhouse with a French twist; Sora, an upscale, intimate sushi restaurant; Dekkadance, an international market experience; and Spire 73—the tallest open-air bar in the Western Hemisphere—located atop the 73rd floor and boasting breathtaking 360-degree views. The pool deck features a restaurant and bar, fire pits, and private cabanas.

As the first LEED Gold certified building in downtown Los Angeles for building design and construction, InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown leads the way in environmental stewardship without detracting from a luxury guest experience. Embracing the Southern California lifestyle, the hotel offers nearly 95,000 square feet of indoor/outdoor meeting and event space, including an elegant 20,467-square-foot Wilshire Grand Ballroom, signature Club InterContinental, and executive fitness center. From intricate light fixtures inspired by L.A.'s famed freeways to billboard-inspired headboards in each guestroom, the hotel aims to bring a fresh, iconic, and elevated perspective of Los Angeles to travelers and locals alike.

SHERATON GRAND LOS ANGELES IS IN THE HEART OF the new pulse of Downtown L.A.: The Bloc. Welcoming guests and locals alike with signature Sheraton warmth, the hotel has been completely revitalized through a $75 million redesign. The entire hotel has been activated—from the marble-clad lobby to the 26th-floor Club Lounge to the new farm-to-table restaurant, The District—with clean, modern lines accented with references to silver screen glamour.

Our completely remodeled guest rooms have new decor, modern bathrooms, and tech that makes each room an Internet hot spot. Engaging public spaces are powered by technology, both indoors and out, enabling guests to share photos from luxe cabanas on the deck overlooking the plaza, or check emails over a drink at The District. The soul of the hotel experience is our passionate staff, who make every guest feel that they are right where they belong.

Our location inside The Bloc allows guests to experience L.A. the way they like, with fantastic shopping, restaurants, and entertainment venues just steps away. The newly created Metro stop just outside our door puts all of L.A. (and beyond) within easy reach.

In all, Sheraton offers an impressive 26,000 square feet of flexible function space, including the 10,000-square-foot ballroom. For smaller groups, you'll find a host of warm and newly refreshed meeting spaces. Conveniently, our 35 stylish function rooms are located primarily on one level, with on-site PSAV Presentation Services to assist with your last-minute audiovisual, lighting, and sound needs—along with wired and wireless high-speed Internet access in all venues and pre-function space.

The Sheraton works to make all of the details of your event perfect so you can focus on what truly matters—your people. Each of the 496 guest rooms and suites offers a completely updated look, featuring a rich and warm color palette, the Sheraton Sleep Experience Bed, high-speed Internet access, and a flat-screen TV.

WHEN YOU STAY WITH US, YOU WILL FIND THAT WHILE you are at the heart of the cultural, finance, and entertainment hub of Downtown Los Angeles, our hotel offers you a serene retreat from the hustle and bustle of the city, transforming into your home away from home.

The L.A. Grand Hotel Downtown was designed with the everyday traveler in mind. Whether you are traveling for business, visiting friends, or enjoying a family vacation in Los Angeles, we are proud to offer a variety of spacious suite options to satisfy all tastes and accommodate your needs.

Our recent renovations with The Hotel highlights our modern, contemporary oasis and further enhanced our guest room features and amenities. Upon entering the lobby, our open floor plan allows you to easily scan the first floor for your next stop. Our meeting space at 25,000 square feet is all on one floor and can accommodate up to 450 classroom style as well as 500 banquet style. We offer ample natural light in our large skylit foyer. From our built-in registration desk, you have a commanding view of our meeting space.

Check in with the front desk, take a breath and sit at one of the many sofas throughout the lobby, enjoy a cocktail at BAR9 or scrumptious meal at Ziran restaurant, or simply visit the gift shop for a city souvenir. If you're staying for an event held at one of our meeting rooms upstairs, you can take the escalators (found in the middle of the lobby) right on up. Oh, the options!

RIGHTFULLY KNOWN AS THE ENTERTAINMENT CAPITAL OF THE world, Hollywood is an essential part of the Los Angeles experience for millions of visitors each year. Explore TCL Chinese Theatre and the Hollywood Walk of Fame, where lasting star tributes to celebrities have been cast in brass and terrazzo for more than 70 years. Visit the nearby Dolby Theatre®, home of the Academy Awards®. It's located at Hollywood & Highland, a complex at the iconic intersection where shopping, dining, and entertainment opportunities surround a spectacular courtyard modeled after the massive sets of the 1916 silent film Intolerance. Not far away, Universal Studios Hollywood™ offers thrill-seekers, film enthusiasts, and families a daily glimpse of moviemaking magic with rides, shows, and tours, as well as The Wizarding World of Harry Potter™ attraction, based on J. K. Rowling's epic book series. In addition to Tinseltown glitz, Hollywood encompasses neighborhoods such as Thai Town and Little Armenia, offering a rich array of ethnic cuisines.

Hotels

Hollywood hotels are centrally located, providing meeting options to suit every budget and plenty of entertainment for after-meetings hours. W Hollywood Hotel & Residences is located at Hollywood and Vine, one of the most vibrant intersections of Los Angeles—day or night—and offers 24,256 square feet of event space.

At the chic boutique Dream Hollywood Hotel, the Highlight Room features a pool, a lounge, and a garden restaurant in 11,000 square feet of dynamic event space offering 360-degree views of Los Angeles, including the Hollywood Sign.

On the corner of Hollywood and Highland at the base of the Hollywood Hills, the group-friendly Pool Terrace at Loews Hollywood Hotel is also a vantage point from which to see the famous community's signature sign. Indoors, the hotel has 76,000 square feet of flexible meeting space.

Another spot to take in expansive vistas dotted with L.A. landmarks is six stories above Hollywood Boulevard at the Rooftop Bar & Restaurant at Mama Shelter, which can accommodate private events. The hotel's Downstairs Bar & Restaurant is also available for meetings.

The iconic Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, in the heart of Hollywood as well, offers business groups more than 25,000 adaptable square feet in which to meet.

Located on the grounds of Universal Studios Hollywood™, the Hilton Los Angeles/Universal City features more than 35,000 square feet of event space right next to the area's celebrated theme park—a perfect spot for events of all sizes. Whether you're planning a business meeting of 10 or a company gathering of hundreds, you will find that Hollywood hotels make every client feel like a star.

Dining

Restaurants in Hollywood offer an array of cuisines: Japanese, Mexican, Thai, and many others. They also provide creative spaces to host large groups. Yamashiro, a historic sushi venue, treats groups to sweeping views of the city from high above Hollywood Boulevard, and Tao Los Angeles serves up Asian-inspired specialties in a private two-level space connected by a grand staircase. Whether you're looking for a place to host a banquet, a company reception, or an intimate business dinner, there are many choices of venues in Hollywood.

Attractions

After a productive day, there's no better place to unwind than Hollywood. The Hollywood Pantages Theatre regularly hosts Broadway shows. And the Dolby Theatre® features a constant lineup of popular performers. The grand El Capitan Theatre is an elegant restored structure that shows current movies, as does the TCL Chinese Theatre. The Hollywood Bowl, with its roster of al fresco performances and picnic spots, makes for a fun after-meeting outing. And attractions like the Hollywood Walk of Fame and the wax figures of celebrities at Madame Tussauds Hollywood provide glimpses of stardom.

Shopping

In their free time, your group will enjoy shopping on Hollywood's famous thoroughfares like Sunset, Santa Monica, and Hollywood boulevards, with blocks of boutiques and gift shops among cafes and restaurants. Hip vintage items can be found on Melrose Avenue, while Amoeba Music is the place to go for rare record albums as well as new CDs.

Beverly Boulevard, and Robertson Boulevard, you'll find the West Hollywood Design District, where art, fashion, and design converge. Stella McCartney and Maxfield, along with many other top fashion names, are all within the Design District.

Stretching a mile and a half through the city, the Sunset Strip is lined with chic hotels, buzzing nightclubs, and trendy restaurants. New hotels on the Strip, The West Hollywood EDITION and the 1 Hotel West Hollywood both offer views of the Hollywood Hills and Downtown Los Angeles, and for stunning sunset views over cocktails, the rooftop pool at the Andaz West Hollywood is a must.

At the Pacific Design Center, L.A.'s massive showcase for all things tasteful, the showrooms frequented by interior designers, architects, decorators, and dealers are open to the public. It all adds up to a dazzling concentration of fashion, fine art, and food.

THE WEST HOLLYWOOD EDITION

West Hollywood is not only a city unto itself, it's a 1.9-square-mile universe. It's where L.A. gets very hip—think Whisky A Go Go, launching rock careers on the Sunset Strip for five decades now. And it's where some of L.A.'s hottest dance clubs, bars, and lounges are generously sprinkled along main thoroughfares like Santa Monica Boulevard, so bar-hopping and scene-shifting are an easy and festive matter.

It's also where L.A. gets very stylish—along Melrose Avenue,

CELEBRATE THE GOOD TIMES! With a $1 million renovation completed in spring 2019, The Garland's reimagined 5,100-square-foot Ballroom boasts modern technological upgrades as well as high-design touches.

With more than 20,000 square feet of flexible indoor and outdoor event space, including an expansion to our outdoor park—a canvas on which you can create any event you desire—The Garland is perfect for an off-site meeting or event that's modern, comfortable, and cutting-edge, all in a personalized boutique setting.

The Garland's lighthearted dose of nostalgia can be felt in every corner of the property after a $20 million redesign and renovation that transformed the historic enclave into a mid-century oasis.

Just a short drive up the 101 freeway, tucked into seven shaded acres, and only a few miles from the heart of Los Angeles' entertainment and business destinations, The Garland offers proximity to the center of L.A. commerce and recreation while enveloping its visitors in a relaxing setting that invites you to make yourself at home. The Garland's history as a respite from the hustle of the city dates back to 1970—an era that inspires its personality still today. A prized urban retreat for Hollywood actress Beverly Garland, the hotel's namesake, the chic surroundings provide the perfect setting for working hard, playing hard, and everything in between.

Attractions

The Getty Center, perched on a hilltop overlooking Brentwood, features not just a world-acclaimed art collection, but also an ever-changing garden and spectacular views of the ocean. Nearby is the Skirball Cultural Center, one of the leading Jewish cultural art and education centers in the world. The Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA) is chock-full of contemporary art and unique installations, and is the anchor of Wilshire Boulevard's Museum Row. For visitors interested in exploring Los Angeles's renowned car culture, the Petersen Automotive Museum holds an unparalleled collection of automobiles. The El Rey Theatre on Wilshire Boulevard is an art deco-style music venue. Each of these institutions can easily accommodate business groups and provide unique settings for your next meeting event.

Shopping

Meeting attendees in search of a shopping adventure will enjoy the many opportunities on the Westside. The Westfield Century City mall and the Beverly Center are both big, lively complexes with restaurants, shops, and name-brand stores. For smaller-scale areas, visitors can check out the high-end boutiques and cafes on Robertson Boulevard, and the trendy specialty shops and restaurants on West 3rd Street between La Cienega and Fairfax. Another gem: Culver City's Platform, a collection of high-quality boutiques and eateries that features a full-service event space.

Wilshire Boulevard. The Courtyard by Marriott Los Angeles Westside in Culver City features 11 event rooms and more than 18,000 square feet of event space.

Dining

The Westside also has a range of restaurants. Akasha in Culver City features California cuisine in seasonally changing menus, and its space in the historic Hull Building provides a unique spot for dinners for up to 30 or cocktail parties for as many as 200. Father's Office, a gastropub in the historic Helms Bakery district, welcomes private parties. (Its Office Burger is among the city's best.) Versailles is a local institution for Cuban food, and the cozy El Carmen taqueria has an extensive tequila selection. Your guests will also enjoy the flavor-filled cuisines of restaurants in Sawtelle Japantown and Persian Square.

THE WESTSIDE IS RENOWNED FOR ITS TOP RESTAURANTS, HIGH-END shopping, and acclaimed cultural attractions. Shopaholics flock to the trendy boutiques on West 3rd Street, popular shopping centers such as The Grove and the Beverly Center, and the landmark Original Farmers Market. The affluent Brentwood community includes upscale shops and eateries along Montana Avenue, as well as the world-famous Getty Center, located atop the Santa Monica Mountains. More cultural attractions can be found on Museum Row, including the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, Petersen Automotive Museum, Craft Contemporary, and La Brea Tar Pits & Museum. In Century City, the Annenberg Space for Photography features a digital projection gallery and a traditional print exhibit area.

Hotels

Westwood has many location choices for your next meeting, from chic boutique hotels to big luxury hotels—all of which welcome business groups with a wide array of spaces. Slated to open in summer of 2020, the newly remodeled Fairmont Century Plaza in Century City, for instance, offers nearly 24,000 square feet of high-style flexible indoor event space. Like a city in itself, this business hub encompasses privately owned luxury residences as well as 400 rentable units, a 14,000-square-foot world-class spa, and boutique shopping and restaurants. Hotel Angeleno provides almost 10,000 square feet for special events. Each room boasts panoramic views of Los Angeles and the Pacific coastline, and the Rodeo Room has a 12-foot ceiling and floor-to-ceiling windows along the western wall. At the W Los Angeles - West Beverly Hills, the 5,100 square feet of indoor/outdoor meeting and event space includes a pool deck with cabanas. The boutique Kimpton Hotel Palomar Los Angeles Beverly Hills offers meeting spaces, multimedia and A/V technology, as well as a premier location on

L.A.'S VENERABLE SEAT OF LUXURY—THE PLACE THE WORLD EQUATES with all things sumptuous, exquisite, tasteful—is an accessible paradise. One of the best ways to enjoy the city, which has an easily walkable area known as the Golden Triangle, is to wander along Rodeo Drive and Beverly Drive with side trips down the adjacent blocks. You'll find charming restaurants with outdoor patios, five-star hotels, and the world's most coveted brands. Shop for one-of-a-kind jewelry pieces at Harry Winston, Van Cleef & Arpels, Bulgari, and Cartier. Stroll the cobblestone walkways at Two Rodeo and pick up treasures at Versace, Lanvin, Jimmy Choo, and Tiffany & Co. Be sure to visit the Prada Epicenter store. Remarkably designed without a façade, the entire front of the store along Rodeo Drive opens up to the street, welcoming visitors without the traditional glass or doors. Along the southern border of the Golden Triangle, you'll find Neiman Marcus, Saks Fifth Avenue, and Barneys New York. Rub elbows with celebrities at Wolfgang Puck's flagship restaurant, Spago Beverly Hills, a favorite of locals. Experience fresh, innovative cuisine at Jean-Georges Beverly Hills at the Waldorf Astoria, the first L.A. restaurant from three Michelin star chef Jean-George Vongerichten. Whether you're looking for a five-star hotel, a luxurious spa experience, world-renowned shopping, or star-studded dining, you'll find it all in Beverly Hills.

Hotels

Impress meeting attendees by planning your next event at one of the opulent hotels of Beverly Hills. The Viceroy L'Ermitage Beverly Hills is a luxury boutique hotel near Rodeo Drive with meeting rooms, dining spaces, and a rooftop just right for hosting sophisticated events. For luxury on a grand scale, the Four Seasons Hotel Los Angeles at Beverly Hills offers more than 16,000 square feet of meeting spaces, as well as professional technicians and a round-the-clock concierge to assist with your business meeting needs. The iconic Beverly Hills Hotel & Bungalows on Sunset Boulevard has gardens, ballrooms, and dining spots, as well as more than 22,000 square feet of indoor event space and 4,800 square feet of outdoor event space. The Beverly Wilshire, a Four Seasons Hotel, can accommodate large business meetings, conferences, and banquets. The sleek Beverly Hills

Marriott offers a business center, ballroom, and eight meeting rooms. And the stylish Waldorf Astoria Beverly Hills on Wilshire Boulevard offers a private garden and a rooftop lounge deck with panoramic views of Beverly Hills and Hollywood as well as 5,000 square feet of richly appointed indoor space.

Alternative Meeting Venues

For a unique and elegant Beverly Hills meeting venue, check out the Wallis Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts. Partially housed in a historic former post office, this architectural gem includes two theatres and an outdoor event terrace. Greystone Park & Mansion features a 46,000-square-foot historic mansion on an 18-acre wooded estate, and the historic Saban Theatre is an art deco treasure.

Dining

Few cities can compete with the number of top-notch restaurants in Beverly Hills. Enjoy celebrity chef Wolfgang Puck's creative California cuisine at Spago, the steak and seafood of renowned restaurateur Cameron Mitchell at Ocean Prime, and the exotic sushi at the intimate 10-seat Nozawa Bar hidden in a back room at the 90210 location of the popular SUGARFISH restaurant chain. These and others easily accommodate business groups, as do many restaurants located in this city's luxury hotels, such as Bar Nineteen12 in The Beverly Hills Hotel, which has a terrace overlooking the hotel pool and the city's palm trees. For a truly bespoke event, a private dinner or restaurant buyout in a Beverly Hills restaurant is an excellent choice.

Shopping

Shopping is fun in Beverly Hills—the tree-lined streets are filled with comfortable cafes, restaurants, and high-end shops. Rodeo Drive is one of the premier shopping destinations in the world, with scores of haute and casual-couture boutiques, as well as shops selling shoes, jewelry, antiques, and more. Beverly Drive and Santa Monica Boulevard in Beverly Hills are dotted with boutiques and brand-name stores—even specialty chocolate and cupcake shops, like Sprinkles on Santa Monica Boulevard.

Attractions

In the non-working hours, meeting attendees will want to see what's happening at the Samuel Goldwyn

Theater, which hosts Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences events and the Paley Center for Media, where they can browse through more than 160,000 television and radio programs as well as advertisements from the past. These venues also offer distinctive spaces for meetings, conferences, and screenings.

Transportation

Besides the transportation options available throughout the Westside, Beverly Hills is served by Starline Tours of Hollywood (starlinetours.com/los-angeles-tours.asp).

Dining

The popular Geoffrey's Malibu offers a seafood-rich menu and a superb location—right on the ocean—for group dining. Mastro's Ocean Club, also in Malibu, serves hearty steak and seafood dishes, and easily accommodates corporate meetings and events. In Venice, the iconic Rose Cafe serves seasonal, globally influenced cuisine for breakfast, lunch, and dinner, and the restaurant's events team helps design custom events in its various private dining spaces, including an outdoor area that seats up to 200 guests. The private dining room at Cast & Plow in Marina del Rey treats small groups to farm-to-table cuisine. Baleen Kitchen, located in The Portofino Hotel & Marina in Redondo Beach, accommodates large or small groups in dining areas with waterfront views.

Shopping

Plan for some group downtime at Abbot Kinney Boulevard in Venice, a shopper's dream of small boutiques selling unique clothing and artisan-made items. Or take a stroll down the Venice Ocean Front Walk, lined with gift shops and local artists selling their wares. The main streets of Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach, Redondo Beach, and Long Beach also offer plenty of shops to explore.

Attractions

When the business day ends recharge the group with some fun in the sun. Biking, surfing, and volleyball are all possible at the beaches. Book a dining or cocktail cruise via Hornblower Cruises & Events or slate turns behind the wheel at Porsche Experience Center Los Angeles. Make wine tasting an adventure for the group on a Malibu Wine Safari or Malibu Wine Hike.

Beach Cities/LAX

WITH COASTAL ATTRACTIONS STRETCHING FROM MALIBU ALL the way south to San Pedro and the Port of Los Angeles, L.A.'s beach communities are the epitome of Southern California's endless summer. Malibu entices visitors and locals with mile upon mile of beaches and outdoor activities in the Santa Monica Mountains. Famous for its boardwalk, Venice Beach is also the site of Muscle Beach and the Venice Skate Park. Abbot Kinney Boulevard in Venice is known for its eclectic shops and sophisticated eateries. Marina del Rey is the largest man-made marina in the United States. South of LAX, San Pedro is home to the Port of Los Angeles World Cruise Center, Battleship USS IOWA, and CRAFTED, a marketplace for dozens of local artisans.

Hotels

Marina del Rey is a serene little village set next to a large marina where yachts and sailboats are moored. The Ritz-Carlton Marina del Rey, situated directly on the waterfront, offers luxury accommodations and calming views of the sparkling marina waters. The boutique-style Marina del Rey Hotel is just minutes away from beach activities like biking and surfing. Farther south, westdrift Manhattan Beach, with its own par-3 golf course, is conveniently located near shops and accommodates business gatherings of all sizes.

Venues With a View

Terranea Resort is a luxurious spot for groups. The 102-acre site at the tip of the Palos Verdes peninsula is flanked by the ocean on three sides and provides state-of-the-art meeting facilities. Hotel Erwin, a funky beachfront hotel on Venice Beach, offers quintessentially L.A. meeting spaces, such as an ocean-facing penthouse and a rooftop lounge overlooking the beach.

Hotels Near LAX

Does your group need to stay close to the airport? Sheraton Gateway Los Angeles Hotel is just a few minutes' drive from LAX—a huge convenience for businesspeople short on time—and offers conference and meeting rooms as well as spaces for special events. Four Points by Sheraton Los Angeles International Airport is a mile from the airport. Large meeting rooms and flexible spaces make it another great choice for business gatherings. Just seven miles from touchdown and takeoff, Crowne Plaza Redondo Beach and Marina is walking distance from the beach and offers state-of-the-art business facilities along with its coastal views. The Beach House, a boutique luxury waterfront hotel in Hermosa Beach, features four meeting rooms for corporate events just seven miles from LAX. The Gateway LA Airport Business District provides SEASIDE SANTA MONICA IS A CITY OF SCENES, VISTAS THAT YOU can plug into to suit your mood. Ideally, you're always in the mood for fun, because you just can't do Santa Monica without having a good time. Maybe start with a walk in Palisades Park, a scene of strollers and joggers, yogis and gawkers, and also a bluffside overlook for killer vistas—ocean, mountains, and miles of beach...long, sandy, perfect. You'll have a great view of Santa Monica Pier, too, but the pier wants your presence, not just your admiration. Make your way down to its Pacific Park for a spin on the brightly colored Ferris wheel.

A few blocks inland are Third Street Promenade and Santa Monica Place, equal parts pedestrian shopping zone and stretched-out stage for some of the West Coast's best street performers. Even minus street entertainers, the sidewalks of Montana Avenue—Santa Monica's upscale shopping scene—are pretty entertaining, lined as they are with one-of-a-kind boutiques and cafes. Be sure to give equal time to Main Street, a place for bargains and finds and friendly coffeehouses tucked into historic buildings, where time slows just a bit in on-the-go Santa Monica.

Hotels

A string of luxury hotels in the heart of Santa Monica overlook this gorgeous coastal scenery—perfect locations for large or small meetings. With the pier just a short walk away, Loews Santa Monica Beach Hotel treats guests to a spectacular view of sparkling ocean waves and volleyball games that spring up on the beach nearly every day. Santa Monica's modern Shore Hotel provides sleek accommodations, stunning views of the Pacific, and proximity to stores, cafes, and restaurants. For luxury beach accommodations, consider Shutters on the Beach—this hotel offers groups the space and relaxing setting they need. The Fairmont Miramar Hotel & Bungalows has more than 25,000 square feet of unique meeting and conference space on its lushly landscaped property. Check out The Bungalow, a Baja-styled 1947 cottage with ocean views and multiple gathering spaces for memorable meetings and events.

Dining

Santa Monica is rich with great places to eat. Cafes, health-food bistros, and fine restaurants spill out onto the sidewalks and feature dishes made with just-picked produce and other locally sourced ingredients. The Lobster emphasizes seafood on its menu, and with its spacious dining areas overlooking the Pacific, it's an ideal spot for business groups.

Attractions

The iconic Santa Monica Pier, with its vintage carousel, aquarium, small roller coaster, and a Ferris wheel that lights up at night, is a great place to unwind post-meeting. The arts scene in Santa Monica is vibrant. The Museum of Flying, a small air and space museum, is located next to the Santa Monica Airport and offers unique event space surrounded by historical aircraft.

Shopping

Santa Monica is a shoppers' paradise. Anchored by a Bloomingdale's, Santa Monica Place is a large indoor complex where shoppers will find more than 70 shops, restaurants, and name-brand stores, as well as a theater and the Cayton Children's Museum. Upscale Montana Avenue is lined with numerous restaurants and high-end stores. One way to build camaraderie among meeting attendees is to send them strolling and shopping in the California sunshine at the boutiques, restaurants, and cafes on the car-free Third Street Promenade. Main Street is dotted with charming clothing boutiques and bistros, and the Santa Monica Farmers Markets are lively places to sample L.A.'s abundance of fresh-from-the-farm produce, homemade foods, and more.

A Side Trip to San Pedro Plan a detour to the Los Angeles Waterfront.

For business visitors with time for a side trip, the quaint harbor town of San Pedro has lots to see. Its award-winning Downtown Harbor and Town Square is a landscaped plaza, promenade, and pier offering views of recreational vessels coming in and out of the inlet. The Doubletree by Hilton Hotel San Pedro – Port of Los Angeles has sparkling views of the marina and 16,000 square feet of meeting and event space.

Take the group on a tour of the Battleship USS IOWA. It's permanently anchored at the Port of Los Angeles as an interactive naval museum and living memorial. Another gem to visit: CRAFTED, a restored warehouse that is now a marketplace where more than 100 local artisans sell their wares and give workshops. San Pedro is also the launch point for cruises to Alaska, Mexico, and Hawaii. Catalina Express ferries head out regularly to Catalina Island; Spirit Cruises provides harbor tours and whale-watching trips.

Schedule an event at San Pedro's Brouwerij West brewery, where flexible meeting space is available for groups from 30 to 2,500, including 8,000 square feet in the tasting room and 15,000 square feet in an outdoor courtyard.

ENJOY 24-HOUR complimentary airport shuttle, a breathtaking lobby, five exciting dining options—including our 24-hour bistro featuring Starbucks coffee—24-hour business center, and dedicated conference meeting rooms. We also have three vibrant gardens, an outdoor pool, four hot tubs to relax in, and a multilingual staff to make you feel at home.

Complementing the 36,000 square feet of ballroom space, our 25,000-square-foot conference center, totaling 30 function rooms, offers elegance, sophistication, and flexibility. Above the conference center, the gardens are perfect for numerous types of events.

Guest rooms are spacious and comfortable—featuring single-paned windows and contemporary furniture—and offer even the most seasoned traveler the soothing comforts of home. Three floors of exclusive Towers accommodations include our breathtaking lounge, which overlooks Los Angeles International Airport.

The San Fernando Valley

THE FRONT YARD

THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY IS HOME TO MOVIE STUDIOS, EXCELLENT restaurants, and natural and cultural attractions. Foodies and fashionistas alike will love Ventura Boulevard, the main thoroughfare. Many of L.A.'s most acclaimed sushi restaurants are located on "Sushi Row" in Studio City, while dozens of boutiques and vintage clothing shops are sure to please fashionable shoppers. The vibrant NoHo Arts District in North Hollywood is home to the Television Academy and an array of cafes, boutiques, and theaters. The Valley Performing Arts Center in Northridge features top-quality performances in a world-class, eco-friendly setting.

Hotels

Hotels in the Valley are fully equipped to accommodate business meetings and conferences of all sizes. Among recent updates to the region's options is the development of The Shops at Sportsmen's Lodge, a new gathering place, which promises to expand the historic event center in Studio City to include a fitness center, shops, and green spaces by autumn 2020. A classic property with a Southern California bohemian chic vibe, The Garland hotel in North Hollywood features more than 16,000 square feet of event space and a 130-seat screening room. The stylish Warner Center Marriott hotel in Woodland Hills offers meeting and conference rooms, a ballroom, and event space for your next company gathering. The Hilton

Los Angeles North/Glendale & Executive Meeting Center features more than 19,000 square feet of event space.

Alternative Meeting Venues

Quality meets quantity in the San Fernando Valley, where plenty of venues can provide the perfect place for your product launch, reception, banquet, or conference for exceptional value.

Dining

With its mix of high-quality food, reasonable prices, and relaxed ambience, the Valley's dining scene is one of the best and most exciting in L.A. In the last several years, a string of new restaurants opened in Sherman Oaks, creating a bustling nightlife. In North Hollywood, The Front Yard is a casual dining spot with a menu that showcases L.A.'s diverse food culture. Dozens of cultures—Latino, Middle Eastern, Indian, and Vietnamese, to name a few—contribute to the area's rich and varied culinary scene. For traditional American food as well as a private dining space for business meals, consider The Daily Grill in Burbank.

Shopping

Shopping venues are easy to find in the Valley—meeting attendees will have plenty to explore. Ventura Boulevard runs east-west across the Valley, and its many shops, boutiques, mini-malls, and indoor-outdoor centers (many include theaters and restaurants) make it a perfect walking-and-shopping street. In particular, the strip in Studio City that runs from Laurel Canyon Boulevard to Whitsett Avenue features a fun mix of name-brand stores and designer boutiques.

There's something for everyone at Westfield Topanga & The Village, where the plentiful shopping options range from luxury to athletic and the dining favorites include Sushi Katsu-ya, Sweetfin, SusieCakes, Tender Greens, and more. The NoHo Arts District is full of eclectic boutique stores, unique restaurants and bistros, and a thriving performing arts scene.

In nearby Glendale, the Americana at Brand retail, dining, and entertainment complex houses a wide range of boutiques and popular global brands, including David Yurman and Diane von Furstenberg, and NBA legend Shaquille O'Neal's first Southern California location of Shaq's Big Chicken restaurant.

Attractions

The Valley's attractions are many, but they won't break your budget. Your meeting attendees can check out Warner Bros. Studio Tour Hollywood to see what happens on back lots and soundstages (group rates are available).

An alternative venue for a corporate event, Orcutt Ranch

Horticultural Center offers a beautiful setting, surrounded by 24 acres of gardens and a citrus orchard. For outdoor relaxation, send attendees to the wide fairways of Woodley Lakes Golf Course near Lake Balboa. At the western edge of the region, the Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation & Institute offers splendid views of the surrounding Simi Valley and features a life-size replica of the Oval Office, as well as a plane that served as Air Force One. The library offers numerous settings for conferences and gatherings, including the Air Force One Pavilion, where the plane is housed.

Get Connected

If your meeting guests are based in the Valley and want to explore Hollywood and Downtown L.A., they can do it without getting stuck in traffic. From the Metro Red Line terminal in North Hollywood, travelers can take a subway right into the heart of Hollywood and Downtown L.A., or get a ride on the Orange Line, a bus line that takes visitors along an old railroad route that stretches from one end of the Valley to the other.

Pasadena

HUNTINGTON LIBRARY, ART MUSEUM, AND
BOTANICAL GARDENS

IMAGINE A TIMELESS SOCIETY MATRON (OR PATRON) FINDING A happy marriage with a cool young hipster, and you start to get a picture of Pasadena. Grand, elegant, traditional. Lively, happening, youthful. Nowhere is that blessed union more apparent than in Old Pasadena, where scores of historic brick buildings have been thoroughly restored and where even the alleyways are gussied up. The whole district is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The old buildings house scads of up-to-date shops and more than 100 bistros, cafes, bars, nightclubs, and restaurants. Thousands come to stroll the streets on any given weekend evening, a parade nearly as entertaining as the world-famous annual Tournament of Roses Parade on January 1.

But don't limit yourself just to Old Town. Get out to ogle elegant neighborhoods like Oak Knoll or the Lower Arroyo Seco, with its many Craftsman homes. Take in the arts (e.g., The Huntington Library, Art Museum, and Botanical Gardens; the Norton Simon Museum; and The Gamble House), tour the historic Rose Bowl Stadium, or comb for treasures there at the monthly (second Sunday) Rose Bowl Flea Market.

Hotels & Venues

Pasadena welcomes your business group with a variety of hotel choices. The Pasadena Convention Center has flexible space totaling 128,000 square feet for meetings and events, including three exhibit halls, the 10-section Grand Ballroom, 18 conference rooms, and the 3,000-seat Pasadena Civic Auditorium as well as its adjoining Gold Room, which accommodates 250 for banquets.

The Langham Huntington, Pasadena, Los Angeles is a grand hotel that includes 379 guest rooms, 23 acres of gardens, and more than 50,000 square feet of indoor and outdoor meeting spaces. The Westin Pasadena, not far from the Pasadena Convention Center, provides 21 spaces amounting to more than 23,000 square feet for meetings or events. Hilton Pasadena, also close to the Pasadena Convention Center, offers 30,000 square feet of flexible large and small meeting spaces.

Wow your group by holding an event at the unique Huntington Library, Art Museum, and Botanical Gardens, founded in 1919 by businessman Henry E. Huntington, an art, book, and garden enthusiast. Galleries feature stunning American and European art, and a dozen-plus different gardens cover the 120-acre rolling landscape. More than 30 indoor and outdoor venues are available for meetings and events.

Dining

High on the list of Pasadena's attractions are its many fine restaurants. Some examples: The Royce Wood-Fired Steakhouse at The Langham Huntington, Pasadena, Los Angeles serves steak and fresh-caught local seafood and features two temperature-controlled wine rooms. Union serves creative Italian-influenced dishes in a warm, brick-walled space. Great Maple puts a creative spin on American favorites, elevating them for new experiences in flavor in the chic, modern dining room and on the outdoor patio.

Attractions

Pasadena might be most famous for its Tournament of Roses Parade that takes place every New Year's Day—and why not? Nothing compares to the sight of rose-decorated floats, along with marching bands and equestrian teams, passing through cheering crowds. College football games in the historic Rose Bowl Stadium are popular, too; the stadium and field are available as a unique event venue.

The Gamble House, a Pasadena gem, is open for docent-led tours nearly every day of the year. The house and its furnishings were designed in 1908 by Charles and Henry Greene for the Gamble family (of Procter & Gamble fame). You'll find plenty of ways to entertain meeting attendees here. Arrange for them to tee up for a round at one of the region's championship golf courses, or check out thoroughbred racing at Santa Anita Park. Plan a tour of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory or a stop at the Norton Simon Museum to see dazzling collections of Asian and European art.

Shopping

If a shopping day is on the itinerary, Pasadena has plenty of stylish boutiques and high-quality brand-name stores. And if the meeting schedule allows, work in a visit to the Rose Bowl Flea Market, which takes place on the second Sunday of every month. This huge, lively event draws visitors from around the world seeking antiques, furniture, and other items.

L.A. DOESN'T MIND BEING JUDGED BY THE COMPANY IT KEEPS. Its neighboring cities and towns and nearby mountains and deserts all help define a region of unique variety. You can ski in the morning near Big Bear Lake and surf in the afternoon in the Beach Cities. Take a winding escape on the Angeles Crest Highway through the San Gabriel Mountains—those high-rises that form Downtown's dramatic natural backdrop. Or head east toward the low desert and hit Desert Hills Premium Outlets on the way to Palm Springs. Escape the heat on the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway, where a rotating tramcar delivers you to the cool slopes of Mount San Jacinto in just 10 minutes. You've probably heard of Disneyland Resort; the Magic Kingdom is just 45 minutes south of Downtown.

Hotels

Interested in hosting your business event in one of the outlying counties? You have your pick of hotels, resorts, and venues in settings that are luxurious, quiet, and comfortable. Hotels range from boutique and historic properties to globally recognized hospitality brands. Resorts and conference centers provide all-inclusive lodging, meeting, and event facilities—with the bonus of spectacular Southern California sunshine and scenery.

Just 18 miles east of Downtown L.A., Pacific Palms Resort in the City of Industry is a 650-acre property set on a hilltop with 292 guest rooms, a golf course, a spa, a fitness center, a swimming pool, and 45,000 square feet of flexible event space, including 28 meeting rooms and the 12,000-square-foot majestic ballroom.

In Pomona, 29 miles east of the L.A. skyline, the 244-suite Sheraton Fairplex Hotel & Conference Center is situated on 543 acres of rolling farmland and houses 16 event rooms totaling 71,142 square feet, including the 33,000-square-foot Expo Hall.

About 38 miles northwest of L.A. proper, the 269 guest rooms at Four Seasons Hotel Westlake

Village are surrounded by acres of botanical gardens and lulled by a gentle waterfall. The hotel's 189,731 square feet of event space accommodates groups of 10 to 1,000 with indoor banquet halls and ballrooms and outdoor gathering areas.

Activities

Consider the variety of outdoor activities that are available in Southern California, such as skiing and snowboarding at stunning winter resorts, waterskiing on a lake in the summer, and sailing and body surfing in the ocean year-round.

Alternative venues include attractions like a world-famous theme park, an oceanic wonderland, or one of the top water parks in the country, all of which will delight families accompanying meeting attendees. The Fairplex offers an expansive facility located on 487 acres, including 325,000 square feet of indoor exhibit space, and it hosts the annual Los Angeles County Fair.

Ensuring a Successful Event

Look to local planning pros to help make your event a reality.

AN EVENT AT A PRIVATE BEACH CLUB IN SANTA MONICA.

FEELING OVERWHELMED AT THE PROSPECT OF MAKING ALL THE arrangements for your next big meeting? Allow local planning experts with knowledge and experience to take care of the details of your event so that you can concentrate on the big picture. With support from Los Angeles Tourism and input from regional experts, you can develop an easily executed plan that's perfectly suited to the needs of your clients. Partnering with the local businesses listed in this section—audiovisual companies, caterers, destination management companies (DMCs), event and show producers, florists, and team-building companies—will lay the groundwork for a successful event that stays within budget.

Destination Management Companies

Need someone to represent your interests or secure the best prices with L.A. vendors? Check out Los Angeles Tourism's partner DMCs, and use them to apply their local connections and expertise to arrange every aspect of your event. DMCs can leverage their industry connections to set up a gourmet dinner catered by world-renowned companies such as Wolfgang Puck Catering, or arrange exotic floral displays and custom-designed settings that will make your clients feel like VIPs. DMCs can secure L.A.'s prime event venues. Whether you want a large banquet hall or a modern rooftop deck, they'll arrange for a space that sets just the right tone for your gathering. Offering comprehensive experience in event design, supplier sourcing, entertainment contracting, and a host of other services, these companies can help make your dream event a reality.

Convention, Meeting, and Event Planners

If you're unfamiliar with the L.A. area—or are just very busy—convention, meeting, or event planners can help. They'll set up site inspections, select offsite venues, find speakers and presenters, and get your registration program up and running—and this is just the beginning of what they can do to make sure your event runs smoothly from start to finish. Offering a turnkey approach, local companies make a tremendous impact on your event—and your peace of mind.

Local Suppliers

If you're organizing an event that doesn't require full-service support and want to make the arrangements yourself, a directory of local businesses, including FedEx, Cutting Edge Productions, and exposition services company GES, will make your job much easier. Need an event producer? L.A. is home to some of the most savvy entertainment companies in the country, and they can easily help put a Hollywood spin on your production. Whether it's for a small board meeting or a major industry convention, getting the right suppliers is a major part of putting on a successful event.

A full directory of suppliers can be found at meetLA.com.

Getting Here

As the fourth busiest airport in the world, Los Angeles International Airport continues to streamline the travel experience.

LOCATED APPROXIMATELY 16.5 MILES SOUTHWEST OF THE Los Angeles Convention Center, Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) is the most flexible of the city's transportation hubs. Named a top-10 U.S. airport by Skytrax, LAX is the best U.S. airport for business travel according to Globehunters. It operates nine terminals and is home to nearly every major domestic and international carrier. With an average of 693 daily nonstop flights to 113 U.S. cities and 1,205 weekly nonstop flights to 47 countries on 72 commercial air carriers, LAX offers efficient and convenient air transit.

In 2017, 28 airlines within LAX relocated their terminals and ticket counters. This seamless transition brought with it an easy-find coding system: The first digit of each double-digit gate number corresponds with its terminal number, and gates with three-digit numbers are located within the Tom Bradley International Terminal, Terminal B. For more information, visit flylax.com.

Another recent improvement was the unveiling of a connector linking Terminal 4 with the terminals on either side of it, Terminal 5 and Terminal B. The $148 million project was designed to reduce the walking distance between five domestic terminals and Terminal B, expediting flight transfers and security screening for international passengers with checked luggage.

International travelers can take advantage of LAX's TSA PreCheck and United States Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Global Entry programs, making for shorter security lines. The CBP app helps speed U.S. and Canadian citizens through the process. Terminals have been overhauled with the business traveler in mind. The multibillion-dollar LAX modernization program, which began in 2009, is set for completion in 2023. The largest component of the program is an elevated driverless electric train, or automated people mover, which broke ground in March 2019. When complete, it will glide across 2.25 miles of elevated guideway from the west side of LAX to a brand-new consolidated rental car facility on the airport's east side. Guests will be able to ride from end to end in about 10 minutes, with trains projected to run every two minutes between the peak hours of 9 a.m. and 11 p.m. The new rental-car structure, which will incorporate sustainable measures such as drought-tolerant California native plants and a solar farm, will combine more than 20 rental car companies under one roof and eliminate 3,200 rental-car shuttle trips per day.

In addition to stopping at three locations within LAX and the rental car facility, the people mover will feature stops at two intermodal transportation facilities. Slated to open in 2021, Intermodal Transportation Facility-West will offer drivers a convenient new option for pick-up and drop-off outside the terminal area. Expect about 4,500 parking spaces with short- and long-term options, along with valet parking and a meet-and-greet space. The people mover will also provide a direct connection to LA Metro's under-construction Crenshaw/LAX Line and Green Line light rail extension, allowing for easy car-free rides to the airport.

Travelers are already enjoying upgraded dining, retail, terminals, and lounges. More charging stations along with free high-speed Wi-Fi, interactive kiosks, and mobile wayfinding apps put locations of gates, favorite food outlets, shops, and restrooms at travelers' fingertips. As renovation work continues, an interactive map that includes current construction projects can be found at flylax.com. Just click on the hard hats.

For travelers looking for premium services, The Private Suite (theprivatesuite.com), located in an exclusive A-list terminal, offers a private security screening, attendants, and concierges to see to baggage, rental cars, and other details, as well as rides in a silver BMW sedan along the taxiway to departure gates.

Various forms of public transportation are available to and from LAX, including the nonstop FlyAway® bus service, taxis, shuttles, and ride-share services. LAX also has a connection to the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) system. The complimentary Green Line Shuttle/G bus runs between LAX's Central Terminal Area and Metro's Aviation/LAX Station. As of October 2019, the airport also provides free shuttle service via green LAX-it buses between the baggage claim area on level 1 and a new ride service-pickup lot for taxis and online ride-hailing services such as Lyft, Opoli, and Uber.

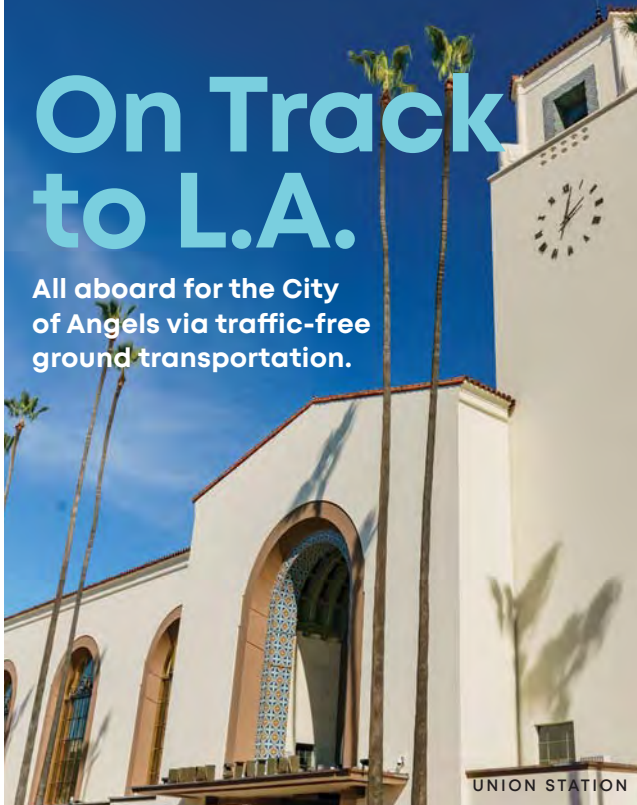

For information about airline requirements for identification, carry-ons, and other security matters, visit the Transportation Security Administration website at tsa.gov; international travelers are encouraged to visit cbp.gov for requirements on items allowed inside the U.S.

HOLLYWOOD BURBANK AIRPORT (BUR)

In some cases, Hollywood Burbank Airport may be a convenient option. Located in the San Fernando Valley, BUR offers easy access to Pasadena, Glendale, and Universal City. A mere 15 miles northwest of Downtown L.A., two-terminal BUR is serviced by Alaska, American, Delta, JetBlue, Southwest, Spirit, and United airlines.

Getting Around

Los Angeles provides plenty of ways to take people from place to place.

METRO EXPO LINE

WITH LOTS OF EXPERIENCE IN THE ART OF PEOPLE MOVING, Los Angeles Tourism's transportation-business members can help ensure that your meeting participants get where they need to go. If you'd prefer to let the experts map out the details, a ground transportation management company can help you customize a plan that's perfect for your group. If you have a plan but need some wheels, reach out to one of our local charter companies. Fully licensed and insured, they'll provide the capacity you need when you need it. From public transportation and rental cars to chauffeur services and charter helicopters, the businesses featured in this section can provide everything you need to get your conference attendees from place to place during their stay.

Public Transit

Your group can easily travel among L.A.'s various regions via the efficient Metro mass transit network, now with rail service from Downtown to the beach—and beyond. Running until 2 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday, Metro offers a comprehensive network of bus, subway, and light-rail lines that transport an average of 1.1 million users on weekdays and 1.3 million on weekends to points throughout the city and county. Hot spots—including the sandy shores of Santa Monica, the Hollywood Walk of Fame, Exposition Park, and STAPLES Center—are mere steps away from stations.

Metrobus

Metro operates 165 bus routes serving almost 14,000 stops. Metro's orange local buses stop about every two blocks; red Rapid buses stop only at major intersections. For example, lines 20/720 traverse Wilshire Boulevard and can take riders to LACMA, Museum Row, and Santa Monica Pier, while lines 2/302 go up and down Sunset Boulevard to serve places like the Sunset Strip and Sunset Junction.

DASH Bus System

DASH (ladottransit.com) buses serve Downtown and 27 neighborhoods within the City of Los Angeles, providing connections to other regional transit services such as Metro Rapid, Metrolink, and Metro rail lines. The fare is 50 cents a ride, 25 cents for senior and disabled passengers.

METRO RAIL

Red and Purple Lines

Metro's subway lines can take riders to Downtown attractions like the Museum of Contemporary Art, The Music Center, and Pershing Square, and connect them to other trains at L.A.'s Union Station. Branching out northwest from Downtown up to North Hollywood, the Red Line takes riders to Universal Studios® Hollywood, Hollywood & Highland Center, the Hollywood Bowl, and the NoHo Arts District. From the North Hollywood station, take the Orange Line busway to stops throughout the southern San Fernando Valley. The Purple Line takes riders to Mid-Wilshire in Central L.A., serving neighborhoods like Koreatown and attractions such as The Wiltern theater.

Gold Line

Thanks to its 2016 expansion, the Gold Line now links to five suburban cities that lie northeast of L.A. Running from East L.A. all the way to Azusa, the trains zip through 31 miles. Traveling from Downtown's historic Union Station to Old Town Pasadena or the Arboretum in Arcadia has never been easier.

Expo Line

The Expo line's 15 miles of light rail bypass the notorious freeway gridlock between Downtown and the beach. The recent $1.5 billion extension to Santa Monica is the first rail transit to the far Westside since streetcars stopped in 1953. Now USC, Exposition Park, and the Santa Monica Pier are all a quick, easy ride away from one another.

Blue Line

Serving communities from Downtown southward to Long Beach, the Blue Line offers easy access to L.A. LIVE, STAPLES Center, Microsoft Theater, Los Angeles Convention Center, the Watts Towers, and the Queen Mary.

Bike Share Systems

WHEELS FROM METRO BIKE SHARE

Getting around Downtown L.A. is as easy as hopping on one of 1,500 bikes supplied by Metro Bike Share (bikeshare.metro.net), managed by the L.A. Department of Transportation. The system is simple to use: Sign up for a Metro bike pass online and download the app (bikeshare.metro.net/app) or, for a single ride, visit a kiosk at one of 150 Metro stations. Bikes can be picked up and dropped off at any of the more than 100 stations in Downtown L.A.

For exploring the environs around West Hollywood or Santa Monica, the nationwide Bike Share Connect Network stands ready to hook riders up with a pair of wheels. The service is accessible by downloading the mobile app (app.socialbicycles.com/select_network), which connects to Breeze Bike Share (breezebikeshare.com) in Santa Monica. Unlike the Metro system, Breeze Bike Share's Hulu bikes are GPS tracked, so they can be rented and placed on hold via keypad. Hulu's fleets of smart bikes are equipped with Wi-Fi technology and keypads that control locking and GPS functions.

Fees for L.A.'s bike-sharing services vary, but all are affordable and include per-minute, per-hour, per-day, and annual rates.
