Connect with patients face to face — even when you aren't

Care team rounds provide important connection points in the daily routine of in-facility patient stays. Through quick patient status checks, care teams have the opportunity to answer questions, provide updates, and collaborate on care delivery.

But the logistics of visiting each patient can be costly, compounding the impact of staff shortages. And coupled with the need to use new personal protective equipment (PPE) for each visit, daily in-person rounds can drain limited resources.

Lenovo Virtual Rounding preserves valuable face-to-face time, making daily rounds more efficient, convenient, and safe. This purpose-built, Microsoft Teams-certified solution makes secure patient-to-provider sharing easy.

The value of going virtual

Less PPE

Limit the number of times providers need to wear and discard PPE

Less infection exposure

Reduce the risk of healthcare-associated infections (HAIs) for providers and patients

Provider flexibility

Visit all patients without travel time between offices, campus buildings, or floors

Patient access

Communicate easily with a broader care team, including specialists
