Brief History of the Monthly Catalog

The Printing Act of 1895 specified two products for the description and collocation of public documents.

- The Catalogue of the Public Documents of the [...] Congress and of All Departments of the Government of the United States (Document Catalogue) fulfilled the requirement for a “comprehensive index of public documents” to be prepared “at the close of each regular session of Congress.”
- The Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications (MoCat) met the stipulation for a “Monthly Catalogue ... which shall show the publications printed during a month, where [those publications are] obtainable, and the price thereof.”

Thus, the original relationship was a current awareness listing (in the MoCat) and a permanent, authoritative, and comprehensive catalog (in the Document Catalogue).

In 1947, the cost and perennial difficulty of compiling the Document Catalogue led the Superintendent of Documents to recommend to the Joint Committee on Printing that the Catalogue be discontinued after the edition for 1940 was completed. The MoCat began to serve in the capacity of a single source for bibliographic information, fulfilling the requirements of the 1895 act, which stand to this day in 44 USC §1710-1711.

From 1895 until 1976, the Government Printing Office (GPO) arranged and described documents according to its own standards and systems. A major revision of the appearance and functionality of the MoCat took place in July 1976. GPO catalogers began producing machine-readable cataloging records (MARC) conforming to Anglo-American Cataloging Rules (AACR), Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH), the Ohio College Library Center (later the Online Computer Library Center, OCLC) bibliographic standards and formats, and other applicable national level standards. Since that time, GPO has gradually expanded the emphasis of its cataloging and indexing program from the production of a single printed product to the creation and maintenance of a database of high-quality, standards-based bibliographic records. These records are used by GPO and the library community to support an expanding array of bibliographic control activities.

The bibliographic data used to produce this abridged paper edition is also used to produce a compact disk/read-only memory (CD-ROM) and a World Wide Web (WWW) edition. The Web edition links users directly from bibliographic citations to electronic publications, and assists the public to locate information in depository libraries and through GPO sales. GPO bibliographic data is also available to individual libraries directly from GPO and from a variety of commercial sources for the creation of high quality local databases and public access catalogs.

The first part of the book is a historical survey of the identity crisis in the English language. It traces the roots of the crisis to the late 19th century, when the English language was undergoing a period of rapid change. The author discusses the influence of various factors, such as the influx of new words from other languages, the development of new grammatical forms, and the changing social and cultural context of the time. This historical overview sets the stage for the more detailed analysis of the crisis in the following chapters.

The second part of the book is a detailed analysis of the identity crisis in the English language. It examines the various ways in which the English language has changed over time, and how these changes have affected the way in which we use the language. The author discusses the influence of various factors, such as the influx of new words from other languages, the development of new grammatical forms, and the changing social and cultural context of the time. This detailed analysis provides a comprehensive overview of the identity crisis in the English language.

The third part of the book is a detailed analysis of the identity crisis in the English language. It examines the various ways in which the English language has changed over time, and how these changes have affected the way in which we use the language. The author discusses the influence of various factors, such as the influx of new words from other languages, the development of new grammatical forms, and the changing social and cultural context of the time. ## Catalog Arrangement

Bibliographic entries in the Monthly Catalog (MOCAT) are arranged in Superintendent of Documents classification number order. Each record is also assigned a unique catalog number—a two-digit prefix representing the catalog year, followed by a sequential number beginning with "1" in the first issue of each year. Within this arrangement, the publications of each Government author are further identified by the name and address of the issuing agency.

Catalog entries in this catalog may be accessed by title keyword index (alphabetical list of truncated titles, arranged by important words selected from publication titles).

Please consult the CD-ROM version of the MOCAT for indexing accessed by:

- Keyword
- Author
- Title
- Series/Report Number
- Subject
- Stock Number
- Contract Number
- Classification Number

Indexes in the CD-ROM version of the Monthly Catalog will cumulate from the beginning of the calendar year through the current issues.

Abbreviations

Abbreviations used in the bibliographic entries are those described in the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, 2nd ed, and the GPO Classification Manual: A Practical Guide in the Superintendent of Documents Classification System.

Sample Entry

This catalog contains brief descriptions of Federal publications. These brief records are based on the full bibliographic records available in the CD-ROM and online versions of the Monthly Catalog. The online version is available through GPO Access locator services.

The diagram shows the method of single entry bookkeeping. It is a simplified form of double entry bookkeeping. The main account is the 'Cash' account. All other accounts are 'subsidiary' accounts. The total of the debit side of the cash account must equal the total of the credit side of the cash account. This is the 'single entry' principle.

Federal Depository Library Program

The Federal Depository Library Program was established by Congress to provide free public access to Government publications. Nearly 1,350 public, academic, State, and law libraries serve as information links with the Federal Government by maintaining collections of Government publications. Collections are tailored to local needs and are open to the public. Fifty-three of the libraries are designated as regional depository libraries with responsibility for permanently retaining material and for providing inter-library loan and reference services in their regions.

Copies of documents no longer available through the GPO sales program can usually be found in regional depository collections.

To determine which depository libraries have selected publications listed in this catalog, use the Locator Service at the Superintendent of Documents World Wide Web site, http://www.access.gpo.gov/su\_docs/dpos/adpos400.html.
