Languages

French Education in the Bay Area now offers 2 different kinds of French immersion summer camps for kids: one targeting children K-5th and another one designed especially for pre-teens (5th-8th grade). While French is the only language spoken throughout the camps, we accept both francophones and non-native speakers. The main objective of these summer camps is to make learning French fun for your kids. It's also a great way to make new friends! At both camps, your children will be taken on an amazing journey through the ages and cultures of French-speaking countries. Sports, arts & crafts, cooking, team games, and much more! Plus one hour of formal French class every day. Our counselors come from France and other French-speaking countries. They all are certified camp counselors (in France, the BAFA - Brevet d'Aptitude aux Fonctions d'Animateur). They are mature, happy and nurturing young adults. They act as role models and engage the children at all times (in French only of course!). Our counselors are all trained by EFBA and are CPR & First Aid certified. All personnel and volunteers are fingerprinted.

Preschool | Grades K – 12 | Teen Leadership Opportunities | 12 Weeks | 6/1 – 8/21 From a preschooler's very first camp experience to high school students learning to be counselors themselves, JCCSF summer camps are all about age-appropriate fun and discovery. We offer camps that focus on everything from cooking to chess, from swimming to science to sports. Your child could combine classic camp activities in the morning with afternoon specialty activities, with weekly themes like nature, dance and Comics & Cartoons. Active campers love Sports Camps, which highlight soccer and basketball in two of the Bay Area's top sports facilities: the JCCSF's 10,000-square-foot gymnasium and pristine fields in sunny Marin. We have more specialty camps than ever, from Media Camps featuring Digital Photography or Blogging to a full suite of Culinary Camps. Preteens and teens can choose from unforgettable adventure camps, cutting-edge technology camps and opportunities to build invaluable leadership skills. Whatever adventures you choose, all of our camps feature low camper-to-counselor ratios and the flexibility to mix and match your way to a perfect summer. Your child will thank you – for the new experiences, the new friendships and the lifelong memories. Register online at jccsf.org/summercamp starting 1/30.

Nature, Play based

At Marin Ranch camp, our mission is clear: to connect children with the natural world while building lifelong friendships and memories. Everything we do is intentional and driven by our core values of Friendship, Adventure, Community, Tradition & Safety (or as we like to call them, "just the F.A.C.T.S."). While we offer all of the fun, traditional camp activities like canoeing, archery and sitting around the campfire roasting s'mores, our program goes much deeper than that. Our loving and well-trained team of counselors create a nurturing environment where campers feel safe to step outside of their comfort zone, challenge themselves with new adventures and make new friends. Campers actively create and participate in the tradition that only sleep-away camps can offer. Camp is just 5 days and 4 nights, from August 11th - 15th, 2015. Space is limited, and the early bird discount lasts until the end of February.

Sleep-Away

Mountain Camp is a coed, sleep-away summer camp for kids entering 2nd-12th grade. We are located on the shores of Ice House Lake in the Eldorado National Forest near Lake Tahoe. Mountain Camp provides adventurous and creative activities in a community that fosters friendships, independence, healthy living, and fun. During one and two week sessions, campers develop essential life skills such as collaboration, perseverance, decision-making, and optimism.

260 Lafayette Circle • Lafayette • CA 94549 • T: (650) 576-2267

Day and Sleep-Away Camp

Mountain Camp Woodside is a traditional summer camp that offers both a Day Camp (for grades K-10th) and sleep-away Resident Camp (for grades 2nd – 10th) programs and is nestled in the heart of beautiful Portola Valley, California on the 63-acre campus of the Woodside Priory School. Mountain Camp Woodside's minimal technology, non-competitive program is designed to build confidence and independence, encourage friendships and healthy lifestyle choices. We offer activities like mountain biking, arts & crafts, soccer, swimming, archery and outdoor survival. In today's hectic, high-tech world, we believe a back-to-basics approach to outdoor recreation and plain ol' fashion "fun" is critical to building a child's positive self-image.

San Francisco Clinical Camp

A Psychological Learning Experience.

Clinical Psychology Camp

June 15 – 26, 2015

M, W, F 9:00am-1:00pm

SF Clinical Camp is offering an educational camp for high school students interested in learning more about clinical psychology. This will include fairly sophisticated concepts, which will be made accessible. For example, we will consider the concept of our own subjectivity, different ways of thinking and how defenses affect our basic experience. To be clear, no psychotherapy will take place. The format will be a combination of seminar-style, small-group, activities and discussion. The camp is limited to 15 campers, and the camper to staff ratio will be 5:1. We believe learning should be fun!

Clinical Psychology

Advanced Camp

July 13 – 24, 2015

M, W, F 9:00am-1:00pm

Advanced Clinical Camp will build upon the work of SF Clinical Camp. It is appropriate for graduates of SF Clinical Camp. We will do a brief review of overall concepts like defenses, subjectivity and objectification and the impact of culture. Campers will read brief but sophisticated articles, and these readings will inform some of our discussions. We will be applying concepts covered in Clinical Camp to popular media and co-constructed vignettes. Material will build on the first camp and will deepen campers understanding of some of the basic tenets of psychodynamic theory (such as the importance of early experience in the conceptualization of self and other). We will also focus more on clinical phenomena like the transference and counter-transference (unconscious) dynamics that both inform and impede the clinical interaction (as well as influencing how we see others in our daily life!).

Academic

"SF Clinical Camp" is a unique opportunity for bright and motivated teenagers to learn more about themselves and the world. This is not treatment, but rather an opportunity for a small number of teenagers to explore concepts relevant to the world of clinical psychology in a fun and engaging atmosphere. Topics for discussion include considering our own unique and subjective experience of the world; the unconscious and how it impacts our daily life; how we change and our interpretation of the world changes over time. Our approach will not be a typical Psychology 101 approach of rudimentary overview and memorization. Instead, we will explore these topics in more depth and look at the immediate relevance to each of us. For example, in discussing our own subjective view of the world, we will discuss topics such as how others influence us, and how psychological defenses alter our view of the world and therefore how we interact with the social world.

Our camp conforms to kids, not the other way around. Instead of a rigid structure, we give our campers choice. Instead of teaching kids the typical way, we give them tools and gentle guidance to help them become autodidacts, people who teach themselves. The difference is subtle-and it's profound. There are a gazillion ways for kids to design a day at camp. One camper might dive into breadmaking and animation while another flies down a water slide and scores a goal in our inflatable soccer stadium. It's up to them. Two ways to play: Day Passes - Buy any number of days and use them anytime. Membership - One fee covers the entire summer. Lunch, snacks and all materials included in both plans. Using any model digital camera, students become confident, passionate photographers. Workshops cover skills, settings, composition, history, the importance of light, and artistic expression. We include field trips to classic SF landmarks, a variety of portrait shoots, special effects, street photography, image editing and organizing, and self-publishing photo books. Positive group critique and a sense of friendship and teamwork are core values in our classes. Each workshop ends with a photo print show by the kids. Our small groups of 4 to 7 students vary by age, typically 8 to 12 or 12 to 16 years. Register early to get the age group best suited for your student.

The Laurel School serves students with learning differences and students who benefit from a small class size. In a community that nurtures mutual respect and compassion, we cultivate the academic potential of each child through multimodal, differentiated instruction. By teaching strategies, self-advocacy skills, and social competence, The Laurel School prepares students for the next level of education. Our summer school bears in mind that most children benefit from the structure and repetition of an academic morning. We focus on Mathematics, Language Arts and Writing. The Laurel School also appreciates the importance of enrichment programs. Our afternoon will be comprised of LEGO creative STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) construction projects, project-based music and physical education that works on team building exercise and peer-play. Laurel's academic and enrichment programs will help create a well rounded summer school experience. Dates: June 22nd to July 31st Time: 8:30 AM- 3:30 PM with aftercare available until 6 PM

Meet Animals - Get Outside & Get Dirty Every Day - Do Science Experiments

Campers at Tree Frog Treks Summer Camp are the most excellent explorers. Each camper builds a special connection to nature with the help of his or her expert naturalists as they discover the world through science together. Campers spend every day outdoors, rain or shine, trekking through San Francisco, seeking out the natural spaces and the living things that make them their home. During each camp session campers will meet live animals, do wild experiments and build leadership and critical thinking skills through adventuring in nature with peers and instructors. Come meet Blondie the Burmese Python, Ivan the African Spur Thigh Tortoise, Squiggles the Asian Water Dragon and Stickum the White's Tree Frog. We play games and tell stories to bring many unseen aspects of our urban habitat to life for our campers and their families. We Wander and Wonder Together!

Choose from 5 different themes from "Phuntastic physics" to "Climate Pirates". We will explore San Francisco and do Wild Science Experiments.

Meet our "Animal Ambassadors" and spot amazing animals in nature. Spend every day of summer outside with Tree Frog Treks!

Nature

Wanderers offers 1 week-long day camps, overnight camps and backpacking trips, for kids, ages 6-14 in the SF Bay area, Yosemite National Park, Pt. Reyes National Sea Shore and Lassen Volcanic National Park. We are San Francisco-based and provide all transportation for our camps. Our summer pick-up and drop-off location is Julius Kahn playground in the Presidio Park. We hire some of the best summer camp staff around. All of our camp staff are 21 years of age or older, have current CPR and Wilderness First Aid certifications, clean driving records and backgrounds, and 2+ years leading groups of children in the outdoors. In addition, our staff to camper ratio is very small, typically around 1 staff to 4 campers. Kurt, the founder & director, is typically one of the lead instructors himself. He has 21 years of experience guiding and organizing outdoor programs. He is a graduate of the National Outdoor Leadership School and has a Wilderness First Responder certification (80 hour wilderness medicine certification). While kids at other SF Bay area camps are stuck in one place, we spend our days touching tide pool starfish, finding huckleberries, spotting tule elk, playing among the redwoods, and camping and backpacking in remote wilderness areas throughout Northern California. Team-building games, "place-based" learning, leadership exercises and an end-of-the-week challenge are all part of the fun!
