IE INFORMATION NOTICE NO. 84-25: RECENT SERIOUS VIOLATIONS OF NRC REQUIREMENTS BY RADIOGRAPHY LICENSEES

Addressees:

All byproduct materials licensees authorized to possess and use byproduct materials in industrial radiography and manufacturers who distribute devices that incorporate sealed sources for such use.

Purpose:

To bring to the attention of radiography licensees the large number of recent cases involving serious violations of NRC license conditions, to point out the common causes of these violations, and to describe their consequences.

Discussion:

From January 1 to December 1, 1983 there have been 26 cases in which the NRC has taken escalated enforcement action against byproduct materials licensees. Nineteen of these cases involved a civil penalty, six involved Orders to suspend the license or to show cause why the license should not be revoked, and one involved both a suspension Order and a civil penalty. These escalated enforcement actions were taken because various serious violations of NRC license requirements occurred. These violations included employees being overexposed to radiation and members of the public being unnecessarily exposed to radiation. In addition, the financial consequences to the affected licensees have been significant because of the loss of income from the payment of civil penalties, and from the suspension or revocation of the license.

An analysis of the causes of these escalated enforcement cases shows that there were three common causes for the serious violations and their consequences. These causes were:

- (1) Failure to read and understand the conditions of the license.
- (2) Failure to train employees in the conditions of the license including the radiation safety procedures that are incorporated into the license.
- (3) Failure to control operations including failure of licensee employees to follow approved radiation safety procedures.

Attached are summaries of three radiography cases. They illustrate the causes and consequences of the serious violations that the NRC has found during inspections of this class of byproduct materials licensees.

PDR

One of the principal causes of violations is the fact that some licensees are not cognizant of all the conditions of their license. NRC has found during inspections that some licensees have never read the license or have little understanding of its conditions. Conditions and commitments in the license form the basis for the issuance of the license, and are necessary to protect the health and safety of the public. NRC therefore expects licensees to abide with all the conditions and commitments of their license.

Two other principal causes of violations are the failure to properly train the workforce and the failure to control the radiation-safety aspects of the licensee's operation. Licensee management is responsible for ensuring that employees receive proper training, that the proper radiation monitoring instrumentation and personnel dosimetry is available and used, and that employees comply fully with all the conditions of the license and associated radiation safety procedures.

The licensee's responsibility for control of its operations also extends to consultants and contractors. In certain circumstances the NRC encourages licensees to seek qualified assistance when the licensee does not possess the necessary experience, training, equipment, or personnel dosimetry to perform particular activities; e.g., to handle problems arising from an accident or unusual occurrence. However, the responsibility for the safety of the operations and compliance with NRC requirements remains with the licensee.

Licensees should review the conditions of their license to ensure that they understand their responsibilities under the license. This should include an examination of the details of their radiation safety program to verify that the program complies with all requirements. As a result, licensees can avoid the serious consequences to their employees and the public and the significant financial costs that can result from failure to follow NRC requirements.

No response to this information notice is required. If you have any questions regarding this matter, please contact the Administrator of the appropriate Regional Office or this office.

Attachments:

1. Selected Cases Involving Serious Violations of NRC Requirements
2. List of Recently Issued IE Information Notices

CASE A

Radiographers at a field site attempted to retrieve a disconnected 47-curie iridium-192 sealed source from the radiographic device guide tube. After several unsuccessful attempts, the employees called the home office. The home office contacted the source manufacturer to assist in retrieving the source. The consultant went to the job site and, without conducting a radiation survey, shook the guide tube, disconnected the guide tube from the device, and retrieved the source.

Violations

1. An inadequate radiation survey and evaluation was made of the exposure to be received by the consultant.
2. Approved procedures were not followed.

Cause

1. The licensee failed to adequately control licensed activities of its consultant.

Consequence

1. The consultant received an estimated radiation dose to the finger and thumb of between 650 and 1100 rems. The limit is 18.75 rems for a radiation worker.

Enforcement

NRC imposed a civil penalty of $8,000 which the licensee paid.

CASE B

A radiographer and his assistant working at a field site failed to adequately survey the radiographic exposure device following the retraction of the source after conducting a radiographic operation.

Violations

1. An inadequate radiation survey was made of a radiographic exposure device following retraction of the sealed source.
2. The radiation level in the unrestricted area was greater than 100 millirems in any one hour. The limit is 2 millirems in any one hour.
3. An inoperable survey meter was used to conduct radiation surveys.

Cause

1. The radiographer and his assistant failed to follow established procedures.

Consequence

1. The radiographer received a whole-body radiation dose of 5.3 rems and his assistant, 6.5 rems to the whole body. The limit is 3 rems for a radiation worker.

Enforcement

NRC imposed a civil penalty of $6,400 which the licensee paid.

CASE C

A radiographer and his assistant failed to provide adequate surveillance while performing radiographic operations at a field site causing a potential for over-exposing members of the general public.

Violations

1. Failure to follow established procedures including:
  - a. failure to provide surveillance of a high radiation area to preclude entry by other personnel, and
  - b. leaving a radiographic exposure device attended and unlocked.

Cause

1. The radiographers failed to follow established procedures and NRC regulations.

Consequences

1. A potential existed for exposing workers and members of the public to unnecessary and possibly hazardous amounts of radiation.

Enforcement

NRC proposed a civil penalty of $3,000 which the licensee paid.
