Operator Insights

What is Most Important to Consumers

- Enhancing and improving your off premise presence is an opportunity to grow your restaurant revenue and profitability without expanding the size of your physical location/footprint
- Selecting food that travels well - 95% of consumers expect delivery food quality to be at least as good as dine-in
- Selecting the right packaging for your food choices

Engaging with delivery options/services is a key element to drive Incremental revenue and growth opportunities

Designing your To-Go Menu

You know better than anyone what your customers like, but when it comes to take-out, you will also need to consider...

- Which foods will travel well in an enclosed container?
- What foods will still look and taste good 15-30 minutes later when the customer reheats and eats it?
- What will generate impulse (increased) sales and increased profits? Think dessert and side items.
- Will the take-out menu selection be representative enough of your full menu?

Best in Class Take-Out

Helpful Tips for success!

- Designate separate parking spots.
- Dedicate a separate line for To-Go/Delivery customers to pay.
- Offer call ahead service and bring the orders out to the customer's car.
- Assign one employee per shift to oversee Take-Out.
- Take advantage of the wait time and merchandise individual dessert portions near the take-out counter for increased impulse sales.

Creating the right To-Go/Delivery Packaging Solution is one of the Most Important Decisions.

A package that maintains food quality and travels securely is a key element to a successful to-go program.

The First Key Element is Selecting the Right Container for your Food.

The Next Key Element is Selecting the Right Size Bag to Securely Transport the Food.

How do you ensure optimal food integrity and secure transportation of your food? We make that easy! No matter what your cuisine type is, we have your packaging solution covered.
